Incorporation of a university was anciently effected by papal grant<sup>1</sup> or charter<sup>2</sup>, and later by Royal Charter or Act of Parliament<sup>3</sup>. The practice subsequently adopted in the case of the more recent foundations was to incorporate the university by Royal Charter, to which there was annexed a schedule containing the original statutes of the university, and thereafter to obtain the passing of a local Act of Parliament vesting in the university the property and liabilities of any institution which it replaces and making other necessary provisions<sup>4</sup>. Modern universities are incorporated by way of the establishment of a higher education corporation<sup>5</sup> or the designation of a higher education institution<sup>6</sup>.

A copy of any application for a charter for the foundation of any college or university which is referred by the Queen in Council for the report of a committee of the Privy Council must be laid before Parliament, together with a copy of the draft charter, not less than 30 days before the committee reports upon it<sup>7</sup>.

1 See CORPORATIONS vol 9(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1130.

2 The charter was sometimes confirmed by Act of Parliament. As to Oxford and Cambridge see the Oxford and Cambridge Act 1571, passed with the intent that the ancient privileges, liberties and franchises of either of those universities 'here before granted, ratified and confirmed' by the Sovereign and her progenitors may be had in greater estimation and be of greater force and strength (see the preamble to the Act). ## 652. Constitution.

The constitution, functions and privileges of universities are governed by the terms of their instruments of foundation, or by Acts of Parliament. In so far as there can be said to be any general law relating to universities or their colleges, it belongs, strictly speaking, either to the law of charities or to that of corporations<sup>1</sup>.

A university usually consists of a chancellor, a vice-chancellor<sup>2</sup>, a body of graduates and students. Its government is usually provided for by the creation of a council or senate, which acts as the executive, and has an initiative in such legislation as the university is empowered to carry out, sometimes subject to the Queen in Council, sometimes with the further assent of Parliament<sup>3</sup>.

1 The chartered corporation is an artificial person whose legal capacities are limited by its charter or by any statutes regulating it; cf the statutory corporation whose powers are limited by the statute which created it: see CORPORATIONS vol 9(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1230 et seq. As an exempt charity, it is unlikely that the existence of a chartered corporation can be challenged in court unless its assets are misapplied: see CHARITIES vol 8 (2010) PARAS 510-537, 583.

The universities of Oxford, Cambridge, London, Durham and Newcastle, the colleges and halls in the universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Durham and Newcastle, and Queen Mary and Westfield College in the University of London (see PARA 653 post), so far as they are charities, are designated as exempt charities within the meaning of the Charities Act 1993: see s 3(5)(a), Sch 2 para (b); and CHARITIES vol 8 (2010) PARA 315. Any university, university college, or institution connected with a university or university college, which Her Majesty declares by Order in Council to be an exempt charity is also an exempt charity for the purposes of the Charities Act 1993: see Sch 2 para (c); and CHARITIES vol 8 (2010) PARA 315. Orders made under Sch 2 para (c) are local in nature, and are not recorded in this work. For the meaning of 'charity' see s 96(1), (2) (as amended) (definition applied by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 125A(3) (as so added)); and CHARITIES vol 8 (2010) PARAS 1-2.

2 The powers of a vice-chancellor to suspend and exclude are so fundamental to the position of a student in the university that he must be considered as acting in a quasi-judicial capacity when he exercises them and he must observe the rules of natural justice; the powers should not be treated as merely matters of internal discipline: Glynn v Keele University [1971] 2 All ER 89, [1971] 1 WLR 487. As to the appropriate test to be applied on an application for judicial review of a vice-chancellor's decision involving the question of fitness of practice see R (on the application of Higham) v University of Plymouth [2005] EWHC 1492 (Admin), [2005] ELR 547; affd [2005] All ER (D) 398 (Nov), CA (vice-chancellor confirming a decision of the medical school's professional behaviour committee). As to the requirements of natural justice generally see JUDICIAL REVIEW vol 61 (2010) PARA 630.

3 Local Acts of Parliament and Orders in Council approving statutes of universities are notified in the London Gazette: see eg the issue dated 3 July 1951, at 3629 (University of Oxford and Emmanuel College, Cambridge).

HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(iii) Universities Established by Charter/A. INCORPORATION AND GOVERNANCE/653. Governance of particular universities.

653. Governance of particular universities.

The executive government of the University of Oxford<sup>1</sup> is for the most part vested in a hebdomadal council possessing an initiative in legislation, which is first submitted to congregation or the resident body of masters of arts, and finally to convocation or the entire body of masters<sup>2</sup>.

The legislative body of the University of Cambridge<sup>3</sup> is the senate. The council of the senate offers to the senate proposals for confirmation or rejection<sup>4</sup>.

The University of London<sup>5</sup> has a senate consisting of the chancellor and 54 members and five advisory committees.

The constitution of Durham University includes a chancellor, a senate, a council and convocation. The council of the Durham colleges, itself incorporated, provides for the teaching, residence, maintenance and discipline of students in Durham<sup>6</sup>.

Universities have been founded by charter<sup>7</sup> as follows: Manchester<sup>8</sup>, Birmingham<sup>9</sup>, Liverpool<sup>10</sup>, Leeds<sup>11</sup>, Sheffield<sup>12</sup>, Bristol<sup>13</sup>, Reading<sup>14</sup>, Nottingham<sup>15</sup>, Southampton<sup>16</sup>, Hull<sup>17</sup>, Exeter<sup>18</sup>, Leicester<sup>19</sup>, Sussex<sup>20</sup>, Keele<sup>21</sup>, East Anglia<sup>22</sup>, Newcastle upon Tyne<sup>23</sup>, York<sup>24</sup>, Lancaster<sup>25</sup>, Kent at Canterbury<sup>26</sup>, Essex<sup>27</sup>, Warwick<sup>28</sup>, The City University<sup>29</sup>, Loughborough University of Technology<sup>30</sup>, Aston in Birmingham<sup>31</sup>, Brunel<sup>32</sup>, Surrey<sup>33</sup>, Bradford<sup>34</sup>, Bath<sup>35</sup>, Salford<sup>36</sup>, the Open University<sup>37</sup>, and Buckingham<sup>38</sup>. Under their respective Royal Charters, the Royal College of Art and Cranfield Institute of Technology grant degrees. These universities have varying constitutions but usually have a large court as the official governing body and a smaller council to perform executive government. Generally, the nominal head is the chancellor, the principal executive is the vice-chancellor, and the senate has the general control and regulation of instruction and education.

The federal University of Wales, also founded by charter<sup>39</sup>, has a similar constitution, but differs from the other modern universities in that teaching for initial degrees is entrusted to the five constituent university colleges, namely, University College of Wales at Aberystwyth<sup>40</sup>, University College Cardiff<sup>41</sup>, University College of North Wales at Bangor<sup>42</sup>, University College of Swansea<sup>43</sup>, and the University of Wales Institute of Science and Technology at Cardiff<sup>44</sup>, together with St David's University College, Lampeter<sup>45</sup>, and the University of Wales College of Medicine<sup>46</sup>.

1 The University of Oxford, founded in the 12th century, was incorporated by charter in the fourteenth century. The incorporation was confirmed by the Oxford and Cambridge Act 1571.

2 See the Oxford University Act 1854. For other statutes as to the University of Oxford see the Oxford University Act 1857; the Oxford University Act 1860; the Oxford University Act 1862; the Oxford University, Vinerian Foundation, Act 1865; the Universities Tests Act 1871; the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1877; the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1923; the Universities and College Estates Acts 1925 and 1964 (see PARA 1379 post); and the Universities and Colleges (Trusts) Act 1943 (see PARA 665 post).

3 The University of Cambridge was founded early in the thirteenth century. Its incorporation by charter was confirmed by the Oxford and Cambridge Act 1571.

4 See the Cambridge University Act 1856. For other statutes as to Cambridge University see the Universities Tests Act 1871; the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1877; the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1923; the Universities and College Estates Acts 1925 and 1964 (see PARA 1379 post); and the Universities and Colleges (Trusts) Act 1943 (see PARA 665 post).

5 Charters dated 28 November 1836 constituted the university and university college. Developed by various other charters in 1850, 1858, 1863, 1867 and 1878, the university was reconstituted by the University of London Act 1898 (repealed).

6 The University of Durham was founded by private Act (2 & 3 Will 4 c xix (1832)), and by charter dated 1 June 1837, and was reconstituted by the University of Durham Act 1908 (repealed). It was reorganised in 1937 and 1963. See also the Universities and College Estates Acts 1925 and 1964 (see PARA 1379 post); the University of Durham Act 1935 (repealed); and the Universities of Durham and Newcastle upon Tyne Act 1963.

7 For private Acts relating to universities and colleges see the current index to Local and Personal Acts and the annual indexes to Local and Personal Acts.

8 Founded as Owens College in 1851, the Victoria University (see notes 10-11 infra) was created by charter dated 20 April 1880 and the Victoria University of Manchester by charter dated 15 July 1903: see the Victoria University of Manchester Act 1904. The charter of 1903 was revoked and replaced by a supplemental charter dated 12 February 1973.

9 Formed from Mason College, it became the University of Birmingham by charter dated 24 March 1900: see the Birmingham University Act 1900.

10 University College, Liverpool, was founded by charter dated 18 October 1881. Together with the Royal Infirmary Medical School, established in 1844, it became a constituent college of the Victoria University in 1884 (see note 8 supra). It became incorporated as the University of Liverpool by charter dated 15 July 1903 (see the Liverpool University Act 1903), and was reconstituted by a supplemental charter dated 1 August 1961 (amended August 1969).

11 The Yorkshire College of Science, founded in 1874, became a constituent college of the Victoria University in 1887 (see note 8 supra), and was reconstituted as the University of Leeds by charter dated 25 April 1904: see the University of Leeds Act 1904. See also the University of Leeds Act 1965.

12 Firth College, founded in 1879, was merged with a medical school and a technical school in 1897 to form a university college which, by charter dated 31 May 1905, became the University of Sheffield: see the University of Sheffield Act 1905.

13 Founded originally as a university college in 1876, the University of Bristol was created by charter dated 21 May 1909: see the University of Bristol Act 1909. See also the University of Bristol Acts 1960 and 1974.

14 A university extension college, associated with the University of Oxford, was founded at Reading in 1892. It became a university college in 1902, and the University of Reading by charter dated 17 March 1926: see the University of Reading Act 1926.

15 Founded as a university college in 1881, and incorporated in 1903, the University of Nottingham was granted its charter on 20 August 1948: see the University of Nottingham Act 1949.

16 The Hartley Institute, founded at Southampton in 1862, became a university college in 1902 and the University of Southampton was created by charter dated 29 April 1952: see the University of Southampton Act 1953.

17 A university college was incorporated at Hull on 7 October 1927. It became the University of Hull by charter dated 6 September 1954: see the University of Hull Act 1955.

18 The Exeter Technical and University Extension College was founded in 1893. Renamed the Royal Albert Memorial College in 1899, it was reorganised as a university college in 1901. It became the University College of the South West of England in 1922 and the University of Exeter by charter dated 21 December 1955: see the University of Exeter Act 1957.

19 The Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland College, founded in 1918, changed its name to University College, Leicester in 1927, was incorporated by charter dated 4 December 1950, and became the University of Leicester by charter dated 1 May 1957: see the University of Leicester Act 1958.

20 The University of Sussex was founded at Brighton by charter dated 16 August 1961: see the University of Sussex Act 1962.

21 The University College of North Staffordshire, incorporated by charter dated 11 August 1949, became the University of Keele by charter dated 26 January 1962: see the University of Keele Act 1962.

22 The University of East Anglia was founded at Norwich by charter dated 7 January 1963.

23 A medical school at Newcastle upon Tyne, founded in 1934, became the medical school of the University of Durham in 1852, and joined with a college of physical science, later Armstrong College, founded in 1871, to become King's College in 1937. It was the Newcastle division of the University of Durham, but by charter dated 1 August 1963 became the University of Newcastle upon Tyne: see the Universities of Durham and Newcastle upon Tyne Act 1963.

24 The University of York, which is organised on a collegiate basis, was founded by charter dated 1 October 1963.

25 The University of Lancaster, which is organised on a collegiate basis, was founded by charter dated 14 September 1964.

26 The University of Kent at Canterbury, which is organised on a collegiate basis, was founded by charter dated 4 January 1965.

27 The University of Essex was founded at Colchester and incorporated as a limited company on 21 September 1962. It was granted a charter on 11 January 1965.

28 The University of Warwick was incorporated at Coventry by charter in 1965.

29 The Northampton Polytechnic Institute was founded in the City of London on 1 June 1907. It became a college of advanced technology in 1956, and was incorporated as The City University by charter dated 6 April 1966: see The City University Act 1967.

30 Loughborough Technical Institute was founded in 1909, and became Loughborough College in 1918. Part of it became a college of advanced technology in 1956 and was constituted as Loughborough University of Technology by charter dated 19 April 1966: see the Loughborough University of Technology Act 1966.

31 The Birmingham Municipal Technical School was founded in 1895. In 1927 it became the Central Technical School, in 1951 the College of Technology, and in 1956 the first designated college of advanced technology. It was constituted as the University of Aston in Birmingham by charter dated 22 April 1966: see the University of Aston in Birmingham Act 1967.

32 Acton Technical College was founded in 1928. The section dealing with higher education became Brunel College in 1956, and in 1962 was designated a college of advanced technology. It moved to Uxbridge, and was constituted Brunel University by charter dated 6 July 1966: see the Brunel University Act 1967.

33 The Battersea Polytechnic Institute, founded on 23 June 1891, became a college of advanced technology in 1956, and was reconstituted at Guildford as the University of Surrey by charter dated 9 September 1966: see the University of Surrey Act 1966.

34 The Bradford Mechanics Institute was founded in 1882. It became a college of advanced technology in 1957 and by charter dated 18 October 1966 was constituted as the University of Bradford: see the University of Bradford Act 1967.

35 The Bristol Trade School, founded in 1856, came under the patronage of the Society of Merchant Venturers in 1880, and in 1894 became the Merchant Venturers' Technical College. Control passed to the Bristol education authority in 1949, and it was designated as a college of advanced technology in 1960. It became independent in 1962 and was granted a charter as the Bath University of Technology on 25 October 1966, when it moved to a new site at Claverton Down, Bath: see the Bath University of Technology Act 1967. The charter was amended in March 1971 when the university became the University of Bath.

36 The Royal Technical Institute, later the Royal Technical College, was founded at Salford in 1896, and became a college of advanced technology in 1956. It was reconstituted as the University of Salford by charter dated 4 April 1967: see the University of Salford Act 1968.

37 The Open University, originally the University of the Air (see the Command Paper University of The Air (1965-66; Cmnd 2922)), was created by charter dated 30 May 1969, since when it has received grant in aid: see Treasury Minute dated 5 November 1970.

38 The University of Buckingham, founded in 1973, was incorporated by charter in 1983.

39 The original charter of the University of Wales was dated 30 November 1893, and was supplemented by a charter dated 11 December 1967, revoking earlier supplemental charters granted in 1906, 1920, 1931 and 1960.

40 The University College of Aberystwyth was founded in 1872 and was incorporated by charter granted in 1889. It became a constituent part of the University of Wales in 1903.

41 The University College of Cardiff was founded in 1883 and was incorporated by charter granted in 1884. It became a constituent part of the University of Wales in 1903.

42 The University College of Bangor was founded in 1884 and was incorporated by charter granted in 1885. It became a constituent part of the University of Wales in 1903.

43 The University College of Swansea was founded in 1920 and was incorporated by charter granted in 1920, when it became a constituent part of the University of Wales.

44 The University of Wales Institute of Science and Technology was incorporated at Cardiff by charter granted in 1967, when it became a constituent part of the University of Wales: see the University of Wales Institute of Science and Technology Act 1968.

45 St David's College, Lampeter, was founded in 1822, and was granted charters in 1828, 1852, 1865 and 1971. It became a constituent part of the University of Wales in 1971.

46 The University of Wales College of Medicine at Cardiff was incorporated by charter granted in 1931, when it became an independent constituent institution of the University of Wales. It adopted its present name in 1984.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(iii) Universities Established by Charter/A. INCORPORATION AND GOVERNANCE/654. Foundation and governance of university colleges and colleges of universities.

654. Foundation and governance of university colleges and colleges of universities.

University colleges, like universities, are corporate bodies<sup>1</sup>, constituted and managed according to the terms of their charters, their founders' statutes or their other instruments of foundation.

Universities may contain colleges which are independent corporations founded in a similar way to universities themselves<sup>2</sup>.

The older colleges within the universities of Oxford and Cambridge are governed by statutes which were made by commissioners appointed for that purpose<sup>3</sup>. These relate not merely to the internal organisation and government of the colleges, but to their contributions to various university purposes and in so far as they affect the university may not be altered without the consent of the university<sup>4</sup>.

1 As to colleges 'in reputation' and not incorporated see Adams' Case (1602) 4 Co Rep 104b at 106b, 107b; cf Gilford's Case (1585) 4 Leon 156 at 160.

2 Cf the College Charter Act 1871 s 2 (as amended), which applies to any institution in the nature of a college or university (s 3), as well as to colleges and universities; and cf the University of London Act 1926 s 7 (repealed), as regards the incorporation of schools and colleges of the university.

3 See the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1923 ss 1, 6. The powers of the commissioners were to continue in force until the end of the year 1925 and no longer, but the powers of the Oxford University Commissioners were extended until 31 December 1926 (see the Order in Council under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1923 continuing the powers of the University of Oxford Commissioners until December 31, 1926, SR & O 1925/607). The powers of the Cambridge University Commissioners were extended until 31 December 1927 (see the Order in Council under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1923 continuing the powers of the University of Cambridge Commissioners until December 31, 1927, SR & O 1925/630). Since the cesser of the powers of the commissioners a statute for a college made by the commissioners, and any statute, ordinance or regulation relating to a college made under any authority other than the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1923, is subject to alteration by the university under that Act, but if and so far as any such statute (not being a statute prescribing the scale or basis of assessment of the contributions to be made by the colleges to university purposes) affects a college, it cannot be altered without the consent of the college: Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1923 s 7(1) (amended by the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 1998). Statutes must be approved by Order in Council and laid before Parliament: see the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1923 s 7(3), Schedule, (incorporating the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1877 s 49).

655. Inspection of accounts.

The accounts of any university<sup>1</sup> are open to the inspection of the Comptroller and Auditor General<sup>2</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'university' see PARA 658 note 4 post.

2 Education Reform Act 1988 s 135(1)(a). The power conferred by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 135(1) (as amended) is exercisable only in, or in relation to accounts or other documents which relate to, any financial year in which expenditure is incurred by the governing body of the university in respect of which financial support has been given under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended) (see PARA 746 post): Education Reform Act 1988 s 135(2)(a) (s 135(2) amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 Sch 8 paras 27, 36(b)). As to the meaning of 'governing body' see PARA 704 note 4 post. 'Financial year' means a period of 12 months ending with 31 March: Education Reform Act 1988 s 235(1). The powers under the National Audit Act 1983 s 6 (as amended), s 8 (examinations into the economy, efficiency and effectiveness of certain bodies and access to documents and information: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 717) conferred on the Comptroller and Auditor General by virtue of s 6(3)(c) are correspondingly restricted: see the Education Reform Act 1988 s 135(2)(b) (as so amended). As to the Comptroller and Auditor General see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 724-726.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(iii) Universities Established by Charter/B. ADMINISTRATION OF INTERNAL LAWS/656. Jurisdiction of visitors.

B. ADMINISTRATION OF INTERNAL LAWS

656. Jurisdiction of visitors.

The universities of Oxford and Cambridge, being civil and lay corporations<sup>1</sup> have, it seems, no visitor<sup>2</sup>. The colleges of Oxford and Cambridge, unlike the universities themselves, are eleemosynary corporations<sup>3</sup> and subject to visitation<sup>4</sup>. Other universities are likewise visitable, the Crown usually being the visitor in the case of those incorporated by modern charter. Where the university's charter provides for the appointment of a visitor by the Crown but no visitor has been appointed under the power, the Crown as founder of the university is the visitor<sup>5</sup>. The visitor's power to investigate and right wrongs arising from the application of the statutes or other internal laws of the institution is limited by statute<sup>6</sup>. However, where a visitor has jurisdiction then, subject to the supervisory jurisdiction of the High Court<sup>7</sup>, the jurisdiction of the court in the first instance is ousted<sup>8</sup>.

1 As to the visitation of corporations see CHARITIES vol 8 (2010) PARAS 510-528; CORPORATIONS vol 9(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1186.

Exclusion of visitor's jurisdiction in relation to certain matters.

657. Exclusion of visitor's jurisdiction in relation to certain matters.

The visitor of a qualifying institution<sup>1</sup> has no jurisdiction in respect of:

- 1219 (1) any dispute relating to a member of staff which concerns his appointment or employment or the termination of his appointment or employment<sup>2</sup>;
- 1220 (2) any other dispute between a member of staff and the qualifying institution in respect of which proceedings could be brought before any court or tribunal<sup>3</sup>; or
- 1221 (3) any dispute as to the application of the statutes or other internal laws of the institution in relation to a matter falling within head (1) or head (2) above<sup>4</sup>.

The visitor's jurisdiction is also excluded in relation to student complaints<sup>5</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/4. HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(iii) Universities Established by Charter/B. ADMINISTRATION OF INTERNAL LAWS/658. The University Commissioners.

658. The University Commissioners.

The University Commissioners were established<sup>1</sup> in order to make such modifications<sup>2</sup> of the statutes<sup>3</sup> of any qualifying institution<sup>4</sup> as they considered necessary or expedient<sup>5</sup> for the purpose of securing that such statutes included:

- 1222 (1) provision enabling an appropriate<sup>6</sup> body, or any delegate of such a body, to dismiss<sup>7</sup> any member of the academic staff<sup>8</sup> by reason of redundancy<sup>9</sup>;
- 1223 (2) provision enabling an appropriate officer, or any delegate of such an officer, acting in accordance with procedures determined by the Commissioners, to dismiss any member of the academic staff for good cause<sup>10</sup>;
- 1224 (3) provision establishing disciplinary procedures determined by the Commissioners for dealing with any complaints made against any member of the academic staff relating to his appointment or employment<sup>11</sup>;
- 1225 (4) provision establishing procedures determined by the Commissioners for hearing and determining appeals by any members of the academic staff who are dismissed or under notice of dismissal (whether or not in pursuance of such provision as is mentioned in head (1) or head (2) above) or who were otherwise disciplined<sup>12</sup>; and
- 1226 (5) provision establishing procedures determined by the Commissioners for affording to any member of the academic staff opportunities for seeking redress for any grievances relating to his appointment or employment<sup>13</sup>.

In exercising their functions, the Commissioners were required to have regard to the need:

- 1227 (a) to ensure that academic staff had freedom within the law to question and test received wisdom, and to put forward new ideas and controversial or unpopular opinions, without placing themselves in jeopardy of losing their jobs or privileges they may have at their institutions<sup>14</sup>;
- 1228 (b) to enable qualifying institutions to provide education, promote learning and engage in research efficiently and economically<sup>15</sup>; and
- 1229 (c) to apply the principles of justice and fairness<sup>16</sup>.

The Commissioners' powers and duties were due to cease on 29 July 1991<sup>17</sup> unless continued for a longer period specified by order of the Secretary of State<sup>18</sup>. The last of a series of such orders provided that the Commissioners' powers and duties ceased on 1 April 1996<sup>19</sup>.

1 Provision for the appointment, tenure and duration of office, powers, remuneration, staff, expenses and proceedings of the Commissioners was made by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 202(4), Sch 11. See, however, the text and notes 17-18 infra.

2 For these purposes, 'modifications' includes additions, alterations and omissions; and 'modify' must be construed accordingly: ibid s 235(1).

3 'Statutes', in relation to an institution, includes any regulations, ordinances or other instruments which, in the opinion of the Commissioners, serve as statutes for the purposes of that institution and are designated as such by the Commissioners: ibid s 203(8).

4 For the purposes of ibid ss 202-205 (as amended), 'qualifying institution' means:

- 63 (1) any university or other institution to which, during the period of three years beginning 1 August 1987, grants in aid were or were to have been made by the Universities Funding Council, or by the Secretary of State acting on the advice of the University Grants Committee (s 202(3)(a));
- 64 (2) any constituent college, school or hall or other institution of a university falling within head (1) supra (s 202(3)(b)); and
- 65 (3) any institution not falling within head (1) supra which was authorised by charter to grant degrees and to which, during the period of three years beginning 1 August 1987, grants were or were to have been made by the Secretary of State (s 202(3)(c)).

The University Grants Committee (a non-statutory body) was replaced by the Universities Funding Council established under s 131(1) (repealed), which was itself replaced by the Higher Education Funding Council for England (see the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 63; and PARAS 733-759 post). For these purposes, 'university' includes a university college and any college, or institution in the nature of a college, in a university: Education Reform Act 1988 s 235(1); and see also PARA 648 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

5 Ibid s 204(1). Proposed modifications to the statutes of qualifying institutions were required to be submitted to the Privy Council for approval or remission and reconsideration before the modifications were put into effect (whatever the requirements in this regard contained in the statutes themselves): see ss 203(3), 204(9), 205(1), (3)-(5). Prior to submission to the Privy Council the proposed modifications were required to be sent to the affected bodies and other appropriate bodies and organisations for the purposes of making representations: s 205(1), (2) (amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 93(1), Sch 8 paras 27, 45(a)). The Commissioners' powers under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 204 included power to make such incidental, supplementary and transitional provision as they considered necessary or expedient: s 204(8). Incidental, consequential or supplementary provision in connection with the Commissioners' powers or the exercise of those powers could be made by Order in Council: see s 207(1)(a), (b), (2). No such orders were made. Provision for Northern Ireland corresponding to the provisions of ss 202-207 (as amended) and Sch 11 could be made under s 208.

6 'Appropriate', in relation to a body or officer of a qualifying institution, means appearing to the Commissioners to be appropriate having regard to the nature and circumstances of the institution: ibid s 203(7).

7 'Dismiss' and 'dismissal' include 'remove' or, as the case may be, 'removal from office' (ibid s 203(7)(a)); and, in relation to employment under a contract, must be construed in accordance with the Employment Rights Act 1996 Pt X (ss 94-134A) (as amended) (see EMPLOYMENT vol 40 (2009) PARA 714 et seq): Education Reform Act 1988 s 203(7)(b) (amended by the Employment Rights Act 1996 s 240, Sch 1 para 37(1), (3)). 'Contract of employment' means a contract of service or apprenticeship, whether express or implied, and (if it is express) whether oral or in writing: Employment Rights Act 1996 s 230(1); definition applied by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 235(1) (definition amended by the Employment Rights Act 1996 s 240, Sch 1 para 37(1)). See EMPLOYMENT vol 39 (2009) PARA 2.

8 A reference to academic staff includes a reference to persons whose terms of appointment or contracts of employment are, in the opinion of the Commissioners, so similar to those of academic staff as to justify their being treated as academic staff for the purposes of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 203: s 203(4).

9 Ibid s 203(1)(a). The dismissal of a member of staff was to be taken to be a dismissal by reason of redundancy if it was attributable wholly or mainly to: (1) the fact that the institution had ceased, or intended to cease, to carry on the activity for the purposes of which he was appointed or employed by the institution, or had ceased, or intended to cease, to carry on that activity in the place in which he carried out his work (s 203(5)(a)); or (2) the fact that the requirements of that activity for members of staff to carry out work of a particular kind, or for members of staff to carry out work of a particular kind in that place, had ceased or diminished or were expected to cease or diminish (s 203(5)(b)). No provision such as is mentioned in s 203(1)(a) or (b) (see the text and note 10 infra) which was included in the statutes of a qualifying institution was to enable any member of the academic staff to be dismissed unless the reason for his dismissal could, in the circumstances (including the size and administrative resources of the institution), reasonably be treated as a sufficient reason for dismissing him: s 203(2). Provision as to the persons in relation to whom the proposed modifications were to apply was made by s 204(2)-(6). For the meaning of 'employed' see PARA 776 note 3 post.

10 Ibid s 203(1)(b). 'Good cause', in relation to a member of the academic staff of a qualifying institution, means a reason which is related to his conduct or to his capability or qualifications for performing work of the kind which he was appointed or employed to do: s 203(6). In relation to such a member 'capability' means capability assessed by reference to skill, aptitude, health or any other physical or mental quality (s 203(6)(a)); and 'qualifications' means any degree, diploma or other academic, technical or professional qualification relevant to the office or position held by him (s 203(6)(b)). Provision as to the application of modifications made for the purpose of complying with the requirements of s 203(1)(b) was made by s 204(7), (9). See also note 9 supra.

11 Ibid s 203(1)(c). As to the meaning of 'employment' see PARA 776 note 3 post.

659. Admission of women not to be precluded under university statutes or charter.

Nothing in the statutes or charter of any university may be deemed to preclude the authorities of such university from making such provision as they think fit for the admission of women to membership of the university, or to any of its degrees, rights, or privileges<sup>1</sup>. Any enactment, Order in Council, Royal Charter, or provision, so far as inconsistent with this requirement, ceases to have effect<sup>2</sup>.

C. ELECTIONS AND FELLOWSHIPS

660. Regulation of elections.

Questions relating to college elections generally are determined by the visitor<sup>1</sup> in accordance with the statutes which govern such institutions, but these elections are regulated to a certain extent by Act of Parliament<sup>2</sup>.

Neither the court<sup>3</sup> nor the visitor<sup>4</sup> can compel the election of any particular candidate, if the college is by its statutes given absolute discretion in the matter, except where the discretion is exercised corruptly<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to the jurisdiction of visitors see PARAS 656-657 ante; and see CHARITIES vol 8 (2010) PARAS 510-528; CORPORATIONS vol 9(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1186. As to the conduct of elections generally see ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS vol 15(4) (2007 Reissue) PARA 469 et seq.

661. Powers of majority.

Elections by the dean, warden, provost, master, president or other head of any college, by whatsoever name it may be incorporated or founded, with the consent of the majority of the fellows or brethren of the corporation who have power to consent, are as valid as if made by all the members of the corporation<sup>1</sup>.

Where college statutes direct fellows to be elected by the head of the college and the majority of the fellows, the concurrence of the head is necessary<sup>2</sup>.

662. Corrupt elections.

Elections of fellows, scholars, officers and other persons as members of colleges, schools, halls or societies, if made corruptly or for any money consideration, direct or indirect, are void<sup>1</sup>.

Any fellow, officer or scholar receiving a bribe for resigning his office or place<sup>2</sup> is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>3</sup> in addition to any non-pecuniary forfeiture to which he would have been liable<sup>4</sup>, and the person giving the bribe is disqualified for the office 'for that tyme or turne'<sup>5</sup>.

1 See the Simony Act 1588 s 1 (amended by the Statute Law Revision Act 1948). By the Common Informers Act 1951 s 1, Schedule (both as amended) no proceedings for a penalty or forfeiture under the Simony Act 1588 may be brought save where no part of the penalty is payable to a common informer.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(iii) Universities Established by Charter/C. ELECTIONS AND FELLOWSHIPS/663. Qualification of candidates.

663. Qualification of candidates.

The passing of an examination may be a condition precedent to election to a fellowship, but it does not follow that superiority in the examination gives an absolute and unqualified title to be elected, unless there are words to this effect in the college statutes<sup>1</sup>.

If there is only one candidate for a close fellowship, he must nonetheless pass the usual fellowship examination; but in such a case the standard of ability required of the candidate must be decided on general grounds without reference to the standard of ability of any particular individuals who do not satisfy the conditions of the close fellowship<sup>2</sup>.

Where by the endowment deed of a college the person to be elected to a fellowship is directed to be a native of a particular town if any such shall be found able within the university, a person not having the requisite birth qualification but being eligible as regards capacity may be elected, if the persons who are qualified by birth do not attain to the fellowship standard of ability<sup>3</sup>.

When the possession of real estate is a necessary qualification for certain college offices, the modern doctrines of equity are not strictly applied, and an interest in land which in equity would be considered personal estate may be sufficient<sup>4</sup>.

If a qualification for a fellowship is that a candidate must be 'in sacerdotio constitutus'<sup>5</sup>, an admission to deacon's orders is enough<sup>6</sup>.

664. Forfeiture of fellowship.

The acceptance of a professorship may under college statutes cause the professor to forfeit his fellowship<sup>1</sup>.

Where a condition, for example that a certain portion of the fellowship term should be spent abroad, is attached to a fellowship, and the fellow, after receiving the emoluments for some years at home, resigns the fellowship without going abroad, acceptance by the trustees of the fellow's resignation dispenses, it seems, with the condition, and consequently the money received by the fellow need not be refunded; but in such circumstances the trustees might refuse to accept the resignation and compel the fellow either to comply with the condition or to refund<sup>2</sup>.

Where the question is whether a fellowship has been forfeited under the college statutes, the expression 'a collegii emolumentis recedere' means absolute forfeiture, not merely temporary suspension, and the word 'discedere' as applied to a fellow vacating his fellowship is not confined to a vacancy created by death<sup>3</sup>.

D. INCOME, LAND AND PROPERTY ETC

665. Unification of trusts.

A university or college to which the Universities and Colleges (Trusts) Act 1943 applies<sup>1</sup> may make schemes providing for the aggregation and administration as a single fund of all property, with such exceptions as may be specified, held upon trusts of any particular class or classes which are administered by the university or college or administered by other trustees for purposes connected with the university or college<sup>2</sup>. Such a scheme may provide for the transfer to the college or university of certain property held on any trust to which the scheme relates<sup>3</sup>, for valuing the fund and determining the shares of the various trusts therein<sup>4</sup>, for distributing the income in accordance with those shares and enabling advances to be made out of the capital<sup>5</sup>, for authorising part of the income to be placed to reserve<sup>6</sup>, for conferring powers of investment including power to invest in land<sup>7</sup>, for the extension of the scheme to trusts subsequently created (unless the trust expressly provides to the contrary or, in the case of trusts not administered by the university or college, the trustees withhold consent)<sup>8</sup>, and for incidental, consequential and supplementary matters<sup>9</sup>. Any power to purchase land conferred by a scheme may, subject to certain exceptions, only be exercised with the consent of the Secretary of State<sup>10</sup>. A scheme cannot lawfully affect a variation of the trusts of the fund if the variation adversely affects another person or body who has not acquiesced in the variation<sup>11</sup>.

If a college in a university is required by a statute of the university to make contributions for university purposes in respect of income arising from any property held on trust by or on behalf of the college or for purposes connected with it, the amount of the contributions may be charged on the property<sup>12</sup>.

1 The Universities and Colleges (Trusts) Act 1943 applies to the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, to the colleges in those universities, and to the College of St Mary of Winchester, near Winchester; and the expressions 'university' and 'college' are to be construed accordingly: s 1(1). For these purposes, the Cathedral or House of Christ Church in Oxford, Keble College, St Peter's Hall, Somerville College, Lady Margaret Hall, St Hugh's College and St Hilda's College are deemed to be colleges in the University of Oxford, and Selwyn College, Girton College and Newnham College are deemed to be colleges in the University of Cambridge: s 1(2).

2 See ibid s 2(1)(a)-(c). Different schemes may be made in relation to different classes of trusts: s 2(4). Schemes must be submitted to the Queen in Council for approval by Order in Council (s 3(1)), having first been laid before Parliament for 40 days (see s 3(2), (3)). On approval a scheme has effect notwithstanding any instrument (including an Act) relating to any trust to which the scheme applies (s 3(4)), but a scheme may be varied or revoked by a subsequent scheme (s 3(5)). Property may be included in a scheme only with the trustees' consent: s 2(1)(a).

667. Financial provisions.

The income of universities, university colleges and colleges of universities is derived in part from endowments and in part from fees and dues from members<sup>1</sup>. Universities and university colleges also receive grants out of money provided by Parliament through the medium of the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>2</sup>. In addition, universities, university colleges and colleges of universities may receive grants from the Secretary of State under his power to make grants to persons other than local education authorities in respect of expenditure on educational services or educational research<sup>3</sup>.

669. Privileges regarding publications.

The libraries of the universities of Oxford and Cambridge have certain rights under the Copyright Acts<sup>1</sup>, and their presses have rights as regards their imprints<sup>2</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> See COPYRIGHT, DESIGN RIGHT AND RELATED RIGHTS vol 9(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 6. The same right is enjoyed by their colleges, by the universities of Aberdeen, Edinburgh, Glasgow and St Andrews, and by the colleges of Eton, Westminster and Winchester. The Bodleian Library, Oxford, and the University Library, Cambridge, are among the libraries which may demand from the publisher a copy of any book published in the United Kingdom (and therefore often termed 'copyright libraries'): see COPYRIGHT, DESIGN RIGHT AND RELATED RIGHTS vol 9(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 15.

670. Graduate privileges.

The general privileges of graduates of the universities of Oxford, Cambridge and London in respect of offices open, or exemption granted, to them by any Act of Parliament or regulation of a public authority have been extended to graduates of other universities in England and Wales<sup>1</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> See the Victoria University Act 1888 s 1 (repealed); the University of Wales Act 1902 s 1 (repealed); the University of Liverpool Act 1904 s 1 (repealed); the Leeds University Act 1904 s 1 (repealed); and the Sheffield University Act 1914 s 1 (repealed). As to graduates of other universities see the several local Acts of Parliament regulating those universities, many of which are cited in PARA 653 ante.

671. Religion.

No religious qualification is required for a person taking a degree (other than a degree in divinity<sup>1</sup>) at the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge or Durham, or to enable a person to hold office in any of those universities or such of their colleges as existed before 16 June 1871<sup>2</sup>, except where such office is, either by Act of Parliament or by university or college statute in force at that date, restricted to persons in holy orders, or is confined to members of the Church of England by reason of a degree in divinity being a qualification for holding that office<sup>3</sup>. There is no objection, however, to new colleges being created subsequent to 1871 with endowments limited to members of particular religious communities<sup>4</sup>.

Where the University of Oxford Commissioners or the University of Cambridge Commissioners<sup>5</sup> by any statute made by them<sup>6</sup> erected or endowed an office, other than a headship or fellowship of a college, and declared that the holder of it must have a theological qualification, the provisions described above regarding religious qualification take effect with reference to that office as if the statute made by the Commissioners had been made before 16 June 1871<sup>7</sup>.

The abolition of religious qualifications does not interfere with the lawfully established system of religious instruction, worship and discipline in the universities of Oxford, Cambridge and Durham and their colleges<sup>8</sup>. Colleges subsisting on 16 June 1871 must provide sufficient religious instruction for undergraduates belonging to the Church of England<sup>9</sup>, and morning and evening prayer according to the Book of Common Prayer<sup>10</sup>. No one must be required to attend any college or university lecture to which he (or, if he is under full age, his parent or guardian) objects on religious grounds<sup>11</sup>.

1 University statutes have modified this restriction: see the Statute passed by Convocation of the University of Oxford on 25 November 1925 (candidates for the degrees of BD and DD need not be ordained clergymen of the Church of England); and Statute 42 of the University of Durham (no religious test required of any student, except for candidates for the licence in theology, which has not been awarded for many years).

A. INCORPORATION

672. Meaning of 'higher education corporation'.

References in the Education Reform Act 1988 to a higher education corporation are references to a body corporate established under that Act<sup>1</sup> or which has become a higher education corporation by virtue of that Act<sup>2</sup>.

<sup>2</sup>     Ibid s 123(1) (amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 93(1), Sch 8 paras 27, 32(a)). Bodies corporate may become higher education corporations by virtue of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 122A (as added) (see PARA 647 ante).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/4. HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(iv) Higher Education Corporations/A. INCORPORATION/673. Incorporation of specified higher education institutions.

673. Incorporation of specified higher education institutions.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> was required, before 21 November 1988<sup>2</sup> (or, in one case, 1 February 1989<sup>3</sup>) by order to specify certain institutions<sup>4</sup> maintained by local education authorities<sup>5</sup>, and on that date<sup>6</sup> a number of bodies corporate were established for the purpose of conducting each specified institution as from 1 April 1989<sup>7</sup>. A higher education corporation so established<sup>8</sup> before 6 May 1992<sup>9</sup> was required to be established initially under the name given as the name of that institution in the order specifying that institution<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

2 I.e. the date appointed for the purposes of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 121 (as amended) in relation to all institutions falling within s 121(2) (repealed) other than the Southampton Institute of Higher Education: s 121(1) (repealed by the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 2004); Education Reform Act 1988 (Commencement No 2) Order 1988, SI 1988/1794, art 2.

3 I.e. the date appointed for the purposes of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 121 (as amended) in relation to the Southampton Institute of Higher Education: s 121(1) (repealed: see note 2 supra); Education Reform Act 1988 (Commencement No 4) Order 1988, SI 1988/2271, art 2.

4 The institutions required to be specified under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 121(1) (repealed) were those appearing to the Secretary of State to fall within s 121(2) (repealed): s 121(1) (repealed: see note 2 supra). An institution fell within s 121(2) (repealed) if on 1 November 1985 either its full-time equivalent enrolment number for courses of advanced further education exceeded 350 and also exceeded 55% of its total full-time equivalent enrolment number or its full-time equivalent enrolment number for such courses exceeded 2,500: s 121(2) (repealed by the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 2004). As to the determination of full-time equivalent enrolment numbers see PARA 678 post. Orders under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 121 (as amended), other than so far as determining the dates referred to in the text, are local in nature, and are not recorded in this work. As to the making of orders under the Education Reform Act 1988 generally see PARA 19 note 1 ante.

Where an institution maintained by a local education authority had been established since 1 November 1985 by a merger of two or more institutions existing on that date, the institution was to be treated as falling within s 121(2) (repealed) if it would have done so if the merger had taken place before that date: s 121(3) (repealed by the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 2004).

In the Education Reform Act 1988 Pt II (ss 120-161) (as amended), references to courses of advanced further education are references to courses designated by the Education (Schools and Further Education) Regulations 1981, SI 1981/1086, Sch 2 (revoked) as courses of advanced further education: Education Reform Act 1988 ss 121(4), 161(1)(a). References to the total full-time equivalent enrolment number of any institution at any time are references to the aggregate of the institution's full-time equivalent enrolment numbers at that time for courses of all descriptions then offered by that institution: s 161(2), (3). As to the calculation of full-time equivalent enrolment numbers see PARA 678 post.

5 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

6 I.e. either 21 November 1988 or 1 February 1989: see the text and notes 2-3 supra.

7 I.e. the transfer date applicable in relation to bodies corporate established under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 121 (as amended); that is, the date appointed under s 126 (see PARAS 675-676 post) in relation to the transfer under s 126 of property, rights and liabilities to the corporation: s 121(1) (repealed), s 123(2); Education (Higher Education Corporations) Order 1988, SI 1988/1799, art 4; Education (Higher Education Corporations) (No 5) Order 1989, SI 1989/17, art 3. 'Liability' includes obligation: Education Reform Act 1988 s 235(1).

8 I.e. established under ibid s 121 (as amended) for the purpose of conducting any institution.

9     le the appointed day: ibid s 123(3), (4) (s 123(3) substituted, and s 123(4) added, by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 93(1), Sch 8 paras 27, 32(b)); Education Reform Act 1988 s 124A(10) (added by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 71(1)); Further and Higher Education Act 1992 (Commencement No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1992, SI 1992/831. As to the constitution and government of higher education corporations established after 6 May 1992 see PARAS 687-693 post.

10    Education Reform Act 1988 s 123(3), Sch 7 para 1(1) (s 123(3) as substituted: see note 9 supra). This requirement applies unless an instrument of government for the corporation made under s 124A (as added) (see PARA 687 post) has effect: s 123(3) (as so substituted). A corporation may change its name with the consent of the Privy Council: Sch 7 para 1(4) (substituted by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 93(1), Sch 8 paras 27, 59(a)). See further PARA 649 ante. The power under the Education Reform Act 1988 Sch 7 para 1(4) (as substituted) is not exercisable by statutory instrument: s 232(1), (2) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 80(a)).

Transfer of staff.

675. Transfer of staff.

Where a higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> is established<sup>2</sup>, the contract of employment<sup>3</sup> between:

- 1230 (1) any person who, immediately before the transfer date<sup>4</sup>, is employed by the transferor authority<sup>5</sup> to work solely at the institution the corporation is established to conduct<sup>6</sup> or is employed by that authority to work at that institution and is designated<sup>7</sup> by an order made by the Secretary of State<sup>8</sup>; and
- 1231 (2) the transferor authority, has effect from the transfer date as if originally made between him and the corporation<sup>9</sup>.

Without prejudice to this requirement<sup>10</sup>:

- 1232 (a) all the transferor authority's rights, powers, duties and liabilities<sup>11</sup> under or in connection with an applicable contract<sup>12</sup> must<sup>13</sup> be transferred to the corporation on the transfer date<sup>14</sup>; and
- 1233 (b) anything done before that date by or in relation to the transferor authority in respect of that contract or the employee is deemed from that date to have been done by or in relation to the corporation<sup>15</sup>.

These requirements<sup>16</sup> are without prejudice to any right of an employee to terminate his contract of employment if a substantial change is made to his detriment in his working conditions, but no such right arises by reason only of the change in employer as described above<sup>17</sup>.

4 Education Reform Act 1988 s 126(3). Section 126(3) is subject to s 198 (as amended) (land and property transfers: see PARA 1387 et seq post); and does not apply to: (1) rights and liabilities under any contract of employment (s 126(5)(a)); (2) any liability of a local education authority in respect of the principal of, or any interest on, any loan (s 126(5)(b)); or (3) any liability of any such authority in respect of compensation for premature retirement of any person formerly employed by it (s 126(5)(c)). As to liabilities of a local education authority in respect of loans see PARA 677 post. As to the meaning of 'employment', and for the meaning of 'contract of employment', see PARA 776 note 3 post.

Stamp duty is not chargeable in respect of any transfer effected under or by virtue of s 126 (taken with Sch 10 (as amended)): s 230(1) (amended by the Education Act 1993 s 307(1), (3), Sch 19 paras 112, 137(a), Sch 21 Pt I; the Education Act 1996 s 582(2), Sch 38 Pt I; the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 93, Sch 8 paras 27, 55, Sch 9; and the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 2004). This is subject to the requirement that no instrument (other than a statutory instrument) made or executed under or in pursuance of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 126 may be treated as duly stamped unless it is stamped with the duty to which it would, but for s 230 (as amended) (and, if applicable, the Finance Act 1982 s 129 (as amended) (see STAMP DUTIES AND STAMP DUTY RESERVE TAX vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1093)), be liable or it has, in accordance with the Stamp Act 1891 s 12 (as substituted) (see STAMP DUTIES AND STAMP DUTY RESERVE TAX vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1111), been stamped with a particular stamp denoting that it is not chargeable with any duty or that it has been duly stamped: Education Reform Act 1988 s 230(4) (amended by the Education Act 1993 s 307(1), (3), Sch 19 paras 112, 137(b), Sch 21 Pt I).

5 As to the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1381 note 5 post. Where at any time land is used for the purposes of an institution to which the Education Reform Act 1988 s 126(4)(a) applies, any interest of a local education authority in that land subsisting at that time must be taken for the purposes of s 126(4)(a) to be land held for the purposes of that institution (whether or not it is by virtue of that interest that the land is so used): s 138(1) (a), (2).

6 The transfer date in relation to corporations established under ibid s 121 (as amended) (see PARA 673 ante) is 1 April 1989; that is, the date appointed under s 126 in relation to the corporations so established: ss 123(2), 126(1); Education (Higher Education Corporations) Order 1988, SI 1988/1799, art 4; Education (Higher Education Corporations) (No 5) Order 1989, SI 1989/17, art 3. The transfer date applicable in relation to corporations established under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 122 (as amended) (see PARA 674 ante) is such date as the Secretary of State may by order appoint in relation to that corporation: s 126(2). Orders establishing corporations under s 122 (as amended) are local in nature, and are not recorded in this work. As to the making of orders under the Education Reform Act 1988 generally see PARA 19 note 1 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. 7 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

8 Education Reform Act 1988 s 126(4)(a). 'The transferred institution' means, in relation to any higher education corporation, the institution the corporation is established to conduct: s 126(6). Where (apart from the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 84) any land or other property of a local authority would on any date ('the date of transfer') be transferred under the Education Reform Act 1988 Pt II (ss 120-161) (as amended) to the governing body of an institution within the higher education sector, and at any time before that date the authority, the governing body of the institution and the governing body of any other institution which will on that date be an institution within the higher education sector have agreed in writing that the land or property should be transferred on that or a subsequent date to the governing body of that other institution, then, if the Secretary of State has approved the agreement at any time before the date of transfer, Pt II has effect as if it required the property to be transferred in accordance with the agreement: Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 84(1), (2). References to anything done include anything done before 6 March 1992 (ie the date on which the Education Reform Act 1988 was passed (ie received Royal Assent)): Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 84(3). As to references to institutions within the higher education sector see PARA 646 ante.

9 Any reference in the Education Reform Act 1988 s 126 to liabilities incurred by a local education authority are not to be read as including liabilities of such an authority to make payments to or in respect of any person in pursuance of any duty imposed on the authority under any statutory provision: s 235(5) (amended by the Education Act 1993 s 307(1), (3), Sch 19 paras 112, 139(c), Sch 21 Pt I). 'Statutory provision' means a provision of an enactment or a statutory instrument: Education Reform Act 1988 s 235(1).

677. Loan liabilities excepted from transfer.

For the purposes of the provisions enabling certain liabilities of local education authorities<sup>1</sup> to be excepted from transfer<sup>2</sup> to a higher education corporation on the establishment of that corporation<sup>3</sup>, a liability is an excepted liability if it would have been transferred by virtue of the establishment of the corporation but for the statutory exclusion of any such transfer<sup>4</sup>. The amount of any liability of a local education authority in respect of the principal of any loan which is an excepted liability in relation to an institution conducted by a higher education corporation<sup>5</sup> is to be treated on and after the date on which that liability would have been transferred<sup>6</sup> as having been borrowed from that authority by the body of persons to whom the liability would have been transferred<sup>7</sup> on such terms as to repayment and the payment of interest as may be agreed<sup>8</sup> or determined by the Secretary of State<sup>9</sup>.

There is a duty to arrive, so far as practicable, at such written agreements as may be necessary for determining the amount of any excepted liability and the terms to apply in relation to the liability imposed<sup>10</sup> on the default transferee by reference to that liability<sup>11</sup>.

Notwithstanding any terms so agreed or determined, any liability in respect of any sum treated<sup>12</sup> as having been borrowed from a local education authority may at any time be discharged by a single payment of a sum equal to the aggregate of the amount of the principal of the loan outstanding at the time of the payment and the amount of any interest accrued before that time<sup>13</sup>.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(iv) Higher Education Corporations/A. INCORPORATION/678. Determination of full-time equivalent enrolment numbers.

678. Determination of full-time equivalent enrolment numbers.

The full-time equivalent enrolment number at any time of any educational institution for courses of any description is the aggregate of:

- 1234 (1) the number of full-time students<sup>1</sup> enrolled at that institution at that time to follow courses of that description<sup>2</sup>; and
- 1235 (2) the numbers for each mode of attendance at specified courses<sup>3</sup> arrived at by multiplying by the appropriate multiplier<sup>4</sup> the number of students enrolled at the institution at the time in question to follow such courses by that mode of attendance<sup>5</sup>.

For the purpose of determining<sup>6</sup> the full-time equivalent enrolment number at any time of any educational institution for courses of any description, any student enrolled at the institution whose ordinary place of residence then was or is in a country or territory other than a member state<sup>7</sup> must be disregarded<sup>8</sup>.

1 A student is a full-time student in relation to a course of any description if all his studies for the purposes of that course are full-time studies: Education Reform Act 1988 s 161(3), Sch 9 para 3(1). The Secretary of State may by order amend Sch 9 paras 1-3 except so far as they apply for determining an institution's full-time equivalent enrolment number for any courses or (as the case may be) an institution's total full-time equivalent enrolment number on 1 November 1985: Sch 9 para 4. Such orders are not statutory instruments (s 232(1), (2)) and are not recorded in this work. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 Ibid s 161(3), Sch 9 para 1(1)(a). See also note 1 supra.

3 Ie the courses specified in note 4 infra.

4 The appropriate multipliers, in relation to a mode of attendance so specified, are:

- 66 (1) in relation to a mode of attendance by way of a sandwich course, 0.9 (in the case of courses of advanced further education or courses of higher education), or 0.75 (in any other case) (Education Reform Act 1988 Sch 9 paras 1(3), 2, Table);
- 67 (2) in relation to a mode of attendance by way of block release or day release, 0.4 (in the case of courses of advanced further education or courses of higher education), or 0.3 (in any other case) (Sch 9 paras 1(3), 2, Table);
- 68 (3) in relation to a mode of attendance which is part-time (other than day release but including some day-time study), 0.4 (in the case of courses of advanced further education or courses of higher education), or 0.125 (in any other case) (Sch 9 paras 1(3), 2, Table);
- 69 (4) in relation to a mode of attendance which is part-time (evening only study) or by way of open or distance learning, 0.2 (in the case of courses of advanced further education or courses of higher education), or 0.075 (in any other case) (Sch 9 paras 1(3), 2, Table).

A student's mode of attendance at a course of any description is by way of a sandwich course if in following that course, he engages in periods of full-time study for the purposes of the course alternating with periods of full-time work experience which form part of that course, and his average period of full-time study for the purposes of the course for each academic year included in the course is 19 weeks or more: Sch 9 para 3(2)(a).

A student's mode of attendance at a course of any description is by way of block release if the course involves a period of full-time study interrupted by a period of industrial training or employment (whether or not it also includes study on one or two days a week during any other period), and his average period of full-time study for the purposes of the course for each academic year included in the course is less than 19 weeks: Sch 9 para 3(2)(b). As to the meaning of 'employment' and related expressions see PARA 776 note 3 post.

A student's mode of attendance at a course of any description is by way of day release if he is in employment and he is released by his employer to follow that course during any part of the working week: Sch 9 para 3(2)(c).

A student's mode of attendance at a course of any description is by way of open or distance learning if he is provided for the purposes of the course with learning material for private study, and his written work for the purposes of the course is subject to a marking and comment service provided for students following the course by private study (whether or not any additional advisory or teaching services are also provided for such students as part of the course): Sch 9 para 3(2)(d).

B. CONSTITUTION AND GOVERNANCE

(A) CORPORATIONS ESTABLISHED BEFORE 6 MAY 1992

679. Initial constitution.

A higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> established<sup>2</sup> before 6 May 1992<sup>3</sup> was required to consist of not less than 12 and not more than 24 members<sup>4</sup> and the person who was for the time being the principal of the institution<sup>5</sup>, unless he chose not to be a member<sup>6</sup>. Of the appointed members:

- 1236 (1) up to 13 had to be persons appearing to the appointing authority<sup>7</sup> to have experience of, and to have shown capacity in, industrial, commercial or employment matters or the practice of any profession<sup>8</sup>;
- 1237 (2) not less than four and not more than eight had to be persons nominated<sup>9</sup> otherwise than by other members of the corporation<sup>10</sup>; and
- 1238 (3) at least one and not more than four had to be persons nominated<sup>11</sup> by the members of the corporation who were either independent members or initial nominee members and the principal of the institution (if he was a member)<sup>12</sup>.

It was for the appointing authority to determine any question as to whether any person was qualified<sup>13</sup> for appointment as a member of a corporation of any description or category<sup>14</sup>.

The provisions described above<sup>15</sup> are subject to the provisions relating to the subsequent determination of membership numbers<sup>16</sup>. The provisions relating to the constitution of higher education corporations<sup>17</sup> do not have effect in relation to a higher education corporation established before 6 May 1992 if an instrument of government<sup>18</sup> for the corporation has effect<sup>19</sup>.

5 References, in relation to a corporation, to the institution are references: (1) in relation to any time before the transfer date applicable in relation to the corporation, to the institution the corporation is established to conduct (ibid Sch 7 para 1(3)(b)(i)); and (2) in relation to any later time, to any institution for the time being conducted by the corporation in exercise of its powers under the Education Reform Act 1988 (Sch 7 para 1(3)(b)(ii)). For the meaning of 'the transfer date' see PARAS 673 note 7, 674 note 6 ante.

6 Ibid Sch 7 paras 1(3)(a), 3(1). The members of the corporation for the time being were known as the board of governors of the institution: Sch 7 para 3(3).

7 The Secretary of State was the appointing authority for the purposes of ibid Sch 7 (as amended) in relation to the appointment of the first members of a corporation: Sch 7 para 5(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

8 Ibid Sch 7 para 3(2)(a). These members are known as 'the independent members'. In the case of any corporation, a person who was employed at the institution (whether or not as a teacher), a full-time student at the institution, or an elected member of any local authority, was not eligible for appointment as an independent member or as an additional nominee member (see the text and notes 11-12 infra) of the corporation: Sch 7 para 4(4). For these purposes, a person who was not for the time being enrolled as a student at an institution was to be treated as such a student during any period when he was granted leave of absence from the institution for the purposes of study or travel or for carrying out the duties of any office held by him in the student union at the institution: Sch 7 para 4(5). For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 1388 note 12 post.

In determining the number of members to appoint within each variable category of members (ie independent members, initial nominee members and additional nominee members), the Secretary of State was required to secure that at least half of all the members of the corporation as first constituted were independent members: Sch 7 paras 2(2), 5(2).

9 Ie in accordance with ibid Sch 7 (as amended).

10 Ibid Sch 7 para 3(2)(b). These members, known as 'the initial nominee members', were to consist of at least one and not more than three local authority nominees, one teacher nominee, one general staff nominee, and one student nominee, and could include up to two academic nominees: Sch 7 paras 3(2)(b), 4(1). 'Local authority nominee' means a person, other than a person employed at the institution (whether or not as a teacher) or a student at the institution, nominated by a local authority specified in relation to the corporation in an order made by the Secretary of State; 'teacher nominee' means a teacher at the institution nominated by the teachers at the institution; 'general staff nominee' means a person employed at the institution otherwise than as a teacher and nominated by the persons so employed; 'student nominee' means a student at the institution nominated by the students at the institution; and 'academic nominee' means a teacher at the institution nominated by the academic board: Sch 7 para 4(2). For the meaning of 'employed' see PARA 776 note 3 post. Before making an order specifying local authorities in relation to any corporation for the purposes of Sch 7 para 4(1)(a), the Secretary of State was required to consult such associations of local authorities as appeared to him to be concerned: Sch 7 para 4(7). Such orders are local in nature, and are not recorded in this work.

11 Ie in accordance with ibid Sch 7 (as amended). See note 8 supra.

12 Ibid Sch 7 para 3(2)(c). These members are known as 'the additional nominee members', and of those members, the one required by Sch 7 para 3(2)(c) had to be a person who had experience in the provision of education, and the three others permitted by that provision were one person who had such experience and two persons who did not need not to have such experience: Sch 7 paras 3(2)(c), 4(3). See also note 8 supra.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(iv) Higher Education Corporations/B. CONSTITUTION AND GOVERNANCE/(A) Corporations Established Before 6 May 1992/680. Membership.

680. Membership.

Following the appointment by the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> of the first members of a higher education corporation<sup>2</sup> established<sup>3</sup> before 6 May 1992<sup>4</sup>, the corporation was required to make a determination<sup>5</sup> with respect to its membership numbers<sup>6</sup>. Such a determination had to fix the number of members of each variable category<sup>7</sup> of which the corporation was to consist, subject to the applicable limits<sup>8</sup>. In making a determination, the corporation was required to secure that at least half of all the members of the corporation, when constituted in accordance with the determination, would be independent members<sup>9</sup>. A determination could not have effect so as to terminate the appointment of any person who was a member of the corporation at the time when it took effect<sup>10</sup>, and could be varied by a subsequent determination<sup>11</sup>.

A member of a higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> established<sup>2</sup> before 6 May 1992<sup>3</sup> is to hold and vacate office in accordance with the terms of his appointment<sup>4</sup>. On ceasing to be a member, he is eligible for re-appointment<sup>5</sup>. He may at any time by notice in writing to the corporation resign his office<sup>6</sup>. Where a member of a corporation appointed as a teacher nominee<sup>7</sup>, an academic nominee<sup>8</sup>, a general staff nominee<sup>9</sup> or a student nominee<sup>10</sup> ceases before the end of his term of office to be qualified<sup>11</sup> for appointment as a nominee of the description in question, his office becomes vacant<sup>12</sup>.

A person is not qualified for appointment as a member of a corporation at any time when he is under the age of 18 or over the age of 70<sup>13</sup>.

The corporation may, by notice in writing to the member concerned, remove from office any member who, to the satisfaction of the corporation, has been absent from meetings of the corporation for a period longer than 12 consecutive months without the permission of the corporation, or who is unable or unfit to discharge the functions<sup>14</sup> of a member<sup>15</sup>.

A corporation has power to pay to its members such travelling, subsistence or other allowances as it may determine<sup>16</sup>.

682. The appointing authority.

The appointing authority in relation to the appointment of any member (other than an independent member<sup>1</sup>) of a higher education corporation<sup>2</sup> established<sup>3</sup> before 6 May 1992<sup>4</sup>, at any time after the appointment by the Secretary of State of the first members<sup>5</sup>, is the corporation<sup>6</sup>.

These provisions<sup>7</sup> do not have effect in relation to a higher education corporation established before 6 May 1992 if an instrument of government<sup>8</sup> for the corporation has effect<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the independent members of a corporation see PARA 679 note 8 ante. Special provision is made as to the appointing authority for the appointment of independent members in the following circumstances:

- 70 (1) where an appointment of an additional independent member falls to be made in consequence of a determination under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 123(3) (as substituted), Sch 7 para 6 (see Sch 7 para 7(4), (7); and PARA 680 note 9 ante);
- 71 (2) where a vacancy in the office of an independent member arises on the death of any such member (see Sch 7 para 7(6), (7); and PARA 681 note 4 ante);
- 72 (3) where a vacancy in the office of an independent member arises on any existing independent member ceasing to hold office on the expiry of his term of office (see Sch 7 para 7(5), (7); and PARA 681 note 4 ante);
- 73 (4) where a vacancy in the office of an independent member arises on any such member resigning his office (see Sch 7 para 7(6), (7); and PARA 681 note 6 ante); and
- 74 (5) where a vacancy in the office of an independent member arises on any such member being removed from office by the corporation (see Sch 7 para 7(6); and PARA 681 note 15 ante).

Additionally, if the number of independent members of the corporation falls below the number needed in accordance with its articles of government for a quorum, the Secretary of State is the appointing authority in relation to the appointment of such number of independent members as is required for a quorum: Sch 7 para 7(8) (added by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 71(3)(a)). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. ### 683. Election of chairman.

The members of a higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> established<sup>2</sup> before 6 May 1992<sup>3</sup> must elect from among their number a chairman<sup>4</sup> who is to hold office for such period as the corporation may determine<sup>5</sup>. A member of a corporation who is employed<sup>6</sup> at the institution<sup>7</sup> or a student at the institution is not eligible for election as chairman of the corporation<sup>8</sup>.

684. Committees and proceedings.

A higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> established<sup>2</sup> before 6 May 1992<sup>3</sup> may establish a committee for any purpose<sup>4</sup>. The number of members of a committee so established, which may include persons who are not members of the corporation, and the terms on which they are to hold and vacate office, must be fixed by the corporation<sup>5</sup>.

The validity of any proceedings of a corporation or of any committee of a corporation is not affected by a vacancy amongst the members or by any defect in the appointment or nomination of a member<sup>6</sup>. In the event of an equality of votes at any meeting of a corporation the chairman of the corporation<sup>7</sup> has a second or casting vote<sup>8</sup>.

These provisions<sup>9</sup> do not have effect in relation to a higher education corporation established before 6 May 1992 if an instrument of government<sup>10</sup> for the corporation has effect<sup>11</sup>.

(B) CORPORATIONS ESTABLISHED AFTER 6 MAY 1992 AND OTHER CORPORATIONS CONSTITUTED BY INSTRUMENTS OF GOVERNMENT

687. Instruments of government.

For each higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> established<sup>2</sup> on or after 6 May 1992<sup>3</sup>, and for each corporation established before that date for which provision has been made<sup>4</sup>, there must be an instrument (known as the 'instrument of government') providing for the constitution of the corporation and making such other provision as is required<sup>5</sup>. The initial instrument of government of a higher education corporation so established must be such as is prescribed by an order of the Privy Council<sup>6</sup> and may be replaced by a new instrument so made<sup>7</sup>.

An instrument of government must comply with specified requirements<sup>8</sup> and may make any authorised provision<sup>9</sup> and such other provision as may be necessary or desirable<sup>10</sup>.

6 Ibid s 124A(2) (as added: see note 3 supra). An order under s 124A(2) or (3) (as added) may make such provision as appears to the Privy Council necessary or desirable to secure continuity in the government of the institution or institutions to which it relates: s 124A(5) (as so added). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such orders had been made.

A power vested in the Privy Council under Pt II (ss 120-161) (as amended) may be exercised by any two or more of the Lords and others of the Council: s 124D(1), (2) (s 124D added by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 71(1)). An act of the Privy Council is sufficiently signified by an instrument signed by the clerk of the Council: Education Reform Act 1988 s 124D(3) (as so added). An order or act signified by an instrument purporting to be signed by the clerk of the Council is deemed to have been duly made or done by the Privy Council: s 124D(4) (as so added). An instrument so signed is to be received in evidence in all courts and proceedings without proof of the authority or signature of the clerk of the Council or other proof: s 124D(5) (as so added). As to the rules of civil evidence see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 749 et seq.

CONSTITUTION AND GOVERNANCE/(B) Corporations Established After 6 May 1992 and other Corporations Constituted by Instruments of Government/689. Membership of the corporation.

689. Membership of the corporation.

The instrument of government<sup>1</sup> of a higher education corporation<sup>2</sup> must make provision for the membership of the corporation whereby the corporation is to consist of not less than 12 and not more than 24 members<sup>3</sup> and the person who is for the time being the principal of the institution, unless he chooses not to be a member<sup>4</sup>. Of the appointed members:

- 1239 (1) up to 13 must be persons appearing to the appointing authority<sup>5</sup> to have experience of, and to have shown capacity in, industrial, commercial or employment matters or the practice of any profession<sup>6</sup>;
- 1240 (2) up to two may be teachers at the institution nominated by the academic board and up to two may be students at the institution nominated by the students<sup>7</sup> at the institution<sup>8</sup>; and
- 1241 (3) at least one and not more than nine must be persons nominated by the members of the corporation who are not co-opted members<sup>9</sup>.

A person<sup>10</sup> is not eligible for appointment as a member of the corporation, otherwise than as a co-opted member, if he is employed<sup>11</sup> at the institution (whether or not as a teacher), or is a full-time student at the institution, or is an elected member of any local authority<sup>12</sup>. It is for the appointing authority to determine any question as to whether any person is qualified<sup>13</sup> for appointment as a member of the corporation of any description or category<sup>14</sup>.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(iv) Higher Education Corporations/B. CONSTITUTION AND GOVERNANCE/(B) Corporations Established After 6 May 1992 and other Corporations Constituted by Instruments of Government/690. Membership numbers and appointments.

690. Membership numbers and appointments.

The instrument of government<sup>1</sup> of a higher education corporation<sup>2</sup> must make provision for the membership of the corporation whereby the corporation must make a determination with respect to its membership numbers<sup>3</sup>. Such a determination must fix the number of members of each variable category<sup>4</sup> of which the corporation is to consist, subject to the applicable limits<sup>5</sup>. In making such a determination, the corporation must secure that at least half of all the members of the corporation, when constituted in accordance with the determination, will be independent members<sup>6</sup>. Such a determination does not have effect so as to terminate the appointment of any person who is a member of the corporation at the time when it takes effect<sup>7</sup>, and may be varied by a subsequent determination<sup>8</sup>.

The instrument of government of corporation must make provision for the membership of the corporation whereby no appointment of members may be made before the first determination of the corporation<sup>9</sup> takes effect<sup>10</sup>.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(iv) Higher Education Corporations/B. CONSTITUTION AND GOVERNANCE/(B) Corporations Established After 6 May 1992 and other Corporations Constituted by Instruments of Government/691. The appointing authority.

691. The appointing authority.

The appointing authority in relation to the appointment of the first members of a higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> established<sup>2</sup> on or after 6 May 1992<sup>3</sup> is the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> and, in determining the number of members to appoint within each variable category of members<sup>5</sup>, he must secure that at least half of all the members of the corporation as first constituted are independent members<sup>6</sup>.

The instrument of government<sup>7</sup> of a higher education corporation must make provision for the membership of the corporation whereby the appointing authority in relation to the appointment of any member (other than an independent member<sup>8</sup>) of the corporation is the corporation<sup>9</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'higher education corporation' see PARA 672 ante.

2 Ie under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 122 (as amended) (see PARA 674 ante).

3 Ie the appointed day: ibid s 124A(10) (ss 124A, 124C both added by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 71(1)); Further and Higher Education Act 1992 (Commencement No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1992, SI 1992/831.

4 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

5 As to the meaning of 'variable category of members' see PARA 690 note 4 ante; definition applied by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 124C(2) (as added: see note 3 supra).

6 Ibid s 124C(1) (as added: see note 3 supra). For the meaning of 'independent members' see PARA 689 note 6 ante; definition applied by s 124C(2) (as so added).

7 As to the higher education corporations for which instruments of government may have effect see PARAS 686-687 ante.

8 Special provision is made as to the appointing authority for the appointment of independent members in the following circumstances:

75 (1) where an appointment of an additional independent member falls to be made in consequence of a determination under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 124A(4)(a) (as added), Sch 7A para 4 (as added) (see PARA 690 ante), the appointing authority in relation to the appointment must, if the appointment is made within the period of three months beginning with the date of the determination, be the corporation (Sch 7A paras 2, 5(3)(a) (Sch 7A added by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 71(4), Sch 6)), or, if the appointment is not made within that period, be the current independent members of the corporation (Education Reform Act 1988 Sch 7A paras 2, 5(3)(b) (as so added));

76 (2) where a vacancy in the office of an independent member arises on any existing independent member ceasing to hold office on the expiry of his term of office, the appointing authority in relation to the appointment of the member's successor must, if the appointment is made not less than three months before the expiry of that term, be the corporation (Sch 7A paras 2, 5(4)(b)(i) (as so added)) or, if the appointment is not so made, be the current independent members of the corporation (Sch 7A paras 2, 5(4)(b)(ii) (as so added)); and in these circumstances the member's successor must not be appointed more than six months before the expiry of that term (Sch 7A paras 2, 5(4)(a) (as so added));

- 77 (3) where a vacancy in the office of an independent member arises on the death of any such member or on any such member ceasing to hold office in accordance with the instrument of government, the appointing authority in relation to the appointment of the member's successor must, if the appointment is made within the period of three months beginning with the date of death or the date on which the office becomes vacant (as the case may be), be the corporation (Sch 7A paras 2, 5(5)(a) (as so added)), or, if the appointment is not made within that period, be the current independent members of the corporation (Sch 7A paras 2, 5(5)(b) (as so added)).

No appointment of an independent member by the corporation in accordance with Sch 7A paras 5(3)(a), (4)(b) (i) or (5)(a) (as added) may be made unless the appointment has been approved by the current independent members of the corporation: Sch 7A paras 2, 5(6) (as so added)).

Additionally, if the number of independent members of the corporation falls below the number needed in accordance with its articles of government for a quorum, the Secretary of State is the appointing authority in relation to the appointment of such number of independent members as is required for a quorum: Sch 7A para 5(7) (as so added).

9 Ibid s 124A(4) (as added: see note 3 supra), Sch 7A paras 2, 5(2) (as added: see note 8 supra). This is stated to be subject to s 124C (as added) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra). The Secretary of State may by order amend or repeal Sch 7A para 5 (as added): s 124A(9) (as so added). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such order had been made. As to the making of orders under the Education Reform Act 1988 generally see PARA 19 note 1 ante.

692. Procedural requirements.

The instrument of government<sup>1</sup> of a higher education corporation<sup>2</sup> may provide for the eligibility of persons for membership of the corporation and must provide for their period of office and the circumstances in which they are to cease to hold office<sup>3</sup>. The instrument must provide for one or more officers to be chosen from among the members<sup>4</sup> and may provide for the corporation to establish committees and permit such committees to include persons who are not members of the corporation<sup>5</sup>. The instrument may also provide for the corporation to pay allowances to its members<sup>6</sup>. It must provide for the authentication of the application of the seal of the corporation<sup>7</sup>.

CONSTITUTION AND GOVERNANCE/(B) Corporations Established After 6 May 1992 and other Corporations Constituted by Instruments of Government/693. Proof of documents and validity of proceedings.

693. Proof of documents and validity of proceedings.

The validity of any proceedings of a higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> for which an instrument of government has effect<sup>2</sup>, or of any committee of such a corporation, is not affected by a vacancy amongst the members or by any defect in the appointment or nomination of a member<sup>3</sup>. Every document purporting to be an instrument made or issued by or on behalf of a higher education corporation for which an instrument of government has effect and purporting to be duly executed under the seal of the corporation, or to be signed or executed by a person authorised by the corporation to act in that behalf, must be received in evidence and treated, without further proof, as being so made or issued unless the contrary is shown<sup>4</sup>. In relation to a higher education corporation for which an instrument of government has effect, the members of the corporation for the time being are known as the board of governors of the institution conducted by the corporation<sup>5</sup>.

C. POWERS AND DUTIES

694. Powers of a higher education corporation.

A higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> may:

- 1242 (1) provide higher education<sup>2</sup>;
- 1243 (2) provide further education<sup>3</sup>;
- 1244 (3) provide secondary education<sup>4</sup> suitable to the requirements of persons who have attained the age of 14 years<sup>7</sup>;
- 1245 (4) provide education which is secondary education by virtue of the Education Act 1996<sup>8</sup>;
- 1246 (5) participate in the provision of secondary education at a school<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1247 (6) carry out research and publish the results of the research or any other material arising out of or connected with it in such manner as it thinks fit<sup>10</sup>.

A higher education corporation may also do anything which appears to it to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of or in connection with the exercise of any of the powers so conferred<sup>11</sup>, including in particular:

- 1248 (a) conducting an educational institution for the purpose of carrying on activities undertaken in exercise of any of those powers and, in particular, assuming the conduct as from the transfer date<sup>12</sup> applicable in relation to the corporation of the institution in respect of which the corporation is established and for that purpose to receive any property, rights and liabilities<sup>13</sup> transferred<sup>14</sup> to the corporation<sup>15</sup>;
- 1249 (b) providing facilities of any description appearing to the corporation to be necessary or expedient for the purposes of or in connection with carrying on any such activities (including boarding accommodation and recreational facilities for students and staff and facilities to meet the needs of students having learning difficulties)<sup>16</sup>;
- 1250 (c) supplying goods and services<sup>17</sup>;
- 1251 (d) acquiring and disposing of land<sup>18</sup> and other property<sup>19</sup>;
- 1252 (e) entering into contracts, including in particular contracts for the employment<sup>20</sup> of teachers and other staff for the purposes of or in connection with carrying on any such activities and contracts with respect to the carrying on by the corporation of any such activities<sup>21</sup>;
- 1253 (f) subscribing for or otherwise acquiring shares in or securities of a company for the purpose of carrying on such activities<sup>22</sup>;
- 1254 (g) borrowing such sums as it thinks fit for the purposes of carrying on any activities it has power to carry on or meeting any liability transferred to it<sup>23</sup> and, in connection with such borrowing, granting any mortgage, charge or other security in respect of any land or other property of the corporation<sup>24</sup>;
- 1255 (h) investing any sums not immediately required for any of those purposes<sup>25</sup>;
- 1256 (i) accepting gifts of money, land or other property and applying it, or holding and administering it on trust for, any of those purposes<sup>26</sup>; and 1257 (j) doing anything incidental to the conduct of an educational institution providing higher or further education<sup>27</sup>.

695. Duty to maintain accounts.

Each higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> must keep proper accounts and proper records in relation to them<sup>2</sup> and must prepare in respect of each financial year<sup>3</sup> of the corporation a statement of accounts<sup>4</sup>. The statement must give a true and fair account of the state of the corporation's affairs at the end of the financial year and of the corporation's income and expenditure in the financial year<sup>5</sup> and must also comply with any directions given by the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>6</sup> as to the information to be contained in the statement, the manner in which the information is to be presented or the methods and principles according to which the statement is to be prepared<sup>7</sup>. The accounts (including any statement<sup>8</sup>) must be audited by persons appointed in respect of each financial year by the corporation<sup>9</sup>.

697. Conduct of institutions in accordance with articles of government.

Any institution conducted by a higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> must be conducted in accordance with articles of government, to be made by the corporation with the approval of the Privy Council<sup>2</sup>. The articles of government:

- 1258 (1) must determine the functions<sup>3</sup> to be exercised in relation to the institution by the board of governors<sup>4</sup> of the institution, the principal of the institution and the academic board of the institution<sup>5</sup>; and
- 1259 (2) may regulate the constitution and functions of committees of the corporation and of the academic board of the institution and provide for the delegation of functions of the board of governors and the academic board to such committees, to the chairman of the corporation or to the principal<sup>6</sup>.

The articles of government must also make provision with respect to the procedure for meetings of the board of governors, of the academic board and of committees of the corporation and the procedure in relation to the appointment of members of the corporation (including in either case quorum and proxies)<sup>7</sup>; and may make provision with respect to:

- 1260 (a) procedures for the appointment, promotion, suspension and dismissal of staff<sup>8</sup>;
- 1261 (b) procedures for the admission, suspension and expulsion of students<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1262 (c) the appointment and functions of a clerk to the board of governors<sup>10</sup>.

The articles of government may also make provision authorising the board of governors to make rules or byelaws for the government and conduct of the institution<sup>11</sup>, including in particular rules or byelaws with respect to the conduct of students and staff (or either of them)<sup>12</sup> and any procedures mentioned in head (a) or head (b) above<sup>13</sup>.

The Privy Council may<sup>14</sup> require higher education corporations, any class of such corporations specified in the direction, or any particular higher education corporation so specified, to amend their articles of government, or to secure that any rules or byelaws made in pursuance of their articles of government are amended by the board of governors, in any manner so specified<sup>15</sup>.

D. CHARITABLE STATUS

698. Higher education corporations and institutions as exempt charities.

A higher education corporation<sup>1</sup> is an exempt charity<sup>2</sup>.

So far as it is a charity, any institution<sup>3</sup> which is administered by or on behalf of any higher education corporation and is established for the general purposes of, or for any special purpose of or in connection with, that corporation, is also an exempt charity<sup>4</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'higher education corporation' see PARA 672 ante.

2 Education Reform Act 1988 s 125A(1) (s 125A added by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 41(1)). The reference in the text to an exempt charity is a reference to a charity which is an exempt charity for the purposes of the Charities Act 1993 (see s 3(5)(a), Sch 2 (as amended); and CHARITIES vol 8 (2010) PARA 315). For the meaning of 'charity' see s 96(1), (2) (as amended); and CHARITIES vol 8 (2010) PARA 1 (definition applied by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 125A(3) (as so added)).

3 'Institution' includes any trust or undertaking: Charities Act 1993 s 97(1); definition applied by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 125A(3) (as added: see note 2 supra).

E. MODIFICATION OF TRUST DEEDS

699. Power of Privy Council to modify trust deeds.

An order of the Privy Council may modify<sup>1</sup> any trust deed<sup>2</sup> or other instrument<sup>3</sup>:

- 1263 (1) relating to or regulating any institution conducted by a higher education corporation<sup>4</sup>; or
- 1264 (2) relating to any land<sup>5</sup> or other property held by any person for the purposes of any such institution<sup>6</sup>.

Before making any such modifications of any trust deed or other instrument, the Privy Council must, so far as it appears to it to be practicable to do so, consult<sup>7</sup>:

- 1265 (a) the governing body<sup>8</sup> of the institution<sup>9</sup>;
- 1266 (b) where that deed or instrument, or any other instrument relating to or regulating the institution concerned, confers power on any other persons to modify or replace that deed or instrument, those persons<sup>10</sup>; and
- 1267 (c) where the instrument to be modified is a trust deed and the trustees are different from the persons mentioned in head (a) or head (b) above, the trustees<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'modify' see PARA 658 note 2 ante. As to the exercise of the powers of the Privy Council under the Education Reform Act 1988 Pt II (ss 120-161) (as amended) see PARA 687 note 6 ante. Orders under s 157 (as amended) are not made by statutory instrument (s 232(1), (2) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 80(a))) and are not recorded in this work.

Nothing in any provision of the Education Reform Act 1988 or any order made under that Act relating to the trusts subject to which any land or other property or rights transferred thereunder are to be held by the transferee is to be taken as prejudicing any modification of those trusts after that transfer under any provision of the Act or otherwise: s 235(6).

2 As to the meaning of 'trust deed' see PARA 104 note 6 ante; definition applied by ibid s 235(7) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 81(1), (4)).

F. DISSOLUTION

700. Dissolution of higher education corporations.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by order<sup>2</sup> provide for the dissolution of any higher education corporation<sup>3</sup> and for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities<sup>4</sup> of the corporation to<sup>5</sup>:

- 1268 (1) any person appearing to the Secretary of State to be wholly or mainly engaged in the provision of educational facilities or services of any description<sup>6</sup>;
- 1269 (2) any body corporate established for purposes which include the provision of such facilities or services<sup>7</sup>;
- 1270 (3) a Higher Education Funding Council<sup>8</sup>; or
- 1271 (4) the Learning and Skills Council for England<sup>9</sup> or the National Council for Education and Training for Wales<sup>10</sup>.

Before making such an order the Secretary of State must consult the corporation and the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>11</sup>. The order may apply the statutory provisions relating to the transfer of staff to higher education corporations<sup>12</sup> with such modifications<sup>13</sup> as the Secretary of State may consider necessary or desirable<sup>14</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 Orders under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 128 (as amended) are local in nature, and are not recorded in this work. As to the making of orders under the Education Reform Act 1988 generally see PARA 19 note 1 ante.

(v) Designated Institutions

701. Designation of institutions.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by order<sup>2</sup> designate as an institution eligible to receive support from funds administered by a Higher Education Funding Council<sup>3</sup>:

- 1272 (1) any institution which appears to him to be an institution whose full-time equivalent enrolment number<sup>4</sup> for courses of higher education<sup>5</sup> exceeds 55 per cent of its total full-time equivalent enrolment number<sup>6</sup>; and
- 1273 (2) any institution which is, or is to be, conducted by a successor company to a higher education corporation<sup>7</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 As to the making of orders under the Education Reform Act 1988 generally see PARA 19 note 1 ante. Orders under s 129(1) (as substituted) are local in nature, and are not recorded in this work.

An order under s 129 (as amended) in respect of any institution may revoke any order in respect of that institution under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 28 (as amended) (see PARA 599 ante): s 74(2). An order in force immediately before 6 May 1992 (ie the date on which s 72(1) was brought into force by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 (Commencement No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1992, SI 1992/831) designating an institution as falling within the Education Reform Act 1988 s 129(3) (repealed) has effect as if made under s 129 as amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 72(1): s 72(2). An institution fell within the Education Reform Act 1988 s 129(3) (repealed) if its full-time equivalent enrolment number for courses of advanced further education on 1 November 1985 exceeded 55% of its total full-time equivalent enrolment number on that date and it was on that date either an institution assisted by a local education authority or a grant-aided institution: s 129(3) (repealed). References to courses of advanced further education are references to courses designated by the Education (Schools and Further Education) Regulations 1981, SI 1981/1086 (as amended). As to grants in aid of educational services or research to persons other than local education authorities see PARA 69 ante.

3 Ie in relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for England or to educational institutions in England, the Higher Education Funding Council for England, and in relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales or to educational institutions in Wales, the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales: see the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 62(5), (6); and PARA 733 et seq post.

7 Education Reform Act 1988 s 129(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). As to references to a higher education corporation see PARA 672 ante. For the purposes of s 129(1)(b) (as substituted), a company is a successor company to a higher education corporation if:

78 (1) it is a company limited by a guarantee formed and registered under the Companies Act 1985 (Education Reform Act 1988 s 129(5)(a));

- 79 (2) at the time when it was formed the persons participating in its formation were all members of a higher education corporation and constituted a majority of the members of that corporation (s 129(5)(b));
- 80 (3) its objects are exclusively charitable according to the law of England and Wales and include the conduct of the institution which was at that time conducted by that corporation (s 129(5)(c));
- 81 (4) its memorandum and articles of association have been approved by the Secretary of State (s 129(5)(d)); and
- 82 (5) an order has been made under s 128 (as amended) (see PARA 700 ante) dissolving the corporation and transferring the property, rights and liabilities of the corporation to the company (whether or not that order has taken effect before the order under this provision is made) (s 129(5)(e)).

As to the meaning of 'liability' see PARA 673 note 7 ante. As to companies limited by guarantee see COMPANIES vol 14 (2009) PARA 79 et seq.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(v) Designated Institutions/702. Transfer of property, rights and liabilities to designated institutions.

702. Transfer of property, rights and liabilities to designated institutions.

Where an institution is designated<sup>1</sup> and:

- 1274 (1) the order designating the institution so provides<sup>2</sup>; and
- 1275 (2) immediately before the date on which the designation takes effect<sup>3</sup> the institution is an institution assisted by a local education authority<sup>4</sup>, then, on the designation date in relation to any such institution, specified property, rights and liabilities<sup>5</sup> must be transferred to, and by virtue of the Education Reform Act 1988 vested in, the appropriate transferee<sup>6</sup>, that is:

- 1276 (a) in relation to an institution conducted by a body corporate, that body<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1277 (b) in relation to an institution not so conducted, any persons specified in the order designating the institution as persons appearing to the Secretary of State<sup>8</sup> to be trustees holding property for the purposes of that institution<sup>9</sup>.

The property, rights and liabilities in question are all land or other property which, immediately before the designation date, were property of the former assisting authority used or held for the purposes of that institution<sup>10</sup>, and all rights and liabilities of that authority subsisting immediately before that date which were acquired or incurred for those purposes<sup>11</sup>.

Where (apart from the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 84) any land or other property of a local authority would on any date ('the date of transfer') be transferred under the Education Reform Act 1988 Pt II (ss 120-161) (as amended) to the governing body of an institution within the higher education sector, and at any time before that date the authority, the governing body of the institution and the governing body of any other institution which will on that date be an institution within the higher education sector have agreed in writing that the land or property should be transferred on that or a subsequent date to the governing body of that other institution, then, if the Secretary of State has approved the agreement at any time before the date of transfer, Pt II (as amended) has effect as if it required the property to be transferred in accordance with the agreement: Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 84(1), (2). ### 703. Loan liabilities excepted from transfer.

For the purposes of the provisions enabling certain liabilities of local education authorities<sup>1</sup> to be excepted from transfer<sup>2</sup> to a designated institution on the designation of that institution<sup>3</sup>, a liability is an excepted liability if it would have been transferred by virtue of the designation but for the statutory exclusion of any such transfer<sup>4</sup>. The amount of any liability of a local education authority in respect of the principal of any loan which is an excepted liability in relation to a designated institution<sup>5</sup> is to be treated on and after the date on which that liability would have been transferred<sup>6</sup> as having been borrowed from that authority by the body of persons to whom the liability would have been transferred<sup>7</sup> on such terms as to repayment and the payment of interest as may be agreed<sup>8</sup> or determined by the Secretary of State<sup>9</sup>.

There is a duty to arrive, so far as practicable, at such written agreements as may be necessary for determining the amount of any excepted liability and the terms to apply in relation to the liability imposed<sup>10</sup> on the default transferee by reference to that liability<sup>11</sup>.

Notwithstanding any terms so agreed or determined, any liability in respect of any sum treated<sup>12</sup> as having been borrowed from a local education authority may at any time be discharged by a single payment of a sum equal to the aggregate of the amount of the principal of the loan outstanding at the time of the payment and the amount of any interest accrued before that time<sup>13</sup>.

704. Government and conduct of designated institutions.

For each designated institution<sup>1</sup>, other than an institution conducted by a company<sup>2</sup>, there must be an instrument of government and articles of government<sup>3</sup>. The instrument of government is an instrument providing for the constitution of a governing body<sup>4</sup> of the institution<sup>5</sup>, and the articles of government are the instrument in accordance with which the institution is to be conducted<sup>6</sup>. Each such instrument is required to have been either in force when the designation took effect<sup>7</sup> or made in pursuance of a power under a regulatory instrument<sup>8</sup> or, where no such power exists, made by the body of persons responsible for the management of the institution<sup>9</sup>, and must be as approved by the Privy Council<sup>10</sup>.

1 For the purposes of the Education Reform Act 1988 ss 129A, 129B (both as added), 'designated institution' means an institution in relation to which a designation made, or having effect as if made, under s 129 (as amended) (see PARA 701 ante) has effect but does not include any institution established by Royal Charter (see PARA 651 et seq ante): s 129A(10) (ss 129A, 129B added by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 73(1)).

2 Education Reform Act 1988 s 129A(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to the government of institutions conducted by a company see PARA 705 post.

3 See ibid s 129A(2) (as added: see note 1 supra).

4 For the purposes of ibid Pt II (ss 120-161) (as added), except where the context otherwise requires, 'governing body' includes, in relation to any institution, a board of governors of the institution or any persons responsible for the management of the institution (but not formally constituted as such a body or board): s 161(1)(d).

5 Ibid s 129A(2)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). Either of the instruments referred to in s 129A(2) (as added) may be modified by order of the Privy Council and no instrument approved by the Privy Council for the purposes of s 129A (as added) may be modified by any other person without the Privy Council's consent: s 129A(7) (as so added). Before exercising any power under s 129A(7) (as added) in relation to any instrument the Privy Council must, so far as it appears to it to be practicable to do so, consult the governing body of the institution, and, where there is such a power as is mentioned in s 129A(3)(b) (as added) (see the text and notes 7-8 infra) to modify the instrument and the persons having that power are different from the governing body of the institution, the persons having the power: s 129A(8) (as so added). As to the exercise of the powers of the Privy Council under Pt II (as amended) see PARA 687 note 6 ante.

6 Ibid s 129A(2)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

7 Ibid s 129A(3)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). If an instrument approved by the Privy Council for the purposes of s 129A (as added) falls within s 129A(3)(a) (as added) and there is no other power to modify it, the instrument may be modified by the body of persons responsible for the management of the institution: s 129A(6)(a) (as so added). As to the meaning of 'modify' see PARA 658 note 2 ante.

8 'Regulatory instrument', in relation to an institution, means any instrument of government or articles of government and any other instrument relating to or regulating the institution: ibid s 129A(4) (as added: see note 1 supra). If an instrument approved by the Privy Council for the purposes of s 129A (as added) was made in pursuance of a power under a regulatory instrument and there is no other power to modify it, the instrument may be modified by the body of persons responsible for the management of the institution: s 129A(6)(a) (as so added).

9 Ibid s 129A(3)(b), (5) (as added: see note 1 supra). An instrument made by the body of persons responsible for the management of the institution under s 129A(5) (as added) may replace wholly or partly any existing regulatory instrument: s 129A(5) (as so added). If an instrument approved by the Privy Council for the purposes of s 129A (as added) was made by the body of persons responsible for the management of the institution, the instrument may be modified by those persons: s 129A(6)(b) (as so added).

10 Ibid s 129A(3) (as added: see note 1 supra). The approval referred to in the text is approval for the purposes of s 129A (as added). Nothing in s 129A (as added) requires further approval for any instrument approved by the Secretary of State for the purposes of s 156 (repealed in relation to designated institutions), and references in s 129A (as added) to instruments approved by the Privy Council for the purposes of s 129A (as added) include instruments so approved by the Secretary of State: s 129A(9) (as so added). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

705. Instruments of government of designated institutions conducted by companies.

The articles of association of a company which conducts any designated institution<sup>1</sup> must incorporate provision with respect to the constitution of a governing body<sup>2</sup> of the institution (known as the instrument of government of the institution) and provision with respect to the conduct of the institution (known as the articles of government of the institution)<sup>3</sup>.

The Privy Council may give to the persons who appear to it to have effective control over the company such directions<sup>4</sup> as it thinks fit for securing that:

- 1278 (1) the memorandum or articles of association of the company<sup>5</sup>; or
- 1279 (2) any rules or byelaws made in pursuance of any power conferred by the articles of association of the company<sup>6</sup>, are amended in such manner as it may specify in the direction<sup>7</sup>.

No amendment of the memorandum or articles of association of the company (other than one required under head (1) above) is to take effect until it has been submitted to the Privy Council for its approval and it has notified its approval to the company<sup>8</sup>.

TEXT AND NOTES 4-7--Education Reform Act 1988 s 129B(3)(a) amended: SI 2009/1941.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/4. HIGHER EDUCATION/(1) INSTITUTIONS WITHIN THE HIGHER EDUCATION SECTOR/(v) Designated Institutions/706. Power of Privy Council to modify trust deeds.

706. Power of Privy Council to modify trust deeds.

An order of the Privy Council may modify<sup>1</sup> any trust deed<sup>2</sup> or other instrument<sup>3</sup>:

- 1280 (1) relating to or regulating any designated institution<sup>4</sup> other than an institution established by Royal Charter<sup>5</sup>; or
- 1281 (2) relating to any land<sup>6</sup> or other property held by any person for the purposes of any such institution<sup>7</sup>.

Before making any such modifications of any trust deed or other instrument, the Privy Council must, so far as it appears to it to be practicable to do so, consult<sup>8</sup>:

- 1282 (a) the governing body<sup>9</sup> of the institution<sup>10</sup>;
- 1283 (b) where that deed or instrument, or any other instrument relating to or regulating the institution concerned, confers power on any other persons to modify or replace that deed or instrument, those persons<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1284 (c) where the instrument to be modified is a trust deed and the trustees are different from the persons mentioned in head (a) or head (b) above, the trustees<sup>12</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'modify' see PARA 658 note 2 ante. As to the exercise of the powers of the Privy Council under the Education Reform Act 1988 Pt II (ss 120-161) (as amended) see PARA 687 note 6 ante. Orders under s 157 (as amended) are not made by statutory instrument (s 232(1), (2) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 80(a))) and are not recorded in this work.

Nothing in any provision of the Education Reform Act 1988 or any order made under that Act relating to the trusts subject to which any land or other property or rights transferred thereunder are to be held by the transferee is to be taken as prejudicing any modification of those trusts after that transfer under any provision of the Act or otherwise: s 235(6).

2 As to the meaning of 'trust deed' see PARA 104 note 6 ante; definition applied by ibid s 235(7) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 81(1), (4)).

(2) OTHER INSTITUTIONS PROVIDING HIGHER EDUCATION

708. Functions of local education authorities with respect to higher education.

A local education authority<sup>1</sup> is no longer under a duty to secure the provision for its area of facilities for higher education<sup>2</sup>. However, a local education authority may<sup>3</sup>:

- 1285 (1) secure the provision for its area of such facilities for higher education as appear to it to be appropriate for meeting the needs of the population of its area<sup>4</sup>;
- 1286 (2) secure the provision of higher education for persons from other areas<sup>5</sup>; and
- 1287 (3) do anything which appears to it to be necessary or expedient for the purposes of or in connection with such provision<sup>6</sup>.

In exercising its power under head (1) above a local education authority must have regard to any facilities for higher education provided by institutions within the higher education sector<sup>7</sup> or the further education sector<sup>8</sup> and other bodies which are provided for, or available for use by persons living in, its area<sup>9</sup>.

709. Power of governing body of maintained school to provide higher education.

Under the Education Act 2002<sup>1</sup>, the governing body of a maintained school<sup>2</sup> has the power to arrange the provision to pupils<sup>3</sup> at the school, whether by teachers at the school or other persons, of: (1) courses in preparation for professional examinations at a higher level<sup>4</sup>; or (2) courses providing education at a higher level (whether or not in preparation for an examination)<sup>5</sup>. A governing body may exercise this power in relation to a particular pupil only if it is satisfied that the provision to that pupil of the course in question will not to any significant extent interfere with the other education with which he is being provided at the school<sup>6</sup>.

This power to provide higher education<sup>7</sup> has effect notwithstanding the fact that nothing in the Education Act 1996 confers any functions with respect to higher education<sup>8</sup>.

1 The Education Act 2002 s 28A (as added) is brought into force as from a day to be appointed under the Education Act 2005 ss 125(4), 126(1), (4)(b). In relation to England, the appointed day for these purposes is 1 September 2005 (see the Education Act 2005 (Commencement No 1 and Savings and Transitional Provisions) Order 2005, SI 2005/2034, art 4) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

711. Information with respect to educational provision in institutions providing higher education.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make regulations<sup>2</sup> requiring every local education authority<sup>3</sup> to publish, in relation to each institution providing full-time education which is maintained by that authority in exercise of its higher education functions<sup>4</sup>, such information as may be prescribed with respect to<sup>5</sup>:

1290 (1) the educational provision made by the institution for students at the institution<sup>6</sup>; and

1291 (2) the educational achievements of students at the institution (including the results of examinations, tests and other assessments of those students)<sup>7</sup>.

The information must be published in such form and manner and at such times as may be prescribed, and the regulations may provide for a local education authority to make arrangements with the governing body<sup>8</sup> of any such institution for the publication by that governing body of the information required to be published in accordance with the regulations in the case of that institution<sup>9</sup>.

723. Power of the National Assembly for Wales to make regulations relating to records.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect in relation to Wales<sup>1</sup>.

In relation to institutions which provide higher education<sup>2</sup> or further education<sup>3</sup> (or both) and which either are maintained by local education authorities<sup>4</sup> or are within the further education sector<sup>5</sup>, the National Assembly for Wales<sup>6</sup> may by regulations make provision with respect to the keeping, disclosure and transfer of educational records about persons receiving education at such institutions and the supply of copies of such records to such persons, and in such circumstances, as may be determined by or under the regulations<sup>7</sup>.

1 The provisions of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(f), (4), (10) (s 218(1)(f), (10) as amended) are repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 146, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3. In relation to England, the appointed day is 1 August 2003 (see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 6 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) Order 2003, SI 2003/1667, art 3) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

The Education Act 2002 s 202 (see PARA 630 ante) makes substantially the same provision as the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(f), (4), (10) (s 218(1)(f), (10) as amended), but only in relation to further education institutions.

2 For the meaning of 'higher education' see PARA 19 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'further education' see PARA 18 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 235(7) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582, Sch 37 Pt I para 81).

4 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

5 Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(10) (amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 93, Sch 8 Pt I paras 27, 49, Sch 9). See note 1 supra. As to references to institutions within the further education sector see PARA 579 ante.

6 As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

7 Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(f) (amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 Sch 8 paras 27, 49; and the Education Act 1996 Sch 37 para 76, Sch 38 Pt I). Regulations made by virtue of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(f) (as amended) may authorise persons who supply copies of records in pursuance of the regulations to charge such fee as they think fit (not exceeding the cost of supply) in respect of each copy so supplied: s 218(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 218(1)(f) (as amended) in relation to the keeping, disclosure or transfer of educational records. See note 1 supra.

(3) COURSES AND ACADEMIC AWARDS

726. Courses of higher education.

- 1296 (1) a course for the further training of teachers or youth and community workers<sup>2</sup>;
- 1297 (2) a post-graduate course (including a higher degree course)<sup>3</sup>;
- 1298 (3) a first degree course<sup>4</sup>;
- 1299 (4) a course for the Diploma of Higher Education<sup>5</sup>;
- 1300 (5) a course for the Higher National Diploma or Higher National Certificate of the Business and Technician Education Council, or the Diploma in Management Studies<sup>6</sup>;
- 1301 (6) a course for the Certificate in Education<sup>7</sup>;
- 1302 (7) a course in preparation for a professional examination at higher level<sup>8</sup>;
- 1303 (8) a course providing education at a higher level (whether or not in preparation for an examination)<sup>9</sup>.

1 Education Reform Act 1988 s 120 (as amended), s 235(1), Sch 6; Education Act 1996 s 579(1). The Secretary of State may by order amend the Education Reform Act 1988 Sch 6: see s 120(10). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such order had been made.

8 Education Reform Act 1988 Sch 6 para 1(g); Education Act 1996 s 579(1). For these purposes, a professional examination is at higher level if its standard is higher than the standard of examinations at advanced level for the General Certificate of Education or the examination for the National Certificate or the National Diploma of the Business and Technician Education Council: Education Reform Act 1988 Sch 6 para 2.

9 Ibid Sch 6 para 1(h); Education Act 1996 s 579(1). For these purposes, a course is to be regarded as providing education at a higher level if its standard is higher than the standard of courses providing education in preparation for any of the examinations mentioned in the Education Reform Act 1988 Sch 6 para 2 (see note 8 supra): Sch 6 para 3.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/4. HIGHER EDUCATION/(3) COURSES AND ACADEMIC AWARDS/727. Power to award degrees etc.

727. Power to award degrees etc.

The Privy Council may by order<sup>1</sup> specify any institution which provides higher education<sup>2</sup> as competent to grant<sup>3</sup> either or both of the following: (1) awards<sup>4</sup> granted to persons who complete an appropriate course of study and satisfy an appropriate assessment<sup>5</sup>; and (2) awards granted to persons who complete an appropriate programme of supervised research and satisfy an appropriate assessment<sup>6</sup>. An institution for the time being specified in such an order may grant any such award<sup>7</sup> which it is competent to grant by virtue of the order to persons who complete the appropriate course of study or, as the case may be, programme of supervised research on or after the date specified in the order<sup>8</sup>, and may also grant honorary degrees<sup>9</sup>, and grant degrees to members of the academic and other staff of the institution<sup>10</sup>.

It is for the institution to determine, in accordance with any relevant provisions of the instruments relating to or regulating the institution, the courses of study or programmes of research, and the assessments, which are appropriate for the grant of any award and the terms and conditions on which any of the powers to make awards<sup>11</sup> may be exercised<sup>12</sup>.

1 Orders of the Privy Council are not statutory instruments and are not recorded in this work. The Education Reform Act 1988 s 124D (as added) (see PARA 687 note 6 ante), which regulates the exercise of the Privy Council's powers, applies in relation to orders under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 76(1) as it applies in relation to the exercise of powers for the purposes of the Education Reform Act 1988 Pt II (ss 120-161) (as amended): Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 76(7).

2 For the meaning of 'higher education' see PARA 19 ante; definition applied by ibid s 90(1).

3 Ie in pursuance of ibid s 76.

4 'Award' means any degree, diploma, certificate or other academic award or distinction: ibid s 76(2).

5 Ibid s 76(1), (2)(a). 'Assessment' includes examination and test: s 76(2). Any power conferred on an institution to grant awards in pursuance of s 76 includes power to authorise other institutions to do so on behalf of the institution, to do so jointly with another institution, and to deprive any person of any award granted to him by or on behalf of the institution in pursuance of s 76 (or, in the case of an award granted to him by the institution and another institution jointly, to do so jointly with the other institution): s 76(5).

6 Ibid s 76(1), (2)(b). See also note 5 supra.

7 Ie of a kind mentioned in ibid s 76(2)(a) (see head (1) in the text) or s 76(2)(b) (see head (2) in the text).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/4. HIGHER EDUCATION/(3) COURSES AND ACADEMIC AWARDS/728. Dissolution of the Council for National Academic Awards.

728. Dissolution of the Council for National Academic Awards.

The Council for National Academic Awards<sup>1</sup> was dissolved by order of the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> on 20 April 1993<sup>3</sup>, and all the property, rights and liabilities<sup>4</sup> to which the Council was entitled or subject immediately before that date were transferred to and vested in the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup>.

1 The Council was established by Royal Charter in 1964 for the purpose of awarding higher education degrees for bodies without their own powers of awarding (ie those higher education bodies which were not universities).

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

3 Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 80(1)(a) (repealed); Education (Dissolution of the Council for National Academic Awards) Order 1993, SI 1993/924, arts 1, 2. As to the making of orders under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 generally see PARA 585 note 6 ante.

4 As to the meaning of 'liability' see PARA 586 note 7 ante.

5 Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 80(1)(b) (repealed); Education (Dissolution of the Council for National Academic Awards) Order 1993, SI 1993/924, art 3. If the order so provides, the person specified must discharge any duty relating to accounts and records under the statutes of the Council in respect of any period ending before 20 April 1993 which would have fallen to be discharged by the Council after the dissolution or fell to be so discharged before the dissolution but has not been discharged: Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 80(2) (repealed).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/4. HIGHER EDUCATION/(3) COURSES AND ACADEMIC AWARDS/729. Unrecognised degrees.

729. Unrecognised degrees.

Any person who, in the course of business, grants, offers to grant or issues any invitation relating to any award<sup>1</sup> which may reasonably be taken to be an award granted or to be granted by a United Kingdom institution<sup>2</sup>, and which either is described as a degree, or purports to confer on its holder the right to the title of bachelor, master or doctor and may reasonably be taken to be a degree<sup>3</sup>, is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a penalty<sup>4</sup>. This does not apply as respects anything done in relation to any 'recognised award', that is, any award granted or to be granted by a university<sup>5</sup>, college or other body which is authorised by Royal Charter or by or under Act of Parliament to grant degrees<sup>6</sup>, any award granted or to be granted by any body for the time being permitted by body so authorised to act on its behalf in the granting of degrees<sup>7</sup>, or such other award as the Secretary of State may by order designate as a recognised award for these purposes<sup>8</sup>.

1 The reference to issuing an invitation relating to any award includes, in particular, the issuing of any circular, prospectus or advertisement relating to an award, whether addressed to the public generally, to any section of the public, or to any particular individual or individuals: Education Reform Act 1988 s 214(10)(c).

2 Ibid s 214(1)(a). 'United Kingdom institution' means any institution established in the United Kingdom, other than one which is, or is affiliated to or forms part of, an institution whose principal establishment is situated outside the United Kingdom: s 214(10)(a). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 63 note 3 ante. Where in any proceedings for an offence under s 214 (as amended) it is shown that the defendant granted, offered to grant or issued an invitation relating to an award, and that an address in the United Kingdom was given in any document issued by the defendant certifying the granting of the award or containing the offer or invitation in question, the award must be presumed to fall within s 214(1)(a) unless it is shown that the defendant took reasonable steps to inform the person to whom the award was granted, or any member of the public or particular individual to whom the offer or invitation was addressed that the award was not granted or to be granted by a United Kingdom institution: s 214(4). In any proceedings for an offence under s 214 (as amended), it is a defence for the defendant to show that the award in question was granted or to be granted by virtue of authority conferred on or before 5 July 1988 by a foreign institution (ie any institution other than a United Kingdom institution: s 214(10)(b)) on the body granting the award (s 214(5)(a)) and that the defendant took reasonable steps to inform the person to whom the award was granted or any member of the public or particular individual to whom the offer was addressed that the award was granted or was to be granted by virtue of authority conferred by a foreign institution (s 214(5)(b)). For the purposes of s 214(5), where on or before 5 July 1988 authority was conferred by a foreign institution on a body to grant awards of any description for a period expiring after that date, and new authority is conferred by the institution (whether before or after the expiry of that period) on the body to grant awards of that description, the new authority is to be taken to have been granted on or before that date: s 214(6).

Provision for the application of s 214 (as amended) to Northern Ireland and the Channel Islands is made by s 217. See eg the Education (Unrecognised Degrees) (Guernsey) Order 1990, SI 1990/2146.

3 Education Reform Act 1988 s 214(1)(b).

4 Ibid s 214(1). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see s 214(1). As to the standard scale see PARA 481 note 4 ante. As to the enforcement of these provisions see PARA 730 post. Proceedings for an offence under s 214 (as amended) must not, in England and Wales, be instituted except by or on behalf of a local weights and measures authority or the chief officer of police for a police area: s 214(8). Where an offence under s 214 (as amended) which has been committed by a body corporate is proved to have been committed with the consent and connivance of, or to be attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of the body corporate, or any person who was purporting to act in any such capacity, he as well as the body corporate is guilty of that offence and is liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly: s 214(7). As to local weights and measures authorities see WEIGHTS AND MEASURES vol 50 (2005 Reissue) PARA 20. A local weights and measures authority must, whenever the Secretary of State so directs, make to him a report on the exercise of its functions under s 214 (as amended) in such form and containing such particulars as he may direct: s 215(1).

Nothing in s 214 (as amended) applies in relation to the granting of an award to a candidate who before 12 May 1988 began to undertake a course of education approved by the person granting the award in preparation for an examination to qualify for the award, and whether before or after that date, passes the examination; and for these purposes, 'examination' includes any form of assessment, and the reference to passing an examination is to be construed accordingly: s 214(9).

5 As to the meaning of 'university' see PARA 658 note 4 ante.

6 Education Reform Act 1988 s 214(2)(a) (amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 93(1), Sch 8 paras 27, 48). For the purposes of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 214 (as amended) and s 215 (see PARA 730 post), any body for the time being designated by order made by the Secretary of State as appearing to him to be a body falling within s 214(2)(a) or (b) (a 'recognised body') must be conclusively presumed to be such a body: s 216(1), (4). As to the bodies designated as recognised bodies see the Education (Recognised Bodies) (England) Order 2003, SI 2003/1865 (amended by SI 2005/2957); and the Education (Recognised Bodies) (Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/3287. The Secretary of State must compile, maintain and publish by order a list including the name of every body which appears to him for the time being to be a body which is not a recognised body and which either provides any course which is in preparation for a degree to be granted by a recognised body and is approved by or on behalf of the recognised body, or is a constituent college, school or hall or other institution of a university which is a recognised body: Education Reform Act 1988 s 216(2), (3). As to the bodies listed see the Education (Listed Bodies) (England) Order 2004, SI 2004/2753 (amended by SI 2005/1382; SI 2005/2956); and the Education (Listed Bodies) (Wales) Order 2004, SI 2004/3095 (amended by SI 2005/1648). A statutory instrument containing an order made under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 216 (as amended) is not subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 232(4)(b) (amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 93, Sch 8 para 56(b), (c), Sch 9; the Education Act 1993 s 307(1), (3), Sch 19 para 138(b)(ii), Sch 21 Pt I; and the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), (2), Sch 37 para 80(c), Sch 38 Pt I). As to the making of orders under the Education Reform Act 1988 generally see PARA 19 note 1 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

Provision for the application of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 216 to Northern Ireland and the Channel Islands is made by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 217.

7 Ibid s 214(2)(b). See also note 6 supra.

8 Ibid s 214(2)(c). An order under s 214(2)(c) may designate as a recognised award either a specified award granted or to be granted by a person named in the order (s 214(3)(a)) or any award granted or to be granted by such a person (s 214(3)(b)). Specified awards are designated under the Education (Recognised Awards) Order 1988, SI 1988/2035 (amended by SI 1989/598; SI 1990/1085; SI 1993/2828). Awards granted by Richmond College are designated by the Education (Recognised Awards) (Richmond College) (No 2) Order 1996, SI 1996/2564.

730. Enforcement of provisions relating to unrecognised degrees.

It is the duty of every local weights and measures authority<sup>1</sup> to enforce the provisions with regard to unrecognised degrees<sup>2</sup> within its area<sup>3</sup>. A duly authorised officer of a local weights and measures authority may<sup>4</sup>, at all reasonable hours and on production, if required, of his credentials:

- 1304 (1) for the purpose of ascertaining whether any offence has been committed<sup>5</sup>, enter and search any premises<sup>6</sup> which he reasonably believes may be used for or in connection with the carrying on of a business which is concerned with the granting of awards which are not recognised awards<sup>7</sup>;
- 1305 (2) for that purpose, require any person carrying on or employed<sup>8</sup> in connection with any such business to produce any documents or other items<sup>9</sup> relating to the business, and take copies of any such document<sup>10</sup>;
- 1306 (3) require any information which is contained in a computer and is accessible from the premises to be produced in a form in which it can be taken away and in which it is visible and legible if he has reason to believe that it may be evidence of the commission of an offence<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1307 (4) seize<sup>12</sup> and detain anything which he has reason to believe may be evidence of the commission of such an offence<sup>13</sup>.

1 As to local weights and measures authorities see WEIGHTS AND MEASURES vol 50 (2005 Reissue) PARA 20.

2 Ie the provisions of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 214 (as amended): see PARA 729 ante.

3 Ibid s 215(1). A local weights and measures authority must, whenever the Secretary of State so directs, make to him a report on the exercise of its functions under s 215 in such form and containing such particulars as he may direct: s 215(1). As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 681 note 14 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

Provision for the application of s 215 to Northern Ireland and the Channel Islands is made by s 217.

4 The Trade Descriptions Act 1968 s 29 (as amended) (penalty for obstruction of authorised officers: see SALE OF GOODS AND SUPPLY OF SERVICES vol 41 (2005 Reissue) PARA 511) applies as respects the obstruction of an officer acting in pursuance of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 215 as it applies as respects the obstruction of an officer acting in pursuance of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, but with the substitution in s 29(1) (as amended) of a reference to the Education Reform Act 1988 s 215 for the reference to the Trade Descriptions Act 1968 s 28 (as amended) (power to enter premises and inspect and seize goods and documents: see SALE OF GOODS AND SUPPLY OF SERVICES vol 41 (2005 Reissue) PARA 509) (Education Reform Act 1988 s 215(7)(a)), and of a reference to the officer's functions under s 215 (see the text and notes 5-13 infra) for the reference to his functions under the Trade Descriptions Act 1968 (Education Reform Act 1988 s 215(7)(b)).

5 Ie under ibid s 214 (as amended) (see PARA 729 ante).

6 If a justice of the peace, on sworn information in writing, is satisfied that there is reasonable ground to believe that any documents or other items which a duly authorised officer has power under this provision to inspect are on any premises and that their inspection is likely to disclose evidence of the commission of an offence under ibid s 214 (as amended), and is also satisfied either that admission to the premises has been or is likely to be refused and that notice of intention to apply for a warrant under s 215(4) has been given to the occupier, or that an application for admission, or the giving of such a notice, would defeat the object of the entry or that the premises are unoccupied or that the occupier is temporarily absent and it might defeat the object of the entry to await his return, he may by warrant under his hand, which continues in force for a period of one month, authorise an officer of a local weights and measures authority to enter the premises, if need be by force: s 215(4).

An officer entering any premises by virtue of s 215 may take with him such other persons and such equipment as may appear to him necessary, and on leaving any premises which he has entered by virtue of a warrant under s 215(4) he must, if the premises are unoccupied or the occupier is temporarily absent, leave them as effectively secured against trespassers as he found them: s 215(6).

7 Ibid s 215(2)(a). For the meaning of 'recognised award' see PARA 729 ante; definition applied by s 215(3).

8 For the meaning of 'employed' see PARA 776 note 3 post.

9 Nothing in the Education Reform Act 1988 s 215 may be taken to compel the production by a solicitor of a document or other item containing a privileged communication made by or to him in that capacity or to authorise the taking of possession of any such item which is in his possession: s 215(8). As to privileged communications between solicitor and client see CONFIDENCE AND DATA PROTECTION vol 8(1) (2003 Reissue) PARA 453; LEGAL PROFESSIONS vol 65 (2008) PARAS 740-741.

10 Ibid s 215(2)(b). See also note 6 supra.

11 Ibid s 215(2)(c). The offence referred to in the text is an offence under s 214 (as amended) (see PARA 729 ante).

12 An officer seizing any documents or other items in the exercise of his powers under this provision must inform the person from whom they are seized: ibid s 215(5). See also note 6 supra.

13 Ibid s 215(2)(d). See also note 6 supra.

(4) QUALITY AND ASSESSMENT

731. Assessment of quality of education provided by institutions.

Each Higher Education Funding Council<sup>1</sup> must:

- 1308 (1) secure that provision is made for assessing the quality of education provided in institutions for whose activities it provides, or is considering providing, financial support<sup>2</sup>; and
- 1309 (2) establish a committee, to be known as the 'Quality Assessment Committee', with the function of giving it advice on the discharge of its duty under head (1) above and such other functions as may be conferred on the committee by the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>3</sup>.

<sup>3</sup> Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 70(1)(b). The majority of the members of the Committee must not be members of the Higher Education Funding Council (s 70(2)(b)) and must be persons appearing to the Council to have experience of, and to have shown capacity in, the provision of higher education in institutions within the higher education sector; and, in appointing such persons, the Council must have regard to the desirability of their being currently engaged in the provision of higher education or in carrying responsibility for such provision (s 70(2)(a), (3)). The number of the members of the Committee, and the terms on which they are to hold and vacate office, are fixed by the Council: s 70(4), Sch 1 para 8(2). The Committee may include persons who are not members of the Council: Sch 1 para 8(3). The Council must keep under review the structure of the Committee and the scope of its activities: Sch 1 para 8(4). The Council must pay to the members of any of the Committee who are not members of the Council such travelling, subsistence and other allowances as the Secretary of State may determine: Sch 1 para 5(3). A representative of the Secretary of State is entitled to attend and take part in any deliberations, but not in decisions, at meetings of the Committee, and the Council must provide the Secretary of State with such copies of any documents distributed to members of the Committee as he may require: Sch 1 para 11. The validity of any proceedings of the Committee is not affected by a vacancy among the members or by any defect in the appointment of a member: Sch 1 para 12. The Council may regulate the Committee's procedure: Sch 1 para 13. For the meaning of 'higher education' see PARA 19 ante; definition applied by s 90(1). As to references to institutions within the higher education sector see PARA 646 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. ### 732. The Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education.

The Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education is an independent, non-statutory<sup>1</sup> body established to provide an integrated quality assurance service for the higher education sector. The Agency's principal role is to review the quality and standards of higher education by auditing the way in which each higher education institution<sup>2</sup> manages the overall quality and standards of its educational provision and by reviewing academic standards and the quality of teaching and learning<sup>3</sup>. It also audits academic partnerships with institutions outside the United Kingdom offering teaching leading to the award of United Kingdom degrees and advises Her Majesty's government on applications from higher education institutions for the grant of degree-awarding powers or university status<sup>4</sup>. The Agency publishes the results of its audits and reviews and also publishes a code of practice setting out guidelines on good practice relating to the management of academic quality and standards.

The Agency shares certain of its responsibilities with the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority and the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales, which have limited responsibilities in relation to higher education<sup>5</sup>.

1 A statutory power exists whereby the Secretary of State may direct higher education funding bodies to make provision for the assessment of matters relating to the arrangements made by institutions within the higher education sector for the maintenance of academic standards: see the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 82(2). This power has not been exercised. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 As to references to institutions within the higher education sector see PARA 646 ante.

3 As to actions following on from such a review see R (on the application of Interchange Trust) v London Metropolitan [2005] All ER (D) 133 (Nov) (university's decision to refuse to continue to run a course provided by the applicant charity was justifiable and sensible, having been part of a separate decision-making process from that of the Quality Assurance Agency, whose review of the course had resulted in a negative report).

4 As to university statutes see PARA 651 et seq ante. As to the awarding of degrees see PARA 727 et seq ante.

5 As to the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority and the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales see PARA 874 et seq post.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(5) THE HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDING COUNCILS/(i) Establishment and Constitution/733. The Higher Education Funding Council for England and the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales.

(5) THE HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDING COUNCILS

(i) Establishment and Constitution

733. The Higher Education Funding Council for England and the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales.

There are two Higher Education Funding Councils: the Higher Education Funding Council for England and the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales<sup>1</sup>. On 1 April 1993<sup>2</sup> the Universities Funding Council and the Polytechnics and Colleges Funding Council were dissolved, and all property, rights and liabilities<sup>3</sup>, except rights and liabilities under a contract of employment<sup>4</sup>, to which either of the existing councils were entitled or subject immediately before that date became property, rights and liabilities of the Higher Education Funding Council for England<sup>5</sup>.

The Higher Education Funding Council for England is a body corporate which exercises in relation to England the functions conferred on it<sup>6</sup>, and consists of not less than twelve nor more than fifteen members<sup>7</sup>, of whom one must be appointed as chairman<sup>8</sup>. The Higher Education Funding Council for Wales is a body corporate which exercises in relation to Wales the functions conferred on it<sup>9</sup>, and consists of not less than eight nor more than twelve members, of whom one must be appointed as chairman<sup>10</sup>.

In appointing the members of the Council, regard must be had:

- 1310 (1) to the desirability of including persons who appear to have experience of, and to have shown capacity in, the provision of higher education<sup>11</sup> or to have held, and to have shown capacity in, any position carrying responsibility for the provision of higher education and, in appointing such persons, regard must be had to the desirability of their being currently engaged in the provision of higher education or in carrying responsibility for such provision<sup>12</sup>; and
- 1311 (2) to the desirability of including persons who appear to have experience of, and to have shown capacity in, industrial, commercial or financial matters or the practice of any profession<sup>13</sup>.

In exercising its functions, each Council must have regard to the requirements of disabled persons<sup>14</sup>. Any dispute as to whether any functions are exercisable by one of the Councils is to be determined by the Secretary of State<sup>15</sup>.

The Higher Education Funding Councils are not to be regarded as the servants or agents of the Crown or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown<sup>16</sup>, and the property of the Councils is not to be regarded as property of, or property held on behalf of, the Crown<sup>17</sup>.

1 In the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 Pt II (ss 62-81) (as amended), any reference to a Council is a reference to a Higher Education Funding Council: s 62(5). For the purposes of the Education Acts, references to a Higher Education Funding Council are references to a Council established under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 62 (as amended), subject to s 62(6): s 91(1), (4). In relation to any time before 1 April 1993 (ie the commencement of s 65), references in Pt I (ss 15-61A) (as amended) and (so far as relating to that Part) Pt III (ss 82-94) (as amended) to a Higher Education Funding Council are references to the Universities Funding Council established under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 131 (repealed) (which replaced the University Grants Committee) and to the Polytechnics and Colleges Funding Council established under s 132 (repealed): Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 61(3)(b); Further and Higher Education Act 1992 (Commencement No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1992, SI 1992/831. See further the text and note 5 infra. In the Education Acts, any reference to a Higher Education Funding Council: (1) in relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for England or to educational institutions in England, is to that Council; and (2) in relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales or to educational institutions in Wales, is to that Council: Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 62(6). In Pt II (as amended) references to institutions in England or institutions in Wales are references to institutions whose activities are carried on, or principally carried on, in England or, as the case may be, Wales, but include, in both cases, the Open University: s 62(7). For the meaning of the 'Education Acts' see PARA 1 note 14 ante; definition applied by s 90(1) (definition amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 115(1), (2)). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

3    As to the meaning of 'liability' see PARA 586 note 7 ante.

4    'Contract of employment' has the same meaning as in the Employment Rights Act 1996 (see EMPLOYMENT vol 39 (2009) PARA 2): Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 90(1) (definition amended by the Employment Rights Act 1996 s 240, Sch 1 para 52(1), (4)). As to the transfer of contracts of employment on the dissolution of the Universities Funding Council and the Polytechnics and Colleges Funding Council see the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 63(2)-(6).

5    Ibid s 63(1). Stamp duty is not chargeable in respect of any transfer effected under or by virtue of s 63: s 88(1). This is subject to the requirement that no instrument (other than a statutory instrument) made or executed under or in pursuance of s 63 may be treated as duly stamped unless it is stamped with the duty to which it would, but for s 88 (and, if applicable, the Finance Act 1982 s 129 (as amended) (see STAMP DUTIES AND STAMP DUTY RESERVE TAX vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1093)), be liable or it has, in accordance with the Stamp Act 1891 s 12 (as substituted) (see STAMP DUTIES AND STAMP DUTY RESERVE TAX vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1111), been stamped with a particular stamp denoting that it is not chargeable with any duty or that it has been duly stamped: Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 88(2).

734. Chief officer.

One of the members of the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>1</sup> must be the chief officer<sup>2</sup>. Each chief officer is to be appointed by the Council with the approval of the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> on such terms and conditions, including terms with respect to tenure and vacation of office, as the Council may with the approval of the Secretary of State determine<sup>4</sup>. On approval by the Secretary of State of the person to be appointed on any occasion as chief officer of the Council and the terms and conditions of his appointment, the Secretary of State must<sup>5</sup>:

- 1312 (1) if that person is not already a member of the Council, appoint him as a member for the same term as the term of his appointment as chief officer<sup>6</sup>; or
- 1313 (2) if he is already such a member but his term of appointment as such ends before the term of his appointment as chief officer ends, extend his term of appointment as a member so that it ends at the same time as the term of his appointment as chief officer<sup>7</sup>.

735. Tenure of members.

A person must hold and vacate office as a member or as chairman or chief officer of the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>1</sup> in accordance with the terms of his appointment and, on ceasing to be a member, is eligible for re-appointment<sup>2</sup>. A person may at any time by notice in writing to the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> resign his office as a member or as chairman of the Council<sup>4</sup>. If the Secretary of State is satisfied that a member of the Council has been absent from meetings of the Council for a period longer than six consecutive months without the permission of the Council, or is unable or unfit to discharge the functions of a member, he may by notice in writing to that member remove him from office and thereupon the office becomes vacant<sup>5</sup>.

736. Salaries, allowances and pensions.

The Higher Education Funding Council<sup>1</sup> must pay to its members such salaries or fees, and such travelling, subsistence or other allowances, as the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> may determine<sup>3</sup>. It must also, as regards any member in whose case the Secretary of State may so determine, pay or make provision for the payment of such sums by way of pension, allowances and gratuities to or in respect of him as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>4</sup>. If a person ceases to be a member of the Council and it appears to the Secretary of State that there are special circumstances which make it right that he should receive compensation, the Secretary of State may direct the Council to make to that person a payment of such amount as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>5</sup>. The Council must pay to the members of any of its committees who are not members of the Council such travelling, subsistence and other allowances as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>6</sup>. Any such determination or direction of the Secretary of State requires the approval of the Treasury<sup>7</sup>.

737. Staff.

The Higher Education Funding Council<sup>1</sup> may appoint such employees<sup>2</sup> as it thinks fit<sup>3</sup>, and pay to its employees such remuneration and allowances as it may determine<sup>4</sup>. The employees must be appointed on such other terms and conditions as the Council may determine<sup>5</sup>. Such a determination requires the approval of the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup> given with the consent of the Treasury<sup>7</sup>.

Employment with the Council is included among the kinds of employment to which a scheme under the Superannuation Act 1972<sup>8</sup> can apply<sup>9</sup>. The Council must pay to the Treasury, at such times as the Treasury may direct, such sums as the Treasury may determine in respect of the increase attributable<sup>10</sup> in the sums payable out of money provided by Parliament under the Superannuation Act 1972<sup>11</sup>. Where an employee of the Council is, by reference to that employment, a participant in such a scheme and is also a member of the Council, the Treasury may determine that his service as such a member is to be treated for the purposes of the scheme as service as an employee of the Council<sup>12</sup>.

742. Accounts.

It is the duty of the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>1</sup>: (1) to keep proper accounts and proper records in relation to them<sup>2</sup>; (2) to prepare in respect of each financial year<sup>3</sup> of the Council a statement of accounts<sup>4</sup>; and (3) to send copies of the statement to the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup> and to the Comptroller and Auditor General<sup>6</sup> before the end of the month of August next following the financial year to which the statement relates<sup>7</sup>.

The statement of accounts must comply with any directions given by the Secretary of State with the approval of the Treasury<sup>8</sup> as to the information to be contained in it, the manner in which the information contained in it is to be presented, or the methods and principles according to which the statement is to be prepared, and it must contain such additional information as the Secretary of State may with the approval of the Treasury require to be provided for the information of Parliament<sup>9</sup>. The Comptroller and Auditor General must examine, certify and report on each statement so received by him and must lay copies of each statement and of his report before each House of Parliament<sup>10</sup>.

A. IN GENERAL

743. Functions of Higher Education Funding Councils.

The functions of the Higher Education Funding Councils<sup>1</sup> are principally to administer funds made available by the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> for the purpose of providing financial support in connection with the provision of education or carrying out of research by higher education institutions<sup>3</sup> or the provision of higher education by other institutions<sup>4</sup>. The Councils also have certain functions in connection with the funding of teacher training<sup>5</sup>. Additional functions may be imposed<sup>6</sup>.

1    In relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for England or to educational institutions in England, the Higher Education Funding Council for England, and in relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales or to educational institutions in Wales, the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales: see the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 62(5), (6); and PARA 733 ante.

2    As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

3    I.e. universities, institutions conducted by higher education corporations or designated institutions: see the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65(5). As to universities see PARAS 648-671 ante. As to higher education corporations see PARAS 672-700 ante. As to designated institutions see PARA 701 et seq ante.

4    See ibid s 65(1)-(2); and PARA 746 et seq post. As to such other institutions see PARAS 708-725 ante.

5    As to the Higher Education Funding Councils' power to reimburse certain payments to persons formerly employed in teacher training see PARA 750 post; and as to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales as a funding agency for teacher training see PARA 751 post.

6    As to the power to impose additional functions on Higher Education Funding Councils see PARA 744 post.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(5) THE HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDING COUNCILS/(ii) Functions, Powers and Duties/A. IN GENERAL/744. Power to impose additional functions on Higher Education Funding Councils.

744. Power to impose additional functions on Higher Education Funding Councils.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by order confer or impose on a Higher Education Funding Council<sup>2</sup> such supplementary functions relating to the provision of education as he thinks fit<sup>3</sup>. A function is a supplementary function if it is exercisable for the purposes of: (1) the exercise by the Secretary of State of functions of his under any enactment<sup>4</sup>; or (2) the doing by the Secretary of State of anything he has power to do apart from any enactment<sup>5</sup>, if it relates to, or to the activities of, institutions<sup>6</sup> which are: (a) institutions within the higher education sector<sup>7</sup>; or (b) institutions within the further education sector<sup>8</sup>, or maintained or assisted<sup>9</sup> by local education authorities<sup>10</sup>, at which prescribed<sup>11</sup> courses of higher education are currently provided<sup>12</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

745. Directions.

In exercising its functions under Part II of the Further and Higher Education Act 1992<sup>1</sup>, the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>2</sup> must comply with any directions<sup>3</sup>, and such directions must be contained in an order made by the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup>. The Secretary of State may give general directions to the Council about the exercise of its functions<sup>5</sup>. If it appears to the Secretary of State that the financial affairs of any institution within the higher education sector<sup>6</sup> have been or are being mismanaged he may, after consulting the Council and the institution, give such directions to the Council about the provision of financial support in respect of the activities carried on by the institution as he considers are necessary or expedient by reason of the mismanagement<sup>7</sup>.

B. FUNDING OF HIGHER EDUCATION

746. Administration of funds by Higher Education Funding Councils.

The Higher Education Funding Council<sup>1</sup> is responsible, subject to the provisions of Part II of the Further and Higher Education Act 1992<sup>2</sup>, for administering funds made available to the Council by the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> and others for the purposes of providing financial support for<sup>4</sup>:

- 1316 (1) the provision of education and the undertaking of research by higher education institutions<sup>5</sup> in the Council's area<sup>6</sup>;
- 1317 (2) the provision of any facilities, and the carrying on of any other activities, by higher education institutions in its area which the governing bodies<sup>7</sup> of those institutions consider it necessary or desirable to provide or carry on for the purpose of or in connection with education or research<sup>8</sup>;
- 1318 (3) the provision by institutions in its area maintained<sup>9</sup> or assisted<sup>10</sup> by local education authorities<sup>11</sup>, or by such institutions in its area as are within the further education sector<sup>12</sup>, of prescribed<sup>13</sup> courses of higher education<sup>14</sup>; and
- 1319 (4) the provision by any person of services for the purposes of, or in connection with, the provision of education or the undertaking of research by institutions within the higher education sector<sup>15</sup>.

The Council may:

- 1320 (a) make grants, loans or other payments to the governing body of any higher education institution in respect of expenditure incurred or to be incurred<sup>16</sup> by it for the purposes of any activities eligible for funding by virtue of head (1) or head (2) above<sup>17</sup>; and
- 1321 (b) make grants, loans or other payments to any persons in respect of expenditure incurred or to be incurred by them for the purposes of the provision as mentioned in head (3) above of prescribed courses of higher education or the provision of services as mentioned in head (4) above<sup>18</sup>, subject in each case to such terms and conditions as the Council thinks fit<sup>19</sup>.

The Council must keep under review activities eligible for funding under these provisions<sup>20</sup>.

NOTE 3--See R (on the application of Queen Mary University of London) v Higher Education Funding Council for England [2008] EWHC 1472 (Admin), [2008] ELR 540, [2008] All ER (D) 363 (Jun).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/4. HIGHER EDUCATION/(5) THE HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDING COUNCILS/(ii) Functions, Powers and Duties/B. FUNDING OF HIGHER EDUCATION/748. Matters to which Higher Education Funding Councils must have regard in providing funding.

748. Matters to which Higher Education Funding Councils must have regard in providing funding.

In exercising its functions in relation to the provision of financial support for activities eligible for funding<sup>1</sup> the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>2</sup> must have regard to the desirability of not discouraging any institution for whose activities financial support is provided<sup>3</sup> from maintaining or developing its funding from other sources<sup>4</sup>. In exercising those functions the Council must have regard (so far as it thinks it appropriate to do so in the light of any other relevant considerations) to the desirability of maintaining what appears to it to be an appropriate balance in the support given by it as between institutions which are of a denominational character<sup>5</sup> and other institutions<sup>6</sup>, and any distinctive characteristics of any institution within the higher education sector<sup>7</sup> for whose activities financial support is provided<sup>8</sup>.

1    Ie under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended): see PARA 746 ante.

2    Ie in relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for England or to educational institutions in England, the Higher Education Funding Council for England, and in relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales or to educational institutions in Wales, the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales: see ibid s 62(5), (6); and PARA 733 ante.

3    Ie under ibid s 65 (as amended). As to the institutions for whose activities financial support may be provided under s 65 (as amended) see PARA 746 ante.

4    Ibid s 66(2).

5    For the purposes of ibid s 66(3), an institution is an institution of a denominational character if it appears to the Council that either: (1) at least one quarter of the members of the governing body of the institution are persons appointed to represent the interests of a religion or religious denomination; (2) any of the property held for the purposes of the institution is held upon trusts which provide that, in the event of the discontinuance of the institution, the property concerned is to be held for, or sold and the proceeds of sale applied for, the benefit of a religion or religious denomination; or (3) any of the property held for the purposes of the institution is held on trust for or in connection with the provision of education, or the conduct of an educational institution, in accordance with the tenets of a religion or religious denomination: s 66(4). For the meaning of 'governing body' see PARA 584 note 5 ante.

6    Ibid s 66(3)(a).

7    As to references to institutions within the higher education sector see PARA 646 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/4. HIGHER EDUCATION/(5) THE HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDING COUNCILS/(ii) Functions, Powers and Duties/B. FUNDING OF HIGHER EDUCATION/749. Payments in respect of persons employed in the provision of higher education.

749. Payments in respect of persons employed in the provision of higher education.

The Higher Education Funding Council<sup>1</sup> has power to make payments, subject to such terms and conditions as the Council thinks fit, to any local education authority<sup>2</sup> in its area<sup>3</sup>, the London Pensions Fund Authority<sup>4</sup>, and the governing body<sup>5</sup> of any designated institution<sup>6</sup>, in respect of relevant expenditure<sup>7</sup> incurred or to be incurred by that authority or body of any class or description prescribed<sup>8</sup> for these purposes<sup>9</sup>. Each of those authorities or bodies must give the Council such information as the Council may require for the purposes of the exercise of its power to make payments<sup>10</sup>.

1 In relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for England or to educational institutions in England, the Higher Education Funding Council for England, and in relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales or to educational institutions in Wales, the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales: see the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 62(5), (6); and PARA 733 ante.

2 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

3 Education Reform Act 1988 s 133(1)(a) (s 133(1) substituted by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 67(1)).

4 Education Reform Act 1988 s 133(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). The London Pensions Fund Authority was established under the London Government Reorganisation (Pensions etc) Order 1989, SI 1989/1815, art 2: see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 225 et seq.

5 As to the meaning of 'governing body' see PARA 704 note 4 ante.

6 Education Reform Act 1988 s 133(1)(d) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). The reference to a designated institution is a reference to an institution designated under s 129 (as originally enacted): see PARA 701 et seq ante.

7 For the purposes of ibid s 133(1) (as substituted), 'relevant expenditure' means:

83 (1) in relation to a local education authority, the London Residuary Body (see note 9 infra) or the London Pensions Fund Authority, expenditure in making payments to or in respect of persons employed or formerly employed at an institution which provides or (in the case of an institution which has ceased to exist since the employment in question came to an end) formerly provided higher education or further education (or both) (s 133(2)(a) (amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 67(2))); and 84 (2) in relation to the governing body of any designated institution (see note 6 supra), expenditure in making payments to or in respect of persons employed or formerly employed at the institution (Education Reform Act 1988 s 133(2)(b)).

For the meaning of 'employed' see PARA 776 note 3 post. For the meaning of 'higher education' see also PARA 19 ante. For the meaning of 'further education' see PARA 18 ante; definition applied by s 235(7), (8) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 81(1), (4)). The reference in the Education Reform Act 1988 s 133(2)(a) to higher education or further education (or both) must be read, in the case of an institution which ceased to exist before 1 April 1989 (ie the date on which s 120 was brought into force by the Education Reform Act 1988 (Commencement No 4) Order 1988, SI 1988/2271 (as amended)), as a reference to further education within the meaning of the Education Act 1944 s 41 (repealed) as it had effect immediately before that date, and in any other case the reference to further education must be read as a reference to further education within the meaning of s 41 (repealed) as it had effect on that date: Education Reform Act 1988 s 133(3) (amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 67(3)).

8 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: Education Act 1996 s 579(1); definition applied by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 235(7), (8) (as amended: see note 7 supra). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Reform Act 1988 generally see PARA 19 note 1 ante. Classes and descriptions of relevant expenditure are prescribed by the Education (Polytechnics and Colleges Funding Council) (Prescribed Expenditure) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/2307 (amended by SI 1996/1680; SI 2000/1410).

9 Education Reform Act 1988 s 133(1) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). Section 133(1) (as substituted) also provides for payments to be made to the London Residuary Body: s 133(1)(b) (as so substituted). The Residuary Body was established under the Local Government Act 1985 s 57; it was wound up, and all remaining functions, property, rights and liabilities transferred to and vested in the council of the London Borough of Bromley, on 29 March 1996 (see the Education (London Residuary Body) (Transfer of Functions and Property) (No 2) Order 1992, SI 1992/2257 (amended by SI 1994/580; SI 1997/1990; SI 1998/1129; SI 2001/3649); and the London Residuary Body (Winding Up) Order 1996, SI 1996/557). See also LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 5.

10 Education Reform Act 1988 s 133(4) (amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 67(4)). The power to make payments is the power exercisable under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 133(1) (as substituted).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/4. HIGHER EDUCATION/(5) THE HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDING COUNCILS/(ii) Functions, Powers and Duties/B. FUNDING OF HIGHER EDUCATION/750. Power to reimburse certain payments to persons formerly employed in teacher training.

750. Power to reimburse certain payments to persons formerly employed in teacher training.

A Higher Education Funding Council<sup>1</sup> may make payments, subject to such terms and conditions as it thinks fit, to a further education corporation<sup>2</sup> or the governing body of any designated institution<sup>3</sup>, in respect of expenditure incurred or to be incurred by that corporation or body in making safeguarded salary payments<sup>4</sup> to a person who in consequence of a direction<sup>5</sup> given by the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup> ceased before 1 April 1989 to be employed in a college for the training of teachers<sup>7</sup>, or in a department for the training of teachers in any other establishment of further education<sup>8</sup>.

A further education corporation or the governing body of any designated institution must give to a Higher Education Funding Council such information as the Council may require for the purposes of the exercise of its power to make such payments<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the Higher Education Funding Councils see PARA 733 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'further education' see PARA 18 ante; definition applied by the Education Act 1994 s 19(5) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 128). As to further education corporations see PARA 583 et seq ante.

3 I.e. designated under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 28 (as amended); see PARA 599 ante. For the meaning under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 of the 'governing body' of an institution see PARA 584 note 5 ante.

4 Education Act 1994 s 18(1) (amended by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(3), Sch 31). The amount of the safeguarded salary payment is the amount by which, in consequence of the matters mentioned in the Education Act 1994 s 18(2) (see the text to notes 5-8 infra), a person's salary exceeds that which would normally be appropriate to the post held by him: s 18(3).

5 As to the power to make directions under ibid Pt I (ss 11A-19) (as amended) see s 8 (repealed).

6 I.e. under the Further Education Regulations 1975, SI 1975/1054, reg 3(2) (now revoked); the Education (Schools and Further Education) Regulations 1981, SI 1981/1086, reg 15 (now revoked), being a direction relating to a course for the training of teachers; or reg 16 (now revoked): Education Act 1994 s 18(2). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

7 As to the training of teachers see PARA 784 et seq post.

D. INFORMATION

755. Duty to give information to Higher Education Funding Councils.

A local education authority<sup>1</sup>, the governing body<sup>2</sup> of any institution within the higher education sector<sup>3</sup>, and the governing body of any institution at which prescribed<sup>4</sup> courses of higher education<sup>5</sup> are currently or have at any time been provided, must give the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>6</sup> such information as it may require for the purposes of the exercise of any of its functions<sup>7</sup> under the Education Acts<sup>8</sup>.

1 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'governing body' see PARA 584 note 5 ante.

3 As to references to institutions within the higher education sector see PARA 646 ante.

4 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: Education Act 1996 s 579(1); definitions applied by virtue of the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 90(5) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 Pt I para 115(1), (3); and by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 paras 33, 46(b)). As to the making of regulations under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 generally see PARA 585 note 6 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made for these purposes. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. ## F. GRANTS

757. Grants to Higher Education Funding Councils, subject to terms and conditions.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make grants to the Higher Education Funding Councils<sup>2</sup> of such amounts and subject to such terms and conditions as he may determine<sup>3</sup>. The terms and conditions:

1324 (1) may in particular impose requirements to be complied with in respect of every institution, or every institution falling within a class or description specified in the terms and conditions, being requirements to be complied with in the case of any institution to which the requirements apply before financial support of any amount or description so specified is provided by the Council in respect of activities carried on by the institution<sup>4</sup>; but

1325 (2) must not otherwise relate to the provision of financial support by the Council in respect of activities carried on by any particular institution or institutions<sup>5</sup>.

The terms and conditions may not be framed by reference to particular courses of study or programmes of research (including the contents of such courses or programmes and the manner in which they are taught, supervised or assessed) or to the criteria for the selection and appointment of academic staff and for the admission of students<sup>6</sup>; but they may in particular enable the Secretary of State to require the repayment, in whole or in part, of sums paid by him if any of the terms and conditions subject to which the sums were paid is not complied with<sup>7</sup>, and require the payment of interest in respect of any period during which a sum due to the Secretary of State in accordance with any of the terms and conditions remains unpaid<sup>8</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

758. Further conditions imposed in relation to grants paid to funding bodies.

In relation to Wales, the following provisions have effect until a day to be appointed<sup>1</sup>. The power of the National Assembly for Wales<sup>2</sup> to impose conditions<sup>3</sup> in relation to grants paid to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales<sup>4</sup> includes a power to impose a condition requiring the Council to impose a further condition<sup>5</sup>, in relation to any grants, loans or other payments made by that Council<sup>6</sup> to the governing body<sup>7</sup> of a relevant institution<sup>8</sup>. That further condition must:

- 1326 (1) require the governing body of any such institution to secure that, in respect of the relevant academic year<sup>9</sup>, the fees<sup>10</sup> payable to the institution by any prescribed class of persons<sup>11</sup> in connection with their undertaking courses<sup>12</sup> of any prescribed description<sup>13</sup> are equal to the prescribed amount<sup>14</sup>;
- 1327 (2) impose, in the event of a failure by the governing body to comply with the requirement specified in head (1) above, such further financial requirements on that body as may be specified, which may include requirements relating to the repayment, with or without interest, of the whole or part of any sums received by it in respect of the grant, loan or other payment in question<sup>15</sup>.

Where a further condition is imposed under head (1) above in connection with any grants, loans or other payments made to the governing body of a relevant institution<sup>16</sup>, and those payments are to any extent so made in respect of persons undertaking a course which is provided in whole or part by any other institution<sup>17</sup>, then, for these purposes, fees payable by such persons to the other institution must be regarded as fees payable by them to the relevant institution<sup>18</sup>.

In relation to England<sup>19</sup>, a condition must be imposed, when a grant is made to a funding body<sup>20</sup>, requiring that body to impose a condition regarding student fees and fair access to higher education in relation to any grants, loans or other payments made by that body to the governing body<sup>21</sup> of a relevant institution<sup>22</sup>. If a governing body in England fails to comply with that requirement<sup>23</sup>, the Director of Fair Access to Higher Education<sup>24</sup> may direct the Higher Education Funding Council for England to impose specified financial requirements<sup>25</sup> on the governing body<sup>26</sup>. As from a day to be appointed, similar provisions apply in relation to Wales<sup>27</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> The Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26 (as amended) is repealed by the Higher Education Act 2004 ss 49-50, Sch 6 para 7, Sch 7 as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). In relation to England, the appointed day is 14 January 2006: see the Higher Education Act 2004 (Commencement No 4) Order 2006, SI 2006/51, art 2. In relation to Wales, the appointed day is 7 July 2005 but only in relation to the repeal of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(5) (as amended): see the Higher Education Act 2004 (Commencement No 2 and Transitional Provision) (Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/1833, art 4(e), (f). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day has been appointed for any other purpose in relation to Wales.

In relation to England, provision is made for grants to the Higher Education Funding Council under the Higher Education Act 2004 Pt 3 (ss 22-41): see the text and notes 19-26 infra. See further PARA 760 et seq post.

6 le under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended): see PARA 746 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'governing body' under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 see PARA 584 note 5 ante.

8 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(3). 'Relevant institution' means a specified institution or an institution of a specified class: s 26(9). 'Specified' means specified by the Secretary of State in a condition imposed by him under s 26(3): s 26(9) (definition amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 149, Sch 9 paras 1, 74(1), (4)(b)). See note 1 supra. See also PARA 1046 note 6 post.

9 'The relevant academic year', in relation to a course, means the academic year applicable to the course which begins at the same time as, or during, the period in respect of which the grants, loans or other payments to which the relevant condition under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(4) relates are made: s 26(9) (definition amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 Sch 9 paras 1, 74(1), (4)(a)). See note 1 supra. As to the meaning of 'course' see note 12 infra.

10 For the meaning of 'fees' see PARA 1046 note 18 post.

11 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). Classes of persons are prescribed for the purposes of s 26(4) (as amended) by the Fees in Higher Education Institutions (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1860, reg 3.

Any power of the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales to make an order or regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 must be exercised by statutory instrument: s 42(1). A statutory instrument containing any regulations under that Act is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: see s 42(2). Any order or regulations under that Act may make different provision for different cases, circumstances or areas and may contain such incidental, supplemental, saving or transitional provisions as the Secretary of State thinks fit: s 42(6). Any order or regulations under that Act may make different provision in relation to England and Wales respectively: s 42(7). Nothing in that Act is to be read as affecting the generality of s 42(6): s 42(8). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

12 'Course', where it appears in ibid s 26(4) (as amended) or s 26(5) (as amended), does not include any part-time or postgraduate course other than a course of initial teacher training: s 26(9). See note 1 supra.

13 The power to prescribe descriptions of courses under ibid s 26(4) must not be exercised in such a way as to discriminate between different courses at the same or a comparable level on the basis of the areas of study or research to which they relate: s 26(8)(b). See note 1 supra. Descriptions of courses are prescribed for the purposes of s 26(4) (as amended) by the Fees in Higher Education Institutions (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1860, reg 4.

14 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(4) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 146(1), (4)). As to the amount prescribed in relation to an academic year that begins on or after 1 September 2006, in relation to Wales, see the Fees in Higher Education Institutions (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1860, reg 5.

No further condition under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(4) (as amended) may apply in relation to any fees which are payable, in accordance with regulations under the Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1 (as amended) (fees at universities and further education establishments: see PARA 1056 post), by students other than those falling within any class of persons prescribed by such regulations for the purposes of s 1(1) or s 1(2): Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(7) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 Sch 9 paras 1, 74(1), (3)).

Nothing in the Further and Higher Education Act 1992, so far as it imposes any prohibition or other requirement in relation to the imposition of conditions by the National Assembly for Wales or by the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales, applies to any condition under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(3) (as amended) (see the text and notes 1-8 supra) imposed by the Assembly or any condition under s 26(4) (as amended) imposed by the Council: s 26(11) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 Sch 9 paras 1, 74(1), (3), (5); and the Education Act 2005 s 98, Sch 14 para 19(1), (4)). See note 1 supra.

G. TRANSFER OF FUNCTIONS IN RELATION TO LAND AND PROPERTY

759. Land and property.

Where any land<sup>1</sup> or other property is or was used or held for the purposes of an institution, and the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> is entitled to any right or interest in respect of the property, or would be so entitled on the occurrence of any event, then, if the institution is within the higher education sector<sup>3</sup>, the Secretary of State may direct that all or any of his functions in respect of the property are exercisable on his behalf by the Higher Education Funding Council<sup>4</sup>, and the functions must be so exercised in accordance with such directions as he may give from time to time<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1355 note 3 post.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

3 As to references to institutions within the higher education sector see PARA 646 ante.

4 In relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for England or to educational institutions in England, the Higher Education Funding Council for England, and in relation to matters falling within the responsibility of the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales or to educational institutions in Wales, the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales: see the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 62(5), (6); and PARA 733 ante.

(6) STUDENT FEES AND FAIR ACCESS TO HIGHER EDUCATION

(i) The Director of Fair Access to Higher Education

760. Functions of the Director of Fair Access to Higher Education.

A Director of Fair Access to Higher Education is appointed by the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> and has such functions relating to plans regarding student fees and fair access to higher education<sup>2</sup> as are conferred on him<sup>3</sup>. In addition, the Director may, where he considers it appropriate to do so, identify good practice relating to the promotion of equality of opportunity in connection with access to higher education<sup>4</sup>, whether full-time or part-time<sup>5</sup>, and give advice about such practice to publicly-funded institutions<sup>6</sup>. The Director must perform these functions<sup>7</sup> in such a way as to promote and safeguard fair access to higher education, including part-time higher education in so far as his functions are exercisable in relation to it<sup>8</sup>. In the performance of these functions, the Director has a duty to protect academic freedom, including, in particular, the freedom of institutions to determine the contents of particular courses<sup>9</sup> and the manner in which they are taught, supervised or assessed, and to determine the criteria for the admission of students and apply those criteria in particular cases<sup>10</sup>. The Director must, in the performance of these functions, have regard to any guidance given to him by the Secretary of State<sup>11</sup>.

If so requested by the Director, the Higher Education Funding Council for England and the Training and Development Agency for Schools must provide the Director with any information which is in its possession and is reasonably required by the Director for the purposes of his functions<sup>12</sup>. If so requested by the Higher Education Funding Council for England or the Training and Development Agency for Schools, the Director must provide the Council or the Agency with any information which is in his possession and which is reasonably required by either of those bodies for the purposes of its functions<sup>13</sup>.

2 In ibid Pt 3 (ss 22-41) (as amended), any reference to a plan is a reference to a plan complying with s 33 (see PARA 766 post): s 22. Section 22 came into force, so far as relating to England, on the passing of the Act (ie on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) and is to come into force in relation to Wales as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

3 Ibid s 31(3). Functions relating to plans are conferred on the Director as mentioned in the text by or under Pt 3 (as amended): see PARA 761 et seq post.

5 Higher Education Act 2004 s 31(4)(a).

6 Ibid s 31(4)(b). For this purpose, 'publicly-funded institution' means any institution receiving grants, loans or other payments from the Higher Education Funding Council for England under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended) (see PARA 746 ante) or from the Training and Development Agency for Schools under the Education Act 2005 s 78 (see PARA 795 post): Higher Education Act 2004 s 31(5) (amended by the Education Act 2005 s 98, Sch 14 para 30). As to the Higher Education Funding Council for England see PARA 733 et seq ante; and as to the Training and Development Agency for Schools see PARA 784 et seq post. For these purposes, 'institution' includes any training provider, whether or not the training provider would otherwise be regarded as an institution: Higher Education Act 2004 s 41(1) (definition added by the Education Act 2005

Sch 14 para 35(1), (2)(b)). For the meaning of 'training provider' see PARA 795 note 5 post; definition applied by virtue of the Higher Education Act 2004 s 41(3) (added by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 35(1), (5)). The Higher Education Act 2004 s 41 (as amended) came into force, so far as relating to England, on the passing of the Act (ie on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) and is to come into force in relation to Wales as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

761. Status, appointment, staffing and remuneration.

The Director of Fair Access to Higher Education and his staff are not to be regarded as servants or agents of the Crown<sup>1</sup>.

The Director is to hold and vacate office in accordance with the terms of his appointment<sup>2</sup>, but may not be appointed for a term of more than three years<sup>3</sup>. He may at any time resign by giving written notice to the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup>. The previous appointment of a person as Director does not affect his eligibility for re-appointment<sup>5</sup>. The Director is paid such remuneration and allowances as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>6</sup>.

The Director may appoint such staff as he may determine<sup>7</sup>. The remuneration and other conditions of service of any person so appointed are to be determined by the Director<sup>8</sup>.

The Director and the Higher Education Funding Council for England<sup>9</sup> may enter into arrangements with each other for the provision to the Director by the Council, on such terms as may be agreed, of staff, accommodation or services<sup>10</sup>.

762. Finance.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make payments to the Director of Fair Access to Higher Education<sup>2</sup>.

The Director must provide to the Secretary of State, as soon as possible after the end of each financial year<sup>3</sup>, a report on how he has performed his functions during that year<sup>4</sup>. The Secretary of State may by direction require the Director, either in that report or in a special report, to report to him on such matters related to access to higher education<sup>5</sup> as may be specified in the direction<sup>6</sup>. The Secretary of State must lay before each House of Parliament a copy of each report so provided to him<sup>7</sup>; and the Director must publish the report once it has been so laid<sup>8</sup>.

It is the duty of the Director: (1) to keep proper accounts and proper records in relation to the accounts<sup>9</sup>; (2) to prepare in respect of each financial year a statement of the accounts in such form as the Secretary of State may direct<sup>10</sup>; and (3) to send copies of the statement to the Secretary of State and the Comptroller and Auditor General<sup>11</sup> before the end of the month of August next following the financial year to which the statement relates<sup>12</sup>. The Comptroller and Auditor General must examine, certify and report on each statement so received by him, and must lay copies of each statement and of his report before each House of Parliament<sup>13</sup>.

(ii) The Relevant Authority in relation to Wales

763. General duties of the relevant authority.

The relevant authority in relation to Wales<sup>1</sup> must, in the performance of the functions that are conferred on it as the relevant authority<sup>2</sup>, have regard to any guidance given to it by the National Assembly for Wales<sup>3</sup>.

1 'Relevant authority', in relation to Wales, means such person as may be designated for these purposes by regulations made by the National Assembly for Wales: Higher Education Act 2004 s 30(1)(b). This power includes the power to designate the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales: s 30(2). Regulations designating a person as the relevant authority in relation to Wales may make such amendments of any enactment, including any enactment contained in the Higher Education Act 2004, as appear to the National Assembly for Wales to be necessary or expedient in connection with the designation of that person: s 30(3). For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante. As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante; and as to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales see PARA 733 et seq ante. As to the making of regulations under the Higher Education Act 2004 see PARA 764 note 9 post. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 30.

The provisions of s 30(1) come into force in relation to Wales as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6), and those of s 30(2), (3) come into force as from a day to be appointed under s 52(3). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

2 Ie under ibid Pt 3 (as amended).

3 Ibid ss 10(2), 32(4), 48. The provisions of s 32(4) come into force as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(6) STUDENT FEES AND FAIR ACCESS TO HIGHER EDUCATION/(iii) Plans relating to Student Fees and Fair Access to Higher Education/764. Duty of Secretary of State to impose condition as to student fees, etc.

(iii) Plans relating to Student Fees and Fair Access to Higher Education

764. Duty of Secretary of State to impose condition as to student fees, etc.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> must, when making any grant to an English funding body<sup>2</sup>, impose a condition<sup>3</sup> requiring that body to impose a condition<sup>4</sup> in relation to any grants, loans or other payments made by that body<sup>5</sup> to the governing body<sup>6</sup> of a relevant institution<sup>7</sup>.

The condition to be imposed<sup>8</sup> by an English funding body requires the governing body of the relevant institution to:

- 1328 (1) secure that, in respect of any qualifying course<sup>9</sup>, the qualifying fees<sup>10</sup> in respect of any academic year<sup>11</sup> which begins during the grant period<sup>12</sup> at a time when an English approved plan is in force in relation to the institution do not exceed such limit, not exceeding the higher amount<sup>13</sup>, as is provided by the plan for that course and that academic year<sup>14</sup>;
- 1329 (2) secure that, in respect of any qualifying course, the qualifying fees in respect of any academic year which begins during the grant period at a time when no English approved plan is in force in relation to the institution do not exceed the basic amount<sup>15</sup>; and
- 1330 (3) comply with the general provisions<sup>16</sup> of any English approved plan that is in force in relation to the institution during any part of the grant period during which it is in force<sup>17</sup>.

Such a condition must provide:

- 1331 (a) in the event of a failure by the governing body to comply with the requirement specified in head (1) above:
  - 3. (i) where the qualifying fees do not exceed the higher amount, for the imposition by the funding body on the governing body of any financial requirements required by a relevant direction<sup>18</sup>; and
  - 4. (ii) where the qualifying fees exceed that amount, for the imposition by the funding body on the governing body of any financial requirements required by a relevant direction<sup>19</sup> and of other financial requirements determined by the funding body in accordance with principles specified by the Secretary of State in the condition<sup>20</sup>;
- 1332 (b) in the event of a failure by the governing body to comply with the requirement specified in head (2) above, for the imposition by the funding body on the governing body of financial requirements determined by the funding body in accordance with principles specified by the Secretary of State in the condition<sup>21</sup>; and
- 1333 (c) in the event of a failure by the governing body to comply with the requirement specified in head (3) above, for the imposition by the funding body on the governing body of any financial requirements required by a relevant direction<sup>22</sup>.

Where such a condition is imposed in connection with any grants, loans or other payments made to the governing body of a relevant institution, and those payments are to any extent made in respect of persons undertaking a course which is provided in whole or part by any other institution, then for these purposes fees payable by such persons to the other institution are to be regarded as fees payable by them to the relevant institution<sup>23</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the power of the National Assembly for Wales to impose conditions see PARA 765 post.

2 Ie under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 68 (see PARA 757 ante) or the Education Act 2005 s 81 (see PARA 796 post). For this purpose, 'funding body' means the Higher Education Funding Council for England or the Training and Development Agency for Schools: Higher Education Act 2004 s 23(2) (definition amended by the Education Act 2005 s 98, Sch 14 para 25(1), (3)). As to the Higher Education Funding Council for England see PARA 733 et seq ante; and as to the Training and Development Agency for Schools see PARA 784 et seq post.

3 Ie under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 68(1) (see PARA 757 ante) or the Education Act 2005 s 81(1) (see PARA 796 post).

4 Ie under the Higher Education Act 2004 s 24 (as amended): see the text and notes 8-23 infra.

5 Ie under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended) (see PARA 746 ante) or the Education Act 2005 s 78 (see PARA 795 post).

6 In the Higher Education Act 2004, any reference to the governing body of an institution: (1) in relation to any institution except a training provider falling within head (2) infra, has the meaning given by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 90(1) (see PARA 584 note 5 ante), but subject to any provision made by virtue of s 90(2) (see PARA 584 note 5 ante); and (2) in the case of a training provider who but for s 90(1) would not be regarded as an institution, means the training provider: Higher Education Act 2004 s 41(1A) (added by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 35(1), (3)). For the meanings of 'institution' and 'training provider' see PARA 760 note 6 ante.

The Higher Education Act 2004 s 41 (as amended) came into force, so far as relating to England, on the passing of the Act (ie on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) but, in relation to Wales, is to come into force as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

7 Ibid s 23(1) (amended by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 25(1), (2)(a)). For this purpose, 'relevant institution' means an institution specified by the Secretary of State in a condition under the Higher Education Act 2004 s 23(1) (as amended), or an institution of a class so specified: s 23(2). Nothing in the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 or the Education Act 2005, so far as it imposes any prohibition or other requirement in relation to the imposition of conditions by the Secretary of State, the Higher Education Funding Council for England or the Training and Development Agency for Schools applies to: (1) any condition under the Higher Education Act 2004 s 23 (as amended) imposed by the Secretary of State; or (2) any condition under s 24 (as amended) (see the text and notes 8-23 infra) imposed by the Higher Education Funding Council for England or the Training and Development Agency for Schools: s 29(3) (amended by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 29).

The Higher Education Act 2004 s 29 (as amended) came into force, so far as relating to England, on the passing of the Act (ie on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) but, in relation to Wales, is to come into force as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

8 Ie under ibid s 24 (as amended). No condition under s 24 (as amended) applies in relation to any fees which are payable, in accordance with regulations under the Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1, by students other than those falling within any class of persons prescribed by such regulations for the purposes of s 1(1) or (2) (see PARA 1056 post): Higher Education Act 2004 s 29(1). See note 7 supra.

9 For this purpose, 'qualifying course' means a course of any description prescribed for the purposes of ibid s 24 (as amended): s 24(6). For the meaning of 'course' see PARA 760 note 9 ante. 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 24(6). The power to prescribe descriptions of course by virtue of the definition of 'qualifying course' in s 24(6) may not be exercised in such a way as to discriminate: (1) in relation to courses of initial teacher training, between different courses on the basis of the subjects in which such training is given; and (2) in relation to other courses, between different courses at the same or a comparable level on the basis of the areas of study or research to which they relate: s 29(2). See note 7 supra. As to the regulations made under s 24(6) see the Student Fees (Amounts) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1932.

Any power of the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales to make an order or regulations under the Higher Education Act 2004 is exercisable by statutory instrument: s 47(1). Any statutory instrument containing an order made by the Secretary of State under s 18 (see PARA 1044 post) or regulations made by the Secretary of State under any provision of the Act is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (s 47(2)), unless they are regulations to which s 26(2)(a)(ii) or s 26(b)(ii) applies (see note 13 infra), or regulations to which s 13(3)(b), Sch 2 para 12(3) (see PARA 1042 note 8 post) applies (s 47(3)). A statutory instrument which contains (whether alone or with other provisions) regulations made by the Secretary of State by virtue of s 33(2) (see PARA 766 post), s 34 (see PARA 767 post) or s 37(3)(c) (see PARA 768 post) may not be made unless a draft of the instrument has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 47(3), (4). Any order or regulations under the Higher Education Act 2004 may make different provision for different cases or different areas, may make provision generally or only in relation to specified cases, and may contain such incidental, supplemental, saving or transitional provisions as the person making the order or regulations thinks fit: s 47(5). Nothing in the Higher Education Act 2004 is to be regarded as affecting the generality of s 47(5): s 47(6). As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

10 For this purpose, 'qualifying fees', in relation to a relevant institution, means the fees payable to the institution by a qualifying person in connection with his undertaking a qualifying course; and 'qualifying person' means a person falling within any class of persons prescribed for the purposes of ibid s 24 (as amended): s 24(6). See note 9 supra. In Pt 3 (as amended), 'fees', in relation to undertaking a course, means fees in respect of, or otherwise in connection with, undertaking the course, including admission, registration, tuition and graduation fees but excluding: (1) fees payable to an institution for awarding or accrediting any qualification where the institution does not provide the whole or part of the course and is not a publicly-funded institution; (2) fees payable for board or lodging; (3) fees payable for field trips (including any tuition element of such fees); (4) fees payable for attending any graduation or other ceremony; and (5) such other fees as may be prescribed, in relation to England, by regulations made by the Secretary of State, or, in relation to Wales, by regulations made by the National Assembly for Wales: s 41(1). For this purpose, 'publicly-funded institution' means any university or other institution receiving grants, loans or other payments under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended) (see PARA 746 ante) or the Education Act 2005 s 78 (see PARA 795 post) or s 86 (see PARA 803 post), any institution maintained by a local education authority in the exercise of its further and higher education functions, any institution receiving a recurrent grant towards its costs under regulations made under the Education Act 1996 s 485 (see PARA 69 ante), and any institution receiving financial resources under the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 5 (as amended) (see PARA 1092 post) or s 34 (see PARA 1132 post): Higher Education Act 2004 s 41(2) (amended by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 35(1), (4)). See note 6 supra.

11 For this purpose, 'academic year', in relation to a course, means an academic year applicable to the course: Higher Education Act 2004 s 24(6).

12 For this purpose, 'the grant period' means the period in respect of which the grants, loans or other payments to which the relevant condition under ibid s 23 (as amended) (see the text and notes 1-7 supra) relates: s 24(6). For the purposes of s 24(1), an academic year which begins at the same time as the grant period is to be taken to begin during the grant period, and an academic year which begins with the day on which an English approved plan comes into force is to be taken to begin at a time when the plan is in force: s 24(2). In Pt 3 (as amended), any reference to a plan is a reference to a plan complying with s 33 (see PARA 766 post), and any reference to an English approved plan is a reference to a plan approved under s 34 (as amended) (see PARA 767 post) in relation to England: s 22. Section 22 came into force, so far as relating to England, on the passing of the Act (ie 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) and is to come into force in relation to Wales as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

13 For this purpose, 'the higher amount' means such amount as may be prescribed for the purposes of ibid s 24 (as amended) as the higher amount: s 24(6). For this purpose, 'the basic amount' means such amount as may be prescribed for the purposes of s 24 (as amended) as the basic amount: s 24(6). As to the regulations made under s 24(6) see the Student Fees (Amounts) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1932, regs 4-5. Where regulations under the Higher Education Act 2004 s 24(6) have been made prescribing the basic amount and the higher amount for those purposes: (1) no regulations may be made increasing the basic amount unless: (a) the Secretary of State is satisfied that the increase is no greater than is required to maintain the value of the amount in real terms (s 26(2)(a)(i)); or (b) a draft of the regulations has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament (s 26(2)(a)(ii)); and (2) no regulations may be made increasing the higher amount unless: (a) the Secretary of State is satisfied that the increase is no greater than is required to maintain the value of the amount in real terms (s 26(2)(b)(i)); or each House of Parliament has at any time after 1 January 2010 passed a resolution that, with effect from a date specified in the resolution, the higher amount should be increased to an amount specified in the resolution, and the increase is an increase to the specified amount with effect from the specified date (s 26(2)(b)(ii)). For the purposes of heads (1) and (2) supra, the Secretary of State is to have regard to such index of prices as may be specified in, or determined in accordance with, regulations made by him under s 26(3): s 26(3). At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 26(3).

15 Ibid s 24(1)(b). Section 24(1)(b) has effect in relation to the qualifying fees payable by a qualifying person in connection with his undertaking a qualifying course ('the relevant course'), even if those fees are payable in respect of an academic year which begins at a time when an English approved plan is in force in relation to the institution, where: (1) the qualifying person had on or before 1 August 2005 received an offer, whether conditional on obtaining specified qualifications or not, of a place on the relevant course or a similar course, and the first academic year of the relevant course begins before 1 September 2007; or (2) where the qualifying person had received an offer of a place on a qualifying course (whether or not at the same institution as the relevant course) the first academic year of which begins before 1 September 2006, he was unable to take up the offer because a specified qualification or grade was not awarded to him, he appealed against the decision not to award him the qualification or grade, the appeal was allowed after the last date on which he could have taken up the offer, and as a result he was offered a place on the relevant course, and the first academic year of the relevant course begins after 31 August 2006 but before 1 September 2007: see s 25(1)-(3). For the purposes of head (1) supra, a course ('the original course') is similar to the relevant course if it appears to the governing body of the institution providing the relevant course that the subject matter of the course is in whole or in part the same as the subject matter of the original course, and (except where the original course is no longer being provided) the relevant course is provided by the institution which was to have provided the original course: s 25(4).

16 For the purposes of ibid Pt 3 (as amended), 'general provisions', in relation to a plan, has the meaning given by s 33(4) (see PARA 766 note 12 post): s 41(1). See note 6 supra.

17 Ibid s 24(1)(c).

18 Ibid s 24(3)(a)(i). The direction referred to in the text is a direction under s 37(1)(a) (as amended) (see PARA 768 post).

19 Ie under s 37(1)(a) (as amended) (see PARA 768 post).

20 Ibid s 24(3)(a)(ii). The condition referred to in the text is the condition under s 23 (as amended) (see the text and notes 1-7 supra).

21 Ibid s 24(3)(b). The condition referred to in the text is the condition under s 23 (as amended) (see the text and notes 1-7 supra).

22 Ibid s 24(3)(c). The direction referred to in the text is a direction under s 37(1)(a) (as amended) (see PARA 768 post). Any financial requirements imposed by virtue of s 24(3)(c) must relate to one or more of the following: (1) the repayment, with or without interest, of the whole or any part of any sums received by the governing body in respect of the grant, loan or other payment in question; (2) the withdrawal or reduction of any amount that has been awarded but not yet paid in respect of the grant, loan or other payment in question; or (3) the refusal to award (or to award to the extent expected) any other grant, loan or other payment under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended) (see PARA 746 ante) or (as the case may be) the Education Act 2005 s 78 (see PARA 795 post) in respect of the grant period or any subsequent period: Higher Education Act 2004 s 24(4) (amended by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 26).

UPDATE

764 Duty of Secretary of State to impose conditions as to student fees, etc

NOTE 9--In exercise of the powers conferred on him by the 2004 Act ss 24(6), 47, the Secretary of State has made the Student Fees (Qualifying Courses and Persons) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/778 (amended by SI 2007/2263, SI 2008/1640). SI 2004/1932 amended: SI 2007/1865, SI 2009/3113 (in force on 1 September 2010).

NOTE 13--See now the Student Fees (Inflation Index) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/507, made under the 2004 Act s 26(3), specifying the All Items Retail Prices Index Excluding Mortgage Interest Repayments published by the Office of National Statistics (now the Statistics Board). SI 2004/1932 regs 4, 5 amended: SI 2007/1865, SI 2009/3113 (in force on 1 September 2010).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/4. HIGHER EDUCATION/(6) STUDENT FEES AND FAIR ACCESS TO HIGHER EDUCATION/(iii) Plans relating to Student Fees and Fair Access to Higher Education/765. Power of the National Assembly for Wales to impose conditions as to student fees, etc.

765. Power of the National Assembly for Wales to impose conditions as to student fees, etc.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect<sup>1</sup>.

The power of the National Assembly for Wales<sup>2</sup> to impose conditions<sup>3</sup> in relation to grants paid to a Welsh funding body<sup>4</sup> includes power to impose a condition requiring the funding body to impose a condition<sup>5</sup> in relation to any grants, loans or other payments made by the funding body<sup>6</sup>, to the governing body<sup>7</sup> of a relevant institution<sup>8</sup>.

The condition to be imposed<sup>9</sup> by Welsh funding bodies requires the governing body of the relevant institution to:

- 1334 (1) secure that, in respect of any qualifying course<sup>10</sup>, the qualifying fees<sup>11</sup> in respect of any academic year<sup>12</sup> which begins during the grant period<sup>13</sup> at a time when a Welsh approved plan is in force in relation to the institution do not exceed such limit, not exceeding the higher amount<sup>14</sup>, as is provided by the plan for that course and that academic year<sup>15</sup>;
- 1335 (2) secure that, in respect of any qualifying course, the qualifying fees in respect of any academic year which begins during the grant period at a time when no Welsh approved plan is in force in relation to the institution do not exceed the basic amount<sup>16</sup>; and
- 1336 (3) comply with the general provisions<sup>17</sup> of any Welsh approved plan that is in force in relation to the institution during any part of the grant period during which it is in force<sup>18</sup>.

Such a condition must provide, in the event of a failure of the governing body to comply with any of the requirements specified in heads (1) to (3) above, for the imposition by the funding body on the governing body of financial requirements determined in accordance with principles specified by the National Assembly for Wales in the condition<sup>19</sup>.

Where such a condition is imposed in connection with any grants, loans or other payments made to the governing body of a relevant institution, and those payments are to any extent made in respect of persons undertaking a course which is provided in whole or part by any other institution, then for these purposes fees payable by such persons to the other institution are to be regarded as fees payable by them to the relevant institution<sup>20</sup>.

1 The Higher Education Act 2004 s 27 (as substituted) and s 28 (as amended) are to come into force as from a day to be appointed under s 52(3). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

2 As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

3 ie under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 68(1) (see PARA 757 ante) or the Education Act 2005 s 82(1) (see PARA 798 post) or s 88(1) (see PARA 804 post).

4 For the purposes of the Higher Education Act 2004 s 27 (as substituted), 'funding body' means the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales or the Training and Development Agency for Schools: s 27(2) (s 27 substituted by the Education Act 2005 s 98, Sch 14 para 27). See note 1 supra. As to the Higher Education

Funding Council for Wales see PARA 733 et seq ante; and as to the Training and Development Agency for Schools see PARA 784 et seq post.

5    Ie under the Higher Education Act 2004 s 28 (as amended): see the text and notes 9-20 infra.

6    Ie under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended) (see PARA 746 ante) or the Education Act 2005 s 78 (see PARA 795 post) or s 86 (see PARA 803 post).

7    As to the meaning of 'governing body' see PARA 764 note 6 ante.

8    Higher Education Act 2004 s 27(1) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). For this purpose, 'relevant institution' means an institution specified by the National Assembly for Wales in a condition under s 27(1) (as substituted), or an institution of a class so specified: s 27(2) (as so substituted). See note 1 supra. For the meaning of 'institution' see PARA 760 note 6 ante.

Nothing in the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 or the Education Act 2005, so far as it imposes any prohibition or other requirement in relation to the imposition of conditions by the National Assembly for Wales, the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales or the Training and Development Agency for Schools applies to: (1) any condition under s 27 (as substituted) imposed by the National Assembly for Wales; or (2) any condition under s 28 (as amended) (see the text and notes 9-20 infra) imposed by the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales or the Training and Development Agency for Schools: s 29(3) (amended by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 29). The Higher Education Act 2004 s 29 (as amended) came into force, so far as relating to England, on the passing of the Act (ie on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) but, in relation to Wales, is to come into force as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

9    Ie under ibid s 28 (as amended). No condition under s 28 (as amended) applies in relation to any fees which are payable, in accordance with regulations under the Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1, by students other than those falling within any class of persons prescribed by such regulations for the purposes of s 1(1) or (2) (see PARA 1056 post): Higher Education Act 2004 s 29(1). See note 8 supra.

10   For this purpose, 'qualifying course' means a course of any description prescribed for the purposes of ibid s 28 (as amended): s 28(6). As to the meaning of 'course' see PARA 760 note 9 ante. 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made by the National Assembly for Wales: s 28(6). See note 1 supra. The power to prescribe descriptions of course by virtue of the definition of 'qualifying course' in s 28(6) may not be exercised in such a way as to discriminate: (1) in relation to courses of initial teacher training, between different courses on the basis of the subjects in which such training is given; and (2) in relation to other courses, between different courses at the same or a comparable level on the basis of the areas of study or research to which they relate: s 29(2). See note 8 supra. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such regulations had been made. As to the making of regulations under the Higher Education Act 2004 see PARA 764 note 9 ante.

11   For this purpose, 'qualifying fees', in relation to a relevant institution, means the fees payable to the institution by a qualifying person in connection with his undertaking a qualifying course; and 'qualifying person' means a person falling within any class of persons prescribed for the purposes of ibid s 28 (as amended): s 28(6). See note 1 supra. For the meaning of 'fees' see PARA 764 note 10 ante.

12   For this purpose, 'academic year', in relation to a course, means an academic year applicable to the course: ibid s 28(6). See note 1 supra.

13   For this purpose, 'the grant period' means the period in respect of which the grants, loans or other payments to which the relevant condition under ibid s 27 (as substituted) relates are made: s 28(6). For the purposes of s 28(1), an academic year which begins at the same time as the grant period is to be taken to begin during the grant period, and an academic year which begins with the day on which a Welsh approved plan comes into force is to be taken to begin at a time when the plan is in force: s 28(2). See note 1 supra. In Pt 3 (ss 22-41) (as amended), any reference to a plan is a reference to a plan complying with s 33 (see PARA 766 post), and any reference to a Welsh approved plan is a reference to a plan approved under s 34 (as amended) (see PARA 767 post) in relation to Wales: s 22. For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante. Section 22 came into force, so far as relating to England, on the passing of the Act (ie on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) and is to come into force in relation to Wales as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

14   For this purpose, 'the higher amount' means such amount as may be prescribed for the purposes of ibid s 28 (as amended) as the higher amount: s 28(6). See note 1 supra.

15   Ibid s 28(1)(a). See note 1 supra.

16   Ibid s 28(1)(b). For this purpose, 'the basic amount' means such amount as may be prescribed for the purposes of s 28 (as amended) as the basic amount: s 28(6). See note 1 supra.

17 For the meaning of 'general provisions' see PARA 764 note 16 ante.

18 Higher Education Act 2004 s 28(1)(c). See note 1 supra.

19 Ibid s 28(3) (amended by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 28(1), (3)). The condition referred to in the text is the condition under the Higher Education Act 2004 s 27 (as substituted) (see the text and notes 1-8 supra). Any financial requirements imposed by virtue of s 28(3) (as amended) must relate to one or more of the following: (1) the repayment, with or without interest, of the whole or any part of any sums received by the governing body in respect of the grant, loan or other payment in question; (2) the withdrawal or reduction of any amount that has been awarded but not yet paid in respect of the grant, loan or other payment in question; or (3) the refusal to award (or to award to the extent expected) any other grant, loan or other payment under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended) (see PARA 746 ante) or (as the case may be) the Education Act 2005 s 78 (see PARA 795 post) or s 86 (see PARA 803 post) in respect of the grant period or any subsequent period: Higher Education Act 2004 s 28(4) (amended by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 28(1), (4)). See note 1 supra.

20 Higher Education Act 2004 s 28(5). See note 1 supra.

766. Contents of plans.

A plan regarding student fees and fair access to higher education<sup>1</sup> relating to an institution<sup>2</sup> must, in relation to each qualifying course<sup>3</sup> in connection with which fees<sup>4</sup> are to be payable to the institution by qualifying persons<sup>5</sup>, specify or provide for the determination of a limit (not exceeding the higher amount<sup>6</sup>) which those fees are not permitted to exceed<sup>7</sup>. In relation to England, such a plan must also include such provisions relating to the promotion of equality of opportunity<sup>8</sup> as are required by regulations<sup>9</sup> to be included in the plan, and may also include further provisions relating to the promotion of equality of opportunity<sup>10</sup>. In relation to Wales, such a plan must also include such provisions relating to the promotion of equality of opportunity or the promotion of higher education as are required by regulations to be included in the plan, and may also include further provisions relating to either of those matters<sup>11</sup>.

The general provisions of such a plan<sup>12</sup> that may be required by such regulations include, in particular, provisions:

- 1337 (1) requiring the governing body<sup>13</sup> to take, or secure the taking of, measures to attract applications from prospective students who are members of groups which, at the time when the plan is approved, are under-represented in higher education<sup>14</sup>;
- 1338 (2) requiring the governing body to provide, or secure the provision of, financial assistance to students<sup>15</sup>;
- 1339 (3) requiring the governing body to make available to students and prospective students information about financial assistance available to students from any source<sup>16</sup>;
- 1340 (4) setting out objectives relating to the promotion of equality of opportunity (and, in relation to Wales, the promotion of higher education)<sup>17</sup>;
- 1341 (5) relating to the monitoring by the governing body of its compliance with the provisions of the plan and its progress in achieving any objectives set out in the plan by virtue of head (4) above<sup>18</sup>; and
- 1342 (6) requiring the provision of information to the relevant authority<sup>19</sup>.

Such regulations may not require a plan to include among the general provisions of the plan any provision referring to particular courses<sup>20</sup> or to the manner in which courses are taught, supervised or assessed, or to include any provision relating to the criteria for the admission of students<sup>21</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'plan' see PARA 760 note 2 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'institution' see PARA 760 note 6 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'qualifying course' in relation to England see PARA 764 note 9 ante; and in relation to Wales see PARA 765 note 10 ante (definition applied by virtue of the Higher Education Act 2004 s 33(7)).

Section 33 came into force, so far as relating to England, on the passing of the Act (ie on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) but is to come into force in relation to Wales as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

4 For the meaning of 'fees' see PARA 764 note 10 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'qualifying person' in relation to England see PARA 764 note 10 ante; and in relation to Wales see PARA 765 note 11 ante (definition applied by virtue of the Higher Education Act 2004 s 33(7)). See note 3 supra.

6 For these purposes, 'the higher amount' means, in relation to England, the amount from time to time prescribed as the higher amount under ibid s 24(6) (see PARA 764 ante), and, in relation to Wales, the amount from time to time prescribed as the higher amount under s 28(6) (see PARA 765 note 14 ante): s 33(7). See note 3 supra.

7 Ibid s 33(1). See note 3 supra.

8 For these purposes, 'equality of opportunity' means equality of opportunity in connection with access to higher education: ibid s 33(7). See note 3 supra.

9 For these purposes, 'regulations' means regulations made, in relation to England, by the Secretary of State, and, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: ibid s 33(7). See note 3 supra. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. Regulations under s 33(2) may not be made unless a draft of the instrument has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: see s 47(3), (4); and PARA 764 note 9 ante. As to the regulations made under s 33 see the Student Fees (Approved Plans) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2473.

HIGHER EDUCATION/(6) STUDENT FEES AND FAIR ACCESS TO HIGHER EDUCATION/(iii) Plans relating to Student Fees and Fair Access to Higher Education/767. Approval, duration and variation of plans.

767. Approval, duration and variation of plans.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> of any institution<sup>2</sup> which is or may become eligible to receive grants<sup>3</sup> may apply to the relevant authority<sup>4</sup> for approval of a proposed plan regarding student fees and access to higher education<sup>5</sup> relating to the institution<sup>6</sup>. The relevant authority may, if it thinks fit, approve the plan<sup>7</sup>, and may issue guidance to such institutions as to the matters to which the relevant authority is to have regard in deciding whether to approve plans<sup>8</sup>. The relevant authority's functions in relation to the approval of plans must be exercised in accordance with regulations<sup>9</sup>. Regulations may, in particular, specify matters to which the relevant authority is, or is not, to have regard in making any determination relating to approval<sup>10</sup>. Regulations may require the institution to which any approved plan relates to publish the plan in the prescribed manner<sup>11</sup>.

A plan must specify the period during which it is to be in force<sup>12</sup>. The length of that period must not exceed such maximum as may be prescribed by regulations made (in relation to England) by the Secretary of State or (in relation to Wales) by the National Assembly for Wales<sup>13</sup>. These provisions<sup>14</sup> do not prevent the approval of a new plan taking effect on the expiry of a previous plan<sup>15</sup>.

6 Higher Education Act 2004 s 34(1) (amended by the Education Act 2005 s 98, Sch 14 para 31).

The Higher Education Act 2004 s 34 came into force, so far as relating to England, on the passing of the Act (i.e. on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) but is to come into force in relation to Wales as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

8 Ibid s 34(3). See note 6 supra.

9 Ibid s 34(4). For this purpose, 'regulations' means regulations made, in relation to England, by the Secretary of State, or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: s 34(7). See note 6 supra. Regulations under s 34 may not be made unless a draft of the instrument has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: see s 47(3), (4); and PARA 764 note 9 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. Regulations made by virtue of s 34 (as amended), s 36 (see the text and notes 16-19 infra), s 37(3)(b) (see PARA 768 post) or s 38(3)(b) (see PARA 768 post) must include provision: (1) requiring any decision of the relevant authority under s 34 (as amended), s 36, s 37 (as amended) (see PARA 768 post) or s 38 (as amended) (see PARA 768 post) affecting the governing body of an institution to have effect in the first instance as a provisional decision; (2) enabling the governing body of the institution to apply for a review of the provisional decision to a person, or panel of persons, appointed in accordance with the regulations by the Secretary of State (in relation to England) or the Assembly (in relation to Wales); (3) enabling the Secretary of State or the Assembly to pay remuneration and allowances to any person so appointed; (4) prescribing the grounds on which an application for the review of a provisional decision may be made; and (5) requiring the relevant authority to reconsider its provisional decision having regard to any recommendation of the person or panel: s 39. As to the making of regulations under the Higher Education Act 2004 generally see PARA 764 note 9 ante. As to the approval of plans see the Student Fees (Approved Plans) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2473, reg 5; and as to the review of decisions see regs 15-22.

The Higher Education Act 2004 s 39 came into force, so far as relating to England, on the passing of the Act (ie on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) and is to come into force in relation to Wales as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

11 Ibid s 34(6). See note 6 supra. Where the Director has approved a plan, the institution must publish it in a manner which makes it conveniently accessible to students and prospective students: see the Student Fees (Approved Plans) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2473, reg 6. As to the Director of Fair Access to Higher Education see PARA 760 ante.

12 Higher Education Act 2004 s 35(1). Section 35 came into force, in relation to England, for the purpose of making regulations on the passing of the Act (ie on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) and for remaining purposes on 1 November 2004 (see the Higher Education Act 2004 (Commencement No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 2004, SI 2004/2781, art 2). In relation to Wales, the Higher Education Act 2004 s 35 is to come into force as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

13 Ibid s 35(2). See note 12 supra. Currently, the maximum period of time during which a plan may be in force is five years: see the Student Fees (Approved Plans) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2473, reg 7.

14 Ie the Higher Education Act 2004 s 35(1), (2): see the text and notes 12-13 supra.

15 Ibid s 35(3). See note 12 supra.

16 For this purpose, 'regulations' means regulations made, in relation to England, by the Secretary of State, or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: ibid s 36(2). Section 36 came into force, in relation to England, for the purpose of making regulations on the passing of the Act (ie on 1 July 2004: see s 52(1)) and for remaining purposes on 1 November 2004 (see the Higher Education Act 2004 (Commencement No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 2004, SI 2004/2781, art 2). In relation to Wales, the Higher Education Act 2004 s 36 is to come into force as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

768. Enforcement of plans.

1343 (1) direct the Higher Education Funding Council for England<sup>7</sup> or the Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>8</sup> (or both) to impose specified financial requirements<sup>9</sup> on the governing body<sup>10</sup>; or

or he may do both<sup>13</sup>. The Secretary of State<sup>14</sup> may by regulations<sup>15</sup> make provision:

1345 (a) as to the matters to which the Director must, or may not, have regard in exercising these powers<sup>16</sup>;

1346 (b) as to the procedure to be followed in connection with the giving of any direction or notification under head (1) or head (2) above<sup>17</sup>;

1347 (c) as to the financial requirements that may be specified by virtue of head (1) above<sup>18</sup>; and 1348 (d) as to the effect of a notification under head (2) above<sup>19</sup>.

If the relevant authority in relation to Wales<sup>20</sup> is satisfied that the governing body of an institution which, by virtue of a condition imposed<sup>21</sup> by a Welsh funding body<sup>22</sup> is required to comply with a specified requirement<sup>23</sup>, has failed to comply with that requirement, the relevant authority may notify the governing body that on the expiry of the existing plan it will refuse to approve a new plan<sup>24</sup> during a specified period<sup>25</sup>. The period specified must not exceed any maximum period prescribed by regulations made by the National Assembly for Wales<sup>26</sup>. The Assembly may by regulations make provision:

1349 (i) as to the matters to which the relevant authority must, or may not, have regard in exercising its power of refusal<sup>27</sup>;

1350 (ii) as to the procedure to be followed in connection with the giving of any notification<sup>28</sup>; and

1351 (iii) as to the effect of such a notification<sup>29</sup>.

The exercise of the power of refusal<sup>30</sup>, whether or not by the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales, does not prevent the Council or the Training and Development Agency for Schools from enforcing the relevant condition<sup>31</sup> by imposing financial requirements on the governing body in pursuance of any condition<sup>32</sup>.

5    Ie specified under ibid s 24(1)(a) or s 24(1)(c) (see PARA 764 ante).

6    The governing body of an institution is not to be regarded for the purposes of ibid s 37(1) as having failed to comply with the requirement specified in s 24(1)(c) (see PARA 764 ante) by reason of its failure to comply with any of the general provisions of an English approved plan, if the governing body shows that it has taken all reasonable steps to comply with that provision: s 37(2). TEACHERS/(1) QUALIFICATION, REGISTRATION AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS/(i) Requirements for Teaching Staff under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 and the Education Act 2002/769. Meaning of 'qualified teacher'.

5. TEACHERS

(1) QUALIFICATION, REGISTRATION AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS

(i) Requirements for Teaching Staff under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 and the Education Act 2002

769. Meaning of 'qualified teacher'.

A reference in the Education Acts<sup>1</sup> to a 'qualified teacher' is a reference to a person who satisfies requirements specified in regulations<sup>2</sup>. A requirement of such regulations may relate to:

- 1352 (1) the possession of a specified qualification<sup>3</sup> or experience of a specified kind<sup>4</sup>;
- 1353 (2) participation in or completion of a specified programme or course of training<sup>5</sup>;
- 1354 (3) compliance with a specified condition<sup>6</sup>;
- 1355 (4) an exercise of discretion by the Secretary of State, the National Assembly for Wales or another specified person<sup>7</sup>.

The Secretary of State must consult the General Teaching Council for England, and the National Assembly for Wales must consult the General Teaching Council for Wales, before making any such regulations which make provision by reference to the content of a course or programme<sup>8</sup> or to the standard of education or training provided through a course or programme<sup>9</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the Education Acts' see PARA 1 note 14 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3).

2 Ibid s 132(1). 'Regulations' means regulations made under the Education Act 2002 by the Secretary of State (in relation to England) or by the National Assembly for Wales (in relation to Wales): s 212(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 2002 generally see PARA 79 note 2 ante. As to the regulations made under s 132 see the Education (School Teachers' Qualifications) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1662; and the Education (School Teachers' Qualifications) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1729.

The provisions of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(a), (2), (2A), (2AA), (3) (s 218(2A), (2AA) as added; s 218(3) as amended) also impose a requirement for teachers to be qualified, but are repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 146, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). That day has been appointed in relation to England but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales: see PARA 776 post.

3 A power under the Education Act 2002 ss 132-140 (as amended) to make provision by reference to a specified qualification, a specified course of education or training or a specified programme includes power to make provision: (1) by reference to a class or description of qualification, course or programme; (2) by reference to the institution, or class or description of institution, which awards the qualification or provides the course or programme; (3) which confers discretion on the Secretary of State, the Training and Development Agency for Schools, the General Teaching Council for England, the National Assembly for Wales, the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales, the General Teaching Council for Wales or another specified person: s 145(1) (amended by the Education Act 2005 s 98, Sch 14 para 24). A discretion under head (3) supra may, in particular, refer to approval or accreditation of a qualification, course, programme or institution: Education Act 2002 s 145(2). Regulations made by virtue of s 145(1) (as amended) may impose a duty on the Training and Development Agency for Schools or the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales: s 145(3) (amended by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 24). As to the regulations made under the Education Act 2002 s 145 (as amended) see the Education (School Teachers' Qualifications) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1662; the Education (Specified Work and Registration) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1663; the Education (School Teachers' Qualifications) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1729; and the Education (Specified Work and Registration) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1744. As to the Training and Development Agency for Schools see PARA 784 et seq post; as to the General Teaching Council for England and the General Teaching Council for Wales see PARA 809 et seq post; and as to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales see PARA 733 et seq ante.

5 Ibid s 132(2)(b). As to the specification of courses see note 3 supra.

As from a day to be appointed under s 216(4), regulations may provide that a person may undertake a specified course of training with a view to becoming a qualified teacher only if he is registered with provisional registration under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 3 (as amended) (register maintained by General Teaching Council: see PARAS 822, 847 post): Education Act 2002 s 134(3). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

7 Ibid s 132(2)(d).

8 Ibid s 132(3)(a), (4)(a).

9 Ibid s 132(3)(b), (4)(b).

770. Requirement for teachers at schools and head teachers of schools to be qualified.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may provide that specified work may not be carried out by a person in a school<sup>2</sup> unless he: (1) is a qualified teacher<sup>3</sup>; or (2) satisfies specified requirements<sup>4</sup>. Regulations specifying work for these purposes may make provision by reference to one or more specified activities<sup>5</sup> or to the circumstances in which activities are carried out<sup>6</sup>. A requirement of such regulations may, in particular, relate to:

- 1356 (a) the possession of a specified qualification<sup>7</sup> or experience of a specified kind<sup>8</sup>;
- 1357 (b) participation in or completion of a specified programme or course of training<sup>9</sup>;
- 1358 (c) compliance with a specified condition<sup>10</sup>;
- 1359 (d) an exercise of discretion by the Secretary of State, the National Assembly for Wales, another specified person or another person of a specified description<sup>11</sup>.

Regulations<sup>12</sup> may provide that a person may serve as the head teacher<sup>13</sup> of a school<sup>14</sup> only if he is a qualified teacher<sup>15</sup>, and only if he has, in addition to any qualification so required, a specified qualification<sup>16</sup>.

As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 2002 generally see PARA 79 note 2 ante. As to the regulations made under s 133 see the Education (Specified Work and Registration) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1663; and the Education (Specified Work and Registration) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1744.

2 For these purposes, 'school' means a school maintained by a local education authority or a special school not so maintained: Education Act 2002 s 133(6). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante; and as to special schools see PARA 1027 post.

3 Ibid s 133(1)(a). For the meaning of 'qualified teacher' see PARA 769 ante.

4 Ibid s 133(1)(b). Regulations may limit the period of time during which work may be carried out by a person in reliance on s 133(1)(b): s 133(5).

As from a day to be appointed under s 216(4), regulations may provide that work may be carried out by a person in reliance on s 133(1)(b) only if he is registered with provisional registration under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 3 (as amended) (register maintained by General Teaching Council: see PARA 822 post): Education Act 2002 s 134(2). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed. Regulations specifying work for the purpose of s 134(2) (not yet in force) may make provision by reference to one or more specified activities, or to the circumstances in which activities are carried out: s 134(4).

The provisions of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(a), (2), (2A), (2AA), (3) (s 218(2A), (2AA) as added; s 218(3) as amended) also impose a requirement for teachers to be qualified, but are repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 146, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). That day has been appointed in relation to England but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales: see PARA 776 post.

5 Education Act 2002 s 133(2)(a). Provision by virtue of s 133(2) may, in particular, be made by reference to an activity specified in a document of the kind mentioned in s 124(3) (pay and conditions orders: see PARA 864 post): s 133(3).

6 Ibid s 133(2)(b). See note 1 supra.

7 As to the specification of qualifications see PARA 769 note 3 ante.

8 Education Act 2002 s 133(4)(a).

9 Ibid s 133(4)(b). As to the specification of courses see PARA 769 note 3 ante. See also PARA 769 note 5 ante.

10 Ibid s 133(4)(c).

11 Ibid s 133(4)(d).

12 As to the regulations made under ibid s 135 see the Education (Head Teachers' Qualifications) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3111 (amended by SI 2005/875; SI 2005/3322); and the Head Teachers' Qualifications and Registration (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1227.

13 As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212.

14 For the purposes of ibid s 135, 'school' means: (1) a school maintained by a local education authority; or (2) a special school not so maintained: s 135(5). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante; and as to special schools see PARA 1027 post.

15 Ibid s 135(1).

16 Ibid s 135(2). Regulations under s 135(2) do not prevent a person from carrying out the functions of the head teacher of a school: (1) pending the appointment of a head teacher; or (2) in the absence of the head teacher: s 135(4). A provision of regulations under s 135(2) does not apply to a person who has been appointed as the head teacher of a school before the commencement of the provision: s 135(3).

771 Requirement for teachers at schools to be registered

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(1) QUALIFICATION, REGISTRATION AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS/(i) Requirements for Teaching Staff under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 and the Education Act 2002/772. Requirements to be met by teachers at, and principals of, further education institutions.

772. Requirements to be met by teachers at, and principals of, further education institutions.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may: (1) prohibit the provision of education<sup>2</sup> at a further education institution by a person who does not have a specified qualification<sup>3</sup>; (2) prohibit the provision of education at a further education institution by a person unless he is serving or has served a probationary period<sup>4</sup>; (3) specify conditions to be complied with by or in respect of persons providing education at a further education institution<sup>5</sup>; and (4) provide that a person may serve as the principal of a further education institution only if he has a specified qualification<sup>6</sup>.

The Secretary of State may by regulations<sup>7</sup>: (a) prohibit the provision by a further or higher education institution in England<sup>8</sup> of a course, which is designed to lead to the award of a qualification specified under heads (1) and (4) above, without the approval of the Secretary of State<sup>9</sup>; (b) enable the Secretary of State to determine the number of persons who may undertake a course, which is designed to lead to the award of a qualification specified under heads (1) and (4) above, at a further or higher education institution in England<sup>10</sup>; (c) enable the Secretary of State to determine the number of persons in different categories who may undertake a course, which is designed to lead to the award of a qualification specified under heads (1) and (4) above, at a further or higher education institution in England<sup>11</sup>. The National Assembly for Wales may by regulations: (i) prohibit the provision by a further or higher education institution in Wales<sup>12</sup> of a course, which is designed to lead to the award of a qualification specified under heads (1) and (4) above, without the approval of the National Assembly<sup>13</sup>; (ii) enable the National Assembly to determine the number of persons who may undertake a course, which is designed to lead to the award of a qualification specified under heads (1) and (4) above, at a further or higher education institution in Wales<sup>14</sup>; (iii) enable the National Assembly to determine the number of persons in different categories who may undertake a course, which is designed to lead to the award of a qualification specified under heads (1) and (4) above, at a further or higher education institution in Wales<sup>15</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made under the Education Act 2002 by the Secretary of State (in relation to England) or by the National Assembly for Wales (in relation to Wales): s 212(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 2002 generally see PARA 79 note 2 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 136. However, by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the Education (Teachers' Qualifications and Health Standards) (England) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2166 (amended by SI 2000/2704; SI 2001/1209; SI 2001/1391; SI 2001/2896; SI 2001/3737; SI 2002/1434; SI 2003/107; SI 2003/1662; SI 2003/1663; SI 2003/3139); and the Education (Teachers' Qualifications and Health Standards) (Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2817 (amended by SI 2002/1663; SI 2002/2938; SI 2003/140; SI 2003/2458; SI 2004/1744; SI 2004/1729; SI 2004/2733), made under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1) (as amended; prospectively repealed) (see PARA 778 post), have effect as if made under the Education Act 2002 s 136.

Regulations under any of ss 136-138 may provide that a specified provision of the regulations is not to apply where a specified condition, which may refer to the opinion of a specified person, is satisfied (s 140(1)); and such regulations may impose a function on a local education authority, or the governing body of a further or higher education institution (s 140(2)). For the meaning of 'governing body' under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 in relation to a further education institution see PARA 584 note 5 ante. As to the meaning of 'governing body' under the Education Reform Act 1988 in relation to a higher education institution see PARA 704 note 4 ante. For these purposes, 'further education institution' means an institution which: (1) provides further education and is maintained by a local education authority; or (2) is within the further education sector: Education Act 2002 s 140(3). For the meaning of 'further education' see PARA 18 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). For the meaning of 'institutions within the further education sector' see PARA 579 ante. As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. For these purposes, 'higher education institution' means an institution which: (a) is within the higher education sector; and (b) receives financial support under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended) (administration of funds by higher education funding councils: see PARA 746 ante): Education Act 2002 s 140(3). For the meaning of 'institutions within the higher education sector' see PARA 646 ante.

Sections 136-138, 140 are brought into force as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to Wales, the appointed day is 1 September 2003 (see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 2) (Wales) Order 2003, SI 2003/1718, arts 2, 5, Schedule Pt II) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to England.

The provisions of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(b)-(c) (as amended) also impose requirements on teachers at institutions providing further or higher education, but are repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 146, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed. See PARA 778 post.

2 For these purposes, 'education' includes vocational, social, physical and recreational training: Education Act 2002 s 140(3).

3 Ibid s 136(a). See note 1 supra. As to the specification of a qualification see PARA 769 note 3 ante. As to courses which are designed to lead to a specified qualification see the text and notes 7-15 infra.

4 Ibid s 136(b). See note 1 supra.

5 Ibid s 136(c). See note 1 supra.

6 Ibid s 137(1). Regulations under s 137(1) do not prevent a person from serving as the principal of an institution while he is following a course or programme which is of a kind specified in the regulations, and is designed to lead to the award of a qualification specified under s 137(1): s 137(2). Nor do such regulations prevent a person from carrying out the functions of the principal of an institution pending the appointment of a principal, or in the absence of the principal: s 137(4). A provision of regulations under s 137(1) does not apply to a person who has been appointed as the principal of an institution before the commencement of the provision: s 137(3). See note 1 supra. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 137.

7 At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under ibid s 138.

8 For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

9 Education Act 2002 s 138(1), (2)(a). See note 1 supra.

10 Ibid s 138(1), (2)(b). See note 1 supra.

11 Ibid s 138(1), (2)(c). See note 1 supra.

12 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

13 Education Act 2002 s 138(1), (3)(a). See note 1 supra.

772 Requirements to be met by teachers at, and principals of, further education institutions

NOTES 1, 3, 5--See the Further Education (Providers of Education) (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/3199 (amended by SI 2009/1924); the Further Education Teachers' Continuing Professional Development and Registration (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/2116; and the Further Education Teachers' Qualifications (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/2264.

NOTE 1--Education Act 2002 ss 136-138, 140 now in force in relation to England: SI 2006/2895.

NOTE 6--Education Act 2002 s 137(3) amended: Further Education and Training Act 2007 s 23(3). See the Further Education (Principals' Qualifications) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1864 (amended by SI 2009/472, SI 2009/2049).

TEXT AND NOTES 7-11--Regulations under the Education Act 2002 s 137(1) may limit the period of time during which a person may serve as the principal of an institution in reliance on s 137(2): s 137(2A) (added by the Further Education and Training Act 2007 s 23(2)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(1) QUALIFICATION, REGISTRATION AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS/(i) Requirements for Teaching Staff under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 and the Education Act 2002/773. Requirements for teachers as to health and physical capacity.

773. Requirements for teachers as to health and physical capacity.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may provide that certain activities may be carried out only by a person who satisfies specified conditions as to health or physical capacity<sup>2</sup>. The activities to which this requirement relates are:

- 1360 (1) an activity of a prescribed<sup>3</sup> kind performed in the course of the provision of education<sup>4</sup> at a school<sup>5</sup>, or a further education institution<sup>6</sup>;
- 1361 (2) an activity of a prescribed kind performed in the course of the provision of education by a person otherwise than in a school or a further education institution and under a contract of employment<sup>7</sup> or for services where the other party is a local education authority or a person exercising a function relating to the provision of education on behalf of a local education authority<sup>8</sup>;
- 1362 (3) an activity of a prescribed kind, other than the provision of education, where: (a) the activity is carried out by a person under a contract of employment or for services<sup>9</sup>; (b) the other party to the contract is a local education authority or the governing body of a school<sup>10</sup> or a further education institution<sup>11</sup>; and (c) the activity regularly brings the person into contact with children<sup>12</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made under the Education Act 2002 by the Secretary of State (in relation to England) or by the National Assembly for Wales (in relation to Wales): s 212(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 2002 generally see PARA 79 note 2 ante. As to the regulations that have been made under s 141 see the Education (Health Standards) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3139; and the Education (Health Standards) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2733.

2 Education Act 2002 s 141(1). As to the specified health standards see the Education (Health Standards) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3139, reg 6; and the Education (Health Standards) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2733, reg 6. As to whether such regulations can impose a public law duty on the employer to dismiss see the following cases (decided under previous legislation, ie the Education (Teachers' Qualifications and Health Standards) (England) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2166 (revoked)): R (on the application of Verner) v Derby City Council, R (on the application of Sheppard) v Norfolk County Council, R (on the application of Ridley) v St Thomas More Roman Catholic High School [2003] EWHC 2708 (Admin), [2004] ICR 535 (where a teacher successfully applied for ill-health retirement benefit the onus was on him to arrange for termination of the employment); cf R (on the application of Dorling) v Sheffield City Council [2002] EWHC 2505 (Admin), [2003] ICR 424, [2003] ELR 486 (illness resulting in incapacity to fulfil employment obligations does not give rise to an automatic termination of a contract of employment). See also Healey v Bridgend County Borough Council [2002] EWCA Civ 1996, [2004] ICR 561 (employee who applied voluntarily for ill-health retirement benefits and passed paperwork to employer had made a decision to retire).

The provisions of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(5) also impose requirements as to health and physical capacity on teachers and persons employed at schools and at institutions within the further and higher education sectors, but are repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 146, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). That day has been appointed in relation to England but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales: see PARA 781 post.

3 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Education Act 2002 s 212(1). As to the kinds of activity prescribed for the purposes of s 141 see the Education (Health Standards) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3139, reg 5; and the Education (Health Standards) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2733, reg 5.

4 For these purposes, 'education' includes vocational, social, physical and recreational training: Education Act 2002 s 141(5).

5 For these purposes, 'school' means a school maintained by a local education authority or a special school not so maintained: ibid s 141(5). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante; and as to special schools see PARA 1027 post.

6 Ibid s 141(2). For the meaning of 'further education institution' see PARA 772 note 1 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 141(5).

7 For the meaning of 'contract of employment' see PARA 333 note 3 ante.

8 Education Act 2002 s 141(3). See note 3 supra.

9 Ibid s 141(4)(a). See note 3 supra.

10 As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

11 Education Act 2002 s 141(4)(b). For the meaning of 'governing body' under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 in relation to a further education institution see PARA 584 note 5 ante. See note 3 supra.

12 Education Act 2002 s 141(4)(c). For these purposes, 'child' means a person who has not attained the age of 18 years: s 141(5). See note 3 supra.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(1) QUALIFICATION, REGISTRATION AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS/(i) Requirements for Teaching Staff under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 and the Education Act 2002/774. Service of induction period for teachers.

774. Service of induction period for teachers.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision for, and in connection with, requiring persons employed<sup>2</sup> as teachers at relevant schools<sup>3</sup> (subject to such exceptions as may be provided for by or under the regulations) to have satisfactorily completed an 'induction period'<sup>4</sup> of not less than three school terms<sup>5</sup>:

- 1363 (1) in a relevant school<sup>6</sup>;
- 1364 (2) in such circumstances as may be prescribed<sup>7</sup>, in an independent school<sup>8</sup>; or
- 1365 (3) in such circumstances as may be prescribed, in a further education institution<sup>9</sup> (or a further education institution of a prescribed description)<sup>10</sup>.

Such regulations may, in particular, make provision:

- 1366 (a) as to the length of the induction period in any prescribed circumstances<sup>11</sup>;
- 1367 (b) as to periods of employment<sup>12</sup> which are to count towards the induction period<sup>13</sup>;
- 1368 (c) precluding a person from serving more than one induction period except in any prescribed circumstances<sup>14</sup>;
- 1369 (d) precluding a relevant school, in such circumstances as may be prescribed, from being one at which an induction period may be served<sup>15</sup>;
- 1370 (e) as to the supervision and training of a person during his induction period<sup>16</sup>;
- 1371 (f) authorising the Secretary of State to determine the standards against which a person is to be assessed for the purpose of deciding whether he has satisfactorily completed an induction period<sup>17</sup>;
- 1372 (g) requiring the appropriate body to decide whether a person<sup>18</sup>:
  - 85 1. (i) has achieved those standards and has accordingly satisfactorily completed his induction period<sup>19</sup>; or
  - 2. (ii) should have his induction period extended by such period as may be determined by the appropriate body<sup>20</sup>; or
  - 3. (iii) has failed satisfactorily to complete his induction period<sup>21</sup>;
- 86 1373 (h) requiring the head teacher<sup>22</sup> of a school to make a recommendation to the appropriate body as to whether a person has achieved the standards mentioned in head (f) above<sup>23</sup>;
- 1374 (i) requiring the appropriate body to inform the Secretary of State and either the General Teaching Council for England or the General Teaching Council for Wales of any decision under head (g) above<sup>24</sup>;
- 1375 (j) requiring the employer<sup>25</sup> of a person employed as a teacher at a relevant school to secure<sup>26</sup>:
  - 87 4. (i) the termination of that person's employment as a teacher<sup>27</sup>; or
  - 5. (ii) that he only undertakes such teaching duties as may be determined in accordance with the regulations<sup>28</sup>,
  - 88

- 1376 in such circumstances following a decision that he has failed satisfactorily to complete his induction period as may be prescribed<sup>29</sup>;
- 1377 (k) authorising or requiring the appropriate body to exercise such other functions<sup>30</sup> as may be prescribed (which may include functions with respect to the provision of assistance to schools or to further education institutions or of training for teachers)<sup>31</sup>;
- 1378 (l) authorising the appropriate body in such circumstances as may be prescribed to make such reasonable charges in connection with the exercise of its functions under the regulations as it may determine<sup>32</sup>;
- 1379 (m) requiring any person or body exercising any prescribed function under the regulations to have regard to any guidance given from time to time by the Secretary of State as to the exercise of that function<sup>33</sup>.

Such regulations must include provision conferring on a person aggrieved by a decision under head (g) above a right to appeal against the decision to the Secretary of State or the General Teaching Council for England or the General Teaching Council for Wales, and any decision made on such an appeal is final<sup>34</sup>. The regulations may make provision for, or for the determination in accordance with the regulations of, such matters relating to such appeals as the Secretary of State considers necessary or expedient<sup>35</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. As to the regulations made under s 19 (as amended) see the Education (Induction Arrangements for School Teachers) (Consolidation) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2897 (amended by SI 2001/3938; SI 2002/2063; SI 2003/106; SI 2003/2148; SI 2005/1740); and the Education (Induction Arrangements for School Teachers) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1818.

Regulations may provide for references to 'eligible expenditure' in the Education Act 1996 s 484 (as amended) (education standards grants: see PARA 68 ante) to include such expenditure incurred by local education authorities in Wales in consequence of any regulations made by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(1) (as amended) or s 19(2) (as amended) as may be prescribed: s 19(8) (amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 85(b)).

2 As to the meaning of 'employed' see PARA 825 note 7 post.

3 For this purpose, 'relevant school' means a school maintained by a local education authority or a special school not so maintained: Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(10)(b) (substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 85(c)). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante; and as to special schools see PARA 1027 post. The substitution made by the Education Act 2002 Sch 21 para 85(c) is brought into force as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to Wales, the appointed day is 19 December 2002 (see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 1) (Wales) Order 2002, SI 2002/3185, art 4) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to England. Until such a day is appointed in relation to England, 'relevant schools' means such schools as are referred to in the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(12) (as substituted; repealed in relation to England; prospectively repealed in relation to Wales) (see PARA 776 note 4 post): Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(10)(b) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 153, Sch 11; repealed in relation to Wales; prospectively repealed in relation to England).

4 During the induction period which a person is required to serve by virtue of regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19 (as amended), the provisions of the Education Act 2002 s 131 (appraisal of teachers' performance: see PARA 775 post) and regulations made under s 131 do not apply to him: Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(7) (amended by the Education Act 2002 Sch 21 para 85(a)).

5 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(1). In the application of s 19 (as amended) to a further education institution a reference to a school term is to be taken as a reference to a term of the institution: s 19(11)(a) (s 19(11) added by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139(1), (7)).

The Education Act 1996 s 496 (as amended) (power to prevent unreasonable exercise of functions: see PARA 57 ante), and s 497 (as amended) (general default powers: see PARA 58 ante) have effect as if: (1) the duties and powers referred to in ss 496-497 (as amended) included duties imposed and powers conferred by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19 (as amended); and (2) in relation to those duties and powers, the bodies to which the Education Act 1996 ss 496-497 (as amended) apply included the governing body of a relevant school, the governing body, within the meaning given by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 90(1) (see PARA 584 note 5 ante), of a further education institution and an appropriate body for the purposes of s 90(2) (see PARA 584 note 5 ante): Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(12) (added by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139(1), (7)).

6 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(1)(a).

7 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: ibid s 43(1). As to the regulations made under s 19(1)(b) see note 1 supra.

8 Ibid s 19(1)(b). As to independent schools see PARA 465 et seq ante.

9 'Further education institution' means an institution within the further education sector: ibid s 19(10)(d) (added by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139(1), (6)). For the meaning of 'institutions within the further education sector' see PARA 579 ante.

10 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(1)(c) (added by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139(1), (2)). Regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(1)(c) (as added) may, in particular: (1) provide that an induction period may not be begun without approval of the appropriate body for the serving of that induction period; (2) provide for approval to be general or specific; (3) make provision (including transitional provision) about the withdrawal of approval; and (4) impose conditions or limitations on the appropriate body's power to give or withhold approval: s 19(6A) (added by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139(1), (5)). For the purposes of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(2) (as amended) and s 19(6A) (as added), 'the appropriate body' means such person or body (including a local education authority) as may be prescribed by, or determined by the Secretary of State in accordance with, regulations under s 19 (as amended); and such regulations may provide for an appropriate body which is not a local education authority to include a representative of such an authority: s 19(6) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139(1), (4)). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

Where, in accordance with a requirement imposed by virtue of s 19(2)(j)(ii), a teacher employed at a school maintained by a local education authority continues to be employed at the school, but is not undertaking his normal teaching duties there, any costs incurred by the local education authority in respect of the teacher's emoluments must not be met from the school's budget share for any financial year except in so far as the authority has good reason for deducting those costs, or any part of those costs, from that share: s 19(9). This does not apply to a maintained school at any time when the school does not have a delegated budget: s 19(9). For the meaning of 'school maintained by a local education authority' in the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 see PARA 94 ante. For the meaning of 'budget share' see PARA 312 ante; definition applied by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 19(10)(a). As to delegated budgets see PARA 320 ante.

29 Ibid s 19(2)(j)(iii).

30 'Functions' includes powers and duties: ibid s 43(1).

TEACHERS/(1) QUALIFICATION, REGISTRATION AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS/(i) Requirements for Teaching Staff under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 and the Education Act 2002/775. Appraisal of performance of teachers.

775. Appraisal of performance of teachers.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may require the appraisal of the performance of teachers in a manner specified by the regulations<sup>2</sup>, and at times specified by or determined in accordance with the regulations<sup>3</sup>. The regulations may impose a duty on: (1) a local education authority<sup>4</sup>; (2) the governing body of a school<sup>5</sup> or institution<sup>6</sup>; (3) the head teacher<sup>7</sup> of a school or the principal of an institution<sup>8</sup>. The regulations may require or permit an appraisal to be carried out in a manner which confers a discretion on a person specified by or chosen or determined in accordance with the regulations<sup>9</sup>, and permit a person listed in heads (1) to (3) above on whom a duty is imposed to delegate that duty in whole or in part<sup>10</sup>. The regulations may require or permit a person listed in heads (1) to (3) above to have regard to the results of an appraisal in the performance of a function specified by the regulations<sup>11</sup>. The results of an appraisal may be used in determining a teacher's remuneration<sup>12</sup>.

Before making such regulations, the Secretary of State must consult such of the following as appear to him to be appropriate: (a) associations of local education authorities in England<sup>13</sup>; (b) local education authorities in England<sup>14</sup>; (c) bodies representing the interests of governing bodies in England<sup>15</sup>; (d) bodies representing the interests of teachers in England<sup>16</sup>; and (e) the Learning and Skills Council for England<sup>17</sup>. Before making such regulations, the National Assembly for Wales must consult such of the following as appear to it to be appropriate: (i) associations of local education authorities in Wales<sup>18</sup>; (ii) local education authorities in Wales<sup>19</sup>; (iii) bodies representing the interests of governing bodies in Wales<sup>20</sup>; (iv) bodies representing the interests of teachers in Wales<sup>21</sup>; and (v) the National Council for Education and Training for Wales<sup>22</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made under the Education Act 2002 by the Secretary of State (in relation to England) or by the National Assembly for Wales (in relation to Wales): s 212(1). TEXT AND NOTE 22--2002 Act s 131(7)(e) repealed: National Council for Education and Training for Wales (Transfer of Functions to the National Assembly for Wales and Abolition) Order 2005, SI 2005/3238.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(1) QUALIFICATION, REGISTRATION AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS/(ii) Requirements for Teaching Staff under the Education Reform Act 1988/776. Requirement for teachers in Wales to be qualified.

(ii) Requirements for Teaching Staff under the Education Reform Act 1988

776. Requirement for teachers in Wales to be qualified.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect in relation to Wales<sup>1</sup>.

The National Assembly for Wales<sup>2</sup> may by regulations make provision for requiring persons employed as teachers<sup>3</sup> at schools<sup>4</sup> (subject to such exceptions as may be provided for by or under the regulations<sup>5</sup>) to be qualified teachers<sup>6</sup>.

For the purposes of the Education Reform Act 1988, 'qualified teacher' means a person who: (1) is a qualified teacher in accordance with any provision made by or under the regulations<sup>7</sup>; or (2) is determined to be a qualified teacher by the Assembly in accordance with any provision so made<sup>8</sup>. Before making any such regulations<sup>9</sup> or making any provision by virtue of such regulations as to the standards required of a person who wishes to become a qualified teacher, the Assembly must consult the General Teaching Council for Wales, as appropriate<sup>10</sup>.

1 The Education Reform Act 1988 s 218 (as amended) is repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 146, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to England, 1 August 2003 has been appointed in respect of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(a), (2), (2A), (2AA), (3) (s 218(2A), (2AA) as added; s 218(3) as amended) and 1 October 2003 has been appointed in respect of s 218(12) (as substituted); see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 6 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) Order 2003, SI 2003/1667, arts 3, 5. However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

The Education Act 2002 ss 132-133, 135 also impose a requirement for teachers to be qualified: see PARAS 769-770 ante.

2 As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

3 For the purposes of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218 (as amended; prospectively repealed), any reference to persons employed as teachers includes a reference to persons engaged to provide their services as teachers otherwise than under contracts of employment, and any reference to employment (or further employment) is to be construed accordingly: s 218(13)(a) (s 218(13) added by the Education Act 1997 s 49(4)). For the meanings of 'employed' and 'contract of employment' for these purposes see PARA 387 note 4 ante.

4 For the purposes of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218 (as amended; prospectively repealed), 'school' means any school maintained by a local education authority or any special school not so maintained: s 218(12) (substituted by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 para 17). See note 1 supra. As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. For the meaning of 'school maintained by a local education authority' in the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 see PARA 94 ante. As to special schools see PARA 1027 et seq post.

5 The provision authorised by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(a) (prospectively repealed) with respect to exceptions from any requirement imposed by virtue of s 218(1)(a) (prospectively repealed) includes in particular provision permitting the employment as there mentioned, in such cases or circumstances and subject to such conditions as may be specified in or determined under the regulations, of persons licensed or otherwise authorised to teach in accordance with any provision made by or under the regulations: s 218(3) (amended by the Education Act 1994 s 14(3)). See note 1 supra. As to the regulations made in exercise of this power see the Education (Teachers' Qualifications and Health Standards) (Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2817 (amended by SI 2002/1663; SI 2002/2938; SI 2003/140; SI 2003/2458; SI 2004/1744; SI 2004/1729; SI 2004/2733). As to the making of regulations under the Education Reform Act 1988 generally see PARA 19 note 1 ante.

Regulations made under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(2) (prospectively repealed) (see the text to notes 7-8 infra) or s 218(3) (as amended; prospectively repealed) as they apply to teachers at schools may make provision for a determination under those regulations to be made by the General Teaching Council for Wales: Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 10(1), (2). Provision may be made in such regulations: (1) for any determination made under those regulations as they apply in relation to England to be treated, in relation to Wales, as if it were a determination made under those regulations as they apply in relation to Wales; and (2) for any determination made under those regulations as they apply in relation to Wales to be treated, in relation to England, as if it were a determination made under those regulations as they apply in relation to England: s 10(3). As to the General Teaching Council for Wales see PARA 834 et seq post. Section 10 is repealed by the Education Act 2002 s 215, Sch 21 para 79, Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

6 Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(a). See note 1 supra. As to the regulations made in exercise of this power see the Education (Teachers' Qualifications and Health Standards) (Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2817 (amended by SI 2002/1663; SI 2002/2938; SI 2003/140; SI 2003/2458; SI 2004/1744; SI 2004/1729; SI 2004/2733). As to the registration of teachers see PARAS 822, 847 post.

7 Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(2)(a). Regulations under s 218(2)(a) (prospectively repealed) may make provision: (1) by reference to the successful completion of a course of initial training for teachers in schools at an accredited institution; and (2) conferring on the Training and Development Agency for Schools or the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales such functions in relation to accreditation or otherwise as may be prescribed: s 218(2A) (added by the Education Act 1994 s 14(1)). See note 1 supra. 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Education Act 1996 s 579(1); definition applied by virtue of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 235(7) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 81(4)). As to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales see PARA 733 et seq ante. As to the Training and Development Agency for Schools (formerly the Teacher Training Agency): see PARA 784 et seq post.

As to the regulations made under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(2), (2A) (s 218(2A) as added; s 218(2), (2A) prospectively repealed) see the Education (Teachers' Qualifications and Health Standards) (Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2817 (amended by SI 2002/1663; SI 2002/2938; SI 2003/140; SI 2003/2458; SI 2004/1744; SI 2004/1729; SI 2004/2733).

8 Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(2)(b). The regulations may provide for any determination under the regulations with respect to a person's status as a qualified teacher to be made so as to have effect, in such cases or circumstances as may be specified in the regulations, from a date earlier than the determination: s 218(2). See notes 1, 7 supra.

9 Ie under ibid s 218(2) (prospectively repealed) or s 218(2A) (as added; prospectively repealed): see the text and notes 7-8 supra.

777. Requirement for teachers in Wales to be registered.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect in relation to Wales<sup>1</sup>.

The National Assembly for Wales<sup>2</sup> may by regulations make provision for requiring persons employed as teachers<sup>3</sup> at schools<sup>4</sup> (subject to such exceptions as may be provided for by or under the regulations) to be registered<sup>5</sup> by the General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>6</sup>.

1 The Education Reform Act 1988 s 218 (as amended) is repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 146, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to England, the appointed day is 1 August 2003 in respect of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(aa) (as added): see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 6 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) Order 2003, SI 2003/1667, art 3. However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

The Education Act 2002 s 134 (as amended) also imposes a requirement for teachers to be registered: see PARA 771 ante.

2 As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

3 As to the meaning of 'persons employed as teachers' see PARA 776 note 3 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 776 note 4 ante.

5 In accordance with the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 3 (as amended): see PARAS 822, 847 post.

6 Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(aa) (added by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 11). TEACHERS/(1) QUALIFICATION, REGISTRATION AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS/(ii) Requirements for Teaching Staff under the Education Reform Act 1988/778. Requirement for teachers at institutions providing higher education or further education to possess qualifications.

778. Requirement for teachers at institutions providing higher education or further education to possess qualifications.

The Secretary of State may by regulations<sup>16</sup> make provision: (1) for requiring his approval to be obtained for the provision at institutions<sup>17</sup>: (a) providing higher education or further education (or both) and which either<sup>18</sup> are maintained by a local education authority<sup>19</sup> or are within the further education sector<sup>20</sup>; or (b) within the higher education sector in receipt of financial support<sup>21</sup>, of courses designated by or under the regulations as courses of initial teacher training<sup>22</sup>; and (2) for enabling him to give directions for the discontinuance of any such course at such an institution or as to the number and categories of students to be admitted to such courses at such institutions<sup>23</sup>. Similar provision is made in relation to Wales in respect of institutions falling within head (1) above<sup>24</sup>.

1 The Education Reform Act 1988 s 218 (as amended) is repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 146, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(b), (9), (10) (as amended) (see the text and notes 2-11, 16-23 infra).

As from a day to be appointed, the Education Act 2002 ss 136-138, 140 also impose requirements on teachers and courses of teacher training at institutions providing further education. That day has been appointed in relation to Wales but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to England. See PARA 772 ante.

12 The provisions of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(ab), (2C)-(2F), (14) are to be brought into force as from a day to be appointed under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 46(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed. However, the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218 (as amended) is repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 146, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to England, 1 October 2003 has been appointed in respect of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(ab), (2C)-(2F), (14) (prospectively added) (see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 6 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) Order 2003, SI 2003/1667, art 5) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

13 For the purposes of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218 (as amended; prospectively further amended; prospectively repealed), 'head teacher' does not include an acting head teacher: s 218(14) (prospectively added by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 18(5)). See also note 11 supra.

14 For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 776 note 4 ante.

15 Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(ab) (prospectively added by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 18(2)). See note 12 supra. The requirement imposed by virtue of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(1)(ab) (prospectively added; prospectively repealed) (subject to the exceptions mentioned in that provision) applies to every person who is appointed as head teacher of a school on or after the date when that requirement comes into force unless he has held such an appointment before that date: s 218(2D) (prospectively added by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 18(3)).

A 'professional headship qualification' is a qualification which: (1) is a professional headship qualification in accordance with any provision made by or under the regulations; or (2) is determined to be a professional headship qualification by the Secretary of State in accordance with any provision so made: Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(2C) (prospectively added by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 18(3)). The regulations may provide for any determination by the Secretary of State under the regulations with respect to the status of a qualification as a professional headship qualification to be made so as to have effect, in such cases or circumstances as may be specified in the regulations, from a date earlier than the determination: Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(2C) (prospectively added by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 18(3)).

Regulations under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(2C) (prospectively added; prospectively repealed) may: (a) make provision conferring, or enabling the Secretary of State to confer, on bodies or persons determined by or in accordance with the regulations such functions in relation to the accreditation of courses or the awarding of qualifications or otherwise as may be so determined (s 218(2E) (prospectively added by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 18(3))); and (b) require any body or person who awards a professional headship qualification to notify the Secretary of State, or such other body or person as he may determine, of the name of any person awarded that qualification, and such other information relating to that person as may be prescribed (Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(2F) (prospectively added by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 18(3))). See also note 11 supra. 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State: Education Act 1996 s 579(1); definition applied by virtue of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 235(7) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 81(4)).

781. Requirements in Wales as to health and physical capacity.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect in relation to Wales<sup>1</sup>.

The National Assembly for Wales<sup>2</sup> may by regulations make provision for imposing requirements as to the health and physical capacity<sup>3</sup> of:

- 1380 (1) teachers at schools<sup>4</sup> and institutions<sup>5</sup>: (a) providing higher education<sup>6</sup> or further education<sup>7</sup> (or both) and which either<sup>8</sup> are maintained by a local education authority<sup>9</sup> or are within the further education sector<sup>10</sup>; or (b) within the higher education sector in receipt of financial support<sup>11</sup>;
- 1381 (2) teachers employed by local education authorities<sup>12</sup> otherwise than at schools or such institutions<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1382 (3) persons employed by local education authorities<sup>14</sup>, or by the governing bodies of schools<sup>15</sup> or such institutions<sup>16</sup>, in work otherwise than as teachers which brings them regularly into contact with persons who have not attained the age of 19 years<sup>17</sup>.

1 The Education Reform Act 1988 s 218 (as amended) is repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 146, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to England, 1 August 2003 has been appointed in respect of the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(5): see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 6 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) Order 2003, SI 2003/1667, art 3. However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

The Education Act 2002 s 141 also imposes requirements as to health and physical capacity on teachers and persons employed at schools and at institutions within the further education sectors: see PARA 773 ante.

- 1384 or work of a kind which brings a person regularly into contact with children<sup>13</sup> and is carried out at the request of or with the consent of a relevant employer<sup>14</sup> (whether or not under a contract)<sup>15</sup>;
- 1385 (2) may carry out such work only in circumstances specified in the direction<sup>16</sup>;
- 1386 (3) may carry out such work only if conditions specified in the direction are satisfied<sup>17</sup>.

Such a direction may be given in respect of a person only on grounds:

- 1387 (i) that the person is included, otherwise than provisionally, in the list of individuals considered unsuitable to work with children<sup>18</sup>;
- 1388 (ii) that the person is unsuitable to work with children<sup>19</sup>;
- 1389 (iii) relating to the person's misconduct<sup>20</sup>;
- 1390 (iv) relating to the person's health<sup>21</sup>; or
- 1391 (v) relating to the person's professional incompetence (in the case of a direction given by virtue of head (1)(d) above), or on a ground mentioned in any of heads (i) to (iv) above<sup>22</sup>.

The Secretary of State, in relation to England, or the Secretary of State and the National Assembly for Wales concurrently, in relation to Wales, may by regulations<sup>23</sup> prescribe<sup>24</sup> the procedure for giving such a direction<sup>25</sup>. A direction under these provisions may be varied or revoked except in a case where the direction was given on the grounds that a person is unsuitable to work with children, and the person claims that he is no longer unsuitable to work with children<sup>26</sup>.

Where a person is subject to such a direction, a relevant employer must not use the person to carry out work in contravention of the direction<sup>27</sup>; and a person must not arrange for an individual who is subject to such a direction to carry out work in contravention of the direction<sup>28</sup>.

If the Secretary of State thinks that a person is likely to fail to comply with the duty not to arrange for an individual who is subject to such a direction to carry out work in England in contravention of the direction, the Secretary of State may direct the person to take or refrain from taking specified steps with a view to securing compliance with that duty<sup>29</sup>. If the Assembly thinks that such a person is likely to fail to comply with the same duty in relation to work in Wales, the Assembly may direct the person to take or refrain from taking specified steps with a view to securing compliance with that duty<sup>30</sup>.

(2) TEACHER TRAINING

(i) The Training and Development Agency for Schools

A. ESTABLISHMENT AND CONSTITUTION

784. Establishment.

The body corporate<sup>1</sup>, originally established under the Education Act 1994<sup>2</sup> and known as the Teacher Training Agency, continues in existence but is now known as the Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>3</sup>.

The Agency exercises the functions conferred on it by or under any enactment but especially the provisions relating to training the school workforce<sup>4</sup>. The functions of the Agency are exercisable in relation to England and Wales generally<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to bodies corporate see generally COMPANIES; CORPORATIONS.

2 Ie under the Education Act 1994 s 1(1) (repealed).

3 Education Act 2005 s 74. The Agency is not to be regarded as the servant or agent of the Crown or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown; and the property of the Agency is not to be regarded as property of, or property held on behalf of, the Crown: s 77(2), Sch 13 para 19.

4 The provisions referred to in the text are those under ibid Pt 3 (ss 74-100): see PARA 785 et seq post. As to the constitution of the school workforce see PARA 793 note 4 post.

5 See PARA 793 post.

785. Appointment of members, chairman and chief officer.

The Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>1</sup> consists of such number of members appointed by the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> as he may determine, of whom one is appointed as chairman<sup>3</sup>.

One of the members of the Agency is the chief officer<sup>4</sup>. The chief officer is appointed by the Agency with the approval of the Secretary of State on such terms and conditions (including terms with respect to tenure and vacation of office) as the Agency may with the approval of the Secretary of State determine<sup>5</sup>. On approval by the Secretary of State of the person to be appointed on any occasion as chief officer of the Agency and the terms and conditions of his appointment, the Secretary of State must<sup>6</sup>: (1) if that person is not already a member of the Agency, appoint him as a member for the same term as the term of his appointment as chief officer<sup>7</sup>; or (2) if he is already such a member but his term of appointment as such ends before the term of his appointment as chief officer ends, extend his term of appointment as a member so that it ends at the same time as the term of his appointment as chief officer<sup>8</sup>.

The Agency may authorise the chairman, the chief officer or any committee<sup>9</sup> to exercise such of its functions as it may determine<sup>10</sup>.

786. Tenure of office.

A person holds and vacates office as a member or chairman or chief officer<sup>1</sup> of the Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>2</sup> in accordance with the terms of his appointment and, on ceasing to be a member, is eligible for re-appointment<sup>3</sup>. A person may at any time by notice in writing to the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> resign his office as a member or chairman of the Agency<sup>5</sup>.

If the Secretary of State is satisfied that a member of the Agency: (1) has been absent from meetings of the Agency for a period longer than six consecutive months without the permission of the Agency<sup>6</sup>; or (2) is unable or unfit to discharge the functions of a member<sup>7</sup>, the Secretary of State may by notice in writing to that member remove him from office and thereupon the office becomes vacant<sup>8</sup>.

787. Salaries, allowances and pensions.

The Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>1</sup> must: (1) pay to its members<sup>2</sup> such salaries or fees, and such travelling, subsistence or other allowances, as the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> may determine<sup>4</sup>; and (2) as regards any member in whose case the Secretary of State may so determine, pay or make provision for the payment of such sums by way of pension, allowances and gratuities to or in respect of him as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>5</sup>.

If a person ceases to be a member of the Agency and it appears to the Secretary of State that there are special circumstances which make it right that he should receive compensation, the Secretary of State may direct the Agency to make to that person a payment of such amount as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>6</sup>.

The Agency must pay to the members of any of its committees<sup>7</sup> who are not members of the Agency such travelling, subsistence and other allowances as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>8</sup>.

788. Staff.

The Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>1</sup> may appoint such employees as it thinks fit<sup>2</sup>. The Agency must pay to its employees such remuneration and allowances as it may determine<sup>3</sup>, and the employees must be appointed on such other terms and conditions as the Agency may determine<sup>4</sup>. Any such determination requires the approval of the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup>.

Employment with the Agency is included among the kinds of employment to which a superannuation scheme<sup>6</sup> can apply<sup>7</sup>.

790. Proceedings.

A representative of the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> is entitled to attend and take part in any deliberations (but not in decisions) at meetings of the Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>2</sup> or of any committee<sup>3</sup> of the Agency<sup>4</sup>. The Agency must provide the Secretary of State with such copies of any documents distributed to members<sup>5</sup> of the Agency or of any such committee as he may require<sup>6</sup>. A representative of the National Assembly for Wales<sup>7</sup> is entitled to attend and take part in any deliberations (but not in decisions) at meetings of the Agency or of any committee of the Agency<sup>8</sup>. The Agency must provide the Assembly with such copies of any documents distributed to members of the Agency or of any such committee as it may require<sup>9</sup>. Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Schools in England<sup>10</sup>, or a representative of his, is also entitled to attend and take part in any deliberations (but not in decisions) at meetings of the Agency or of any committee of the Agency<sup>11</sup>. The Agency must provide the Chief Inspector with such copies of any documents distributed to members of the Agency or of any such committee as he may require<sup>12</sup>.

The validity of any proceedings of the Agency or of any committee of the Agency is not affected by a vacancy among the members or by any defect in the appointment of a member<sup>13</sup> and the Agency may regulate its own procedure and that of any of its committees<sup>14</sup>.

The application of the seal of the Agency is authenticated by the signature of: (1) the chairman or of some other person authorised either generally or specially by the Agency to act for that purpose<sup>15</sup>; and (2) one other member<sup>16</sup>. Every document purporting to be an instrument made or issued by or on behalf of the Agency and to be duly executed under the seal of the Agency, or to be signed or executed by a person authorised by the Agency to act in that behalf, must be received in evidence and be treated, without further proof, as being so made or issued unless the contrary is shown<sup>17</sup>.

792. Accounts.

It is the duty of the Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>1</sup>:

- 1398 (1) to keep proper accounts and proper records in relation to them<sup>2</sup>;
- 1399 (2) to prepare in respect of each financial year<sup>3</sup> of the Agency a statement of accounts<sup>4</sup>; and
- 1400 (3) to send copies of the statement to the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup> and to the Comptroller and Auditor General<sup>6</sup> by such time as the Secretary of State may direct<sup>7</sup>.

The statement of accounts must comply with any directions given by the Secretary of State as to<sup>8</sup>:

- 1401 (a) the information to be contained in it<sup>9</sup>;
- 1402 (b) the manner in which the information contained in it is to be presented<sup>10</sup>; or
- 1403 (c) the methods and principles according to which the statement is to be prepared<sup>11</sup>, and must contain such additional information as the Secretary of State may require to be provided for the information of Parliament<sup>12</sup>.

The Comptroller and Auditor General must examine, certify and report on each statement received by him and must lay copies of each statement and of his report before each House of Parliament<sup>13</sup>.

B. FUNCTIONS

793. General functions and objectives.

The Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>1</sup> exercises the functions conferred on it by or under Part 3 of the Education Act 2005<sup>2</sup> or any other enactment<sup>3</sup>. The objectives of the Agency in exercising its functions are:

- 1404 (1) to contribute to raising the standards of teaching and of other activities carried out by the school workforce<sup>4</sup>;
- 1405 (2) to promote careers in the school workforce<sup>5</sup>;
- 1406 (3) to improve the quality and efficiency of all routes into the school workforce<sup>6</sup>;
- 1407 (4) to secure the involvement of schools in all courses and programmes for the initial training<sup>7</sup> of school teachers<sup>8</sup>.

The Agency may do anything which it thinks fit in furtherance of any of the objectives set out in heads (1) to (4) above<sup>9</sup>, including power to do anything which appears to it to be incidental to the furtherance of those objectives or to the exercise of any other function conferred on it by any enactment, including, in particular, the power to<sup>10</sup>:

- 1408 (a) acquire and dispose of land and other property<sup>11</sup>;
- 1409 (b) enter into contracts<sup>12</sup>;
- 1410 (c) invest sums not immediately required for the purpose of the discharge of its functions<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1411 (d) accept gifts of money, land or other property<sup>14</sup>.

However, the Agency must not borrow money except with the consent of the Secretary of State<sup>15</sup>.

The functions of the Agency are exercisable in relation to England and Wales generally<sup>16</sup>. However, the Agency must not do anything in relation to Wales unless the Agency has been requested to do so by the National Assembly for Wales, and the Agency has given the Assembly notice that it is willing to do so<sup>17</sup>.

In exercising its functions, the Agency must have regard, in particular, to the desirability of securing that the school workforce is well fitted and trained: (i) to promote the spiritual, moral, behavioural, social, cultural, mental and physical development of children and young people<sup>18</sup>; (ii) to contribute to their well-being<sup>19</sup>; and (iii) to prepare them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life<sup>20</sup>.

In exercising its functions, the Agency must also comply with any general directions<sup>21</sup> given to it about the exercise of its functions: (A) by the Secretary of State, except so far as those functions are exercisable in relation to Wales<sup>22</sup>; and (B) by the National Assembly for Wales, so far as those functions are exercisable in relation to Wales<sup>23</sup>.

4 Ibid s 75(2)(a). For the purposes of Pt 3, the school workforce consists of the following members: (1) persons who work in schools; and (2) persons not falling within head (1) supra who are teachers or carry out work that consists of or includes teaching: s 75(5). For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 100(3).

5 Ibid s 75(2)(b).

6 Ibid s 75(2)(c).

7 References in ibid Pt 3 to training, in relation to teachers or other members of the school workforce (including references to the provision of training 'for' teachers or other members of the school workforce), include: (1) any training or education with the object of fitting persons to be teachers or other members of the school workforce, or to be better teachers or other members of the school workforce; and (2) any assessment related to the award of any qualification or status as a teacher or other member of the school workforce: s 96(1). References elsewhere in the Education Acts to training, in relation to teachers, include any training or education with a view to fitting persons to be teachers, or better teachers: s 96(2). For the meaning of 'the Education Acts' see PARA 1 note 14 ante.

The governing body of a maintained school may: (a) provide courses of initial or further training for school teachers; (b) provide courses of training for other members of the school workforce; or (c) join in partnership with other training providers, or (alone or jointly with other training providers) establish a body, for the purpose of providing training falling within head (a) or head (b) supra: s 95(1). It is immaterial for these purposes whether or not the training constitutes higher education: s 95(2). In relation to an exercise of the powers so conferred, the governing body has all the same supplementary and incidental powers as it has in relation to the conduct of the school (s 95(3)); and any exercise by the governing body of a maintained school of the powers so conferred is not to be treated, for the purposes of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 Pt II Ch IV (ss 45-53A) (as amended) (financing of maintained schools: see PARA 312 et seq ante) as being undertaken for the purposes of the school: Education Act 2005 s 95(4). The School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 80 (exercise of power by a maintained school to provide further education: see PARA 607 ante) does not apply in relation to any course of training that is provided under the Education Act 2005 s 95: s 95(5). Nothing in s 95 is to be read as affecting the power of the governing body of a school, as an ordinary incident of the conduct of the school to provide training for members of the school workforce who work at the school, or to participate in the provision of training for members of the school workforce as part of a course provided by another training provider: s 95(6). As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

9 Ibid s 83(1). The power conferred by s 83 includes power to provide information, advice or other services to persons outside England and Wales, for the provision of which the Agency may make such charges as it thinks fit: s 83(2), (3). However, s 83 does not authorise the provision of financial support, and is subject to s 77(2), Sch 13 para 1(2) (see the text and note 15 infra): s 83(4). #### 794. Duty to provide information.

The Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>1</sup>: (1) must provide the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> (in such manner as he may from time to time determine) with such information or advice relating to matters for which it is responsible as he may from time to time require<sup>3</sup>; and (2) may provide the Secretary of State with such information or advice relating to such matters as it thinks fit<sup>4</sup>.

The Agency must also provide the National Assembly for Wales (in such manner as the Assembly may from time to time determine) with such information or advice relating to matters for which the Agency is responsible<sup>5</sup> as the Assembly may from time to time require<sup>6</sup>. The Agency may provide the Assembly with such information or advice relating to other matters as the Agency thinks fit<sup>7</sup>.

The funding functions of the Agency<sup>8</sup> are carried out in relation to Wales by the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales<sup>9</sup>. The Agency and the Council must give each other such information as each may require for the purposes of the exercise of its functions under any enactment<sup>10</sup>.

Any person receiving, or who has received or applied for, any grant, loan or other payment under Part 3<sup>11</sup> of the Education Act 2005<sup>12</sup>, and any local education authority<sup>13</sup>, must give the Agency or the Council such information as it may require for the purpose of the exercise of its functions under any enactment<sup>14</sup>.

(ii) Funding of Training and Development

A. FUNDING OF SCHOOL WORKFORCE TRAINING BY THE TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT AGENCY FOR SCHOOLS

795. Powers of the Training and Development Agency for Schools to provide financial support.

The Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>1</sup> may provide to any person such financial support as the Agency thinks fit in furtherance of any of its objectives in exercising its functions<sup>2</sup>. The persons to whom financial support may be provided include, in particular: (1) members of the school workforce<sup>3</sup>; (2) persons training to be members of the school workforce<sup>4</sup>; (3) training providers<sup>5</sup>; and (4) employers or prospective employers of members of the school workforce<sup>6</sup>.

Financial support so provided may be given by way of grants, loans or other payments<sup>7</sup>, and may be given subject to such terms and conditions<sup>8</sup> as the Agency thinks fit<sup>9</sup>. In exercising its functions in relation to the provision of financial support, the Agency must have regard: (a) to any forecast of demand for members of the school workforce of a particular category that is notified to it by the Secretary of State<sup>10</sup>; and (b) in relation to financial support for any training provider, to any assessment of the quality of the relevant training provided by that person made by the Chief Inspector for England<sup>11</sup> or to which the Agency thinks it is appropriate to have regard or to which the Secretary of State directs it to have regard<sup>12</sup>.

In exercising its functions in relation to the provision of financial support, the Agency must also have regard to the desirability of not discouraging any training provider for whose activities financial support is provided under Part 3 of the Education Act 2005 from maintaining or developing its funding from other sources<sup>13</sup>. In exercising its functions in relation to the provision of financial support for training providers, the Agency must have regard (so far as it thinks it appropriate to do so in the light of any other relevant considerations) to the desirability of maintaining what appears to it to be an appropriate balance in the support given by it as between institutions which are of a denominational character<sup>14</sup> and other training providers<sup>15</sup>.

In exercising its functions, the Agency must also take such steps as appear to it appropriate to secure that any person who provides any training funded by the Agency makes available such information relating to the training, in such manner and to such persons, as the Agency may require<sup>16</sup>.

1 As to the establishment of the Training and Development Agency for Schools see PARA 784 ante.

2 Education Act 2005 ss 78(1), 100(1). As to the Agency's objectives see PARA 793 ante.

4 Ibid s 78(2)(b). As to references to training see PARA 793 note 7 ante.

5 Ibid s 78(2)(c). In Pt 3 (ss 74-100), 'training provider' means a person who provides training for members of the school workforce: s 78(3).

7 Ibid s 79(1).

8 The terms and conditions on which the Agency may make any such grants, loans or other payments may in particular: (1) enable the Agency to require the repayment, in whole or in part, of sums paid by the Agency if any of the terms and conditions subject to which the sums were paid is not complied with; and (2) require the payment of interest in respect of any period during which a sum due to the Agency in accordance with any of the terms and conditions remains unpaid: ibid s 79(3). The power of the Agency to impose conditions on the making of any such grants, loans or other payments to a training provider includes, in particular, power to impose conditions prohibiting, restricting or requiring the charging of fees in connection with the provision by that training provider of relevant training of any description specified in the condition: s 79(4). In s 79, 'relevant training', in relation to a training provider, means any training provided by the training provider for members of the school workforce: s 79(8). Where a condition is imposed under s 79(4) in connection with any grant, loan or other payment made to a training provider ('T1'), and the grant, loan or other payment is to any extent made in respect of persons undertaking relevant training which is provided in whole or part by another training provider ('T2'), then, for the purposes of the condition, fees payable by such persons to T2 are to be regarded as fees charged by T1: s 79(5). The terms and conditions on which the Agency makes any such grants, loans or other payments to a training provider must not relate to the application by the training provider of any sums derived otherwise than from the Agency: s 79(6). However, this provision does not affect the power to impose conditions by virtue of s 79(4): s 79(6).

9 Ibid s 79(2). A funding agency and any other relevant funding body may exercise any of their functions jointly (s 92(1)); and the Training and Development Agency for Schools and any body specified in an order made by the Secretary of State for these purposes may exercise their functions jointly (ss 92(3), 100(1)). For these purposes, 'a funding agency' means the Training and Development Agency for Schools or the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales: s 100(1). 'Other relevant funding body' means the other funding agency, the Higher Education Funding Council for England, the Learning and Skills Council for England or the National Council for Education and Training for Wales: ss 92(2), 100(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the making of orders under the Education Act 2005 see PARA 62 note 1 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such order had been made under s 92. 13 Ibid s 80(1). Section 80(1) does not affect the power by virtue of s 79(4) (see note 8 supra) to impose conditions prohibiting or restricting the charging of fees: s 80(4).

14 For the purposes of ibid Pt 3, an institution is 'of a denominational character' if: (1) at least one-quarter of the members of the governing body of the institution, or in the case of a school at least one-fifth, are persons appointed to represent the interests of a religion or religious denomination; or (2) any of the property held for the purposes of the institution is held upon trusts which provide that, in the event of the discontinuance of the institution, the property concerned is to be held for, or sold and the proceeds of sale applied for, the benefit of a religion or religious denomination; or (3) any of the property held for the purposes of the institution is held on trust for or in connection with the provision of education, or the conduct of an educational institution, in accordance with the tenets of a religion or religious denomination: s 97.

796. Grants to the Training and Development Agency for Schools made by the Secretary of State; terms and conditions.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make grants to the Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>2</sup> of such amounts and subject to such terms and conditions as he may determine<sup>3</sup>. The terms and conditions subject to which grants are made by the Secretary of State to the Agency, so far as they relate to the provision of financial support by the Agency to training providers<sup>4</sup>:

- 1412 (1) may in particular impose requirements to be complied with in respect of every training provider, or every training provider falling within a class or description specified in the terms and conditions, being requirements to be complied with in the case of any training provider to which the requirements apply before financial support of any amount or description so specified is provided by the Agency in respect of activities carried on by the training provider<sup>5</sup>; but
- 1413 (2) must not otherwise relate to the provision of financial support by the Agency in respect of activities carried on by any particular training provider or training providers<sup>6</sup>.

The terms and conditions may not be framed by reference to particular criteria for the selection and appointment of academic staff and for the admission of students<sup>7</sup>. The terms and conditions subject to which grants are made by the Secretary of State to the Agency may in particular enable the Secretary of State to require the repayment, in whole or in part, of sums paid by him if any of the terms and conditions subject to which the sums were paid is not complied with<sup>8</sup>, and require the payment of interest in respect of any period during which a sum due to the Secretary of State in accordance with any of the terms and conditions remains unpaid<sup>9</sup>.

Further conditions imposed in relation to grants paid to the Training and Development Agency for Schools by the Secretary of State.

797. Further conditions imposed in relation to grants paid to the Training and Development Agency for Schools by the Secretary of State.

In relation to England<sup>1</sup>, the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> must, when making any grant to a funding body<sup>3</sup>, impose a condition requiring that body to impose a condition regarding student fees and fair access to higher education in relation to any grants, loans or other payments made by that body to the governing body<sup>4</sup> of a relevant institution<sup>5</sup>. If a governing body in England fails to comply with that requirement<sup>6</sup>, the Director of Fair Access to Higher Education<sup>7</sup> may direct the Higher Education Funding Council for England<sup>8</sup> or the Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>9</sup> (or both) to impose specified financial requirements<sup>10</sup> on the governing body<sup>11</sup>.

798. Grants to the Training and Development Agency for Schools made by the National Assembly for Wales; terms and conditions.

The National Assembly for Wales<sup>1</sup> may make grants to the Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>2</sup> of such amounts and subject to such terms and conditions as the Assembly may determine<sup>3</sup>. The terms and conditions subject to which grants are made by the Assembly to the Agency, so far as they relate to the provision of financial support by the Agency to training providers<sup>4</sup>:

- 1414 (1) may in particular impose requirements to be complied with in respect of every training provider, or every training provider falling within a class or description specified in the terms and conditions, being requirements to be complied with in the case of any training provider to which the requirements apply before financial support of any amount or description so specified is provided by the Agency in respect of activities carried on by the training provider<sup>5</sup>;
- 1415 (2) may include a condition requiring the Agency to impose a specified condition<sup>6</sup> in relation to any grants, loans or other payments made by the Agency under its powers to provide financial support<sup>7</sup> to a training provider specified by the Assembly<sup>8</sup>, or a training provider of a class so specified<sup>9</sup>; but
- 1416 (3) may not otherwise relate to the provision of financial support by the Agency in respect of activities carried on by any particular training provider or training providers<sup>10</sup>.

The terms and conditions may not be framed by reference to particular criteria for the selection and appointment of academic staff and for the admission of students<sup>11</sup>. The terms and conditions subject to which grants are made by the Assembly to the Agency may in particular enable the Assembly to require the repayment, in whole or in part, of sums paid by it if any of the terms and conditions subject to which the sums were paid is not complied with<sup>12</sup>, and require the payment of interest in respect of any period during which a sum due to the Assembly in accordance with any of the terms and conditions remains unpaid<sup>13</sup>.

Further conditions imposed in relation to grants paid to the Training and Development Agency for Schools by the National Assembly for Wales.

799. Further conditions imposed in relation to grants paid to the Training and Development Agency for Schools by the National Assembly for Wales.

In relation to Wales, the following provisions have effect until a day to be appointed<sup>1</sup>. The power of the National Assembly for Wales<sup>2</sup> to impose conditions<sup>3</sup> in relation to grants paid to the Training and Development Agency for Schools<sup>4</sup> includes power to impose a condition requiring the Agency to impose a further condition<sup>5</sup> in relation to any grants, loans or other payments made<sup>6</sup> by it to the governing body of a relevant institution<sup>7</sup>. That further condition must:

- 1417 (1) require the governing body of any such institution to secure that, in respect of the relevant academic year<sup>8</sup>, the fees<sup>9</sup> payable to the institution by any prescribed<sup>10</sup> class of persons in connection with their undertaking courses<sup>11</sup> of any prescribed description<sup>12</sup> are equal to the prescribed amount<sup>13</sup>;
- 1418 (2) impose, in the event of a failure by the governing body to comply with the requirement specified in head (1) above, such further financial requirements on that body as may be specified, which may include requirements relating to the repayment, with or without interest, of the whole or part of any sums received by it in respect of the grant, loan or other payment in question<sup>14</sup>.

Where a further condition is imposed under head (1) above in connection with any grants, loans or other payments made to the governing body of a relevant institution<sup>15</sup>, and those payments are to any extent so made in respect of persons undertaking a course which is provided in whole or part by any other institution<sup>16</sup>, then, for these purposes, fees payable by such persons to the other institution must be regarded as fees payable by them to the relevant institution<sup>17</sup>.

As from a day to be appointed<sup>18</sup>, the Assembly must, when making any grant to a funding body<sup>19</sup>, impose a condition requiring that body to impose a condition regarding student fees and fair access to higher education in relation to any grants, loans or other payments made by that body to the governing body<sup>20</sup> of a relevant institution<sup>21</sup>. If a governing body in Wales fails to comply with such a requirement<sup>22</sup>, the Training and Development Agency for Schools may enforce the relevant condition<sup>23</sup> by imposing financial requirements on the governing body in pursuance of any condition<sup>24</sup>.

1 The Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26 (as amended) is repealed by the Higher Education Act 2004 ss 49-50, Sch 6 para 7, Sch 7 as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). In relation to Wales, the appointed day is 7 July 2005 but only in relation to the repeal of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(5) (as amended): see the Higher Education Act 2004 (Commencement No 2 and Transitional Provision) (Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/1833, art 4(e), (f). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day has been appointed for any other purpose in relation to Wales. As to prospective provision made in relation to grants paid by the National Assembly for Wales to the Training and Development Agency for Schools under the Higher Education Act 2004 Pt 3 (ss 22-41) see further the text and notes 18-24 infra.

4 As to the establishment of the Training and Development Agency for Schools see PARA 784 ante.

5 le under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(4) (as amended; prospectively repealed) (see the text and notes 8-13 infra).

6 le under the Education Act 2005 s 78 (see PARA 795 ante).

7 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(3) (amended by the Education Act 2005 s 98, Sch 14 para 19(1), (2)). 'Governing body', in relation to a training provider within the meaning of the Education Act 2005 Pt 3 (ss 74-100) (see PARA 795 note 5 post) who would not, apart from the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(9) (as amended; repealed in relation to England; prospectively repealed in relation to Wales), be regarded as an institution, means the training provider; and 'institution' includes any training provider within the meaning of the Education Act 2005 Pt 3 whether or not the training provider would apart from the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(9) (as amended; repealed in relation to England; prospectively repealed in relation to Wales) be regarded as an institution: s 26(9) (definitions added by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 19(1), (3)(b)). See note 1 supra. For the meaning of 'relevant institution' see PARA 758 note 8 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'the relevant academic year' see PARA 758 note 9 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'fees' see PARA 1046 note 18 post.

10 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. Classes of persons are prescribed for the purposes of s 26(4) (as amended; prospectively repealed) by the Fees in Higher Education Institutions (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1860, reg 3.

11 'Course', where it appears in the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(4) (as amended; prospectively repealed), does not include any part-time or postgraduate course other than a course of initial teacher training: s 26(9). See note 1 supra. See also note 12 infra.

12 The National Assembly for Wales must not exercise the power to prescribe descriptions of courses under ibid s 26(4) (as amended; prospectively repealed) in such a way as to discriminate: (1) in relation to courses of initial teacher training, between different courses on the basis of the subjects in which such training is given; or (2) in relation to other courses, between different courses at the same or a comparable level on the basis of the areas of study or research to which they relate: s 26(8). See note 1 supra. Descriptions of courses are prescribed for the purposes of s 26(4) (as amended; prospectively repealed) by the Fees in Higher Education Institutions (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1860, reg 4.

13 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(4) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 146(1), (4)). As to the amount prescribed in relation to an academic year that begins on or after 1 September 2006 see, in relation to Wales, the Fees in Higher Education Institutions (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1860, reg 5.

No further condition under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(4) (as amended; prospectively repealed) may apply in relation to any fees which are payable, in accordance with regulations under the Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1 (as amended) (fees at universities and further education establishments: see PARA 1056 post), by students other than those falling within any class of persons prescribed by such regulations for the purposes of s 1(1) or s 1(2): Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(7) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 Sch 9 paras 1, 74(1), (3)).

Nothing in the Education Act 2005, so far as it imposes any prohibition or other requirement in relation to the imposition of conditions by the Assembly or by the Training and Development Agency for Schools, applies to any condition under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(3) (as amended; prospectively repealed) (see the text and notes 1-7 supra) imposed by the Assembly or any condition under s 26(4) (as amended; prospectively repealed) imposed by the Agency: s 26(11) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 Sch 9 paras 1, 74(1), (3), (5); and the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 19(1), (4)). See note 1 supra.

17 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(10). See note 1 supra.

18 As from a day to be appointed, provision is made in relation to grants paid by the National Assembly for Wales to the Training and Development Agency for Schools under the Higher Education Act 2004 Pt 3 (ss 22-41) (see PARA 760 et seq ante). However, at the date at which this volume states the law, the relevant substantive provisions, namely ss 27-29 (as amended) (conditions to be imposed by funding agency: see PARA 765 ante), ss 33-36, 38 (as amended) (plans: see PARAS 766-768 ante) and ss 30, 32, 39 (relevant authority: see PARAS 760, 763, 767 ante), had not been brought into force in relation to Wales.

19 Ie under the Education Act 2005 s 82 (see PARA 798 ante). For these purposes, 'funding body' means the Training and Development Agency for Schools: see the Higher Education Act 2004 s 27(2) (substituted by the Education Act 2005 s 98, Sch 14 para 27). See note 18 supra.

20 As to the meaning of 'governing body' see PARA 764 note 6 ante.

21 See the Higher Education Act 2004 s 27 (as substituted); and PARA 765 ante. For the meaning of 'relevant institution' see PARA 764 note 7 ante. See note 18 supra.

800. Efficiency studies and research.

A funding agency<sup>1</sup> may arrange for the promotion or carrying out by any person of studies designed to improve economy, efficiency and effectiveness in the management or operations of a qualifying person<sup>2</sup>. A person promoting or carrying out such studies at the request of a funding agency may require the qualifying person concerned to provide him, or a person authorised by him, with such information, and to make its accounts and such other documents available to him, or a person authorised by him, for inspection, as he may reasonably require for that purpose<sup>3</sup>.

FUNDING OF SCHOOL WORKFORCE TRAINING BY THE TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT AGENCY FOR SCHOOLS/801. Financial assistance for the training of teachers.

801. Financial assistance for the training of teachers.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> (in relation to England<sup>2</sup>) or the National Assembly for Wales<sup>3</sup> (in relation to Wales<sup>4</sup>) may give, or make arrangements<sup>5</sup> for the giving of, financial assistance<sup>6</sup> to any person for or in connection with the provision of any form of training for teachers or for non-teaching staff<sup>7</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

802. Loans for capital expenditure for purposes of colleges for the training of teachers in Wales.

The National Assembly for Wales<sup>1</sup> may by regulations<sup>2</sup> make provision for the making by it, out of moneys provided by Parliament, of loans to persons other than local education authorities<sup>3</sup> for the purpose of helping them to meet capital expenditure incurred or to be incurred by them or on their behalf in connection with the provision, replacement, extension, improvement, furnishing or equipment of colleges for the training of teachers<sup>4</sup>. Any loan made to any persons in pursuance of regulations must be made on such terms and conditions as may be specified in an agreement made between the Assembly and those persons<sup>5</sup>. Regulations may make the making of loans dependent on the fulfilment of such conditions as may be determined by or in accordance with the regulations, and may also make provision for requiring persons to whom loans have been made in pursuance of the regulations to comply with such requirements as may be so determined<sup>6</sup>.

1 The Education Act 1967 ss 4, 5 (as amended) are repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 18(1)(a), 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to England, the appointed day is 1 April 2003 (see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 4 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) Order 2003, SI 2003/124, art 4) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales. The power provided by the Education Act 1967 ss 4, 5 (as amended) has been superseded in relation to England by the general grant-making powers contained in the Education Act 2002 Pt 2 (ss 14-18); see PARA 65 et seq ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 Regulations may make, in relation to Wales, provision different from that made in relation to England: Education Act 1967 s 4(3A) (added by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 229(2)). See note 1 supra. Regulations must be made by statutory instrument: see the Education Act 1967 s 4(4). As to the regulations that have been made see note 4 infra.

FUNDING OF TEACHER TRAINING BY THE HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDING COUNCIL FOR WALES/803. The Higher Education Funding Council for Wales as a funding agency for teacher training.

B. FUNDING OF TEACHER TRAINING BY THE HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDING COUNCIL FOR WALES

803. The Higher Education Funding Council for Wales as a funding agency for teacher training.

The Higher Education Funding Council for Wales<sup>1</sup> is responsible for administering funds made available to it by the National Assembly for Wales and others for the purpose of providing financial support for the carrying on by eligible institutions<sup>2</sup> of: (1) the provision of teacher training<sup>3</sup>; (2) the provision of facilities, and the carrying on of other activities, by eligible institutions which the governing bodies of those institutions<sup>4</sup> consider it necessary or desirable to provide or carry on for the purpose of or in connection with activities within head (1) above<sup>5</sup>; (3) the provision by any person of services for the purposes of, or in connection with, such activities<sup>6</sup>. These are known as 'qualifying activities'<sup>7</sup>.

The institutions eligible for funding under Part 3 of the Education Act 2005 ('eligible institutions') are<sup>8</sup>: (a) any institution in Wales<sup>9</sup> within the higher or further education sector<sup>10</sup>; (b) the Open University<sup>11</sup>; (c) any school in Wales<sup>12</sup>; (d) any other institution or body in Wales designated by order of the Assembly<sup>13</sup>; and (e) any partnership or association of eligible institutions, or body established by one or more such institutions, for the purpose of carrying on qualifying activities<sup>14</sup>.

The Higher Education Funding Council for Wales may: (i) make grants, loans or other payments in respect of expenditure incurred or to be incurred by the governing body of an eligible institution for the purposes of activities qualifying for funding by the Council under Part 3 of the Education Act 2005 by virtue of head (1) or head (2) above<sup>15</sup> subject to such terms and conditions<sup>16</sup> as the Council thinks fit<sup>17</sup>; and (ii) make grants, loans or other payments in respect of expenditure incurred or to be incurred for the purposes of the provision of services as mentioned in head (3) above<sup>18</sup>, subject to such terms and conditions as the Council thinks fit<sup>19</sup>. Before exercising its discretion under head (i) or head (ii) above with respect to the terms and conditions to be imposed in relation to any grants, loans or other payments, the Council must consult certain bodies<sup>20</sup>.

In exercising its functions in relation to grants, loans and other payments, the Council must have regard to any forecast of demand for newly-qualified teachers notified to it by the Assembly and, in relation to any particular institution, to any assessment of the quality of the teacher training provided by that institution made by the Chief Inspector for Wales<sup>21</sup> or to which the Council thinks it is appropriate to have regard or to which the Assembly directs it to have regard<sup>22</sup>.

In exercising its functions in relation to the provision of financial support for qualifying activities, the Council must have regard to the desirability of not discouraging any institution for whose activities financial support is provided under Part 3 of the Education Act 2005 from maintaining or developing its funding from other sources<sup>23</sup>. The Council also must have regard (so far as it thinks it appropriate to do so in the light of any other relevant considerations) to the desirability of maintaining: (A) what appears to it to be an appropriate balance in the support given by it as between institutions which are of a denominational character<sup>24</sup> and other institutions<sup>25</sup>; and (b) any distinctive characteristics of any eligible institution for whose activities financial support is provided under Part 3 of the Education Act 2005<sup>26</sup>.

The Council must also take such steps as appear to it appropriate to secure that the governing body of any institution which provides a course of initial teacher training funded by the Council makes available such information relating to the course, in such manner and to such persons, as the Council may require<sup>27</sup>.

In exercising its functions under Part 3 of the Education Act 2005, the Council must also comply with any directions given to it<sup>28</sup> and the Assembly may give general directions to the Council about the exercise of those functions<sup>29</sup>.

1 As to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales see PARA 733 et seq ante. The National Assembly for Wales may by order confer or impose on the Council such functions supplementary to its functions under the Education Act 2005 Pt 3 (ss 74-100) as the Assembly thinks fit: ss 90(1), 122(1). As to the making of orders under the Education Act 2005 see PARA 62 note 1 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such orders had been made under s 90(1). For these purposes, a function is a supplementary function in relation to the Council if: (1) it is exercisable for the purposes of the exercise by the Assembly of its functions under any enactment; and (2) it relates to, or to the activities of, an eligible institution: s 90(2). Before making such an order, the Assembly must carry out such consultation as appears to it to be appropriate: s 90(3). The Council may carry out such activities ancillary to its functions under Pt 3 as the Assembly may direct: s 90(4). In ss 86-91, 'eligible institution' is to be read in accordance with s 85(3) (see heads (a)-(e) in the text): s 85(5). As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the giving of directions under the Education Act 2005 generally see PARA 175 note 9 ante. As to the giving of directions by the Assembly under Pt 3 see also the text and notes 28-29 infra.

3 Ibid s 85(2)(a). As to references to training see PARA 793 note 7 ante.

4 The National Assembly for Wales may by order provide for references in ibid ss 85-91 to the governing body of an institution, in relation to an institution which is conducted by a company, to be read as references to the governing body provided for in the instrument of government, or to the company, or to both: ss 100(2), 122(1).

5 Ibid s 85(2)(b).

6 Ibid s 85(2)(c).

7 Ibid s 85(2). In ss 86-91, 'qualifying activities' is to be read in accordance with s 85(2) (see heads (1)-(3) in the text): s 85(5).

8 Ibid s 85(3).

9 For the purposes of ibid s 85(3), an institution or body is in Wales if its activities are carried on, or principally carried on, in Wales: s 85(4). For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

10 Ibid s 85(3)(a). For the meaning of 'higher education' see PARA 19 ante; definition applied by s 100(3). For the meaning of 'institutions within the higher education sector' see PARA 646 ante. For the meaning of 'further education' see PARA 18 ante; definition applied by s 100(3). For the meaning of 'institutions within the further education sector' see PARA 579 ante.

11 Ibid s 85(3)(b).

12 Ibid s 85(3)(c). For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by s 100(3).

13 Ibid s 85(3)(d). Orders under s 85 are local in nature, and are not recorded in this work.

14 Ibid s 85(3).

15 Ibid s 86(1)(a).

16 The terms and conditions on which the Council may make any such grants, loans or other payments may in particular: (1) enable the Council to require the repayment, in whole or in part, of sums paid by the Council if any of the terms and conditions subject to which the sums were paid is not complied with; and (2) require the payment of interest in respect of any period during which a sum due to the Council in accordance with any of the terms and conditions remains unpaid: ibid s 86(2). The power of the Council to impose conditions on the making of any such grants, loans or other payments to an eligible institution includes in particular power to impose conditions prohibiting, restricting or requiring the charging of fees in connection with the carrying out by that institution of qualifying activities: s 86(3). Where a condition is imposed under s 86(3) in connection with any grant, loan or other payment made to an eligible institution, and the grant, loan or other payment is to any extent made in respect of persons undertaking training which is provided in whole or in part by another training provider, then, for the purposes of the condition, fees payable by such persons to the other training provider are to be regarded as fees charged by the eligible institution: s 86(4). The terms and conditions must not relate to the application of any sums derived otherwise than from the Council: s 86(5). However, this provision does not affect the power to impose conditions by virtue of s 86(3): s 86(5).

17 Ibid s 86(1). A funding agency and any other relevant funding body may exercise any of their functions jointly: s 92(1). For these purposes, 'a funding agency' means the Training and Development Agency for Schools or the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales: s 100(1). 'Other relevant funding body' means the other funding agency, the Higher Education Funding Council for England, the Learning and Skills Council for England or the National Council for Education and Training for Wales: ss 92(2), 100(1). The National Assembly for Wales may by order authorise the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales to exercise its functions under Pt 3 jointly with a body specified in the order, and the specified body to exercise its functions jointly with the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales: ss 92(4), 100(1), 122(1). As to the Higher Education Funding Council for England see PARA 733 et seq ante; as to the Learning and Skills Council for England see PARA 1072 post; and as to the National Council for Education and Training for Wales see PARA 1113 post.

19 Ibid s 86(1). See note 17 supra.

20 Ibid s 87(2). The Council must consult such of the following bodies as appear to it to be appropriate to consult in the circumstances: (1) such bodies representing the interests of eligible institutions as appear to the Council to be concerned (s 87(2)(a)); and (2) the governing body of any particular eligible institution which appears to the Council to be concerned (s 87(2)(b)).

21 le Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education and Training in Wales (see PARA 1188 post): ibid s 100(1).

22 Ibid ss 86(6), 100(1). As to the giving of directions see also the text and notes 28-29 infra.

23 Ibid s 87(1). This provision does not affect the power by virtue of s 86(3) (see note 16 supra) to impose conditions prohibiting or restricting the charging of fees: s 87(5).

804. Grants to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales made by the National Assembly for Wales; terms and conditions.

The National Assembly for Wales<sup>1</sup> may make grants to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales<sup>2</sup> of such amounts and subject to such terms and conditions as the Assembly may determine<sup>3</sup>. The terms and conditions subject to which such grants are made by the Assembly to the Council:

- 1419 (1) may in particular impose requirements to be complied with in respect of every institution, or every institution falling within a class or description specified in the terms and conditions, being requirements to be complied with in the case of any institution to which the requirements apply before financial support of any amount or description so specified is provided by the Council in respect of activities carried on by the institution<sup>4</sup>; but
- 1420 (2) may not otherwise relate to the provision of financial support by the Council in respect of activities carried on by any particular institution or institutions<sup>5</sup>.

The terms and conditions may not be framed by reference to criteria for the selection and appointment of academic staff and for the admission of students<sup>6</sup>. The terms and conditions may in particular enable the Assembly to require the repayment, in whole or in part, of sums paid by it if any of the terms and conditions subject to which the sums were paid is not complied with, and require the payment of interest in respect of any period during which a sum due to the Assembly in accordance with any of the terms and conditions remains unpaid<sup>7</sup>.

FUNDING OF TEACHER TRAINING BY THE HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDING COUNCIL FOR WALES/805. Further conditions imposed in relation to grants paid to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales.

805. Further conditions imposed in relation to grants paid to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales.

The following provisions have effect in relation to Wales until a day to be appointed<sup>1</sup>. The power of the National Assembly for Wales<sup>2</sup> to impose conditions<sup>3</sup> in relation to grants paid to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales<sup>4</sup> includes power to impose a condition requiring the Council to impose a further condition<sup>5</sup> in relation to any grants, loans or other payments made<sup>6</sup> by it to the governing body of a relevant institution<sup>7</sup>. That further condition must:

- 1421 (1) require the governing body of any such institution to secure that, in respect of the relevant academic year<sup>8</sup>, the fees<sup>9</sup> payable to the institution by any prescribed<sup>10</sup> class of persons in connection with their undertaking courses<sup>11</sup> of any prescribed description<sup>12</sup> are equal to the prescribed amount<sup>13</sup>;
- 1422 (2) impose, in the event of a failure by the governing body to comply with the requirement specified in head (1) above, such further financial requirements on that body as may be specified, which may include requirements relating to the repayment, with or without interest, of the whole or part of any sums received by it in respect of the grant, loan or other payment in question<sup>14</sup>.

Where a further condition is imposed under head (1) above in connection with any grants, loans or other payments made to the governing body of a relevant institution<sup>15</sup>, and those payments are to any extent so made in respect of persons undertaking a course which is provided in whole or part by any other institution<sup>16</sup>, then, for these purposes, fees payable by such persons to the other institution must be regarded as fees payable by them to the relevant institution<sup>17</sup>.

As from a day to be appointed<sup>18</sup>, the Assembly must, when making any grant to a funding body<sup>19</sup>, impose a condition requiring that body to impose a condition regarding student fees and fair access to higher education in relation to any grants, loans or other payments made by that body, to the governing body<sup>20</sup> of a relevant institution<sup>21</sup>. If a governing body in Wales fails to comply with such a requirement<sup>22</sup>, the Council may enforce the relevant condition<sup>23</sup> by imposing financial requirements on the governing body in pursuance of any condition<sup>24</sup>.

1 The Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26 (as amended) is repealed by the Higher Education Act 2004 ss 49-50, Sch 6 para 7, Sch 7 as from a day to be appointed under s 52(6). In relation to Wales, the appointed day is 7 July 2005 but only in relation to the repeal of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(5) (as amended): see the Higher Education Act 2004 (Commencement No 2 and Transitional Provision) (Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/1833, art 4(e), (f). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day has been appointed for any other purpose in relation to Wales. As to prospective provision made in relation to grants paid by the National Assembly for Wales to the Training and Development Agency for Schools under the Higher Education Act 2004 Pt 3 (ss 22-41) see further the text and notes 18-24 infra.

As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. Classes of persons are prescribed for the purposes of s 26(4) (as amended; prospectively repealed) by the Fees in Higher Education Institutions (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1860, reg 3.

11 'Course', where it appears in the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 26(4) (as amended; prospectively repealed), does not include any part-time or postgraduate course other than a course of initial teacher training: s 26(9). See note 1 supra. See also note 12 infra.

12 The National Assembly for Wales must not exercise the power to prescribe descriptions of courses under ibid s 26(4) (as amended; prospectively repealed) in such a way as to discriminate: (1) in relation to courses of initial teacher training, between different courses on the basis of the subjects in which such training is given; or (2) in relation to other courses, between different courses at the same or a comparable level on the basis of the areas of study or research to which they relate: s 26(8). See note 1 supra. ### 807. Efficiency studies and research.

A funding agency<sup>1</sup> may arrange for the promotion or carrying out by any person of studies designed to improve economy, efficiency and effectiveness in the management or operations of a qualifying person<sup>2</sup>. A person promoting or carrying out such studies at the request of a funding agency may require the qualifying person concerned to provide him, or a person authorised by him, with such information, and to make its accounts and such other documents available to him, or a person authorised by him, for inspection, as he may reasonably require for that purpose<sup>3</sup>.

The Higher Education Funding Council for Wales may carry out or commission such research as it considers appropriate with a view to improving the training<sup>4</sup> of teachers or the standards of teaching<sup>5</sup>.

809. Establishment.

The General Teaching Council for England was established as a body corporate<sup>1</sup> under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998<sup>2</sup>. The principal aims of the Council in exercising its functions are to contribute to improving the standards of teaching and the quality of learning, and to maintain and improve standards of professional conduct amongst teachers, in the interests of the public<sup>3</sup>.

<sup>2</sup> Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 1(1), 43(1). The Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 provides for the General Teaching Council for England to exercise functions in relation to England and Wales until the date of the establishment of the General Teaching Council for Wales, and to exercise functions in relation to England only after that date: see s 1(3). As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 774 note 30 ante. Provision is also made for the transfer of staff and property to the General Teaching Council for Wales: see s 8(3). However, the General Teaching Council for England and the General Teaching Council for Wales were both established on the same date, namely 1 September 2000: see ss 1, 8; the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 (Commencement No 6) Order 2000, SI 2000/970; and the General Teaching Council for Wales Order 1998, SI 1998/2911 (amended by SI 2002/2940). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

In relation to any time before 1 September 2000, references to the Council in any enactment must be construed as references to the General Teaching Council for England and Wales, and any reference to the Council by that name in an instrument or document made before that date must be construed on or after that date as a reference to the General Teaching Council for England: see the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 1(10); and the General Teaching Council for Wales Order 1998, SI 1998/2911, arts 1, 2.

The Council is not to be regarded as the servant or agent of the Crown or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown; and the property of the Council is not to be regarded as property of, or property held on behalf of, the Crown: Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 1(9), Sch 1 para 1.

810. Constitution.

The General Teaching Council for England<sup>1</sup> must be constituted in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup>, and such regulations may authorise it to make rules with respect to such matters relating to its constitution as may be specified<sup>3</sup>. In exercising his power to make such regulations, the Secretary of State must have regard to the desirability of the Council's membership reflecting the interests of<sup>4</sup>:

- 1423 (1) teachers<sup>5</sup>;
- 1424 (2) employers of teachers<sup>6</sup>;
- 1425 (3) providers of teacher training<sup>7</sup>;
- 1426 (4) persons concerned with the teaching of persons with special educational needs<sup>8</sup>;
- 1427 (5) religious bodies involved in the provision of education<sup>9</sup>;
- 1428 (6) parents of pupils<sup>10</sup>;
- 1429 (7) commerce and industry<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1430 (8) the general public<sup>12</sup>,

and such other interests as in the opinion of the Secretary of State will enable the Council to carry out its functions more effectively<sup>13</sup>.

Such regulations must be framed so as to secure that a majority of the members of the Council are registered teachers<sup>14</sup> who<sup>15</sup>:

- 1431 (a) either are for the time being employed or otherwise engaged to provide their services as teachers or have had such recent employment or engagement as teachers as may be prescribed<sup>16</sup>; and
- 1432 (b) satisfy such other criteria as to eligibility for appointment or election to the Council as may be prescribed<sup>17</sup>.

812. Salaries, allowances, pensions and other payments.

The General Teaching Council for England<sup>1</sup> must pay to its members<sup>2</sup> such salaries or fees, and such travelling, subsistence or other allowances, as the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> may determine, and it must, as regards any member in whose case the Secretary of State may so determine, pay or make provision for the payment of such sums by way of pension, allowances and gratuities to or in respect of him as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>4</sup>.

If a person ceases to be a member of the Council and it appears to the Secretary of State that there are special circumstances which make it right that he should receive compensation, the Secretary of State may direct the Council to make to that person a payment of such amount as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>5</sup>. The Council must pay to the members of any of its committees<sup>6</sup> who are not members of the Council such travelling, subsistence and other allowances as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>7</sup>. The Council may pay to the employer of a person who is a member of the Council (or a member of any of its committees but not a member of the Council) such compensation in respect of the loss of that person's services as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>8</sup>.

813. Staff.

The General Teaching Council for England<sup>1</sup> may<sup>2</sup> appoint a chief officer and such other employees as it thinks fit<sup>3</sup>. The Council must pay to its employees such remuneration and allowances as it may determine<sup>4</sup>, and the employees must be appointed on such other terms and conditions as it may determine<sup>5</sup>. Any such determination requires the approval of the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup>. The Secretary of State appointed the first chief officer<sup>7</sup>.

The Council, with the consent of the Secretary of State, may pay, or make payments in respect of, pensions or gratuities<sup>8</sup> to or in respect of employees or former employees and may provide and maintain such schemes (whether contributory or not) for the payment of pensions and gratuities to or in respect of employees or former employees<sup>9</sup>.

If any person, on ceasing to be employed by the Council, becomes or continues to be one of its members, and was, by reference to his employment, a participant in a pension scheme maintained by the Council, the Council may, with the consent of the Secretary of State, make provision for that person to continue to participate in that scheme, on such terms and conditions as it may with the consent of the Secretary of State determine, as if his service as a member were service as an employee<sup>10</sup>.

814. Committees.

The General Teaching Council for England<sup>1</sup>: (1) may establish a committee for any purpose<sup>2</sup>; and (2) if so required by regulations<sup>3</sup>, must establish such committees for such purposes as are specified in the regulations<sup>4</sup>. The Council must determine the number of members which a committee so established is to have, and the terms on which they are to hold and vacate office<sup>5</sup>. Regulations under head (1) above may make provision as to:

- 1433 (a) the membership of a committee established under the regulations<sup>6</sup>;
- 1434 (b) the terms on which such a committee's members are to hold and vacate office<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1435 (c) the procedure of any such committee<sup>8</sup>.

The regulations may authorise the Council to make provision with respect to any matter as to which provision may be made by those regulations<sup>9</sup>. Subject to such conditions as may be imposed by such regulations, the Council may include on a committee persons who are not members of the Council<sup>10</sup>.

815. Proceedings.

Two representatives of the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup>, and one representative of such body as the Secretary of State may designate, are entitled to attend and take part in deliberations (but not in decisions) at meetings of the General Teaching Council for England<sup>2</sup> or of any committee of the Council<sup>3</sup>. The Council must provide the Secretary of State with such copies of any documents distributed to members of the Council or of any such committee as he may require<sup>4</sup>.

The validity of the Council's proceedings is not affected by a vacancy among the members or any defect in the appointment of a member<sup>5</sup>, and the Council may regulate its own procedure and that of any of its committees<sup>6</sup>.

The application of the seal of the Council is authenticated by the signature of: (1) the chairman or of some other person authorised either generally or specially by the Council to act for that purpose<sup>7</sup>; and (2) one other member<sup>8</sup>. Every document purporting to be an instrument made or issued by or on behalf of the Council and to be duly executed under the seal of the Council, or to be signed or executed by a person authorised by the Council to act in that behalf, must be received in evidence and be treated, without further proof, as being so made or issued unless the contrary is shown<sup>9</sup>.

817. Accounts.

It is the duty of the General Teaching Council for England<sup>1</sup>:

- 1436 (1) to keep proper accounts and proper records in relation to them<sup>2</sup>;
- 1437 (2) to prepare in respect of each financial year<sup>3</sup> of the Council a statement of accounts<sup>4</sup>; and
- 1438 (3) to send copies of the statement to the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup> and to the Comptroller and Auditor General<sup>6</sup> before the end of the month of August next following the financial year to which the statement relates<sup>7</sup>.

The statement of accounts must comply with any directions given by the Secretary of State<sup>8</sup> as to:

- 1439 (a) the information to be contained in it<sup>9</sup>;
- 1440 (b) the manner in which the information contained in it is to be presented<sup>10</sup>; or
- 1441 (c) the methods and principles according to which the statement is to be prepared<sup>11</sup>, and must contain such additional information as the Secretary of State may require to be provided for the information of Parliament<sup>12</sup>.

The Comptroller and Auditor General must examine, certify and report on each statement received by him and must lay copies of each statement and of his report before each House of Parliament<sup>13</sup>.

B. FUNCTIONS

(A) IN GENERAL

819. General functions.

The General Teaching Council for England<sup>1</sup> may do anything which is calculated to facilitate, or is incidental or conducive to, the carrying out of any of its functions<sup>2</sup>. In particular, the Council may:

- 1442 (1) acquire and dispose of land or other property<sup>3</sup>;
- 1443 (2) enter into contracts<sup>4</sup>;
- 1444 (3) invest sums not immediately required for the purpose of carrying out its functions<sup>5</sup>;
- 1445 (4) accept gifts of money, land or other property<sup>6</sup>;
- 1446 (5) form bodies corporate or associated or other bodies which are not bodies corporate<sup>7</sup>;
- 1447 (6) enter into joint ventures with other persons<sup>8</sup>;
- 1448 (7) subscribe for shares and stock<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1449 (8) borrow money<sup>10</sup>.

The consent of the Secretary of State<sup>11</sup> is required for the exercise of any power conferred by head (5), head (6), head (7) or head (8) above<sup>12</sup>.

The Council may also undertake activities designed to promote the standing of the teaching profession<sup>13</sup>.

In exercising its functions, the Council must have regard to the requirements of persons who are disabled persons for the purposes of the Disability Discrimination Act 1995<sup>14</sup>.

UPDATE

819 General functions

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(3) THE GENERAL TEACHING COUNCILS/(i) The General Teaching Council for England/B. FUNCTIONS/(A) In general/820. Additional and ancillary functions.

820. Additional and ancillary functions.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by order confer or impose on the General Teaching Council for England<sup>2</sup> such additional functions<sup>3</sup> as he considers it may appropriately discharge in conjunction with any of its other functions<sup>4</sup>. Before making such an order, the Secretary of State must carry out such consultation as appears to him to be appropriate<sup>5</sup>. The Council must carry out such functions ancillary to its other functions<sup>6</sup> as the Secretary of State may direct<sup>7</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

2 As to the establishment of the General Teaching Council for England see PARA 809 ante.

3 As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 774 note 30 ante.

4 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 7(1). The text refers to functions under Pt I Ch I (ss 1-17). The additional functions conferred are the functions of: (1) maintaining records relating to: (a) persons whose names have been removed from the register other than those who have died; (b) persons who are ineligible for registration; (c) qualified teachers who are not registered teachers; (d) persons who are not registered teachers who have started a course for the initial training of teachers, whether or not they have completed such course; (e) persons who are not qualified teachers who are employed as teachers in certain schools; (f) persons who are not registered teachers who are preparing for, or who have obtained, the National Professional Qualification for Headship; and (g) persons not falling within heads (a)-(f) supra who have a teacher reference number and who are, or have in the past been, employed as a teacher at a school or other educational institution (see the General Teaching Council for England (Additional Functions) Order 2000, SI 2000/2175, art 3, Schedule Pt 1 paras 1-7 (art 3 amended by SI 2001/1270)); and (2) assisting the Secretary of State in relation to the exercise of his function as a designated authority under the European Communities (Recognition of Professional Qualifications) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/824 (revoked: see now the European Communities (Recognition of Professional Qualifications) (First General System) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/18) (see the General Teaching Council for England (Additional Functions) Order 2004, SI 2004/1886).

A statutory instrument containing an order under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 7 is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 42(2). As to the making of orders under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante.

Without prejudice to the generality of s 7(1), the Secretary of State may under s 7(1) require the Council to give him such assistance as he may specify in relation to the exercise of his power under the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(2) (see PARA 776 ante) to determine, in accordance with regulations made under s 218(2), whether a person is a qualified teacher: Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 7(3). As from a day to be appointed, this provision is amended so as to provide that the Secretary of State may under s 7(1) require the Council to give him such assistance as he may specify in relation to the specification of requirements of regulations under the Education Act 2002 s 132 (qualified teacher status: see PARA 769 ante): Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 7(3) (prospectively amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 78). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to England.

Without prejudice to the generality of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 7(1), the Secretary of State may under s 7(1) require the Council to maintain records relating to such categories of persons (including persons not eligible to be registered under s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 822 post)) as may be prescribed; and the records must contain such information relating to those persons and be kept in such manner as may be prescribed: s 7(4). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. As to the regulations made in relation to the maintenance of records by the Council see the General Teaching Council for England (Additional Functions) Order 2000, SI 2000/2175, art 3, Schedule Pt II paras 1-24 (Schedule para 8 substituted, Schedule paras 17A, 23A-23B added, and Schedule para 18 amended, by SI 2001/1270).

(C) REGISTRATION OF TEACHERS

822. Registration of teachers.

The General Teaching Council for England<sup>1</sup> is required to establish and maintain a register<sup>2</sup>, which must contain the name of every person who is eligible for full registration and applies to be registered in the register in accordance with regulations relating to registration<sup>3</sup>.

A person is eligible for full registration if he is a qualified teacher and he is not for the time being<sup>4</sup>:

- 1459 (1) subject to a direction given by the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup>; or
- 1460 (2) subject to a disciplinary order<sup>6</sup> by virtue of which he is not eligible for full registration<sup>7</sup>; or
- 1461 (3) (subject to such exceptions as may be prescribed<sup>8</sup> or determined by the Secretary of State under regulations) ineligible for registration as a teacher, or disqualified from being a teacher in any school, by virtue of any prescribed provision of the law of Scotland or of Northern Ireland<sup>9</sup>.

Except in such circumstances as may be prescribed, a person is not eligible for full registration if, having served an induction period in accordance with regulations<sup>10</sup>, he has failed to complete it satisfactorily for the purposes of those regulations<sup>11</sup>.

As from a day to be appointed, a person is eligible for provisional registration if he satisfies such conditions as may be prescribed<sup>12</sup>; and a person is not eligible for provisional registration or full registration unless at the relevant time<sup>13</sup> the Council is or was satisfied as to his suitability to be a teacher<sup>14</sup>. Regulations may provide that any prescribed description of person is, or is not, to be taken to be suitable to be a teacher<sup>15</sup>.

TEACHERS/(3) THE GENERAL TEACHING COUNCILS/(i) The General Teaching Council for England/B. FUNCTIONS/ (C) Registration of Teachers/823. Regulations relating to registration.

823. Regulations relating to registration.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision as to the form and manner in which the register of persons eligible for registration<sup>2</sup> is to be kept and other matters relating to registration<sup>3</sup>. Such regulations may, in particular, make provision as to:

- 1462 (1) the form and manner in which applications for registration are to be made<sup>4</sup>;
- 1463 (2) the documentary and other evidence which is to accompany applications for registration<sup>5</sup>;
- 1464 (3) as from a day to be appointed<sup>6</sup>, the service on applicants for registration of notice of the General Teaching Council for England's<sup>7</sup> decision to grant or refuse the application and, in the case of a refusal, of the grounds on which the decision was taken and (where applicable) of the applicant's right to appeal against the decision<sup>8</sup>;
- 1465 (4) the registration, on the establishment of the register, of persons who have not made such applications<sup>9</sup>;
- 1466 (5) the matters which are to be recorded in the register against the names of those registered in it<sup>10</sup>;
- 1467 (6) the division of the register into separate parts<sup>11</sup>;
- 1468 (7) the restoration and alteration of entries and their transfer between different parts of the register (where separate parts are required by virtue of head (6) above)<sup>12</sup>;
- 1469 (8) the charging by the General Teaching Council for England of authorised fees<sup>13</sup>;
- 1470 (9) the removal of entries from the register in circumstances where the persons concerned have ceased to be eligible for registration, or have failed to pay any such fee, or otherwise<sup>14</sup>;
- 1471 (10) the issue and form of certificates of registration<sup>15</sup>;
- 1472 (11) the information contained in the register which may be made available for inspection by members of the public, and the circumstances in which and the conditions subject to which that information may be made available<sup>16</sup>.

The regulations may authorise the Council to make provision in relation to any matter as to which provision may be made by such regulations<sup>17</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. As to the regulations made under s 4 (as amended) see the General Teaching Council for England (Registration of Teachers) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/2176 (amended by SI 2001/23; SI 2001/1267).

2 As to the establishment and maintenance of the register see PARA 822 ante.

3 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 4(1). In s 4 (as amended), 'registration' means full registration: s 4(6) (added by the Education Act 2002 s 148, Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 4(1), (4)); Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 6 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) Order 2003, SI 2003/1667, art 3. As from a day to be appointed under the Education Act 2002 s 216(4), the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 4(6) (as added) is to be brought fully into force in England so as to refer to full or provisional registration. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

- 4 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 4(2)(a).
- 5 Ibid s 4(2)(b).
- 6 Ibid s 4(2)(ba) is added as from a day to be appointed under the Education Act 2002 s 216(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.
- 7 As to the establishment of the General Teaching Council for England see PARA 809 ante.
- 8 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 4(2)(ba) (prospectively added by the Education Act 2002 Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 4(1), (2)). See note 6 supra. An applicant's right to appeal against the decision as mentioned in the text takes effect under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 4A (as added; not yet in force) (see PARA 824 post).
- 9 Ibid s 4(2)(c).
- 10 Ibid s 4(2)(d). Regulations made in pursuance of s 4(2)(d) may require the recording of any restrictions for the time being in force in relation to a person as the result of: (1) a direction given under the Education Act 2002 s 142 (prohibition from teaching, etc: see PARA 782 ante); or (2) a disciplinary order made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 6, Sch 2 (as amended) (see PARAS 827-833 post): s 4(3) (amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 77).
- 11 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 4(2)(e).
- 12 Ibid s 4(2)(f).
- 13 Ibid s 4(2)(g). The text refers to fees authorised by virtue of s 4(4). For the purposes of s 4(2)(g), regulations under s 4 (as amended) may authorise the Council (subject to such exceptions as may be provided for by or under the regulations) to charge fees fixed by it with the approval of the Secretary of State in respect of: (1) applications for registration or for the restoration of entries in the register; (2) registration in accordance with s 4(2)(c) (see head (4) in the text); or (3) the retention of entries in the register, and the regulations may accordingly authorise the Council to refuse an application falling within head (1) supra until the appropriate fee has been paid: s 4(4). The Council, in exercising any power to fix fees authorised by virtue of s 4(4), must have regard to its expenditure in exercising: (a) its functions under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 relating to registration; and (b) all other functions conferred on it under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 or any other enactment: s 4(4A) (added by the Education Act 2002 Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 4(1), (3)).

824. Appeals against refusal of registration.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect<sup>1</sup>.

Regulations<sup>2</sup> must make provision for conferring on a person aggrieved by a decision made on relevant grounds<sup>3</sup> to refuse an application made by him for registration<sup>4</sup> a right to appeal against the decision to the High Court<sup>5</sup> within 28 days from the date on which notice of the decision is served on him<sup>6</sup>. On such an appeal the court may make any order which appears appropriate<sup>7</sup>.

No appeal lies from any decision of the court on such an appeal<sup>8</sup>.

1 The Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 4A is added by the Education Act 2002 s 148, Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 5, as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

2 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 4A (prospectively added).

3 The reference in ibid s 4A(1) (prospectively added) to a decision made on relevant grounds is a reference to a decision made on the ground that at the relevant time the General Teaching Council for England was not satisfied of the applicant's suitability to be a teacher: s 4A(2) (prospectively added: see note 1 supra). As to the establishment of the General Teaching Council for England see PARA 809 ante.

4 Ie under ibid s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 822 ante).

5 'High Court' means Her Majesty's High Court of Justice in England: see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1.

825. Deduction of fees from salaries.

The regulations may make provision with respect to<sup>13</sup>: (a) the arrangements to be adopted by employers of such teachers for the deduction and remittance of fees<sup>14</sup>; (b) the administration charges which may be deducted from any fees remitted to the Council<sup>15</sup>; and (c) the notification to the Council by employers of such teachers of such particulars relating to those teachers as the regulations may specify<sup>16</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> For these purposes, 'school' means a school maintained by a local education authority or a special school not so maintained: Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 12(4) (definition substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 81(b)). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante; and as to special schools see PARA 1027 post.

826. Code of practice for registered teachers.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision for, and in connection with, authorising the General Teaching Council for England<sup>2</sup> to issue, and from time to time revise, a code laying down standards of professional conduct and practice expected of registered teachers<sup>3</sup>. Such regulations may, in particular, make provision:

1473 (1) as to the consequences of any failure by a registered teacher to comply with the provisions of the code<sup>4</sup>;

1474 (2) for the provision by the Council of copies of the code, either on payment of a reasonable charge decided by the Council or, in such circumstances as may be determined in accordance with the regulations, free of charge<sup>5</sup>.

Regulations made in pursuance of head (1) above may provide for any failure by a registered teacher to comply with the provisions of the code to be taken into account in any proceedings against him<sup>6</sup>.

(D) DISCIPLINE OF TEACHERS

827. Disciplinary powers in relation to registered teachers.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision for and in connection with the investigation by the General Teaching Council for England<sup>2</sup> of cases where<sup>3</sup>:

- 1475 (1) it is alleged that a registered teacher<sup>4</sup> is guilty of unacceptable professional conduct<sup>5</sup> or serious professional incompetence, or has been convicted (at any time) of a relevant offence<sup>6</sup>; or
- 1476 (2) it appears to the Council that a registered teacher may be so guilty or have been so convicted<sup>7</sup>, and the hearing and determination by the Council of such cases where it is found on investigation that a registered teacher has a case to answer<sup>8</sup>.

The regulations may, in particular, make provision:

- 1477 (a) requiring the Council, where any proceedings are being taken against any person<sup>9</sup> to serve a notice on him outlining the case against him, and to give him the opportunity of appearing and making oral representations<sup>10</sup>;
- 1478 (b) entitling such a person to be represented, by any person whom he desires to represent him, at any hearing of the Council at which his case is considered<sup>11</sup>;
- 1479 (c) requiring the Council, where it does not find the case against such a person proved, to publish at his request a statement to that effect<sup>12</sup>;
- 1480 (d) empowering the Council to require persons to attend and give evidence or to produce documents or other material evidence<sup>13</sup>;
- 1481 (e) about the admissibility of evidence<sup>14</sup>;
- 1482 (f) enabling the Council to administer oaths<sup>15</sup>;
- 1483 (g) for the procedure to be followed by the Council in connection with proceedings<sup>16</sup> to be such as may be specified in or determined under the regulations<sup>17</sup>.

No person is required by virtue of the regulations to give any evidence or produce any document or other material evidence which he could not be compelled to give or produce in civil proceedings in any court in England and Wales<sup>18</sup>.

The regulations may make provision for any functions conferred on the Council<sup>19</sup> to be excluded or restricted in such manner as may be specified in or determined under the regulations, including such provision for excluding or restricting any such functions as the Secretary of State considers appropriate with a view to taking account of any powers exercisable by him<sup>20</sup> in cases which he considers concern the safety and welfare of persons aged under 18<sup>21</sup>: (i) on the grounds that a person is unsuitable to work with children<sup>22</sup>; or (ii) on grounds relating to a person's misconduct or health<sup>23</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. As to the regulations made under s 6, Sch 2 (as amended) see the General Teaching Council for England (Disciplinary Functions) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1268 (amended by SI 2003/1186), which contain various provisions relating to disciplinary powers including the establishment of committees (see PARA 814 ante).

2 As to the establishment of the General Teaching Council for England see PARA 809 ante. Where regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 1(9), Sch 1 para 9(1)(b) (see PARA 814 ante) require the Council to establish a committee for the purpose of discharging any of the functions conferred on it by virtue of Sch 2 (as amended) (see PARAS 828-833 post), references in Sch 2 (as amended) to the Council must be construed, in relation to those functions, as references to that committee: Sch 2 para 8(2). As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 774 note 30 ante.

3 Ibid Sch 2 para 1(1).

4 For the meaning of 'registered teacher' generally see PARA 810 note 14 ante. For the purposes of ibid Sch 2 (as amended), 'registered teacher' includes: (1) a person who was a registered teacher at the time of any alleged conduct or offence on his part; and (2) a person who has made an application to be registered under s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 822 ante): Sch 2 para 8(1). References in Sch 2 (as amended) to registration under s 3 (as amended) are references to registration under s 3 (as amended) with full registration: Sch 2 para 8(1A) (added by the Education Act 2002 s 148, Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 12(1), (3)); Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 6 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) Order 2003, SI 2003/1667, art 3. As from a day to be appointed under the Education Act 2002 s 216(4), this provision is to be brought fully into force in England so as to refer to full or provisional registration. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

5 For the purposes of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 Sch 2 (as amended), 'unacceptable professional conduct' means conduct which falls short of the standard expected of a registered teacher: Sch 2 para 8(1).

6 Ibid Sch 2 para 1(1)(a). For the purposes of Sch 2 (as amended), 'relevant offence', in relation to a registered teacher, means: (1) in the case of a conviction in the United Kingdom, a criminal offence other than one having no material relevance to his fitness to be a registered teacher; and (2) in the case of a conviction elsewhere, an offence which, if committed in England and Wales, would constitute such an offence as is mentioned in head (1) supra: Sch 2 para 8(1). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 63 note 3 ante; for the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

828. Disciplinary orders.

A 'disciplinary order' means a reprimand, a conditional registration order, a suspension order, or a prohibition order<sup>1</sup>.

Regulations<sup>2</sup> may make provision for and in connection with authorising the General Teaching Council for England<sup>3</sup> to make disciplinary orders in relation to persons who in proceedings<sup>4</sup> are found by the Council<sup>5</sup>:

1485 (2) to have been convicted (at any time) of a relevant offence<sup>8</sup>.

The regulations may, in particular, make provision:

1486 (a) for the Council to serve on any such person notice of the disciplinary order which has been made in relation to him, and of his right to appeal against the order<sup>9</sup>;

1487 (b) as to the time when any such order takes effect, whether in a case where any such person exercises that right of appeal or otherwise<sup>10</sup>;

829. Conditional registration orders.

Where a conditional registration order is made in relation to a person, he continues to be eligible for registration as a teacher<sup>1</sup>, but he must comply with such conditions relevant to his employment<sup>2</sup> as a teacher as may be specified in the order<sup>3</sup>. The conditions which may be specified in a conditional registration order include conditions for requiring the person in question to take any specified steps that will, in the opinion of the General Teaching Council for England<sup>4</sup>, be conducive to his becoming a competent teacher<sup>5</sup>, and conditions may be so specified that will involve expenditure on the part of that person<sup>6</sup>.

Any condition specified in a conditional registration order has effect either for such period as may be so specified, or without limit of time<sup>7</sup>. However, a person in relation to whom a conditional registration order has been made may, in accordance with regulations<sup>8</sup>, apply to the Council for it to vary or revoke any condition specified in the order<sup>9</sup>. Regulations may make provision authorising the Council, if satisfied that such a person has failed to comply with any such condition, to make a suspension or prohibition order in relation to him<sup>10</sup>.

830. Suspension orders.

Where a suspension order is made in relation to a person: (1) he ceases to be eligible for registration as a teacher<sup>1</sup>; and (2) if he is a registered teacher<sup>2</sup> at the time when the order is made, his name must be removed from the register<sup>3</sup> accordingly<sup>4</sup>. However, he becomes eligible for registration again at the end of such period not exceeding two years as may be specified in the order<sup>5</sup>.

A suspension order may specify conditions to be complied with by the person to whom the order relates and where it does so: (a) that person becomes eligible again for registration<sup>6</sup> at the end of the period specified in the order<sup>7</sup> only if he has then complied with the conditions<sup>8</sup>; and (b) if he has not then complied with the conditions, he does not become so eligible again until he has complied with the conditions<sup>9</sup>. ### A. ESTABLISHMENT AND CONSTITUTION

834. Establishment.

The General Teaching Council for Wales (or 'Cyngor Addysgu Cyffredinol Cymru') was established by order<sup>1</sup> to exercise, in relation to Wales<sup>2</sup>, the functions<sup>3</sup> conferred on it by or under Chapter I of Part I of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998<sup>4</sup>, as from 1 September 2000<sup>5</sup>.

The principal aims of the Council in exercising its functions are to contribute to improving the standards of teaching and the quality of learning, and to maintain and improve standards of professional conduct amongst teachers, in the interests of the public<sup>6</sup>.

The Council is not to be regarded as the servant or agent of the Crown or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown, and the property of the Council is not to be regarded as property of, or property held on behalf of, the Crown<sup>7</sup>.

The Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 provided for the General Teaching Council for England to exercise functions in relation to both England and Wales until the date of the establishment of the General Teaching Council for Wales, and to exercise functions in relation to England only after that date: see s 1(3). Provision was also made for the transfer of staff and property to the General Teaching Council for Wales: see s 8(3). However, the General Teaching Council for England and the General Teaching Council for Wales were both established on 1 September 2000: see ss 1, 8; the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 (Commencement No 6) Order 2000, SI 2000/970; and the General Teaching Council for Wales Order 1998, SI 1998/2911 (amended by SI 2002/2940).

835. Constitution.

The General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>1</sup> must be constituted in accordance with regulations made by the National Assembly for Wales<sup>2</sup>, and such regulations may authorise it to make rules with respect to such matters relating to its constitution as may be specified<sup>3</sup>. In exercising its powers to make such regulations, the Assembly must have regard to the desirability of the Council's membership reflecting the interests of<sup>4</sup>:

- 1492 (1) teachers<sup>5</sup>;
- 1493 (2) employers of teachers<sup>6</sup>;
- 1494 (3) providers of teacher training<sup>7</sup>;
- 1495 (4) persons concerned with the teaching of persons with special educational needs<sup>8</sup>;
- 1496 (5) religious bodies involved in the provision of education<sup>9</sup>;
- 1497 (6) parents of pupils<sup>10</sup>;
- 1498 (7) commerce and industry<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1499 (8) the general public<sup>12</sup>,

and such other interests as in the opinion of the Assembly will enable the Council to carry out its functions more effectively<sup>13</sup>.

Such regulations must be framed so as to secure that a majority of the members of the Council are registered teachers<sup>14</sup> who<sup>15</sup>:

- 1500 (a) are for the time being employed or otherwise engaged to provide their services as teachers or have had such recent employment or engagement as teachers as may be prescribed<sup>16</sup>; and
- 1501 (b) satisfy such other criteria as to eligibility for appointment or election to the Council as may be prescribed<sup>17</sup>.

836. Appointment of members.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision with respect to: (1) the appointment or election of one of the members of the General Teaching Council for Wales to be chairman of the Council<sup>2</sup>; (2) the period for which the chairman is to hold office<sup>3</sup>; and (3) the appointment or election and tenure of office of, and the vacation of office by, members of the Council<sup>4</sup>.

The Council may authorise the chairman, the chief officer or any committee<sup>5</sup> to exercise such of its functions<sup>6</sup> as it may determine<sup>7</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. Regulations made before the establishment of the General Teaching Council for Wales could enable the Secretary of State to make provision with respect to any of the matters referred to in heads (1)-(3) in the text, but regulations made after the establishment of the Council may authorise the Council to make rules with respect to any such matters: Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 8(2), Sch 1 para 3(2); General Teaching Council for Wales Order 1998, SI 1998/2911, art 3. The General Teaching Council for Wales (Constitution) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1619 (as amended) were made before the Council was established. TEACHERS/(3) THE GENERAL TEACHING COUNCILS/(ii) The General Teaching Council for Wales/A. ESTABLISHMENT AND CONSTITUTION/837. Salaries, allowances, pensions and other payments.

837. Salaries, allowances, pensions and other payments.

The General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>1</sup> must pay to its members<sup>2</sup> such salaries or fees, and such travelling, subsistence or other allowances, as it may determine, and it must, as regards any member in whose case it may so determine, pay or make provision for the payment of such sums by way of pension, allowances and gratuities to or in respect of that member as it may determine<sup>3</sup>.

If a person ceases to be a member of the Council and it appears to the Council that there are special circumstances which make it right that he should receive compensation, the Council may make to that person a payment of such amount as it may determine<sup>4</sup>. The Council must pay to the members of any of its committees<sup>5</sup> who are not members of the Council such travelling, subsistence and other allowances as it may determine<sup>6</sup>. The Council may pay to the employer of a person who is a member of the Council (or a member of any of its committees but not a member of the Council) such compensation in respect of the loss of that person's services as it may determine<sup>7</sup>.

838. Staff.

The General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>1</sup> may<sup>2</sup> appoint a chief officer and such other employees as it thinks fit<sup>3</sup>. The Council must pay to its employees such remuneration and allowances as it may determine<sup>4</sup>, and the employees must be appointed on such other terms and conditions as it may determine<sup>5</sup>.

The Council may pay, or make payments in respect of, pensions or gratuities<sup>6</sup> to or in respect of employees or former employees and may provide and maintain such schemes (whether contributory or not) for the payment of pensions and gratuities to or in respect of employees or former employees<sup>7</sup>.

If any person, on ceasing to be employed by the Council, becomes or continues to be one of its members, and was, by reference to his employment, a participant in a pension scheme maintained by the Council, the Council may make provision for that person to continue to participate in that scheme, on such terms and conditions as it may with the consent of the National Assembly for Wales determine, as if his service as a member were service as an employee<sup>8</sup>.

839. Committees.

The General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>1</sup>: (1) may establish a committee for any purpose<sup>2</sup>, and; (2) if so required by regulations<sup>3</sup>, must establish such committees for such purposes as are specified in the regulations<sup>4</sup>. The Council must determine the number of members which a committee so established is to have, and the terms on which they are to hold and vacate office<sup>5</sup>. Such regulations may make provision as to:

- 1502 (a) the membership of a committee established under the regulations<sup>6</sup>;
- 1503 (b) the terms on which such a committee's members are to hold and vacate office<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1504 (c) the procedure of any such committee<sup>8</sup>.

The regulations may authorise the Council to make provision with respect to any matter as to which provision may be made by those regulations<sup>9</sup>. Subject to such conditions as may be imposed by regulations, the Council may include on a committee persons who are not members of the Council<sup>10</sup>.

842. Accounts.

It is the duty of the General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>1</sup>:

- 1505 (1) to keep proper accounts and proper records in relation to them<sup>2</sup>;
- 1506 (2) to prepare in respect of each financial year<sup>3</sup> of the Council a statement of accounts<sup>4</sup>; and
- 1507 (3) to send copies of the statement to the National Assembly for Wales<sup>5</sup> and to the Auditor General for Wales<sup>6</sup> before the end of the month of August next following the financial year to which the statement relates<sup>7</sup>.

The statement of accounts must comply with any directions given by the Assembly<sup>8</sup> as to:

- 1508 (a) the information to be contained in it<sup>9</sup>;
- 1509 (b) the manner in which the information contained in it is to be presented<sup>10</sup>; or
- 1510 (c) the methods and principles according to which the statement is to be prepared<sup>11</sup>, and must contain such additional information as the Assembly may require to be provided<sup>12</sup>.

The Auditor General for Wales must examine, certify and report on each statement received by him and must lay copies of each statement and of his report before the Assembly, which must publish them<sup>13</sup>.

B. FUNCTIONS

(A) IN GENERAL

844. General functions.

The General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>1</sup> may do anything which is calculated to facilitate, or is incidental or conducive to, the carrying out of any of its functions<sup>2</sup>. In particular, the Council may:

- 1511 (1) acquire and dispose of land or other property<sup>3</sup>;
- 1512 (2) enter into contracts<sup>4</sup>;
- 1513 (3) invest sums not immediately required for the purpose of carrying out its functions<sup>5</sup>;
- 1514 (4) accept gifts of money, land or other property<sup>6</sup>;
- 1515 (5) form bodies corporate or associated or other bodies which are not bodies corporate<sup>7</sup>;
- 1516 (6) enter into joint ventures with other persons<sup>8</sup>;
- 1517 (7) subscribe for shares and stock<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1518 (8) borrow money<sup>10</sup>.

The Council may also undertake activities designed to promote the standing of the teaching profession<sup>11</sup>.

In exercising its functions, the Council must have regard to the requirements of persons who are disabled persons for the purposes of the Disability Discrimination Act 1995<sup>12</sup>.

UPDATE

844 General functions

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(3) THE GENERAL TEACHING COUNCILS/(ii) The General Teaching Council for Wales/B. FUNCTIONS/(A) In general/845. Additional and ancillary functions conferred by the National Assembly for Wales.

845. Additional and ancillary functions conferred by the National Assembly for Wales.

The National Assembly for Wales<sup>1</sup> may require the General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>2</sup> to undertake (or join with any other person or body in undertaking) activities designed to promote<sup>3</sup>: (1) recruitment to the teaching profession<sup>4</sup>; or (2) the continuing professional development of teachers<sup>5</sup>. Such activities may include giving advice, organising conferences and lectures, and arranging for the publication of material in any form<sup>6</sup>.

The Assembly may by order confer or impose on the Council such additional functions<sup>7</sup> as the Assembly considers it may appropriately discharge in conjunction with any of its other functions<sup>8</sup>. Before making such an order, the Assembly must carry out such consultation as appears to it to be appropriate<sup>9</sup>.

The Council must carry out such functions ancillary to its other functions<sup>10</sup> as the Assembly may direct<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 As to the establishment of the General Teaching Council for Wales see PARA 834 ante.

4 Ibid s 9(2)(a).

5 Ibid s 9(2)(b).

6 Ibid s 9(3).

7 As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 774 note 30 ante.

8 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 7(1), 9(1) (s 9(1) amended by the Education Act 2002 s 148, Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 7). The text refers to functions under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 Pt I Ch I (ss 1-17) (as amended). The additional functions conferred are the functions of (1): maintaining records relating to: (a) persons whose names have been removed from the register other than those whose names were removed at their own request or who have died; (b) persons who are ineligible for registration; (c) qualified teachers who are not registered teachers; (d) persons who are not registered teachers who have started a course for the initial training of teachers, whether or not they have completed such course; (e) persons who are not qualified teachers who are employed as teachers in schools maintained by a local education authority; (f) persons who are not registered teachers who are preparing for, or who have obtained, the National Professional Qualification for Headship; and (g) persons not falling within heads (a)-(f) supra and who are not registered teachers, who have a teacher reference number and who are, or have in the past been, employed as a teacher at a school or other educational institution (General Teaching Council for Wales (Additional Functions) Order 2000, SI 2000/1941, art 3, Schedule Pt I paras 1-7); (2) considering applications and granting authorisations to practise the profession of school teacher in Wales for the purpose of EC Council Directive 89/48 (OJ L019, 24.1.89, p 16) on a general system for the recognition of higher-education diplomas awarded on completion of professional education and training of at least three years' duration (General Teaching Council for Wales (Additional Functions) Order 2005, SI 2005/36, art 3(1)); and (3) giving advice and information to the public about the requirements for recognition in Wales of teaching qualifications obtained in a member state of the European Community, Iceland, Norway, Liechtenstein or Switzerland (arts 2, 3(2)).

A statutory instrument containing an order under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 7 (as amended) is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 42(2). As to the making of orders under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante.

Without prejudice to the generality of s 7(1), the National Assembly for Wales may under s 7(1) require the Council to give it such assistance as it may specify in relation to the specification of requirements of regulations under the Education Act 2002 s 132 (qualified teacher status: see PARA 769 ante): Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 7(3) (amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 78); Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 9(1) (as so amended).

Without prejudice to the generality of s 7(1), the National Assembly for Wales may under s 7(1) require the Council to maintain records relating to such categories of persons (including persons not eligible to be registered under s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 847 post)) as may be prescribed; and the records must contain such information relating to those persons and must be kept in such manner as may be prescribed: ss 7(4), 9(1). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. As to the regulations made in relation to the maintenance of records by the Council see the General Teaching Council for Wales (Additional Functions) Order 2000, SI 2000/1941, art 3, Schedule Pt II paras 1-24 (Schedule paras 12, 22 substituted, and Schedule paras 14, 16, 19 amended, by SI 2005/68; and the General Teaching Council for Wales (Additional Functions) Order 2000, SI 2000/1941, Schedule paras 23A-23B added by SI 2001/2497).

846 Advisory functions

NOTE 15--Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 2(4) repealed: Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 Sch 9 para 3.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(3) THE GENERAL TEACHING COUNCILS/(ii) The General Teaching Council for Wales/B. FUNCTIONS/ (C) Registration of Teachers/847. Registration of teachers.

847. Registration of teachers.

The General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>1</sup> is required to establish and maintain a register of teachers<sup>2</sup>, which must contain the name of every person who is eligible for registration and applies to be registered in the register in accordance with regulations relating to registration<sup>3</sup>.

A person is eligible for registration if he is a qualified teacher and he is not for the time being<sup>4</sup>:

- 1528 (1) subject to a direction<sup>5</sup>; or
- 1529 (2) subject to a disciplinary order<sup>6</sup> by virtue of which he is not eligible for registration<sup>7</sup>; or
- 1530 (3) (subject to certain exceptions<sup>8</sup>) ineligible for registration as a teacher, or disqualified from being a teacher in any school, by virtue of any prescribed provision of the law of Scotland or of Northern Ireland<sup>9</sup>.

Except in such circumstances as may be prescribed, a person is not eligible for registration if, having served an induction period in accordance with regulations<sup>10</sup>, he has failed to complete it satisfactorily for the purposes of those regulations<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to the establishment of the General Teaching Council for Wales see PARA 834 ante.

2 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 3(1), 9(1). As from a day to be appointed, s 3(1) is amended so as to refer to a register for the purposes of Pt I Ch I (ss 1-17) (as amended): see s 3(1) (prospectively amended by the Education Act 2002 s 148, Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1 3(1), (2)). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

3 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 3(2), 9(1). As from a day to be appointed, s 3(2) is amended so as to refer to full or provisional registration: see s 3(2) (prospectively amended by the Education Act 2002 Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 3(1), (3)). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

'Regulations' means regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. As to the regulations made under s 4 (as amended) see PARA 848 post.

As from a day to be appointed, a person is eligible for provisional registration if he satisfies such conditions as may be prescribed; and a person is not eligible for provisional registration or full registration unless at the relevant time the Council is or was satisfied as to his suitability to be a teacher: ss 3(3A), (3B), 9(1) (s 3(3A)-(3D) prospectively added by the Education Act 2002 s 148, Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 3(1), (5)). Regulations may provide that any prescribed description of person is, or is not, to be taken to be suitable to be a teacher: Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 3(3D), 9(1) (s 3(3D) as so prospectively added). For these purposes, 'the relevant time' means: (1) in relation to an applicant for provisional registration or an applicant for full registration who is already registered with provisional registration, the time of provisional registration; or (2) in the case of an applicant for full registration who is not already registered with provisional registration, the time of full registration: ss 3(3C), 9(1) (s 3(3C) as so prospectively added). The provisions of s 3(3A)-(3D) are added as from a day to be appointed under the Education Act 2002 s 216(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

4 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 3(3), 9(1). As from a day to be appointed, s 3(3) is amended so as to refer to full registration: see s 3(3) (prospectively amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215, Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 3(1), (4), Sch 21 para 76(a), Sch 22 Pt 3). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

5 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 3(3)(a), 9(1) (s 3(3)(a) substituted by the Education Act 2002 Sch 21 para 76(b)). The direction referred to in the text is a direction given by the National Assembly for Wales and the Secretary of State acting concurrently under the Education Act 2002 s 142 (prohibition from teaching, etc: see PARA 782 ante). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

6 le made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 Sch 2 (as amended): see PARAS 852-858 post.

7 Ibid ss 3(3)(b) 9(1). As from a day to be appointed, s 3(3)(b) is amended so as to refer to full registration: see s 3(3)(b) (prospectively amended by the Education Act 2002 Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 3(1), (4)). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

8 le subject to such exceptions as may be prescribed by, or determined by the National Assembly for Wales under, regulations. 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 43(1).

9 Ibid ss 3(3)(d), 9(1). As to the regulations made under s 3(3)(d) see the General Teaching Council for Wales (Functions) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1979 (amended by SI 2001/2496; SI 2004/1741; SI 2005/69).

847 Registration of teachers

NOTE 3--Day now appointed in relation to 1998 Act s 3(3B), (3D): SI 2006/1336.

In exercise of the powers conferred on him under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 3(3A), the Secretary of State has made the General Teaching Council for England (Eligibility for Provisional Registration) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/1884.

TEXT AND NOTES 4-9--Add head (4) barred from regulated activity relating to children (within the meaning of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 s 3(2) (see CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS vol 5(3) (2008 Reissue) PARA 685): Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 3(3)(aa) (added by the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 Sch 9 para 4).

NOTE 9--SI 2000/1979 further amended: SI 2009/1353.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(3) THE GENERAL TEACHING COUNCILS/(ii) The General Teaching Council for Wales/B. FUNCTIONS/ (C) Registration of Teachers/848. Regulations relating to registration.

848. Regulations relating to registration.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision as to the form and manner in which the register of persons eligible for registration<sup>2</sup> is to be kept and other matters relating to registration<sup>3</sup>. Such regulations may, in particular, make provision as to:

- 1531 (1) the form and manner in which applications for registration are to be made<sup>4</sup>;
- 1532 (2) the documentary and other evidence which is to accompany applications for registration<sup>5</sup>;
- 1533 (3) as from a day to be appointed<sup>6</sup>, the service on applicants for registration of notice of the General Teaching Council for Wales's<sup>7</sup> decision to grant or refuse the application and, in the case of a refusal, of the grounds on which the decision was taken and (where applicable) of the applicant's right to appeal against the decision<sup>8</sup>;
- 1534 (4) the registration, on the establishment of the register, of persons who have not made such applications<sup>9</sup>;
- 1535 (5) the matters which are to be recorded in the register against the names of those registered in it<sup>10</sup>;
- 1536 (6) the division of the register into separate parts<sup>11</sup>;
- 1537 (7) the restoration and alteration of entries and their transfer between different parts of the register (where separate parts are required by virtue of head (6) above)<sup>12</sup>;
- 1538 (8) the charging by the General Teaching Council for Wales of authorised fees<sup>13</sup>;
- 1539 (9) the removal of entries from the register in circumstances where the persons concerned have ceased to be eligible for registration, or have failed to pay any such fee, or otherwise<sup>14</sup>;
- 1540 (10) the issue and form of certificates of registration<sup>15</sup>;
- 1541 (11) the information contained in the register which may be made available for inspection by members of the public, and the circumstances in which and the conditions subject to which that information may be made available<sup>16</sup>.

The regulations may authorise the Council to make provision in relation to any matter as to which provision may be made by such regulations<sup>17</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. As to the regulations made under s 4 (as amended) see the General Teaching Council for Wales (Functions) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1979 (amended by SI 2001/2496; SI 2004/1741; SI 2005/69).

2 As to the establishment and maintenance of the register see PARA 847 ante.

3 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 4(1), 9(1). In s 4, 'registration' means full registration or provisional registration: ss 4(6), 9(1) (s 4(6) added by the Education Act 2002 s 148, Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 4(1), (4)). This definition is to come into force as from a day to be appointed under the Education Act 2002 s 216(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

4 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 4(2)(a), 9(1).

5 Ibid ss 4(2)(b), 9(1).

6 Ibid s 4(2)(ba) is added as from a day to be appointed under the Education Act 2002 s 216(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

7 As to the establishment of the General Teaching Council for Wales see PARA 834 ante.

8 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 4(2)(ba), 9(1) (s 4(2)(ba) prospectively added by the Education Act 2002 Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 4(1), (2)). See note 6 supra. An applicant's right to appeal against the decision as mentioned in the text takes effect under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 4A (prospectively added) (see PARA 849 post).

9 Ibid ss 4(2)(c), 9(1).

10 Ibid s 4(2)(d), 9(1). Regulations made in pursuance of s 4(2)(d) may require the recording of any restrictions for the time being in force in relation to a person as the result of: (1) a direction given under the Education Act 2002 s 142 (prohibition from teaching, etc: see PARA 782 ante); or (2) a disciplinary order made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 6, Sch 2 (as amended) (see PARAS 852-858 post): ss 4(3), 9(1) (s 4(3) amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 77).

11 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 4(2)(e), 9(1).

12 Ibid ss 4(2)(f), 9(1).

13 Ibid ss 4(2)(g), 9(1). The text refers to fees authorised by virtue of s 4(4). For the purposes of s 4(2)(g), regulations under s 4 (as amended) may authorise the Council (subject to such exceptions as may be provided for by or under the regulations) to charge fees fixed by it with the approval of the National Assembly for Wales in respect of: (1) applications for registration or for the restoration of entries in the register; (2) registration in accordance with s 4(2)(c) (see head (4) in the text); or (3) the retention of entries in the register, and the regulations may accordingly authorise the Council to refuse an application falling within head (1) supra until the appropriate fee has been paid: ss 4(4), 9(1). The Council, in exercising any power to fix fees authorised by virtue of s 4(4), must have regard to its expenditure in exercising: (a) its functions under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 relating to registration; and (b) all other functions conferred on it under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 or any other enactment: ss 4(4A), 9(1) (added by the Education Act 2002 Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 4(1), (3)). As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

848 Regulations relating to registration

NOTE 1--SI 2000/1979 further amended: SI 2006/1343, SI 2009/1353.

TEXT AND NOTE 6--Day now appointed: SI 2006/1336.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(3) THE GENERAL TEACHING COUNCILS/(ii) The General Teaching Council for Wales/B. FUNCTIONS/ (C) Registration of Teachers/849. Appeals against refusal of registration.

849. Appeals against refusal of registration.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect<sup>1</sup>.

Regulations<sup>2</sup> must make provision for conferring on a person aggrieved by a decision made on relevant grounds<sup>3</sup> to refuse an application made by him for registration<sup>4</sup> a right to appeal against the decision to the High Court<sup>5</sup> within 28 days from the date on which notice of the decision is served on him<sup>6</sup>.

On such an appeal the court may make any order which appears appropriate<sup>7</sup>. No appeal lies from any decision of the court on such an appeal<sup>8</sup>.

1 The Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 4A is added by the Education Act 2002 s 148, Sch 12 Pt 1 paras 1, 5 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

2 'Regulations' means regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 4A (not yet in force).

3 The reference in ibid s 4A(1) (not yet in force) to a decision made on relevant grounds is a reference to a decision made on the ground that at the relevant time the General Teaching Council for Wales was not satisfied of the applicant's suitability to be a teacher: ss 4A(2), 9(1) (s 4A(2) prospectively added: see note 1 supra). As to the establishment of the General Teaching Council for Wales see PARA 834 ante.

4 Ie under ibid s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 847 ante).

5 'High Court' means Her Majesty's High Court of Justice in England: see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1.

6 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 ss 4A(1), 9(1) (s 4A(1) prospectively added: see note 1 supra).

7 Ibid ss 4A(3), 9(1) (s 4A(3) prospectively added: see note 1 supra).

8 Ibid ss 4A(4), 9(1) (s 4A(4) prospectively added: see note 1 supra).

850. Deduction of fees from salaries.

The regulations may make provision with respect to<sup>13</sup>: (a) the arrangements to be adopted by employers of such teachers for the deduction and remittance of fees<sup>14</sup>; (b) the administration charges which may be deducted from any fees remitted to the Council<sup>15</sup>; and (c) the notification to the Council by employers of such teachers of such particulars relating to those teachers as the regulations may specify<sup>16</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> For these purposes, 'school' means a school maintained by a local education authority or a special school not so maintained: Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 12(4) (definition substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 81(b)). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante; and as to special schools see PARA 1027 post.

<sup>2</sup> I.e. specified in the regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 12 (as amended). 'Regulations' means regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). ### 851. Code of practice for registered teachers.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision for, and in connection with, authorising the General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>2</sup> to issue, and from time to time revise, a code laying down standards of professional conduct and practice expected of registered teachers<sup>3</sup>. Such regulations may, in particular, make provision:

- 1542 (1) as to the consequences of any failure by a registered teacher to comply with the provisions of the code<sup>4</sup>;
- 1543 (2) for the provision by the Council of copies of the code, either on payment of a reasonable charge decided by the Council or, in such circumstances as may be determined in accordance with the regulations, free of charge<sup>5</sup>.

Regulations made in pursuance of head (1) above may provide for any failure by a registered teacher to comply with the provisions of the code to be taken into account in any proceedings against him<sup>6</sup>.

(D) DISCIPLINE OF TEACHERS

852. Disciplinary powers in relation to registered teachers.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision for and in connection with the investigation by the General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>2</sup> of cases where<sup>3</sup>:

- 1544 (1) it is alleged that a registered teacher<sup>4</sup> is guilty of unacceptable professional conduct<sup>5</sup> or serious professional incompetence, or has been convicted (at any time) of a relevant offence<sup>6</sup>; or
- 1545 (2) it appears to the Council that a registered teacher may be so guilty or have been so convicted<sup>7</sup>, and the hearing and determination by the Council of such cases where it is found on investigation that a registered teacher has a case to answer<sup>8</sup>.

The regulations may, in particular, make provision:

- 1546 (a) requiring the Council, where any proceedings are being taken against any person<sup>9</sup> to serve a notice on him outlining the case against him, and to give him the opportunity of appearing and making oral representations<sup>10</sup>;
- 1547 (b) entitling such a person to be represented, by any person whom he desires to represent him, at any hearing of the Council at which his case is considered<sup>11</sup>;
- 1548 (c) requiring the Council, where it does not find the case against such a person proved, to publish at his request a statement to that effect<sup>12</sup>;
- 1549 (d) empowering the Council to require persons to attend and give evidence or to produce documents or other material evidence<sup>13</sup>;
- 1550 (e) about the admissibility of evidence<sup>14</sup>;
- 1551 (f) enabling the Council to administer oaths<sup>15</sup>;
- 1552 (g) for the procedure to be followed by the Council in connection with proceedings<sup>16</sup> to be such as may be specified in or determined under the regulations<sup>17</sup>.

No person is required by virtue of the regulations to give any evidence or produce any document or other material evidence which he could not be compelled to give or produce in civil proceedings in any court in England and Wales<sup>18</sup>.

The regulations may make provision for any functions conferred on the Council<sup>19</sup> to be excluded or restricted in such manner as may be specified in or determined under the regulations, including such provision for excluding or restricting any such functions as the National Assembly for Wales<sup>20</sup> considers appropriate with a view to taking account of any powers exercisable by it and the Secretary of State concurrently<sup>21</sup> in cases which it considers concern the safety and welfare of persons aged under 18<sup>22</sup>: (i) on the grounds that a person is unsuitable to work with children<sup>23</sup>; or (ii) on grounds relating to a person's misconduct or health<sup>24</sup>.

853. Disciplinary orders.

- 1553 (1) to have been guilty of unacceptable professional conduct<sup>6</sup> or serious professional incompetence<sup>7</sup>; or
- 1554 (2) to have been convicted (at any time) of a relevant offence<sup>8</sup>.

The regulations may, in particular, make provision:

- 1555 (a) for the Council to serve on any such person notice of the disciplinary order which has been made in relation to him, and of his right to appeal against the order<sup>9</sup>;
- 1556 (b) as to the time when any such order takes effect, whether in a case where any such person exercises that right of appeal or otherwise<sup>10</sup>;
- 1557 (c) for the Council to publish, in such manner as may be prescribed<sup>11</sup>, such information relating to the case of any such person and any disciplinary order made by the Council as may be prescribed<sup>12</sup>.

854. Conditional registration orders.

Where a conditional registration order is made in relation to a person, he continues to be eligible for registration as a teacher<sup>1</sup>, but he must comply with such conditions relevant to his employment<sup>2</sup> as a teacher as may be specified in the order<sup>3</sup>. The conditions which may be specified in a conditional registration order include conditions for requiring the person in question to take any specified steps that will, in the opinion of the General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>4</sup>, be conducive to his becoming a competent teacher<sup>5</sup>, and conditions may be so specified that will involve expenditure on the part of that person<sup>6</sup>.

Any condition specified in a conditional registration order has effect either for such period as may be so specified, or without limit of time<sup>7</sup>. However, a person in relation to whom a conditional registration order has been made may, in accordance with regulations<sup>8</sup>, apply to the Council for it to vary or revoke any condition specified in the order<sup>9</sup>. Regulations may make provision authorising the Council, if satisfied that such a person has failed to comply with any such condition, to make a suspension or prohibition order in relation to him<sup>10</sup>.

855. Suspension orders.

Where a suspension order is made in relation to a person: (1) he ceases to be eligible for registration as a teacher<sup>1</sup>; and (2) if he is a registered teacher<sup>2</sup> at the time when the order is made, his name must be removed from the register<sup>3</sup> accordingly<sup>4</sup>. However, he becomes eligible for registration again at the end of such period not exceeding two years as may be specified in the order<sup>5</sup>.

A suspension order may specify conditions to be complied with by the person to whom the order relates and where it does so: (a) that person becomes eligible again for registration<sup>6</sup> at the end of the period specified in the order<sup>7</sup> only if he has then complied with the conditions<sup>8</sup>; and (b) if he has not then complied with the conditions, he does not become so eligible again until he has complied with the conditions<sup>9</sup>. ### 858. Regulations in connection with disciplinary powers.

- 1558 (1) for the General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>5</sup>, where a disciplinary order<sup>6</sup> takes effect in relation to a person, to serve notice of the order on that person's employer<sup>7</sup>;
- 1559 (2) requiring the employer of any such person to take in relation to that person such steps in consequence of the order (which may include his dismissal) as may be prescribed<sup>8</sup>;
- 1560 (3) authorising the delegation of functions<sup>9</sup> and the determination of matters by any person or persons specified in the regulations<sup>10</sup>.

Regulations may also, in relation to any time after 1 September 2000<sup>11</sup>, make provision for securing that any disciplinary order<sup>12</sup> as it applies in relation to England or (as the case may be) Wales has the corresponding effect in relation to Wales or (as the case may be) England<sup>13</sup>, and such regulations may modify any provision of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998<sup>14</sup>.

(iii) Supply of Information

859. Supply of information relating to teachers.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> must supply the General Teaching Council for England<sup>2</sup>, and the National Assembly for Wales must supply the General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>3</sup>, with such information relating to individual teachers as he or it considers it to be necessary or desirable for the Council to have for the purpose of carrying out any of its functions<sup>4</sup>. The General Teaching Council for England must supply the Secretary of State, and the General Teaching Council for Wales must supply the Assembly, with such information as he or it may request for the purpose of statistical analysis, or any other of his or its functions relating to teachers<sup>5</sup>. Regulations may require either Council to supply information to such other person or body, and for such purposes and subject to such conditions, as may be prescribed<sup>6</sup>. The General Teaching Council for Wales and the General Teaching Council for England must each supply the other with such information as it is necessary or desirable for that other Council to have for the purpose of carrying out any of its functions<sup>7</sup>. The provisions described above do not limit the circumstances in which information may otherwise be supplied<sup>8</sup>.

860. Supply of information following the dismissal or resignation of teachers.

Where a relevant employer<sup>1</sup> has ceased to use a person's services<sup>2</sup> on a ground mentioned in the provisions which prohibit or restrict employment in education work or in work which brings a person regularly into contact with children<sup>3</sup>, or where a relevant employer might have ceased to use a person's services on such a ground had the person not ceased to provide those services<sup>4</sup>, the following provisions apply. In the case of a person who was providing services to a relevant employer in England<sup>5</sup>, the employer must provide prescribed<sup>6</sup> information to such of the following as may be prescribed<sup>7</sup>, namely: (1) the Secretary of State<sup>8</sup>; and (2) where the person is a registered teacher<sup>9</sup>, the General Teaching Council for England<sup>10</sup>. In the case of a person who was providing services to a relevant employer in Wales<sup>11</sup>, the employer must provide prescribed<sup>12</sup> information to such of the following as may be prescribed<sup>13</sup>, namely: (a) the National Assembly for Wales<sup>14</sup>; and (b) where the person is a registered teacher, the General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>15</sup>.

Where arrangements are made by one person (the 'agent') for another person (the 'worker') to carry out work at the request of or with the consent of a relevant employer<sup>16</sup>, whether or not under a contract<sup>17</sup>, and where an agent has terminated the arrangements<sup>18</sup>, or might have terminated the arrangements<sup>19</sup> if the worker had not terminated them<sup>20</sup>, or might have refrained from making new arrangements for a worker<sup>21</sup> if he had not ceased to make himself available for work<sup>22</sup>, the following provisions apply. In the case of arrangements for a worker to carry out work in England, the agent must provide prescribed information to such of the following as may be prescribed<sup>23</sup>, namely: (i) the Secretary of State<sup>24</sup>; and (ii) where the person is a registered teacher, the General Teaching Council for England<sup>25</sup>. In the case of arrangements for a worker to carry out work in Wales, the agent must provide prescribed information to such of the following as may be prescribed<sup>26</sup>, namely: (A) the National Assembly for Wales<sup>27</sup>; and (B) where the person is a registered teacher, the General Teaching Council for Wales<sup>28</sup>.

1 For these purposes, 'relevant employer' has the meaning given by the Education Act 2002 s 142 (see PARA 782 ante): Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 15(5) (s 15 substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 83).

(4) PAY AND CONDITIONS

(i) Statutory Conditions of Employment

861. Establishment and constitution of the School Teachers' Review Body.

The review body, established under the School Teachers' Pay and Conditions Act 1991<sup>1</sup>, is preserved under the Education Act 2002 and is known as the School Teachers' Review Body<sup>2</sup>. The School Teachers' Review Body must consider any matter which is referred to it by the Secretary of State and which relates to: (1) the remuneration of school teachers<sup>3</sup>; or (2) other conditions of employment of school teachers which relate to their professional duties or working time<sup>4</sup>.

Before reporting on a matter so referred to it, the Review Body must: (a) notify each relevant body<sup>5</sup>; (b) give each relevant body an opportunity to submit evidence and make representations<sup>6</sup>; and (c) give the Secretary of State an opportunity to submit evidence and make representations<sup>7</sup>. Following consideration of any such matter, the Review Body must report to the Prime Minister and the Secretary of State in accordance with any direction<sup>8</sup> of the Secretary of State about: (i) a consideration to which it is to have particular regard<sup>9</sup>; (ii) a matter on which it is to make a recommendation<sup>10</sup>; or (iii) the time within which it is to report<sup>11</sup>. Where the Prime Minister and the Secretary of State receive such a report, they must arrange for it to be published<sup>12</sup>.

1     Ie the body established under the School Teachers' Pay and Conditions Act 1991 s 1 (repealed) to examine and report on such matters relating to the statutory conditions of employment of school teachers in England and Wales as may from time to time be referred to it by the Secretary of State.

862. Appointment of members, chairman and deputy chairman.

The School Teachers' Review Body<sup>1</sup> is to consist of not less than five and not more than nine members (including the chairman)<sup>2</sup>. Members hold and vacate office in accordance with their terms of appointment<sup>3</sup> and may resign by notice in writing to the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup>. The Secretary of State may by notice in writing dismiss a member if the member: (1) is adjudged bankrupt<sup>5</sup>; (2) enters into an arrangement with his creditors<sup>6</sup>; or (3) is, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, unable, unfit or unwilling to perform his duties whether by reason of physical or mental illness or otherwise<sup>7</sup>.

The chairman of the Review Body is appointed by the Prime Minister<sup>8</sup>. The chairman may by notice in writing to the Prime Minister resign as chairman, or resign both as chairman and as a member of the Review Body<sup>9</sup>. The Prime Minister may by notice in writing dismiss a chairman<sup>10</sup>: (a) who is adjudged bankrupt<sup>11</sup>; (b) who enters into an arrangement with his creditors<sup>12</sup>; or (c) who is, in the opinion of the Prime Minister, unable, unfit or unwilling to perform his duties whether by reason of physical or mental illness or otherwise<sup>13</sup>. If the chairman ceases to be a member of the Review Body, he also ceases to be chairman<sup>14</sup>.

The Secretary of State may appoint one of the members of the Review Body to act as deputy chairman<sup>15</sup>. The deputy chairman may by notice in writing to the Secretary of State resign as deputy chairman, or resign both as deputy chairman and as a member of the Review Body<sup>16</sup>. If the deputy chairman ceases to be a member of the Review Body, he also ceases to be deputy chairman<sup>17</sup>.

The Review Body must determine its own proceedings, including any provision for a quorum<sup>18</sup>. The validity of proceedings of the Review Body is not affected by a vacancy in the membership, a vacancy in the position of chairman or a defect in the appointment of a member<sup>19</sup>.

864. Pay and conditions orders.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by order<sup>2</sup> ('a pay and conditions order') make provision for the determination of the remuneration of school teachers<sup>3</sup> and other conditions of employment of school teachers which relate to their professional duties or working time<sup>4</sup>. However, such an order may make provision about a matter only if the Secretary of State has referred the matter to the School Teachers' Review Body<sup>5</sup>, and considered its report<sup>6</sup>; and the Secretary of State may not make an order<sup>7</sup> unless he has consulted such of the following as appear to him to be appropriate to consult having regard to the content of the order: (1) associations of local education authorities<sup>8</sup>; (2) local education authorities<sup>9</sup>; (3) bodies representing the interests of governing bodies of schools<sup>10</sup>; and (4) bodies representing the interests of teachers<sup>11</sup>.

A pay and conditions order is made by statutory instrument<sup>12</sup>, and may make provision by reference to a document<sup>13</sup>. A pay and conditions order may, in particular<sup>14</sup>:

- 1561 (a) confer discretion on a local education authority or a governing body<sup>15</sup>;
- 1562 (b) confer a function (which may include the administration of a test or assessment, the exercise of a discretion or the exercise of a supervisory or appellate jurisdiction) on the Secretary of State or on a specified person who has agreed with the Secretary of State to perform that function<sup>16</sup>;
- 1563 (c) require a discretion or function conferred under head (a) or head (b) above to be exercised having regard to guidance given by the Secretary of State or another specified person<sup>17</sup>;
- 1564 (d) make provision for the determination of a teacher's remuneration by reference to any matter including, in particular, his qualifications, experience, duties, aptitude or previous salary<sup>18</sup>;
- 1565 (e) make provision for a right of appeal specified by or determined in accordance with the order<sup>19</sup>;
- 1566 (f) limit the aggregate amount of an allowance, or of a number of allowances, payable to teachers in a school<sup>20</sup>;
- 1567 (g) set a lower or upper limit on the number or proportion of teachers in a school who are paid on a specified scale<sup>21</sup>;
- 1568 (h) set a lower or upper limit on the number or proportion of teachers in a school who are paid a specified allowance<sup>22</sup>;
- 1569 (i) provide for special provisions to apply in relation to a description of school specified by or determined in accordance with the order<sup>23</sup>;
- 1570 (j) provide for the determination of a question of the interpretation or application of a provision of the order<sup>24</sup>.

Provision under head (e) or head (j) above may confer jurisdiction on a court, tribunal, person or body<sup>25</sup> and provide for a matter to be settled by agreement between, or in a manner agreed between, teachers and local education authorities or teachers and governing bodies<sup>26</sup>.

Where a pay and conditions order applies to a school teacher: (i) his remuneration must be determined and paid in accordance with any provision of the order which applies to him<sup>27</sup>; (ii) a provision of the order which relates to a condition of employment other than remuneration and which applies to him has effect as a term of his contract of employment<sup>28</sup>; and (iii) a term of that contract has no effect in so far as it makes provision which is prohibited by the order or which is otherwise inconsistent with a provision of the order<sup>29</sup>.

A local education authority and the governing body of a school must have regard to any guidance issued by the Secretary of State about the procedure to be followed in applying provisions of a pay and conditions order<sup>30</sup>. Where an employer fails to follow such guidance, the failure will not give rise to civil liability, but a court or tribunal may take the failure into account in any proceedings<sup>31</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

2 Such an order may: (1) make provision which applies generally or only in a specified case or in specified circumstances; (2) make different provision for different cases or circumstances; (3) make transitional provision: Education Act 2002 s 124(1). Such an order may make provision by reference to the exercise of another power under the Education Act 2002: s 124(2). See further the text and notes 12-31 infra. As to the making of orders under the Education Act 2002 generally see PARA 77 note 7 ante.

3 Ibid s 122(1)(a). A person is a school teacher for these purposes if: (1) he is a qualified teacher (s 122(3)(a)); (2) he provides primary or secondary education under a contract of employment or for services (s 122(3)(b)); (3) the other party to the contract is a local education authority or the governing body of a foundation, voluntary aided or foundation special school (s 122(3)(c)); and (4) the contract requires him to carry out work of a kind which is specified by regulations under s 133(1) (see PARA 770 ante) (s 122(3)(d)). A person is a school teacher for these purposes if he serves as the head teacher of a school maintained by a local education authority: s 122(4). A person is also a school teacher for these purposes if his case satisfies heads (2), (3) and (4) supra and: (a) he possesses a prescribed qualification; (b) he provides education of a prescribed kind or in prescribed circumstances, or both; (c) he is undertaking training of a prescribed kind, or obtaining experience of a prescribed kind, with a view to becoming a qualified teacher; (d) he is within a prescribed class of persons awaiting assessment for the purpose of becoming a qualified teacher; or (e) he is within a prescribed class of persons awaiting the award of a qualification: s 122(5). For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by an order under s 122: s 122(8). In exercise of the power so conferred, the Secretary of State has made the Education (School Teachers' Prescribed Qualifications, etc) Order 2003, SI 2003/1709. A person providing education in an establishment maintained by a local authority in the exercise of a social services function is not a school teacher for these purposes: Education Act 2002 s 122(6). For the meaning of 'qualified teacher' see PARA 769 ante. For the meaning of 'primary education' see PARA 16 ante; and for the meaning of 'secondary education' see PARA 17 ante. For the meaning of 'contract of employment' see PARA 333 note 3 ante. As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante; and as to governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante. As to foundation and voluntary schools and foundation special schools see PARA 102 et seq ante; and as to special schools see PARA 1027 et seq post. As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3).

5 Ie under ibid s 120 (see PARA 861 ante). As to the establishment of the School Teachers' Review Body see PARA 861 ante.

6 Ibid s 125(1). Section 125(1) does not apply: (1) to subsidiary provision; or (2) in a case where the Secretary of State has consulted the chairman of the Review Body about disapplying s 125(1): s 125(2). Provision is subsidiary for the purpose of head (1) supra if the Secretary of State thinks that it: (a) concerns only the criteria for entry into or exit from a particular class of teachers for purposes of remuneration; (b) concerns only the criteria for moving from one scale of remuneration to another; (c) concerns only the implementation or application of a system or principle on which the Review Body has reported; (d) prescribes a matter for the purpose of s 122(5) (see note 3 supra); (e) is made under s 123(4) (see note 18 infra); or (f) is minor, consequential, temporary, transitional or designed to resolve an anomaly: s 125(3). The Secretary of State may by order provide that provision of a specified kind (which may be described wholly or partly by reference to an opinion of the Secretary of State or another person): (i) is subsidiary for the purpose of head (1) supra (s 125(4)(a)); or (ii) is to cease to be subsidiary for that purpose (s 125(4)(b)). An order under s 125(4) may amend s 125(3): s 125(5). However, no order may be made by the Secretary of State under s 125(4) unless a draft of the instrument containing the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: see s 210(3); and PARA 77 note 7 ante.

7 Ie an order under either ibid s 122 (see the text and notes 1-4 supra) or 125(4)(a) (see note 6 head (i) supra).

8 Ibid s 126(a).

9 Ibid s 126(b).

10 Ibid s 126(c).

11 Ibid s 126(d).

12 See ibid s 210; and PARA 77 note 7 ante. An order under s 122 is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (see s 210(4); and PARA 77 note 7 ante) unless it contains only provisions which, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, give effect without significant modification to recommendations of the School Teachers' Review Body, in which case: (1) the order must contain a statement to that effect; and (2) s 210(4) does not apply (s 210(6)). As to the meaning of 'modification' see PARA 43 note 7 ante; definition applied by s 212(2), (3).

13 Ibid s 124(3). An order which makes provision by reference to a document must include provision about publication of the document; and a reference in s 124 to an order includes a reference to a document referred to by an order: s 124(3). In exercise of the powers conferred by ss 122(1), 123-124, the Secretary of State has made the Education (School Teachers' Pay and Conditions) (No 3) Order 2005, SI 2005/2212 (amended by SI 2005/3479), which directs that certain provisions set out in School Teachers' Pay and Conditions Document 2005 and Guidance on School Teachers' Pay and Conditions (September 2005; Ref: 0-11-271180-4), published by the Stationery Office Ltd, have effect from 1 September 2005 and that the remaining provisions have effect from 1 January 2006. As to the effect of the document referred to in the Education (School Teachers' Pay and Conditions) (No 2) Order 1999, SI 1999/2160 (revoked) for all purposes including the calculation of pensions see the Education Act 2002 s 147.

14 Ibid s 123(1). An order may make retrospective provision, but not so as to reduce remuneration in respect of a period wholly or partly before the making of the order, or alter a condition of employment to the detriment of a teacher in respect of a period wholly or partly before the making of the order: s 123(3). For special provisions as to schools in education action zones see PARA 865 post; and for special provisions for teachers on transfer of employment see PARA 866 post.

17 Ibid s 123(1)(c).

18 Ibid s 123(1)(d). The Secretary of State may by order provide: (1) that a payment or entitlement of a specified kind is or is not to be treated as remuneration (s 123(4)(a)); (2) that a specified matter is or is not to be treated for that purpose as relating to the professional duties of school teachers (s 123(4)(b)); (3) that a specified matter is or is not to be treated for that purpose as relating to the working time of school teachers (s 123(4)(c)). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such order had been made under s 123(4). However, by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the School Teachers' Remuneration, Professional Duties and Working Time Order 1992, SI 1992/3069, the School Teachers' Remuneration Order 2000, SI 2000/2324 (regarding lump sum incentive payments), and the School Teachers' Remuneration Order 2002, SI 2002/2103 (regarding personal bonus payments to school teachers taking part in the Excellence Fellowship scheme with a higher education institution), have effect as if made under the Education Act 2002 s 123(4). The School Teachers' Remuneration, Professional Duties and Working Time Order 1992, SI 1992/3069, provides that the following payments or other benefits are not to be regarded as remuneration: (a) pay, including sick pay and maternity pay, in respect of any period when a school teacher is absent from duties (art 2(1)(a)(i)); (b) any sum received as compensation for loss, injury, disablement or death arising during or out of the undertaking by a school teacher in his capacity as such of any activity, whether or not that activity is a professional duty or undertaken in working time (art 2(1)(a)(ii)); (c) any premium paid on an insurance policy taken out to cover risks arising during or out of the undertaking by a school teacher in his capacity as such of any activity, whether or not that activity is a professional duty or undertaken in working time (art 2(1)(a)(iii)). It also provides that the following matters are not to be regarded as falling within the professional duties or working time of school teachers: (i) sick leave (art 2(1)(b)(i)); (ii) maternity leave (art 2(1)(b)(ii)); (iii) other authorised absence of a teacher from his duties (art 2(1)(b)(iii)); (iv) the date when a teacher's appointment or retirement takes effect (art 2(1)(b)(iv)); (v) notice given by either party of termination of a teacher's contract of employment or the date when such termination takes effect (art 2(1)(b)(v)); (vi) procedures relating to the suspension or dismissal of a teacher (art 2(1)(b)(vi)); (vii) disciplinary and grievance procedures (art 2(1)(b)(vii)); (viii) procedures for establishing whether or not a teacher is fit to teach (art 2(1)(b)(viii)); (ix) the prohibition of acts which would constitute unlawful discrimination, whether on the part of the teacher or of any other person, under the provisions of the Race Relations Act 1976 or the Sex Discrimination Act 1975 (see DISCRIMINATION vol 13 (2007 Reissue)) (School Teachers' Remuneration, Professional Duties and Working Time Order 1992, SI 1992/3069, art 2(1)(b)(ix)); (x) the requirement to give denominational religious instruction (art 2(1)(b)(x)); (xi) the total hours and times of work of teachers employed to teach part-time (art 2(1)(b)(xi)).

864 Pay and conditions orders

NOTE 3--See the School Teachers' Incentive Payments (England) Order 2008, SI 2008/2099; the School Teachers' Incentive Payments (England) Order 2009, SI 2009/1974.

NOTE 13--SI 2005/2212 replaced: Education (School Teachers' Pay and Conditions) Order 2009, SI 2009/2132. Now, in exercise of the powers conferred by ss 122(1), 123, 124, the Secretary of State has made the Education (School Teachers' Pay and Conditions) Order 2009, SI 2009/2132, which directs that the provisions set out in School Teachers' Pay and Conditions Document 2009 and Guidance on School Teachers' Pay and Conditions, published by the Stationery Office Ltd, have effect from 1 September 2009.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(4) PAY AND CONDITIONS/(i) Statutory Conditions of Employment/865. Special provisions as to schools in education action zones.

865. Special provisions as to schools in education action zones.

On the application of the governing body<sup>1</sup> of a school<sup>2</sup> which forms part of an education action zone<sup>3</sup>, the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> may by order<sup>5</sup> provide that the provisions governing the effect of a pay and conditions order<sup>6</sup> will not apply to any school teacher<sup>7</sup> at the school<sup>8</sup>. A governing body may not make such an application unless it has consulted each school teacher at the school<sup>9</sup>. Such an application must specify a date for commencement of the order sought<sup>10</sup>.

Where such an order is in force in respect of a school: (1) the governing body must determine the remuneration and other conditions of employment of each school teacher at the school<sup>11</sup>; (2) the local education authority<sup>12</sup> must do anything necessary to give effect to the governing body's determination<sup>13</sup>; and (3) pending a determination under head (1) above, the terms on which a school teacher works at the school must remain unchanged<sup>14</sup>.

The Secretary of State may make regulations<sup>15</sup> about the provisions governing the effect of a pay and conditions order<sup>16</sup> where an order disapplying those provisions<sup>17</sup> is revoked, or lapses in whole or in part because one or more schools to which the order relates cease to form part of an education action zone<sup>18</sup>.

(ii) Pensions and Benefits

867. Superannuation of teachers.

Teachers' superannuation and pensions were, until 1965, governed mainly by the Teachers' (Superannuation) Acts 1918 to 1956<sup>1</sup>. The Teachers' Superannuation Act 1965 provided for the making of superannuation regulations, and introduced pensions for the widows and other dependants of teachers<sup>2</sup>. Teachers' superannuation is now governed by regulations made under the Superannuation Act 1972<sup>3</sup>.

Under the Superannuation Act 1972, the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> may, by regulations<sup>5</sup> made with the consent of the Minister for the Civil Service<sup>6</sup>, make provision with respect to the pensions, allowances or gratuities<sup>7</sup> which, subject to the fulfilment of such requirements and conditions as may be prescribed by the regulations, are to be, or may be, paid to or in respect of teachers<sup>8</sup> by the Secretary of State or, in the case of injury benefit<sup>9</sup>, by the Secretary of State, an employer of teachers or such other person as the Secretary of State may consider appropriate and may specify in the regulations<sup>10</sup>.

Where such regulations make provision with respect to money purchase benefits<sup>11</sup>, they may also: (1) include provision enabling a person to elect for such money purchase benefits as are to be provided to or in respect of him under the regulations to be purchased from any authorised provider<sup>12</sup> whom he may specify<sup>13</sup>; and (2) provide<sup>14</sup> that the making of such an election has the effect, in such cases as may be specified in the regulations, of discharging any liability of the Secretary of State to pay those benefits to or in respect of that person<sup>15</sup>. However, no regulations may be so framed as to have the effect that any money purchase benefits to be provided under them may only be provided in a manner which discharges that liability of the Secretary of State<sup>16</sup>.

Before making any regulations under the provisions described above, the Secretary of State must consult with representatives of local education authorities and teachers and with such representatives of other persons likely to be affected by the proposed regulations as appear to him to be appropriate<sup>17</sup>.

1 The Teachers' (Superannuation) Acts 1918 to 1956 have been repealed: see eg the Teachers' Superannuation Act 1965.

2 The Teachers' Superannuation Act 1965 was repealed by, and consolidated in, the Teachers' Superannuation Act 1967, which itself was repealed with savings by the Superannuation Act 1972.

3 See ibid s 9 (as amended); and the text and notes 4-17 infra.

4 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

5 As to the regulations made under the Superannuation Act 1972 s 9 (as amended) see the Teachers' Superannuation (Additional Voluntary Contributions) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/2924 (amended by SI 1995/2004; SI 1997/3001; SI 2000/666; SI 2000/3028; SI 2001/3649; SI 2005/2198) (see PARA 869 post); the Teachers' Pensions Regulations 1997, SI 1997/3001 (amended by SI 1998/1129; SI 1998/2255; SI 1998/2256; SI 1999/607; SI 2000/665; SI 2000/2431; SI 2000/3028; SI 2001/871; SI 2001/3649; SI 2002/3058; SI 2003/2096; SI 2004/587; SI 2005/2198) (see PARA 868 post); the Teachers' Pensions (Employers' Supplementary Contributions) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/502; the Teachers' Pensions (Contributable Salary) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/907; and the Teachers' Pensions (Sharing of Pensions on Divorce or Annulment) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/3028.

6 As to the Minister for the Civil Service see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 427, 550. The responsibility for pensions was transferred from the Minister for the Civil Service to the Treasury (see the Transfer of Functions (Minister for the Civil Service and Treasury) Order 1981, SI 1981/1670, art 2(b)) and then back from the Treasury to the Minister for the Civil Service (see the Transfer of Functions (Treasury and Minister for the Civil Service) Order 1995, SI 1995/269, art 3, Schedule).

7 Regulations under the Superannuation Act 1972 s 9 (as amended) may provide, notwithstanding anything in the Pensions (Increase) Act 1971, that the cost of increases under the Pensions (Increase) Act 1971 of such of the pensions, allowances or gratuities payable under the regulations as may be prescribed by the regulations, or such part of those increases as may be so prescribed, are to be defrayed by contributions from employers of teachers or from such other persons or classes of person (apart from teachers) as the Secretary of State may consider appropriate and may specify in the regulations, or by contributions from such of those employers or other persons as may be so specified: Superannuation Act 1972 s 9(3A) (s 9(2A), (3A), (5A) added by the Pensions (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1990 ss 4(1), 8(3), 11(2)). Any provisions of the Pensions (Increase) Act 1971, or of regulations made under s 5 (as amended), relating to liability for the cost of increases of pensions, allowances or gratuities payable under the regulations have effect subject to the provisions of any regulations made by virtue of the Superannuation Act 1972 s 9(3A) (as added) and for the time being in force: s 9(3A) (as so added). As to the Pensions (Increase) Act 1971 and the regulations so made see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 614 et seq.

8 For these purposes, 'teachers' includes such persons as may be prescribed by regulations made under the Superannuation Act 1972 s 9 (as amended), being persons employed otherwise than as teachers: (1) in a capacity connected with education which to a substantial extent involves the control or supervision of teachers; or (2) in employment which involves the performance of duties in connection with the provision of education or services ancillary to education: s 9(6).

9 For these purposes, 'injury benefit' means a pension, allowance or gratuity payable under the regulations to or in respect of a teacher in consequence of any injury sustained, or disease contracted, by him in the course of his employment in that capacity: ibid s 9(6) (definition added by the Pensions (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1990 ss 8(6), 11(3)).

The subsidiary powers of local authorities exercisable by a local education authority by virtue of the Local Government Act 1972 s 111 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 462) are taken to include, and to have at all times included, power to pay, or arrange for the payment of, injury benefit to or in respect of teachers: Superannuation Act 1972 s 9(5A) (as added: see note 7 supra). However, the Local Government Act 1972 s 111 ceases to confer any such power on an authority as from the coming into force of the first regulations under the Superannuation Act 1972 s 9 (as amended) which make provision for the payment of injury benefit by a local education authority to or in respect of teachers: s 9(5A) (as so added). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

10 Ibid s 9(1) (amended by the Pensions (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1990 s 11(1)); and see the Superannuation Act 1972 s 1(1). Without prejudice to the generality of s 9(1), regulations under s 9 (as amended) may include all or any of the provisions referred to in Sch 3 (see SOCIAL SECURITY AND PENSIONS vol 44(2) (Reissue) PARA 875), and may make different provision as respects different classes of persons and different circumstances: s 9(2). Where the regulations provide for the making of any such payment as is referred to in Sch 3 para 3, 5 or 6, they may also provide for the payment to be made by the Secretary of State: s 9(3).

Where regulations under s 9 (as amended) provide for the establishment of a superannuation fund, the regulations may also provide for the payment by the Secretary of State of the administrative expenses of the persons by whom, in accordance with the regulations, the fund is to be administered, and of such travelling, subsistence and other allowances to those persons as the Secretary of State may, with the consent of the Minister for the Civil Service, determine: s 9(4).

11 For these purposes, 'money purchase benefits', in relation to a member of a personal or occupational pension scheme or the widow or widower of a member of such a scheme, means benefits the rate or amount of which is calculated by reference to a payment or payments made by the member or by any other person in respect of the member and which are not average salary benefits: ibid s 9(6) (definition added by the Pensions (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1990 s 8(6); and amended by the Pension Schemes Act 1993 s 190, Sch 8 para 7); Pension Schemes Act 1993 s 181(1).

12 For these purposes, 'authorised provider', in relation to the investment of any sums paid by way of voluntary contributions or the provision of any benefit, means: (1) a person who has permission under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 Pt IV (ss 40-55) (as amended) (see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 48 (2008) PARA 348 et seq) to invest such sums or, as the case may be, to provide that benefit; (2) an EEA firm of a kind mentioned in s 31(1)(b), s 425(1)(a), Sch 3 para 5(a), (b) or (c), which has permission under Sch 3 para 15, as a result of qualifying for authorisation under Sch 3 para 12 (see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 48 (2008) PARA 315), to invest such sums or, as the case may be, to provide that benefit and which satisfies the conditions applicable to it which are specified in the Superannuation Act 1972 s 1(9B)-(9D) (as added); or (3) an EEA firm of a kind mentioned in the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 Sch 3 para 5(d), which has permission under Sch 3 para 15, as a result of qualifying for authorisation under Sch 3 para 12 (see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 48 (2008) PARA 315), to invest such sums or, as the case may be, to provide that benefit: Superannuation Act 1972 s 1(9) (definition substituted by the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Consequential Amendments and Repeals) Order 2001, SI 2001/3649, art 1); definition applied by virtue of the Superannuation Act 1972 s 9(6) (definition substituted by the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Consequential Amendments and Repeals) Order 2001, SI 2001/3649, art 1).

13 Superannuation Act 1972 s 9(2A)(a) (as added: see note 7 supra).

14 Ie notwithstanding ibid s 9(1) (as amended) (see the text and notes 4-10 supra).

15 Ibid s 9(2A)(b) (as added: see note 7 supra).

869. Additional voluntary contributions.

1 The Elementary School Teachers (Superannuation) Act 1898 was amended by the Elementary School Teachers (Superannuation) Act 1912 and applied to Jersey by the Elementary School Teachers Superannuation (Jersey) Act 1900. As to the rules made under the Elementary School Teachers (Superannuation) Act 1898 s 6 (amended by virtue of Administration of Estates (Small Payments) (Increase of Limit) Order 1984, SI 1984/539) see the Elementary School Teachers Superannuation Rules 1919, SR & O 1920/2298 (amended by the Administration of Estates (Small Payments) Act 1965 ss 1(1)(c), 6, Sch 1 Pt III; and by SI 1950/60).

2 Prior to 1 April 1945, 'certificated teachers' meant a teacher who was recognised under the Education Code as a certificated teacher for public elementary schools: Elementary School Teachers (Superannuation) Act 1898 s 11; Teachers (Superannuation) Act 1945 s 11(2) (repealed). In relation to any subsequent period, 'certificated teacher' meant any person who would for the time being have been recognised as a certificated teacher under the regulations which were in force with respect to such recognition immediately before 1 April 1945 if those regulations had remained in force thereafter: s 11(2) (repealed). For these purposes, 'Education Code' meant such minutes of the Education Department as were for the time being in force for the purpose of the Elementary Education Act 1870: Elementary School Teachers (Superannuation) Act 1898 s 11.

3 See ibid s 1 (amended by the Teachers (Superannuation) Act 1925 s 23(3); the Elementary School Teachers (Superannuation) Act 1912 s 1(1), (2); the Teachers (Superannuation) Act 1945 s 11(1); the Transfer of Functions (Education and Employment) Order 1995, SI 1995/2986, art 4(5); and by virtue of Decimal Currency Act 1969 s 10(1)). ### 871. Compensation for redundancy and premature retirement.

Regulations provide for compensation to teachers on redundancy and premature retirement<sup>1</sup>. A teacher who is entitled to a statutory redundancy payment<sup>2</sup> may claim compensation from his employer<sup>3</sup>.

Separate provision is made as to compensation payable for loss of employment or loss or diminution of emoluments consequent upon the reorganisation of education authorities in inner London<sup>10</sup>; and provision is also made for payment of compensation to teachers employed by a local education authority, other than those employed in schools or further or higher education institutions, and to certain administrative and support staff for redundancy or loss of remuneration caused by local government reorganisation<sup>11</sup>.

1 See the Teachers (Compensation for Redundancy and Premature Retirement) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/311 (as amended); and notes 2-9 infra. Part IV (regs 7-10) (as amended) introduces provisions for mandatory compensation for premature retirement. As to dismissal by reason of redundancy generally see EMPLOYMENT vol 40 (2009) PARA 790 et seq. See also Healey v Bridgend County Council [2002] EWCA Civ 1996, [2004] ICR 561. 3 See ibid reg 5 (amended by SI 1999/608). Such compensation must not exceed the difference between the statutory redundancy payment and the payment he would have been entitled to if the Employment Rights Act 1996 s 227(1)(c) (see EMPLOYMENT vol 39 (2009) PARA 121) had been repealed: see the Teachers (Compensation for Redundancy and Premature Retirement) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/311, reg 5. In the case of a person employed at an aided school, compensation is payable by the 'appropriate person', namely the local education authority, and in any other case is payable by the person by whom he was employed: reg 2(2) (definition substituted by SI 1999/608). The Teachers (Compensation for Redundancy and Premature Retirement) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/311 (as amended) also provide for discretionary compensation for termination of employment: see reg 6 (amended by SI 1998/2256; SI 1999/608).

4 See the Teachers (Compensation for Redundancy and Premature Retirement) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/311, reg 4(6)(a). As to relevant employment see reg 3 (amended by SI 1998/2256; SI 1999/608; SI 2000/664).

5 See the Teachers (Compensation for Redundancy and Premature Retirement) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/311, reg 4(7)(a).

6 As to these conditions see ibid reg 4(6)(c), (7)(b)-(e) (amended by SI 1998/2256). Only teachers who have not received discretionary compensation for termination under the Teachers (Compensation for Redundancy and Premature Retirement) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/311, reg 6 (as amended) may be credited with an additional period of service: see reg 4(6)(b).

NOTE 3--SI 1997/311 reg 6 substituted: SI 2006/2216.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(5) TEACHERS' DUTIES/872. The teacher's duties towards the pupil: common law and statutory.

(5) TEACHERS' DUTIES

872. The teacher's duties towards the pupil: common law and statutory.

The teacher's duty at common law is to take such care of the children in his charge as a careful parent would take of his own children<sup>1</sup>. The standard of care generally expected of a teacher is that of a reasonably prudent parent judged not in the context of his own home but in that of a school<sup>2</sup>, or the standard of a reasonable parent of a rather large family<sup>3</sup>. The general position that the duty of care is that of the reasonably careful and prudent father towards his own children is helpful when considering, for example, individual instructions to individual children in a school, but that rule may sometimes be unrealistic in the context of a large group<sup>4</sup>.

It is the statutory duty of every employee (including a teacher) while at work to take reasonable care for the health and safety of himself and of other persons who may be affected by his acts or omissions at work<sup>5</sup>.

In addition to the duties described above, there is a statutory duty imposed on teachers to promote the general progress and well-being of individual pupils or classes or groups assigned to them, to maintain good order and discipline among the pupils and to safeguard the health and safety of pupils both when they are authorised to be on school premises and when they are engaged in authorised school activities elsewhere<sup>6</sup>.

While the prevention of bullying among pupils is within a teacher's ordinary duty of care<sup>7</sup>, the occasions when a school would be in breach of duty for a failure to take steps within its power to combat the harmful behaviour of one pupil towards another even when they were outside school would be few and far between<sup>8</sup>.

Teachers may owe a duty of care in respect of the under-performance of pupils in some circumstances<sup>9</sup>.

1 Williams v Eady (1893) 10 TLR 41, CA.

2 Lyes v Middlesex County Council (1962) 61 LGR 443. 'A lot of pupils are apt to make much more noise even than a few children in a small home and there is . . . more skylarking and a bit of rough play': Lyes v Middlesex County Council supra at 446 per Edmund Davies J.

3 Jacques v Oxfordshire County Council (1967) 66 LGR 440 at 444 per Waller J.

Compare and contrast the court's decisions in Butt v Cambridgeshire and Isle of Ely County Council (1969) 68 LGR 81, CA, and Black v Kent County Council (1983) 82 LGR 39, CA. Both Butt v Cambridgeshire and Isle of Ely County Council supra and Black v Kent County Council supra were cases of eye injuries caused by young children using sharp-pointed scissors. In Butt v Cambridgeshire and Isle of Ely County Council supra (class of 37 nine and ten-year-old girls) the local education authority was held not liable for the injury. In Black v Kent County Council supra (class of 25 seven-year-olds) the authority was held liable.

The gradual raising of the standard of care expected in schools is evident from the cases. See eg Rich v LCC [1953] 2 All ER 376, [1953] 1 WLR 895, CA (heap of coke lying unfenced on part of senior school playground; plaintiff lost an eye when another young boy threw a piece of coke at him; it was held that the authority was not obliged to prevent the boys having access to the coke; the supervision of the boys was held to be adequate and therefore the authority was not liable); Clark v Monmouthshire County Council (1954) 52 LGR 246, CA (boy stabbed in leg by another boy in playground during break; staff did not know that the other boy was carrying a knife; at time of accident no prefect on duty in playground; master in charge passed through the playground twice during break; the authority was held not negligent ('The duty of a school does not extend to constant supervision of all the boys all the time': at 247-248 per Denning LJ)). See also Suckling v Essex County Council (1955) Times, 27 January (plaintiff injured during horseplay involving a scorer knife which another boy had taken from a cupboard while the teacher was out of the room), where Vaisey J stated that it seemed to him that if he were to hold that every school with small children was committing an actionable wrong in leaving unlocked such implements as these scissor knives he would be putting an altogether excessive burden on educational establishments. Not only would it be difficult for them to be conducted in a successful and reasonable manner, but it would run the serious risk of turning these children into the votaries of the principle of safety first. He said that it was better that a boy should break his neck than allow other people to break his spirit. This decision and the tenor of the judge's language do not accord with the line of authority beginning with Williams v Eady (1893) 10 TLR 41, CA (see the text to note 1 supra), in which a boy played with bottle containing phosphorus which was in a conservatory to which the pupils had access; the bottle burst, and the phosphorus exploded and injured the plaintiff; and it was held that a schoolmaster is bound to take such care of his boys as a careful father would take of his boys, and is bound to take notice of the ordinary nature of young boys, their tendency to do mischievous acts, and their propensity to meddle with anything that came in their way, and that, having phosphorus in his house, he was bound not to leave it in any place in which they might get at it (at 42 per Lord Esher MR)). See also *Martin v Middlesbrough Corp*n (1965) 63 LGR 385, CA (girl slipped on icy playground and cut her hand on a piece of broken milk-bottle glass lying on a grating; broken milk bottles were often found on the playground; it was held there was a very serious risk of serious injury and the authority was liable); Beaumont v Surrey County Council (1968) 66 LGR 580 (discarded piece of elastic from mini-trampoline deposited, uncovered, in litter bin in loggia of school and found by pupils during next day's morning break; despite supervision of break by two masters, four prefects, four sub-prefects and four monitors, no member of staff was at loggia or on the playground when the plaintiff was injured in horseplay with the elastic; it was held: (1) the possibility of physical injury from use of, or horseplay with, the elastic was foreseeable; (2) if the school system of supervision had been working properly the horseplay would have been stopped; (3) the authority fell short of the high standards the law demanded of it); Norman v Inner London Education Authority (1974) Times, 14 December (unlabelled beaker of sulphuric acid left on bench in chemistry laboratory in master's absence; boy filled syringe from beaker and squirted it in another boy's eye; it was held that the master's failure to give a specific warning of the danger involved a departure from the very high standards demanded); Moore v Hampshire County Council (1981) 80 LGR 481, CA (girl born with dislocated hips, forbidden by parent to take part in physical education (PE); the headmistress noted fact, but the girl told PE teacher untruthfully that she was allowed by the doctor to do PE and, in attempting a handstand in PE class, fell and broke an ankle; it was held that the teacher had failed to conform to the standard of care required in that she failed to supervise the girl's ability to do a handstand, as her special condition required, and in allowing her to take part in the PE class without first checking that she was allowed to do so); G v Upshire Primary School (2 February 2001, unreported), QBD (no liability in respect of a pupil who fell when sliding down banister at school). ### 872 The teacher's duties towards the pupil: common law and statutory

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

NOTE 6--SI 2005/2212 replaced: SI 2009/2132. Now see School Teachers' Pay and Conditions Document 2009 and Guidance on School Teachers' Pay and Conditions, published by the Stationery Office Ltd, para 73 (professional duties), which is given effect by the Education (School Teachers' Pay and Conditions) Order 2009, SI 2009/2132, which directs that the provisions set out in the document come into force from 1 September 2009.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/5. TEACHERS/(5) TEACHERS' DUTIES/873. Supervision of pupils.

873. Supervision of pupils.

Negligence in the supervision of pupils may render those charged with their care liable to compensate the pupils or any other person suffering injury or damage as a result<sup>1</sup>. The duty is to take at least such care of the pupils as a careful parent would take of his children<sup>2</sup>, and the ordinary principles of vicarious liability<sup>3</sup> apply where the negligence is that of a teacher<sup>4</sup>. The age of the pupil<sup>5</sup> and the nature of the activity<sup>6</sup> in which he is taking part are material factors in determining the degree of supervision demanded. For example, the release of a very young child from school before the scheduled time in certain circumstances has been held to be negligent<sup>7</sup>.

1 Supervision is an incident of the giving of secular instruction, which includes proper recreation periods, and the duty to provide supervision lies on the education authority or body of governors as the case may be: see Greenwood v Atherton [1938] 2 All ER 475 at 478 per Lewis J; affd [1939] 1 KB 388, [1938] 4 All ER 686, CA (the duty of supervision was held to be a public duty and protected by the Public Authorities Protection Act 1893 (repealed)).

2 Williams v Eady (1893) 10 TLR 41 at 42, CA, per Lord Esher MR. 'That test has been the one adopted ever since': Rich v LCC [1953] 2 All ER 376 at 379, [1953] 1 WLR 895 at 900, CA, per Singleton LJ. But 'one has to visualise a parent with a very large family': Ricketts v Erith Borough Council [1943] 2 All ER 629 at 631 per Tucker J. 'School authorities . . . must strike some balance between the meticulous supervision of children every moment of the time when they are under their care, and the very desirable object of encouraging the sturdy independence of children as they grow up; . . . encouragement . . . must start at quite an early age': Jeffery v LCC (1954) 52 LGR 521 at 523 per McNair J (a five-year-old child climbed on to a glass roof, fell and sustained fatal injuries).

In later cases a higher standard of care has been required than that in Williams v Eady supra: see eg Lyes v Middlesex County Council (1962) 61 LGR 443 (plaintiff's hand caused to break glass in door by fellow pupil's prank; glass too thin for the rough-and-tumble of school life); Reffell v Surrey County Council [1964] 1 All ER 743, [1964] 1 WLR 358 (dangerous door); Beaumont v Surrey County Council (1968) 66 LGR 580 (it is a schoolmaster's duty, bearing in mind the known propensities of children between the ages of 11 and 18, to take all reasonable and proper steps to prevent any of the pupils under his care from suffering injury from inanimate objects, from the actions of their fellow pupils, or from a combination of the two). As to supervision in school playgrounds see Langham v Governors of Wellingborough School and Fryer (1932) 101 LjKB 513, CA (golf ball, hit with stick in playground, flew through open door to strike plaintiff, inside school building, in the eye; no express evidence as to supervision in the playground; claim failed); Rawsthorne v Ottley [1937] 3 All ER 902 (tip-up lorry with single driver delivered coke to school playground; a pupil jumped on to lorry behind driver's cab; when tipping part of lorry was released it fell and crushed claimant pupil's leg; headmaster not negligent in leaving boys in playground without supervision); Clark v Monmouthshire County Council (1954) 52 LGR 246, CA (the duty of a schoolmaster does not extend to constant supervision of all the boys in his care all the time); Mays v Essex County Council (1975) Times, 11 October (school under no legal duty to supervise the early arrivals in the playground before school began nor to prevent children sliding on ice); cf Kearn-Price v Kent County Council [2002] EWCA Civ 1539, [2003] ELR 17, [2003] PIQR P167, [2002] All ER (D) 440 (Oct) (full-size leather football caused injury during pre-school period to pupil who had been behaving reasonably as a mere bystander in a playground; enforcement of ban on such footballs would have prevented injury; duty not unduly onerous, even shortly before registration started). See also Jeffery v LCC supra; Price v Caernarvonshire County Council (1960) Times, 11 February, CA; Newton v East Ham Corp [1963] CLY 2426; Martin v Middlesbrough Corp (1965) 63 LGR 385, CA; Beaumont v Surrey County Council supra; Ward v Hertfordshire County Council [1970] 1 All ER 535, [1970] 1 WLR 356, CA (unsupervised race in playground and pupil tripped and struck head against flint wall; it was held that the local education authority was not liable: (1) because the wall was not dangerous, bearing in mind its nature, typicality and long-standing and the fact that complaints had never been made against it; (2) since the accident occurred in the ordinary course of play the lack of supervision was irrelevant: it is impossible so to supervise children that they never fall down and hurt themselves); Simonds v Isle of Wight Council [2003] EWHC 2303 (QB), [2004] ELR 59, [2003] 39 LS Gaz R 40, (2003) Times, 9 October, [2003] All ER (D) 156 (Sep) (child broke arm on sports day while playing on swings unsupervised, having spent some time with his mother; school not liable; playing fields could not be made free of all hazards; fact that potential hazard had been diagnosed by school did not impose duty to make access or use impossible). 5 The duty to safeguard pupils' health and safety (see PARA 872 ante) has particular application in the case of young children. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(1) THE QUALIFICATIONS AND CURRICULUM AUTHORITY AND THE QUALIFICATIONS, CURRICULUM AND ASSESSMENT AUTHORITY FOR WALES/(ii) The Qualifications and Curriculum Authority/A. CONSTITUTION AND ADMINISTRATION/876A. The Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation.

876A. The Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation.

There is to be a body corporate known as the Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation ('Ofqual') and provision is made in relation to its constitution and proceedings: see Apprenticeships, Skills, Children and Learning Act 2009 s 127(1), Sch 9. Ofqual's objectives, which relate to 'regulated qualifications' (defined in s 130) and 'regulated assessment arrangements' (defined in s 131), in discharging its functions are (1) the qualifications standards objective; (2) the assessments standards objective; (3) the public confidence objective; (4) the awareness objective; and (5) the efficiency objective: s 128. In carrying out its functions Ofqual must, so far as is reasonably practicable, act in a way that is compatible with its objectives and which it considers most appropriate for the purposes of meeting those objectives: s 129. Ofqual must recognise awarding bodies in respect of specific qualifications or descriptions of qualification, or in respect of credits for components of qualifications, thereby confirming that the body is fit to award or authenticate the qualifications or qualifications of a description for which it is recognised: s 132. Ofqual has discretionary powers to set the criteria it will use to decide whether to recognise an awarding body (s 133), may impose general conditions on recognition (s 134), and may impose certain other conditions on recognition (s 135).

Ofqual may impose a fee capping condition limiting the amount of a particular fee if specified conditions are satisfied: s 136. There are limits on what Ofqual may require under an entry and inspection condition: s 137. It may decide that a certain qualification, or qualifications falling within a certain description, is or are subject to the accreditation requirement, so that a recognised body cannot award or authenticate any form of such a qualification unless the particular form is individually accredited (s 138), and provision is made for the process of accrediting particular forms of qualifications (s 139). Ofqual must publish the criteria for accreditation and any subsequent revisions of those criteria: s 140. The Secretary of State may make an order specifying the minimum requirements in respect of knowledge, skills or understanding that someone must be able to demonstrate to gain a particular qualification or a qualification of a particular description: s 141. Before making such an order, the Secretary of State must consult with Ofqual and with others as appropriate (s 142) and, when such an order has been made, Ofqual must set recognition criteria, recognition conditions, and/or accreditation criteria for the qualification or description of qualification to secure that the minimum requirements are met (s 143). The Secretary of State may by order revoke an order specifying minimum requirements: s 144. A recognised body which is offering a form of a relevant qualification must assign to it a number of hours of guided learning for the purposes of determining whether a person studying for the qualification is able to meet the requirement in the Education and Skills Act 2008 s 2(1)(c) (see PARA 1148A.1) for persons under 18 in full-time employment to participate in sufficient relevant education or training: s 145 (ss 145, 146 come into force on a day or days to be appointed). Ofqual must publish the criteria which recognised bodies must apply in order to determine whether they need to assign guided learning hours to a qualification, and if so the number of hours they should assign to a form of the qualification (s 146) and a recognised body may surrender recognition by giving notice to Ofqual (s 147). Ofqual must maintain a register of recognised bodies, and the details of the qualifications in respect of which they are recognised and the forms of those qualifications that they offer (s 148) (s 148 is in force in part: see SI 2010/1151), and may keep under review any connected activities of a recognised awarding body (s 149). Ofqual may also investigate complaints in respect of the award or authentication of a regulated qualification, or arrange for an independent party to do so (s 150), give directions, in specified circumstances, to a recognised body to secure compliance with a condition imposed on its recognition (s 151), and withdraw recognition in respect of some or all of the qualifications in respect of which a body is recognised if the body has breached a condition of recognition (s 152). Ofqual must publish a statement on how it will perform its monitoring and enforcement functions and guidance to recognised bodies in relation to the award and authentication of qualifications: s 153. It may keep under review all aspects of qualifications to which these provisions apply (s 154) and must keep under review any system used by the Secretary of State for allocating values to qualifications by reference to the level of attainment indicated by the qualifications and for the purposes of a qualifications-based performance management system (s 155) (s 155 comes into force on a day or days to be appointed). Ofqual may co-operate or work jointly with another public authority where it is appropriate to do so for the efficient and effective performance of any of its functions in connection with qualifications (s 156) and may provide information to a qualifications regulator elsewhere in the United Kingdom to support the qualifications functions of the other regulator (s 157).

Ofqual must keep under review all aspects of assessment arrangements in relation to each of the key stages of the national curriculum and the Early Years Foundation Stage ('EYFS') (s 161), and may require the Secretary of State, national curriculum responsible bodies and EYFS responsible bodies and Ofsted to provide it with the information it considers it needs to perform this role: s 162. Ofqual must notify the Secretary of State and any responsible body whose act or omission appears to Ofqual to have contributed to a significant failing if it considers that there is or is likely to be a significant failing in the assessment arrangements (s 163) and must publish and keep under regular review national curriculum assessments regulatory framework and EYFS assessments regulatory framework documents (ss 164, 165). Ofqual may provide services to other persons in connection with any of its functions (s 167) and carry out research in relation to qualifications that would be eligible for regulation or in relation to regulated assessment arrangements (s 169). It must, if requested to do so, provide the Secretary of State with information or advice relating to its functions (s 168) and must not impose or maintain unnecessary regulatory burdens (s 170). It must also publish an annual report and may prepare and publish other reports: s 171. The Secretary of State may transfer the staff and property of the Qualifications and Curriculum Agency to Ofqual: s 173, Sch 10.

876B. The Qualifications and Curriculum Development Agency.

The Qualifications and Curriculum Authority is to be known as the Qualifications and Curriculum Development Agency ('QCDA') and provision is made in relation to its constitution and proceedings: Apprenticeships, Skills, Children and Learning Act 2009 s 175, Sch 11. The QCDA's objective is to promote quality and coherence in education and training in England (s 176) and the matters to which it must have regard in exercising its functions and pursuing its objective are specified (s 177). The qualifications that fall within the remit of the QCDA are defined and the Secretary of State may exclude qualifications from its remit: s 178. For the qualifications so excluded, see Qualifications and Curriculum Development Agency's Remit Order 2010, SI 2010/527. The QCDA must keep under review all aspects of qualifications within its remit, must provide advice or carry out research relating to such qualifications if requested to do so by the Secretary of State, and may publish information relating to qualifications within its remit: s 179. It must also assist the Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation (see PARA 876A) in relation to its qualifications functions if requested to do so: s 180 (s 180 is in force in part: see SI 2010/1151).

The QCDA has specified duties and powers with respect to (1) the curriculum in maintained schools in England for pupils who are of compulsory school age, and pupils in maintained nursery schools (s 181); (2) early learning goals and educational programmes (s 182); and (3) assessment arrangements within its remit (s 183). It may also provide services or other assistance in relation to specified matters (s 184), must advise the Secretary of State on any matters relating to education or training in England which the Secretary of State refers to it (s 185), and must carry out such ancillary activities relating to its functions as the Secretary of State may direct (s 186). The QCDA may co-operate or work jointly with other public bodies where it is appropriate for the efficient and effective performance of any of its functions: s 187. The Secretary of State may confer supplementary functions on the QCDA and may give directions to it as to the performance of any of its functions: ss 188, 189. In performing its functions, the QCDA must have regard to any guidance given by the Secretary of State: s 190.

As to the revised constitution, proceedings and functions of the QCDA see PARA 876B. Provision has also been made for the establishment of the Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation ('Ofqual'), which has taken over the regulatory functions of the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority: see PARA 876A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(1) THE QUALIFICATIONS AND CURRICULUM AUTHORITY AND THE QUALIFICATIONS, CURRICULUM AND ASSESSMENT AUTHORITY FOR WALES/(ii) The Qualifications and Curriculum Authority/B. FUNCTIONS/888. External vocational and academic qualifications.

888. External vocational and academic qualifications.

- 1588 (1) to keep under review all aspects of such qualifications<sup>6</sup>;
- 1589 (2) to advise the Secretary of State<sup>7</sup> on such matters concerned with such qualifications as he may refer to it or as it may see fit<sup>8</sup>;
- 1590 (3) to advise the Secretary of State on, and if so requested by him assist him to carry out, programmes of research and development for purposes connected with such qualifications<sup>9</sup>;
- 1591 (4) to provide support and advice to persons providing courses leading to such qualifications with a view to establishing and maintaining high standards in the provision of such courses<sup>10</sup>;
- 1592 (5) to publish and disseminate, and assist in the publication and dissemination of, information relating to such qualifications<sup>11</sup>;
- 1593 (6) to develop and publish criteria<sup>12</sup> for the accreditation of such qualifications<sup>13</sup>;
- 1594 (7) to accredit, where it meets such criteria, any such qualifications submitted for accreditation<sup>14</sup>;
- 1595 (8) to make arrangements, whether or not with others, for the development, setting or administration of tests or tasks which fall to be undertaken with a view to obtaining external qualifications<sup>15</sup> and which fall within a prescribed<sup>16</sup> description<sup>17</sup>.

Except to the extent that<sup>18</sup> they are for the time being exercisable with respect to such qualifications solely by the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales, the functions set out in heads (1) to (8) above are exercisable in relation to Wales by the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority<sup>19</sup>. Such functions are exercisable either solely by the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority<sup>20</sup>, or, if an order<sup>21</sup> so provides, by the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority concurrently with the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales<sup>22</sup>.

Heads (1) to (5) above do not apply to qualifications awarded or authenticated by institutions within the higher education sector other than those which have been submitted for accreditation under head (7) above<sup>23</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 14 note 5 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 1997 s 56(2).

3 As to the establishment, constitution and administration of the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority see PARA 875 et seq ante.

4 For these purposes, 'external qualification' means: (1) any academic or vocational qualification authenticated or awarded by an outside person, except an academic qualification at first degree level or any comparable or higher level; or (2) whether within head (1) supra or not, any National Vocational Qualification: Education Act 1997 s 24(6). For these purposes, a qualification is awarded by an outside person if the course of education or training leading to the qualification is provided by an institution or an employer and it is awarded by a person other than the institution or employer or a member of its or his staff; and a qualification is authenticated by an outside person if it is awarded by an institution or employer and is authenticated by a person other than the institution or employer or a member of its or his staff: s 24(7).

15 As to external qualifications see PARAS 969-977 post.

16 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State under the Education Act 1997: s 56(1). Any power of the Secretary of State to make orders or regulations under the Education Act 1997, except an order under s 25 (as amended) (advising and assisting the Secretary of State: see PARA 889 post) or s 31 (as amended) (advising and assisting the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales: see PARA 907 post), is exercised by statutory instrument: s 54(1). A statutory instrument containing any such order or regulations, except an order under s 58 (as amended) (ie commencement orders), is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 54(2). Any such order or regulations may make different provision for different cases, circumstances or areas and may contain such incidental, supplemental, saving or transitional provisions as the Secretary of State thinks fit: s 54(3). Without prejudice to the generality of s 54(3), any order or regulations under the Education Act 1997 may make in relation to Wales provision different from that made in relation to England: s 54(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 24 in relation to England.

FUNCTIONS/890. Discharge of functions.

890. Discharge of functions.

- 1596 (1) comply with any directions given by the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup>;
- 1597 (2) act in accordance with any plans approved by him<sup>5</sup>; and
- 1598 (3) so far as relevant, have regard to the requirements of: (a) the statutory provision<sup>6</sup> relating to general duties in respect of the curriculum<sup>7</sup>; (b) industry, commerce, finance and the professions regarding education and training, including required standards of practical competence<sup>8</sup>; and (c) persons with special learning needs<sup>9</sup>.

In carrying out those functions the Authority must in addition have regard to information supplied to it by Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Schools in England<sup>10</sup> or by any body designated by the Secretary of State for these purposes<sup>11</sup>.

Where in carrying out any of its functions under Part V of the Education Act 1997 the Authority accredits any qualification, it may do so on such terms, including terms as to payment, as it may determine<sup>12</sup>. Those conditions may in particular include conditions:

- 1599 (i) placing a limit on the amount of the fee that can be demanded in respect of any award or authentication of the qualification in question<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1600 (ii) requiring rights to enter premises<sup>14</sup> and to inspect and copy documents so far as necessary for the Authority to satisfy itself that the appropriate standards are being maintained, in relation to the award or authentication of the qualification in question, by the persons receiving the accreditation, or to determine whether to impose a condition falling within head (i) above and if so what that condition should be<sup>15</sup>.

FUNCTIONS/892. Administrative functions.

892. Administrative functions.

The Qualifications and Curriculum Authority<sup>1</sup> may do anything which is calculated to facilitate, or is incidental or conducive to, the carrying out of any of its functions<sup>2</sup>. In particular, the Authority may:

- 1603 (1) acquire or dispose of land<sup>3</sup> or other property<sup>4</sup>;
- 1604 (2) enter into contracts<sup>5</sup>;
- 1605 (3) form bodies corporate or associated or other bodies which are not bodies corporate<sup>6</sup>;
- 1606 (4) enter into joint ventures with other persons<sup>7</sup>;
- 1607 (5) subscribe for shares or stock<sup>8</sup>;
- 1608 (6) invest any sums not immediately required for the purpose of carrying out its functions<sup>9</sup>;
- 1609 (7) accept gifts of money, land or other property<sup>10</sup>; and
- 1610 (8) borrow money<sup>11</sup>.

The Authority may also authorise the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales<sup>12</sup> to act as its agent in connection with the exercise of any of the Authority's functions in relation to Wales<sup>13</sup>. The consent of the Secretary of State is required for the exercise of any power conferred by head (3) or head (4) above, or of the power to authorise<sup>14</sup> the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales to act as its agent<sup>15</sup>.

The Qualifications and Curriculum Authority may give to any person or body, whether or not in the United Kingdom<sup>16</sup>, such assistance as it may determine<sup>17</sup>. Assistance may be provided on such terms and subject to such conditions, if any, as the Authority may determine<sup>18</sup>. In particular, assistance may be provided free of charge or on such terms as to payment as the Authority may determine<sup>19</sup>. The power to provide assistance<sup>20</sup> does not extend to the giving of financial assistance, and the consent of the Secretary of State is required for any exercise of that power<sup>21</sup>.

A person holds and vacates office as a member or as chairman or deputy chairman of the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales<sup>1</sup> in accordance with the terms of his appointment and, on ceasing to be a member, is eligible for re-appointment<sup>2</sup>. A person may at any time by notice in writing to the National Assembly for Wales<sup>3</sup> resign his office as a member or as chairman or deputy chairman of the Authority<sup>4</sup>. The Assembly may, if satisfied that a member of the Authority:

- 1613 (1) has been absent from meetings of the Authority for a continuous period of more than six months without the permission of the Authority<sup>5</sup>; or remove him from office by giving him notice in writing upon which the office becomes vacant<sup>8</sup>. If the chairman or deputy chairman of the Authority ceases to be a member of the Authority, he must also cease to be chairman or deputy chairman<sup>9</sup>.
- 1614 (2) is unable or unfit to discharge the functions<sup>6</sup> of a member<sup>7</sup>,

TEXT AND NOTE 2--For 'Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales' read 'National Assembly for Wales': 1997 Act s 29(1) (amended by the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales (Transfer of Functions to the National Assembly for Wales and Abolition) Order 2005, SI 2005/3239).

TEXT AND NOTES 14, 15--1997 Act s 29(2)(b), (c) repealed: SI 2005/3239.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(1) THE QUALIFICATIONS AND CURRICULUM AUTHORITY AND THE QUALIFICATIONS, CURRICULUM AND ASSESSMENT AUTHORITY FOR WALES/ (iii) The Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales/B. FUNCTIONS/906. External vocational and academic qualifications.

906. External vocational and academic qualifications.

The Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales<sup>1</sup> has, in relation to Wales<sup>2</sup>, such functions<sup>3</sup> with respect to external qualifications<sup>4</sup> as are for the time being conferred on the Authority by an order made by the National Assembly for Wales<sup>5</sup>. The functions with respect to external qualifications which may be conferred on the Authority by such an order are functions<sup>6</sup> similar to those exercised in relation to England by the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority<sup>7</sup> with respect to external qualifications<sup>8</sup>, and the functions in question may be conferred so as to be exercisable either solely by the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales<sup>9</sup>, or by the Authority concurrently with the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to the establishment of the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales see PARA 875 ante; and as to its constitution and administration see PARA 894 et seq ante. On 1 April 2006, all the functions of the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales are transferred to the National Assembly for Wales: see PARA 875 note 4 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

3 As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 14 note 5 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 1997 s 56(2).

4 For the meaning of 'external qualification' see PARA 888 note 4 ante; definition applied by ibid s 30(5).

5 Ibid s 30(1) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 ss 103(1), (4)(a), 153, Sch 11). As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of orders under the Education Act 1997 generally see PARA 888 note 16 ante. As to the orders made under s 30(1) see the Education (Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales) (Conferment of Functions) Order 1997, SI 1997/2140; and the Education (Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales) (Conferment of Function) Order 2001, SI 2001/3907. As to regulations made under the Education Act 1997 s 24(2)(gg) (as added and applied) see the Education (External Qualifications) (Description of Tests) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3901. In any order made under the Education Act 1997 s 30(1) (as amended) before 19 December 2002 (ie before the commencement of the Education Act 2002 s 189(1), Sch 17 para 6: see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 1) (Wales) Order 2002, SI 2002/3185, art 4) any reference to functions falling within the Education Act 1997 s 24(2)(f) (see PARA 888 ante) is to be taken to be a reference to those functions as extended by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 189, Sch 17 para 2 (see PARA 888 note 12 ante): Education Act 2002 Sch 17 para 6.

Where an order under the Education Act 1997 s 30(1) (as amended) is made so as to come into force at any time after 1 October 1997 (ie the day on which s 30(1) (as amended) came into force: see the Education Act 1997 (Commencement No 2 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1997, SI 1997/1468, art 2(3), Sch 1 Pt III), the order may include provisions for: (1) the transfer of staff; and (2) the transfer of property, rights and liabilities held, enjoyed or incurred in connection with any function which, as a result of the order, is to be exercisable by the Authority, whether solely or concurrently: Education Act 1997 s 30(4). Stamp duty is not chargeable in respect of any transfer effected by virtue of s 30 (as amended): s 53(1). However, no instrument, other than a statutory instrument, made or executed in pursuance of s 30 (as amended) is to be treated as duly stamped unless it is stamped with the duty to which it would, but for s 53 (and, if applicable, the Finance Act 1982 s 129 (as amended) (see STAMP DUTIES AND STAMP DUTY RESERVE TAX vol 44(1)(Reissue) PARA 1093), be liable or it has, in accordance with the provisions of the Stamp Act 1891 s 12 (as substituted) (see STAMP DUTIES AND STAMP DUTY RESERVE TAX vol 44(1)(Reissue) PARA 1111), been stamped with a particular stamp denoting that it is not chargeable with any duty or that it has been duly stamped: Education Act 1997 s 53(2). A land transaction effected under or by virtue of s 30 (as amended) is also exempt from charge for the purposes of stamp duty land tax: s 53A(1) (s 53A added by the Stamp Duty Land Tax (Consequential Amendment of Enactments) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2867, reg 2, Schedule Pt 1 para 26). Relief under the Education Act 1997 s 53A (as added) must be claimed in a land transaction return or an amendment of such a return: s 53A(2) (as so added). For these purposes, 'land transaction' has the meaning given by the Finance Act 2003 s 43(1) (see STAMP DUTIES AND STAMP DUTY RESERVE TAX); and 'land transaction return' has the meaning given by the Finance Act 2003 s 76(1) (see STAMP DUTIES AND STAMP DUTY RESERVE TAX): Education Act 1997 s 53A(3) (as so added).

- 6    le the functions falling within ibid s 24(2)(a)-(gg) (as amended): see PARA 888 ante.
- 7    As to the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority see PARAS 876-893 ante.
- 8    Education Act 1997 s 30(2) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 103(1), (4)(b)).

906 External vocational and academic qualifications

TEXT AND NOTES--1997 Act s 30(1) substituted, s 30(1A), (1B) added, s 30(4) repealed: Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales (Transfer of Functions to the National Assembly for Wales and Abolition) Order 2005, SI 2005/3239; Education and Skills Act 2008 s 162(2)-(5). Now, the 1997 Act s 30 applies, with respect to external qualifications in relation to Wales, for the purposes of (1) keeping under review all aspects of such qualifications; (2) providing support and advice to persons providing courses leading to such qualifications with a view to establishing and maintaining high standards in the provision of such courses; (3) publishing and disseminating, and assisting in the publication and dissemination of, information relating to such qualifications; (4) developing and publishing criteria for the recognition of persons who, as outside persons, award or authenticate such qualifications or credits in respect of components of such qualifications; (5) recognising, where they meet such criteria, any such persons who apply to be recognised; (6) developing and publishing criteria for the accreditation of such qualifications where they are awarded or authenticated by persons recognised under head (5); (7) accrediting any such qualifications submitted for accreditation where they meet such criteria; (8) developing and publishing rules and procedures for dealing with the effect on the continued accreditation of such qualifications where any person awarding or authenticating them ceases to be recognised; and (9) making arrangements, whether or not with others, for the development, setting and administration of tests or tasks which fall to be undertaken with a view to obtaining such qualifications and which fall within a prescribed description: s 30(1) (as so substituted and amended) (head (8) in force 31 October 2009: see SI 2009/784). In head (4), 'criteria' includes criteria which are to be applied for the purpose of ensuring that the number of different accredited qualifications in similar subject areas or serving similar functions is not excessive, and head (7) is to be construed accordingly: s 30(1A). The following functions are exercisable solely by the Welsh Ministers (a) the functions set out in heads (4) and (5); and (b) the functions set out in the heads so far as they relate to external qualifications other than National Vocational Qualifications: s 30(1B). In exercise of the functions conferred by s 30(1), the Welsh Ministers have made the Functions in relation to External Qualifications (Wales) Order 2009, SI 2009/1220.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(1) THE QUALIFICATIONS AND CURRICULUM AUTHORITY AND THE QUALIFICATIONS, CURRICULUM AND ASSESSMENT AUTHORITY FOR WALES/ (iii) The Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales/B. FUNCTIONS/907. Advising and assisting the National Assembly for Wales.

907. Advising and assisting the National Assembly for Wales.

The Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales<sup>1</sup> must advise the National Assembly for Wales<sup>2</sup> on such matters connected with the provision of education or training in Wales<sup>3</sup> as the Assembly may specify by order<sup>4</sup>. The Authority must carry out such ancillary activities<sup>5</sup> as the Assembly may direct<sup>6</sup>. The Authority must supply the Assembly with such reports and other information with respect to the carrying out of the Authority's functions<sup>7</sup> as the Assembly may require<sup>8</sup>. In addition, the Authority may supply any person designated by the Assembly with such information as the Authority thinks fit about any matter in relation to which it has a function<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the establishment of the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales see PARA 875 ante; and as to its constitution and administration see PARA 894 et seq ante. On 1 April 2006, all the functions of the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales are transferred to the National Assembly for Wales: see PARA 875 note 4 ante.

2 As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

4 Education Act 1997 s 31(1). Section 54(1) disappplies, in relation to s 31 (as amended), the general requirement in s 54 (see PARA 888 note 16 ante) that orders must be made by statutory instrument: s 54(1). As to the making of orders under the Education Act 1997 generally see PARA 888 note 16 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such order had been made.

5 For these purposes, activities are ancillary activities in relation to the Authority if the National Assembly for Wales considers it is appropriate for the Authority to carry out those activities for the purposes of or in connection with the carrying out by the Authority of any of its other functions under ibid Pt V (ss 21-36) (as amended) (see PARA 894 et seq ante): s 31(3).

6 Ibid s 31(2).

7 As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 14 note 5 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 56(2).

8 Ibid s 31(4).

9 Ibid s 31(5) (added by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 149, Sch 9 paras 1, 70).

FUNCTIONS/908. Discharge of functions.

908. Discharge of functions.

In carrying out its functions<sup>1</sup> under Part V of the Education Act 1997<sup>2</sup>, the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales<sup>3</sup> must:

- 1626 (1) comply with any directions given by the National Assembly for Wales<sup>4</sup>;
- 1627 (2) act in accordance with any plans approved by the Assembly<sup>5</sup>; and
- 1628 (3) so far as relevant, have regard to the requirements of: (a) the provision<sup>6</sup> relating to general duties in respect of the curriculum<sup>7</sup>; (b) industry, commerce, finance and the professions regarding education and training, including required standards of practical competence<sup>8</sup>; and (c) persons with special learning needs<sup>9</sup>.

In carrying out those functions the Authority must in addition have regard to information supplied to it by Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education and Training in Wales<sup>10</sup> or by any body designated by the Assembly for these purposes<sup>11</sup>.

Where in carrying out any of its functions under Part V of the Education Act 1997 the Authority accredits any qualification, it may do so on such terms, including terms as to payment, as it may determine<sup>12</sup>. Those conditions may in particular include conditions:

- 1629 (i) placing a limit on the amount of the fee that can be demanded in respect of any award or authentication of the qualification in question<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1630 (ii) requiring right to enter premises<sup>14</sup> and to inspect and copy documents so far as necessary for the Authority to satisfy itself that the appropriate standards are being maintained, in relation to the award or authentication of the qualification in question, by the persons receiving the accreditation, or to determine whether to impose a condition falling within head (i) above and if so what that condition should be<sup>15</sup>.

If it appears to the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales<sup>1</sup>:

1631 (1) that any person ('the awarding body') who, either alone or jointly with others, awards or authenticates any qualification accredited by the Authority<sup>2</sup> has failed or is likely to fail to comply with any condition subject to which the accreditation has effect<sup>3</sup>; and

1632 (2) that the failure: (a) prejudices or would be likely to prejudice the proper award or authentication of the qualification<sup>4</sup>; or (b) prejudices or would be likely to prejudice persons who might reasonably be expected to seek to obtain the qualification<sup>5</sup>, the Authority may direct the awarding body to take or refrain from taking specified steps with a view to securing compliance with the conditions subject to which the accreditation has effect<sup>6</sup>. It is the duty of the awarding body to comply with any such direction<sup>7</sup>. Such a direction is enforceable, on the application of the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales, by a mandatory order<sup>8</sup>.

- 1637 (5) subscribe for shares or stock<sup>7</sup>;
- 1638 (6) invest any sums not immediately required for the purpose of carrying out its functions<sup>8</sup>;
- 1639 (7) accept gifts of money, land or other property<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1640 (8) borrow money<sup>10</sup>.

Where authorised to do so<sup>11</sup>, the Authority may act as agent for the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority<sup>12</sup> in connection with the exercise of any of that Authority's functions in relation to Wales<sup>13</sup>. The consent of the National Assembly for Wales is required for the exercise of any power conferred by head (3) or head (4) above<sup>14</sup>.

The Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales may give to any person or body, whether or not in the United Kingdom<sup>15</sup>, such assistance as it may determine<sup>16</sup>. Assistance may be provided on such terms and subject to such conditions, if any, as the Authority may determine<sup>17</sup>. In particular, assistance may be provided free of charge or on such terms as to payment as the Authority may determine<sup>18</sup>. The power conferred on the Authority to provide assistance<sup>19</sup> does not extend to the giving of financial assistance; and the consent of the Assembly is required for any exercise of that power<sup>20</sup>.

Levy on bodies awarding qualifications accredited by relevant Authority.

(iv) Levies payable to the Authorities

912. Levy on bodies awarding qualifications accredited by relevant Authority.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations<sup>2</sup> provide for a levy to be payable to the relevant Authority<sup>3</sup> by persons who award vocational qualifications accredited by that Authority<sup>4</sup>. Such regulations must:

- 1641 (1) specify the rate of the levy or the method by which it is to be calculated, and may make different provision in relation to different cases<sup>5</sup>;
- 1642 (2) make provision as to the times when, and the manner in which, payments are to be made in respect of the levy<sup>6</sup>; and
- 1643 (3) provide for the relevant Authority to withdraw its accreditation of a qualification in cases of non-payment of the levy<sup>7</sup>.

Any sums received by the relevant Authority in respect of the levy must be applied by it in giving such financial assistance to other bodies as the Secretary of State may specify with a view to assisting that Authority to secure the development and improvement of standards in relation to vocational qualifications<sup>8</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1997 generally see PARA 888 note 16 ante. As to the regulations made under s 36 see the Education (QCA Levy) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/435 (amended by SI 2002/1331).

3 For these purposes, 'the relevant Authority' means: (1) the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority in the case of a qualification accredited by that Authority; and (2) the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales in the case of a qualification accredited by that Authority: Education Act 1997 s 36(4). As to the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority see PARAS 876-893 ante; and as to the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales see PARAS 894-911 ante. On 1 April 2006, all the functions of the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales are transferred to the National Assembly for Wales: see PARA 875 note 4 ante.

A. IN GENERAL

913. General duties in respect of the curriculum in England.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup>, every local education authority<sup>2</sup> in England<sup>3</sup>, the governing body<sup>4</sup> and head teacher<sup>5</sup> must exercise their functions<sup>6</sup> with a view to securing that the curriculum for each maintained school<sup>7</sup> or maintained nursery school<sup>8</sup> satisfies the requirements<sup>9</sup> of being a balanced and broadly based curriculum<sup>10</sup> which: (1) promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils<sup>11</sup> at the school and of society<sup>12</sup>; and (2) prepares pupils at the school for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life<sup>13</sup>.

The Secretary of State and every local education authority in England must also exercise their functions with a view to securing that the curriculum for any funded nursery education provided<sup>14</sup> otherwise than at a maintained school or maintained nursery school<sup>15</sup> satisfies the requirements<sup>16</sup> of being a balanced and broadly based curriculum<sup>17</sup> which: (a) promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of the pupils for whom the funded nursery education is provided and of society<sup>18</sup>; and (b) prepares those pupils for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life<sup>19</sup>.

The functions of the Secretary of State, the local education authority, the governing body and the head teacher described above<sup>20</sup> include in particular: (i) functions conferred by Part 6 of the Education Act 2002 in relation to the National Curriculum for England<sup>21</sup>; and (ii) except in relation to maintained nursery schools or the provision of funded nursery education otherwise than at a maintained school or maintained nursery school, functions relating to religious education and religious worship<sup>22</sup>.

<sup>7</sup> For the purposes of ibid Pt 6 (ss 76-96) (as amended) (see PARA 914 et seq post), 'maintained school' means: (1) any community, foundation or voluntary school maintained by a local education authority in England; or (2) except where otherwise stated, any community or foundation special school which is maintained by a local education authority in England and is not established in a hospital: s 76. As to community, foundation and voluntary and community or foundation special schools see PARA 102 et seq ante. In the case of a local education authority, the reference is to every maintained school which it maintains: s 79(2). For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3).

8 For the purposes of ibid Pt 6 (as amended) (see PARA 914 et seq post), 'maintained nursery school' means a nursery school which is maintained by a local education authority in England and is not a special school: s 76. As to the meaning of 'nursery school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). In the case of a local education authority, the reference is to every maintained nursery school which it maintains: s 79(2).

10 Ibid s 78(1).

11 For the purposes of ibid Pt 6 (as amended), 'pupil' includes a child for whom funded nursery education is provided: s 76. For the meaning of 'pupil' generally see PARA 16 note 4 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). In Pt 6 (as amended), 'nursery education' means full-time or part-time education suitable for children who have not attained compulsory school age, whether provided at schools or elsewhere: s 77(1). For the meaning of 'child' see PARA 16 note 2 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). As to the meaning of 'compulsory school age' see PARA 15 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). For the purposes of Pt 6 (as amended), nursery education is 'funded nursery education' in relation to a child if: (1) it is provided in a maintained school or a maintained nursery school (s 77(2)(a)); or (2) it is provided, by a person other than the governing body of any such school, under arrangements made with that person by a local education authority in England in pursuance of the duty imposed on the authority by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 118 (see PARA 86 ante) and in consideration of financial assistance provided by the authority under those arrangements (Education Act 2002 s 77(2)(b)).

914. Basic curriculum for every maintained school in England.

The curriculum for every maintained school<sup>1</sup> in England<sup>2</sup> must comprise a basic curriculum which includes:

- 1644 (1) provision for religious education for all registered pupils<sup>3</sup> at the school<sup>4</sup>;
- 1645 (2) a curriculum for all registered pupils at the school who have attained the age of three but are not over compulsory school age<sup>5</sup> (known as 'the National Curriculum for England')<sup>6</sup>;
- 1646 (3) in the case of a secondary school<sup>7</sup>, provision for sex education<sup>8</sup> for all registered pupils at the school<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1647 (4) in the case of a special school, provision for sex education for all registered pupils at the school who are provided with secondary education<sup>10</sup>.

The Secretary of State may by order amend these provisions<sup>11</sup> so as to add further requirements, otherwise than in relation to religious education or sex education<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'maintained school' see PARA 913 note 7 ante. For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3).

2 For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'registered pupil' see PARA 512 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3). As to the meaning of 'pupil' see PARA 913 note 11 ante.

4 Ibid s 80(1)(a). The text refers to the provision for religious education in accordance with such of the provisions of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 69, Sch 19 (as amended) (see PARAS 951-954 post) as apply in relation to the school: Education Act 2002 s 80(1)(a). Section 80(1)(a) does not apply: (1) in relation to a nursery class in a primary school; or (2) in the case of a maintained special school (provision as to religious education in special schools being made by regulations under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 71(7) (see PARA 961 post)): Education Act 2002 s 80(2). As to the making of regulations generally under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 see PARA 82 note 15 ante. 5 As to the meaning of 'compulsory school age' see PARA 15 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 212(2), (3).

6 Ibid s 80(1)(b). As to the National Curriculum for England see PARA 916 et seq post. The Secretary of State may by order amend s 80(1)(b) by substituting for the reference to compulsory school age (or to any age specified there by virtue of s 80(3)) a reference to such other age as may be specified in the order: s 80(3)(b). No order may be made by the Secretary of State under s 80(3) unless a draft of the instrument containing the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: see s 210(3); and PARA 77 note 7 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no order had been made under s 80.

7 For the meaning of 'secondary school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 212(2), (3).

8 'Sex education' includes education about Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome and Human Immunodeficiency Virus and any other sexually transmitted disease: Education Act 1996 s 579(1) (definition added by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 57(c)); applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3).

9 Ibid s 80(1)(c).

10 Ibid s 80(1)(d). For the meaning of 'secondary education' see PARA 17 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). The Education Act 2002 s 80(1)(d) applies in relation to pupil referral units as it applies in relation to special schools: Education (Pupil Referral Units) (Application of Enactments) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2039, regs 1, 3, Sch 1 para 10. During the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in a class attain the age of 14, and ending with the expiry of the school year in which the majority of pupils in a class attain the age of 16, the governing body<sup>1</sup> and the head teacher must secure that all registered pupils at community, foundation or voluntary schools, or community or foundation special schools<sup>2</sup>, other than those established in hospitals, are provided with a programme of careers education<sup>3</sup>.

Where a careers adviser has responsibilities in relation to pupils attending such a school, he must on request be provided with the name and address of every relevant pupil at the institution, and any information in the institution's possession about any such pupil which the careers adviser needs in order to be able to provide him with advice and guidance on decisions about his career or with other information relevant to such decisions<sup>4</sup>. Where a careers adviser has such responsibilities, he must on request be permitted to have, in the case of any relevant pupil specified by him, access to that person on the school's premises, and at a reasonable time, for the purpose of enabling him to provide that person with advice and guidance on decisions about his career and with any other information relevant to such decisions<sup>5</sup>. Persons attending such schools must be provided with access to both guidance materials, and a wide range of up to date reference materials, relating to careers education and career opportunities<sup>6</sup>.

916. The National Curriculum for England.

The National Curriculum for England<sup>1</sup> comprises the foundation stage<sup>2</sup> followed by four key stages<sup>3</sup>, and specifies:

- 1648 (1) 'assessment arrangements', which are arrangements for assessing<sup>4</sup> pupils<sup>5</sup> in respect of the relevant stage (foundation or key stage) for the purpose of ascertaining what they have achieved in relation to the early learning goals<sup>6</sup> (in the case of the foundation stage) or (in the case of a key stage) in relation to the attainment targets for that stage<sup>7</sup>;
- 1649 (2) 'attainment targets', which, in relation to a key stage, means the knowledge, skills and understanding which pupils of different abilities and maturities are expected to have by the end of that stage<sup>8</sup>;
- 1650 (3) 'programmes of study', which, in relation to a key stage, means matters, skills and processes which are required to be taught to pupils of different abilities and maturities by the end of that stage<sup>9</sup>.

The National Curriculum for England for the foundation stage.

917. The National Curriculum for England for the foundation stage.

- 1651 (1) in the case of a child<sup>4</sup> who is provided with funded nursery education<sup>5</sup> before he attains the age of three, his third birthday<sup>6</sup>;
- 1652 (2) in the case of a child who is provided with funded nursery education after he attains that age, the time when he is first provided with such education<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1653 (3) in the case of a child who is not provided with any funded nursery education, the time when he first receives primary education<sup>8</sup> other than nursery education<sup>9</sup>, and ending at the same time as the school year<sup>10</sup> in which he attains the age of five<sup>11</sup>.

For the foundation stage, the National Curriculum for England comprises the following 'areas of learning'<sup>12</sup>:

- 1654 (a) personal, social and emotional development<sup>13</sup>;
- 1655 (b) communication, language and literacy<sup>14</sup>;
- 1656 (c) mathematical development<sup>15</sup>;
- 1657 (d) knowledge and understanding of the world<sup>16</sup>;
- 1658 (e) physical development<sup>17</sup>; and
- 1659 (f) creative development<sup>18</sup>.

In relation to each area of learning, the National Curriculum for England may specify:

- 1660 (i) the knowledge, skills and understanding which pupils of different abilities and maturities are expected to have by the end of the foundation stage ('the early learning goals')<sup>19</sup>;
- 1661 (ii) the matters, skills and processes which are required to be taught to pupils of different abilities and maturities during the foundation stage ('educational programmes')<sup>20</sup>; and

918. The National Curriculum for England for the key stages.

There are four key stages in the National Curriculum for England<sup>1</sup>. The key stages in relation to a pupil<sup>2</sup> are:

- 1663 (1) the period beginning at the same time as the school year<sup>3</sup> in which he attains the age of six and ending at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class<sup>4</sup> attain the age of seven ('the first key stage')<sup>5</sup>;
- 1664 (2) the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class attain the age of eight and ending at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class attain the age of 11 ('the second key stage')<sup>6</sup>;
- 1665 (3) the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class attain the age of 12 and ending at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class attain the age of 14 ('the third key stage')<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1666 (4) the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class attain the age of 15 and ending with the expiry of the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class cease to be of compulsory school age<sup>8</sup> ('the fourth key stage')<sup>9</sup>.

The head teacher of a school may elect, in relation to a particular pupil and a particular subject, that the definitions of the four key stages have effect as if any reference to the school year in which the majority of pupils in that pupil's class attain a particular age were a reference to the school year in which that pupil attains that age<sup>10</sup>. If at any time, in the case of a pupil of compulsory school age, the definitions of the four key stages<sup>11</sup> do not<sup>12</sup> apply to determine the period within which that time falls, heads (1) to (4) above have effect as if:

- 1667 (a) in the case of heads (1) to (3) above, any reference to the school year in which the majority of pupils in that pupil's class attain a particular age were a reference to the school year in which that pupil attains that age<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1668 (b) in the case of head (4) above, the period were a period beginning at the same time as the school year in which he attains the age of 15 and ending when he ceases to be of compulsory school age<sup>14</sup>.

For the first, second and third key stages, the National Curriculum for England comprises the core subjects of mathematics<sup>15</sup>, English<sup>16</sup> and science<sup>17</sup>, and the other foundation subjects of design and technology<sup>18</sup>, information and communication technology<sup>19</sup>, physical education<sup>20</sup>, history<sup>21</sup>, geography<sup>22</sup>, art and design<sup>23</sup>, music<sup>24</sup>, and (in relation to the third key stage) citizenship<sup>25</sup> and a modern foreign language<sup>26</sup>. In relation to each of those subjects for each of those stages, the National Curriculum for England specifies attainment targets<sup>27</sup>, programmes of study<sup>28</sup> and assessment arrangements<sup>29</sup>.

For the fourth key stage, the National Curriculum for England comprises the core subjects of mathematics<sup>30</sup>, English<sup>31</sup> and science<sup>32</sup>, and the other foundation subjects of information and communication technology<sup>33</sup>, physical education<sup>34</sup> and citizenship<sup>35</sup>, as well as elements of work-related learning<sup>36</sup>, and, in relation to any pupil who so elects, one subject from each of such one or more of the four 'entitlement areas' as the pupil may elect<sup>37</sup>, namely: (i) arts, comprising art and design<sup>38</sup>, music<sup>39</sup>, dance<sup>40</sup>, drama<sup>41</sup>, and media arts<sup>42</sup>; (ii) design and technology<sup>43</sup>; (iii) humanities, comprising geography<sup>44</sup> and history<sup>45</sup>; and (iv) modern foreign languages, comprising any modern foreign language specified in an order made by the Secretary of State<sup>46</sup> or, if the order so specifies, any modern foreign language<sup>47</sup>. The National Curriculum for England must specify programmes of study in relation to each of the core and other foundation subjects for the fourth key stage<sup>48</sup>.

The Secretary of State may by order amend any of the provisions relating to requirements for the fourth key stage<sup>49</sup>, or provide that, while the order remains in force, none of those provisions is to have effect<sup>50</sup>.

1 In the Education Act 2002 Pt 6 (ss 76-96) (as amended), 'key stage', or references to a particular key stage, must be construed in accordance with s 82 (see the text and notes 2-14 infra): s 76. As to the National Curriculum for England see PARA 916 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'pupil' see PARA 913 note 11 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'school year' see PARA 917 note 10 ante. For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3).

4 In ibid s 82, 'class', in relation to a particular pupil and a particular subject, means: (1) the teaching group in which he is regularly taught in that subject; or (2) where there are two or more such groups, such one of them as may be designated by the head teacher of the school: s 82(5). As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3).

5 Ibid s 82(1)(a). The Secretary of State may by order: (1) provide that, in relation to any subject specified in the order, s 82(1) is to have effect as if for the ages of seven and eight there specified there were substituted such other ages (less than 11 and 12 respectively) as may be specified in the order (s 82(4)(a)); and (2) amend s 82(1)-(3) (s 82(4)(b)). No order may be made by the Secretary of State under s 82(4)(b) unless a draft of the instrument containing the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: see s 210(3); and PARA 77 note 7 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the procedure for making orders under s 82(4) see PARA 921 post. At the date at which this volume states the law, no order had been made under s 82(4).

6 Ibid s 82(1)(b). See note 5 supra.

7 Ibid s 82(1)(c). See note 5 supra.

8 As to the meaning of 'compulsory school age' see PARA 15 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 212(2), (3).

9 Ibid s 82(1)(d). See note 5 supra.

10 Ibid s 82(2). See note 5 supra.

11 Ibid s 82(1): see the text to notes 2-9 supra.

12 Ibid apart from ibid s 82(3): see the text to notes 13-14 infra.

14 Ibid s 82(3)(b). See note 5 supra.

15 Ibid s 84(1), (2)(a). The Secretary of State may by order amend s 84(2)-(5) (see the text to notes 16-26 infra): s 84(6). No order may be made by the Secretary of State under s 84(6) unless a draft of the instrument containing the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: see s 210(3); and PARA 77 note 7 ante. As to the procedure for making orders under s 84(6) see PARA 921 post. At the date at which this volume states the law, no order had been made under s 84(6).

16 Ibid s 84(1), (2)(b). See note 15 supra.

17 Ibid s 84(1), (2)(c). See note 15 supra.

18 Ibid s 84(1), (3)(a). See note 15 supra.

19 Ibid s 84(1), (3)(b). See note 15 supra.

20 Ibid s 84(1), (3)(c). See note 15 supra.

21 Ibid s 84(1), (3)(d). See note 15 supra.

22 Ibid s 84(1), (3)(e). See note 15 supra.

25 Ibid s 84(1), (3)(h)(i). See note 15 supra.

26 Ibid s 84(1), (3)(h)(ii). For the purposes of s 84, 'modern foreign language' means a modern foreign language specified in an order made by the Secretary of State or, if the order so provides, any modern foreign language: s 84(4). An order under s 84(4) may: (1) specify circumstances in which a language is not to be treated as a foundation subject; and (2) provide for the determination under the order of any question arising as to whether a particular language is a modern foreign language: s 84(5). See note 15 supra. In exercise of the power so conferred, the Secretary of State has made the Education (National Curriculum) (Modern Foreign Languages) (England) Order 2004, SI 2004/260, which specifies that a language is a modern foreign language for these purposes if: (a) the language is an official language of the European Union; or (b) the language is a modern foreign language taught at a school that also offers pupils in the third key stage (in respect of whom there is a requirement to study a modern foreign language as a foundation subject) the opportunity of studying one or more of the official languages of the European Union for the purposes of the National Curriculum at the third key stage: arts 1(2), 3. For the meaning of references to 'official language of the European Union' see art 1(2).

27 For the meaning of 'attainment targets' see PARA 916 ante.

28 For the meaning of 'programmes of study' see PARA 916 ante.

29 Education Act 2002 s 84(1). For the meaning of 'assessment arrangements' see PARA 916 ante.

30 Ibid s 85(1), (3)(a) (s 85 substituted by the Education (Amendment of the Curriculum Requirements for Fourth Key Stage) (England) Order 2003, SI 2003/2946, art 2).

31 Education Act 2002 s 85(1), (3)(b) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

32 Ibid s 85(1), (3)(c) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

33 Ibid s 85(1), (4)(a) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

34 Ibid s 85(1), (4)(b) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

35 Ibid s 85(1), (4)(c) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

36 Ibid s 85(1), (5)(a) (as substituted: see note 30 supra). For this purpose, 'work-related learning' means planned activity designed to use the context of work to develop knowledge, skills and understanding useful in work, including learning through the experience of work, learning about work and working practices and learning the skills for work: s 85(10) (as so substituted). In the exercise of functions under Pt 6 (as amended) by virtue of s 85 (as substituted), a local education authority, governing body or head teacher must have regard to any guidance relating to work-related learning or the entitlement areas (see the text and notes 37-47 infra) which is issued from time to time by the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority: s 85(9) (as so substituted). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante; and as to the governing bodies of maintained schools in England see PARA 203 et seq ante. As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). As to the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority see PARA 875 et seq ante.

37 Ibid s 85(1), (5)(b) (as substituted: see note 30 supra). A pupil in the fourth key stage is, if he so elects, entitled to follow a course of study in a subject within each of the four entitlement areas specified in s 85(6) (as substituted) (see the text and notes 38-47 infra); but this entitlement is satisfied where one subject within each of those entitlement areas is made available to him by or on behalf of the school at which he is a registered pupil: s 85(8) (as so substituted). For this purpose, 'course of study' means a course of education or training which leads to a qualification approved under the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 98 (see PARA 974 post), for the purposes of s 96 (see PARA 972 post): Education Act 2002 s 85(10) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'registered pupil' see PARA 512 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3).

38 Ibid s 85(1), (6)(a)(i) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

39 Ibid s 85(1), (6)(a)(ii) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

40 Ibid s 85(1), (6)(a)(iii) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

41 Ibid s 85(1), (6)(a)(iv) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

42 Ibid s 85(1), (6)(a)(v) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

44 Ibid s 85(1), (6)(c)(i) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

45 Ibid s 85(1), (6)(c)(ii) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

46 An order made under ibid s 85(6)(d) (as substituted) may: (1) specify circumstances in which a language is not to be treated as falling within s 85(6)(d) (as substituted); and (2) provide for the determination under the order of any question arising as to whether a particular language is a modern foreign language: s 85(7) (as substituted: see note 30 supra). At the date at which this volume states the law, no order had been made under s 85(6)(d) (as substituted).

47 Ibid s 85(1), (6)(d) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

48 Ibid s 85(2) (as substituted: see note 30 supra).

49 Ie ibid s 85 (as substituted): see the text and notes 30-48 supra.

50 Ibid s 86. No order may be made by the Secretary of State under s 86 unless a draft of the instrument containing the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: see s 210(3); and PARA 77 note 7 ante. In exercise of the power so conferred, the Secretary of State has made the Education (Amendment of the Curriculum Requirements for Fourth Key Stage) (England) Order 2003, SI 2003/2946 (see note 30 supra).

UPDATE

918 The National Curriculum for England for the key stages

NOTE 26--The Education (National Curriculum) (Modern Foreign Languages) (England) Order 2008, SI 2008/1766, revokes SI 2004/260 and provides that for the purposes of the Education Act 2002 s 84(4) 'modern foreign language' means any modern foreign language.

NOTE 32--A pupil in the fourth key stage is entitled, if he so elects, to follow a course of study in science which leads to such qualification or set of qualifications as the governing body may choose from among those approved under the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 98 (see PARA 974) for the purposes of s 96 (see PARA 972), and specified by the Secretary of State by order for the purposes of the 2002 Act s 85(3A) (s 85 modified by the Education and Inspections Act 2006 s 74(4)). As to the specified sets of qualifications for the purposes of the 2002 Act s 85(3A)(b), see the Education (National Curriculum) (Science at Key Stage 4) (England) Order 2007, SI 2007/2241.

NOTES 38-47--2002 Act s 85(6) amended: Apprenticeships, Skills, Children and Learning Act 2009 Sch 12 para 33.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(2) CURRICULUM/(i) The Curriculum in England/B. THE NATIONAL CURRICULUM FOR ENGLAND: IN GENERAL/919. Establishment of the National Curriculum for England by order.

919. Establishment of the National Curriculum for England by order.

In respect of the foundation stage<sup>1</sup>, the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> may by order<sup>3</sup> specify in relation to the areas of learning<sup>4</sup> such early learning goals<sup>5</sup>, such educational programmes<sup>6</sup>, and such assessment arrangements<sup>7</sup>, as he considers appropriate<sup>8</sup>. In respect of the first, second and third key stages<sup>9</sup> and<sup>10</sup> the fourth key stage, the Secretary of State may by order specify in relation to each of the foundation subjects<sup>11</sup> such attainment targets<sup>12</sup>, such programmes of study<sup>13</sup>, and such assessment arrangements<sup>14</sup>, as he considers appropriate for that subject<sup>15</sup>. Such an order<sup>16</sup> may not require the allocation of any particular period or periods of time during the foundation stage or any key stage to the teaching of any educational programme or programme of study or any matter, skill or process forming part of it<sup>17</sup>, or the making in school timetables, or the timetables of any person providing funded nursery education, of provision of any particular kind for the periods to be allocated to such teaching during any such stage<sup>18</sup>. Such an order may, instead of containing the provisions to be made, refer to provisions in a document published as specified in the order and direct that those provisions are to have effect or, as the case may be, are to have effect as amended by the order<sup>19</sup>.

The Secretary of State must exercise these powers conferred on him to make orders<sup>20</sup> so as to: (1) establish a complete National Curriculum for England<sup>21</sup> for the foundation stage as soon as is reasonably practicable<sup>22</sup>; and (2) revise the National Curriculum for England for the foundation stage and the key stages whenever he considers it necessary or expedient to do so<sup>23</sup>.

Provision must be made for determining the extent to which any assessment arrangements, and the implementation of the arrangements, achieve the purpose for which the arrangements are made; and any such provision may be made by or under the order specifying the arrangements or, where the order specifies the person making the arrangements, in the arrangements themselves<sup>24</sup>.

1 As to the foundation stage see PARA 917 ante.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

3 As to the making of orders under the Education Act 2002 generally see PARA 77 note 7 ante. As to the procedure for making orders under s 87(2)(a), (b) (see the text and notes 4-6 infra) or s 87(3)(a), (b) (see the text and notes 9-13 infra) see PARA 921 post.

4 As to the areas of learning for the foundation stage see PARA 917 ante.

5 Education Act 2002 s 87(2)(a). For the meaning of 'early learning goals' see PARA 917 note 19 ante. As to the early learning goals specified under s 87(2)(a) see the Education (National Curriculum) (Foundation Stage Early Learning Goals) (England) Order 2003, SI 2003/391. As to baseline assessments, which are still effective in relation to Wales, see PARAS 939-941 post.

6 Education Act 2002 s 87(2)(b). For the meaning of 'educational programmes' see PARA 917 ante. See also note 3 supra.

7 Ibid s 87(2)(c). For the meaning of 'assessment arrangements' see PARA 916 ante. An order under s 87(2)(c) is not subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: see s 210(5); and PARA 77 note 7 ante. An order under s 87(2)(c) may confer or impose such functions on: (1) the governing body and head teacher of a maintained school or a maintained nursery school; (2) a person providing funded nursery education under the arrangements mentioned in s 77(2)(b) (see PARA 913 note 11 ante); (3) an early years development and childcare partnership; and (4) a local education authority, as appear to the Secretary of State to be required: s 87(6). Such an order may also specify such assessment arrangements as may for the time being be made by a person specified in the order: s 87(8). An order may authorise the making of such provisions giving full effect to or otherwise supplementing the provisions made by the order, other than provision conferring or imposing functions as mentioned in s 87(6), as appear to the Secretary of State to be expedient; and any provisions made under such an order must, on being published as specified in the order, have effect for the purposes of Pt 6 (ss 76-96) (as amended) as if made by the order: s 87(11). As to the assessment arrangements specified under s 87(2)(c) see the Education (National Curriculum) (Foundation Stage Profile Assessment Arrangements) (England) Order 2003, SI 2003/1327 (amended by SI 2004/622). As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 14 note 5 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3). As to the governing bodies of maintained schools in England see PARA 203 et seq ante. As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). For the meaning of 'maintained school' see PARA 913 note 7 ante; for the meaning of 'maintained nursery school' see PARA 913 note 8 ante; and for the meaning of 'funded nursery education' see PARA 913 note 11 ante. As to early years development and childcare partnerships see PARA 87 ante. As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. As to baseline assessments, which are still effective in relation to Wales as the equivalent of the Foundation Stage Profile Assessment, see PARAS 939-941 post.

Procedure for making certain orders and regulations in relation to the National Curriculum for England.

921. Procedure for making certain orders and regulations in relation to the National Curriculum for England.

Where the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> proposes to make certain orders<sup>2</sup> or regulations<sup>3</sup> in relation to the National Curriculum for England, he must refer the proposal to the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority<sup>4</sup> and must give the authority directions as to the time within which it is to report to him<sup>5</sup>. The authority must give notice of the proposal to:

- 1673 (1) such associations of local education authorities<sup>6</sup>, bodies representing the interests of school governing bodies<sup>7</sup> and organisations representing school teachers as appear to the authority to be concerned<sup>8</sup>; and
- 1674 (2) any other persons with whom consultation appears to the authority to be desirable<sup>9</sup>, and must give them a reasonable opportunity of submitting evidence and representations as to the issues arising<sup>10</sup>. The report of the authority to the Secretary of State must contain a summary of the views expressed during the consultations<sup>11</sup>, the authority's recommendations as to the proposal<sup>12</sup>, and such other advice relating to the proposal as the authority thinks fit<sup>13</sup>. The authority must, after submitting its report to the Secretary of State, arrange for the report to be published<sup>14</sup>.

Where the authority has reported to the Secretary of State, he must publish in such manner as, in his opinion, is likely to bring them to the notice of persons having a special interest in education: (a) a draft of the proposed order or regulations and any associated document<sup>15</sup>; and (b) a statement explaining his reasons for any failure to give effect to the recommendations of the authority<sup>16</sup>, and he must send copies of the documents mentioned in head (a) and head (b) above to the authority and to each of the persons consulted by the authority<sup>17</sup>. The Secretary of State must allow a period of not less than one month for the submission of evidence and representations as to the issues arising<sup>18</sup>. When the period so allowed has expired, the Secretary of State may make the order or regulations, with or without modifications<sup>19</sup>.

922. Development work and experiments.

For the purpose of enabling development work or experiments to be carried out, the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may direct in respect of a particular maintained school<sup>2</sup> or maintained nursery school<sup>3</sup> that, for such period as may be specified in the direction, the National Curriculum for England<sup>4</sup> does not apply<sup>5</sup>, or applies with such modifications as may be specified in the direction<sup>6</sup>. Such a direction may apply either generally or in such cases as may be specified in the direction<sup>7</sup>. In the case of a community, voluntary controlled or community special school<sup>8</sup> or a maintained nursery school, such a direction<sup>9</sup> must not be given except on an application<sup>10</sup>:

- 1675 (1) by the governing body<sup>11</sup> with the agreement of the local education authority<sup>12</sup>;
- 1676 (2) by the local education authority with the agreement of the governing body<sup>13</sup>; or
- 1677 (3) by the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority<sup>14</sup> with the agreement of both the local education authority and the governing body<sup>15</sup>.

In the case of a foundation, voluntary aided or foundation special school<sup>16</sup>, such a direction must not be given<sup>17</sup> except on an application by the governing body or by the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority with the agreement of the governing body<sup>18</sup>.

The Secretary of State may make it a condition of such a direction<sup>19</sup> that any person by whom or with whose agreement the request for the direction was made should, when so directed or at specified intervals, report to the Secretary of State on any matters specified by him<sup>20</sup>.

925. Temporary exceptions for individual pupils.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may enable the head teacher<sup>2</sup> of a maintained school<sup>3</sup> or maintained nursery school<sup>4</sup>, in such cases or circumstances and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed<sup>5</sup>, to direct in respect of a registered pupil<sup>6</sup> at the school that, for such period as may be specified in the direction (the 'operative period' of the direction), the National Curriculum for England<sup>7</sup> does not apply<sup>8</sup>, or applies with such modifications<sup>9</sup> as may be specified in the direction<sup>10</sup>. The conditions prescribed by the regulations must, in particular, limit the operative period that may be specified in a direction to a maximum period specified in the regulations<sup>11</sup>. Any maximum period specified, whether in relation to directions given under the regulations or in relation to directions given under the regulations in circumstances specified in the regulations, must be either a fixed period not exceeding six months<sup>12</sup>, or a period determinable, in such manner as may be specified in the regulations, not later than six months from its beginning<sup>13</sup>. Any maximum period so specified may<sup>14</sup> differ according to whether or not the direction in question is given in respect of a period beginning<sup>15</sup> immediately after the end of the operative period of a previous direction<sup>16</sup>, or within such period after the end of the operative period of a previous direction as may be specified in the regulations<sup>17</sup>. The regulations may enable the head teacher of a maintained school or maintained nursery school, in such cases or circumstances and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed<sup>18</sup>, to revoke any direction given by him under the regulations<sup>19</sup>, and to vary such a direction, except so as to extend its operative period<sup>20</sup>. Before making any such regulations<sup>21</sup>, the Secretary of State must consult with any persons with whom consultation appears to him to be desirable<sup>22</sup>.

Where a head teacher gives or varies a direction under such regulations<sup>23</sup>, he must, in such manner as may be prescribed<sup>24</sup>, give the information mentioned in heads (1) to (3) below to the governing body<sup>25</sup>, and to the local education authority<sup>26</sup> by whom the school is maintained<sup>27</sup>, and must take such steps as may be prescribed to give that information also to a parent<sup>28</sup> of the pupil concerned<sup>29</sup>. That information which must be given is:

- 1678 (1) the fact that he has taken the action in question, its effect and his reasons for taking it<sup>30</sup>;
- 1679 (2) the provision that is being or is to be made for the pupil's education during the operative period of the direction<sup>31</sup>; and
- 1680 (3) either a description of the manner in which he proposes to secure the full implementation of the National Curriculum for England in relation to the pupil after the end of that period, or an indication that he has the opinion<sup>32</sup> that the pupil has or probably has special educational needs<sup>33</sup> by virtue of which the responsible authority<sup>34</sup> would be required to determine the special educational provision<sup>35</sup> that should be made for him, whether initially or on a review of any statement of his special educational needs which the authority is for the time being required<sup>36</sup> to maintain<sup>37</sup>.

Where the head teacher of a maintained school or maintained nursery school includes an indication of any such opinion in the information given<sup>38</sup>, and the local education authority by whom the school is maintained is not the responsible authority in relation to the pupil in question, the head teacher must also give that information, in such manner as may be prescribed, to the responsible authority<sup>39</sup>. Where the responsible authority receives information<sup>40</sup> which includes an indication that the head teacher has the opinion that the pupil has or probably has special educational needs<sup>41</sup>, it must consider whether any action on its part is required<sup>42</sup> in the case of the pupil concerned<sup>43</sup>.

Where a head teacher:

- 1681 (a) gives, revokes or varies a direction under such regulations<sup>44</sup>;
- 1682 (b) refuses to give, revoke or vary such a direction in response to a request made, in such manner and circumstances as may be prescribed by the regulations, by the parent of a registered pupil at the school<sup>45</sup>; or
- 1683 (c) following the making of such a request, fails within such period as may be prescribed by the regulations to give, revoke or vary such a direction in accordance with the request<sup>46</sup>,

the parent of the pupil concerned may appeal to the governing body<sup>47</sup>. On such an appeal, the governing body may confirm the head teacher's action<sup>48</sup>, or direct the head teacher to take such action authorised by the regulations as it considers appropriate in the circumstances<sup>49</sup>. The governing body must notify the appellant and the head teacher in writing of its decision on such an appeal<sup>50</sup>.

(ii) The Curriculum in Wales

A. IN GENERAL

926. General duties in respect of the curriculum in Wales.

The National Assembly for Wales<sup>1</sup>, every local education authority<sup>2</sup> in Wales<sup>3</sup>, the governing body<sup>4</sup> and head teacher<sup>5</sup> must exercise their functions<sup>6</sup> with a view to securing that the curriculum for each maintained school<sup>7</sup> or maintained nursery school<sup>8</sup> satisfies the requirements<sup>9</sup> of being a balanced and broadly based curriculum<sup>10</sup> which: (1) promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils<sup>11</sup> at the school and of society<sup>12</sup>; and (2) prepares pupils at the school for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life<sup>13</sup>.

The Assembly and every local education authority in Wales must also exercise their functions with a view to securing that the curriculum for any funded nursery education provided<sup>14</sup> otherwise than at a maintained school or maintained nursery school<sup>15</sup> satisfies the requirements<sup>16</sup> of being a balanced and broadly based curriculum<sup>17</sup> which: (a) promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of the pupils for whom the funded nursery education is provided and of society<sup>18</sup>; and (b) prepares those pupils for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life<sup>19</sup>.

The functions of the Assembly, the local education authority, the governing body and the head teacher described above<sup>20</sup> include in particular: (i) functions conferred by Part 7 of the Education Act 2002 in relation to the National Curriculum for Wales<sup>21</sup>; and (ii) except in relation to maintained nursery schools or the provision of funded nursery education otherwise than at a maintained school or maintained nursery school, functions relating to religious education and religious worship<sup>22</sup>.

<sup>7</sup> For the purposes of ibid Pt 7 (ss 97-118) (as amended), 'maintained school' means: (1) any community, foundation or voluntary school maintained by a local education authority in Wales; or (2) except where otherwise stated, any community or foundation special school which is maintained by a local education authority in Wales and is not established in a hospital: s 97. As to community, foundation and voluntary and community or foundation special schools see PARA 102 et seq ante. In the case of a local education authority, the reference is to every maintained school which it maintains: s 100(2). For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3).

8 For the purposes of ibid Pt 7 (as amended), 'maintained nursery school' means a nursery school which is maintained by a local education authority in Wales and is not a special school: s 97. As to the meaning of 'nursery school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). In the case of a local education authority, the reference is to every maintained nursery school which it maintains: s 100(2). Until a day is appointed for the coming into force of s 102 (see PARA 930 post), s 104 (see PARA 930 post) and s 108(2) (see PARA 932 post), the reference to maintained nursery schools in s 100(1)(a), (2)(a), (3)(a) is to be omitted: see the Education Act 2002 (Transitional Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3184, reg 5(1), (2).

9 Education Act 2002 s 100(1)(a), (2)(a), (3). As to transitional provisions in relation to maintained nursery schools see note 8 supra. See also note 22 infra.

10 Ibid s 99(1).

11 For the purposes of ibid Pt 7 (as amended), 'pupil' includes a child for whom funded nursery education is provided: s 97. For the meaning of 'pupil' generally see PARA 16 note 4 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). For the purposes of Pt 7 (as amended), 'nursery education' means full-time or part-time education suitable for children who have not attained compulsory school age, whether provided at schools or elsewhere: s 98(1). For the meaning of 'child' see PARA 16 note 2 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). As to the meaning of 'compulsory school age' see PARA 15 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). For the purposes of Pt 7 (as amended), nursery education is 'funded nursery education' in relation to a child if: (1) it is provided in a maintained school or a maintained nursery school (s 98(2)(a)); or (2) it is provided, by a person other than the governing body of any such school, under arrangements made with that person by a local education authority in Wales in pursuance of the duty imposed on the authority by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 118 (see PARA 86 ante) and in consideration of financial assistance provided by the authority under those arrangements (Education Act 2002 s 98(2)(b)).

12 Ibid s 99(1)(a).

14 Ie, in the case of a local education authority, under arrangements made by it: ibid s 100(2)(b).

15 For the purposes of ibid Pt 7 (as amended), funded nursery education provided in relation to a child otherwise than at a maintained school or maintained nursery school is to be taken to be provided by the person with whom the arrangements referred to in s 98(2)(b) (see note 11 head (2) supra) are made by the local education authority: s 98(3).

16 Ibid s 100(1)(b), (2)(b). Any person providing funded nursery education under the arrangements mentioned in s 98(2)(b) (see note 11 head (2) supra) must also secure that the curriculum for that funded nursery education satisfies the requirements of heads (a) and (b) in the text: s 100(5).

18 Ibid s 99(2)(a).

19 Ibid s 99(2)(b).

20 Ie in ibid s 100(1)-(3): see the text to notes 1-19 supra.

21 Ibid s 100(4)(a). As to the National Curriculum for Wales see PARA 929 et seq post.

22 Ibid s 100(4)(b). As to religious education and worship see PARAS 947-968 post. Until a day is appointed for the coming into force of s 102 (see PARA 930 post), s 104 (see PARA 930 post) and s 108(2) (see PARA 932 post), s 100(4)(b) is substituted so as to refer simply to functions relating to religious education and religious worship: see the Education Act 2002 (Transitional Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3184, reg 5(1), (3).

23 As to the meaning of 'sex education' see PARA 914 note 8 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3).

24 Ie under Education Act 1996 s 403(1A) (as added): see PARA 942 post. As to the guidance issued see PARA 942 note 9 post.

25 Education Act 2002 s 100(6). Except to the extent provided, nothing in the Education Act 2002 s 100 is to be taken to impose duties on a local education authority with regard to sex education: s 100(7).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(2) CURRICULUM/(ii) The Curriculum in Wales/A. IN GENERAL/927. Basic curriculum for every maintained school in Wales.

927. Basic curriculum for every maintained school in Wales.

The curriculum for every maintained school<sup>1</sup> in Wales<sup>2</sup> must comprise a basic curriculum which includes:

- 1684 (1) provision for religious education for all registered pupils<sup>3</sup> at the school<sup>4</sup>;
- 1685 (2) a curriculum for all registered pupils at the school who have attained the age of three but are not over compulsory school age<sup>5</sup> (known as 'the National Curriculum for Wales')<sup>6</sup>;
- 1686 (3) provision for personal and social education for all registered pupils at the school who are of compulsory school age<sup>7</sup>;
- 1687 (4) provision for work-related education for all registered pupils at the school during the fourth key stage<sup>8</sup>;
- 1688 (5) in the case of a secondary school<sup>9</sup>, provision for sex education<sup>10</sup> for all registered pupils at the school<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1689 (6) in the case of a special school, provision for sex education for all registered pupils at the school who are provided with secondary education<sup>12</sup>.

The National Assembly for Wales may by order amend these provisions<sup>13</sup> so as to add further requirements, otherwise than in relation to religious education or sex education<sup>14</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'maintained school' see PARA 926 note 7 ante. For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3).

2 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'registered pupil' see PARA 512 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3). As to the meaning of 'pupil' see PARA 926 note 11 ante.

4 Ibid s 101(1)(a). The text refers to the provision for religious education in accordance with such of the provisions of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 69, Sch 19 (as amended) (see PARAS 951-954 post) as apply in relation to the school: Education Act 2002 s 101(1)(a). Section 101(1)(a) does not apply: (1) in relation to a nursery class in a primary school; or (2) in the case of a maintained special school (provision as to religious education in special schools being made by regulations under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 71(7) (see PARA 961 post)): Education Act 2002 s 101(2). As to the making of regulations generally under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 see PARA 82 note 15 ante. For the meaning of 'primary school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3). For the meaning of 'special school' see PARA 1027 post; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). As to compulsory collective worship see PARA 957 et seq post.

5 As to the meaning of 'compulsory school age' see PARA 15 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 212(2), (3).

6 Ibid s 101(1)(b). As to the National Curriculum for Wales see PARA 929 et seq post. Until a day is appointed for the coming into force of s 102 (see PARA 930 post), s 104 (see PARA 930 post) and s 108(2) (see PARA 932 post), s 101(1)(b) is substituted so as to refer to pupils who have attained compulsory school age instead of pupils who have attained the age of three but are not over compulsory school age: see the Education Act 2002 (Transitional Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3184, reg 5(1), (4). The National Assembly for Wales may by order amend the Education Act 2002 s 101(1)(b): (1) by substituting for the reference to the age of three (or to any age specified there by virtue of s 101(3)(a)) a reference to such other age as may be specified in the order (s 101(3)(b)(i)); or (2) by substituting for the reference to compulsory school age (or to any age specified there by virtue of s 101(3)(b)) a reference to such other age as may be specified in the order (s 101(3)(b)(ii)).

(b)(iii)). As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of orders under the Education Act 2002 generally see PARA 77 note 7 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no order had been made under s 101(3)(b).

7 Ibid s 101(1)(ba) (added by the Basic Curriculum for Wales (Amendment) Order 2003, SI 2003/932, art 2(1), (2)).

9 For the meaning of 'secondary school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3).

10 As to the meaning of 'sex education' see PARA 914 note 8 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 212(2), (3).

11 Ibid s 101(1)(c).

12 Ibid s 101(1)(d). For the meaning of 'secondary education' see PARA 17 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3).

13 Ie ibid s 101(1).

14 Ibid s 101(3)(a). The National Assembly for Wales may by order also amend any provision included in s 101(1) by virtue of s 101(3)(a): s 101(3)(c). In exercising any function which may affect the provision in maintained schools of education of a kind required by virtue of an order under s 101(3)(a), a local education authority in Wales or the governing body of a maintained school must have regard to any guidance from time to time given by the Assembly: s 100(8). The Basic Curriculum for Wales (Amendment) Order 2003, SI 2003/932, has been made under the Education Act 2002 s 101(3)(a): see the text and notes 7-8 supra. As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante; and as to the governing bodies of maintained schools in Wales see PARA 251 et seq ante.

927 Basic curriculum for every maintained school in Wales

TEXT AND NOTE 8--Education Act 2002 s 101(1)(bb) amended: SI 2008/1899.

NOTE 12--2002 Act s 101(1)(d) applies in relation to pupil referral units as it applies in relation to special schools: Education (Pupil Referral Units) (Application of Enactments) (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1069, regs 1, 3, Sch 1 para 10.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(2) CURRICULUM/(ii) The Curriculum in Wales/A. IN GENERAL/928. Careers education and guidance.

928. Careers education and guidance.

During the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in a class attain the age of 14, and ending with the expiry of the school year in which the majority of pupils in a class attain the age of 16, the governing body<sup>1</sup> and the head teacher must secure that all registered pupils at community, foundation or voluntary schools, or community or foundation special schools<sup>2</sup>, other than those established in hospitals, are provided with a programme of careers education<sup>3</sup>.

Where a careers adviser has responsibilities in relation to pupils attending such a school, he must on request be provided with the name and address of every relevant pupil at the institution, and any information in the institution's possession about any such pupil which the careers adviser needs in order to be able to provide him with advice and guidance on decisions about his career or with other information relevant to such decisions<sup>4</sup>. Where a careers adviser has such responsibilities, he must on request be permitted to have, in the case of any relevant pupil specified by him, access to that person on the school's premises, and at a reasonable time, for the purpose of enabling him to provide that person with advice and guidance on decisions about his career and with any other information relevant to such decisions<sup>5</sup>. Persons attending such schools must be provided with access to both guidance materials, and a wide range of up to date reference materials, relating to careers education and career opportunities<sup>6</sup>.

B. THE NATIONAL CURRICULUM FOR WALES: IN GENERAL

929. The National Curriculum for Wales.

The National Curriculum for Wales<sup>1</sup> comprises the foundation stage<sup>2</sup> followed by four key stages<sup>3</sup>, and specifies:

- 1690 (1) 'assessment arrangements', which are arrangements for assessing<sup>4</sup> pupils<sup>5</sup> in respect of the relevant stage (foundation or key stage) for the purpose of ascertaining what they have achieved in relation to the desirable outcomes<sup>6</sup> (in the case of the foundation stage) or (in the case of a key stage) in relation to the attainment targets for that stage<sup>7</sup>;
- 1691 (2) 'attainment targets', which, in relation to a key stage, means the knowledge, skills and understanding which pupils of different abilities and maturities are expected to have by the end of that stage<sup>8</sup>;
- 1692 (3) 'programmes of study', which, in relation to a key stage, means matters, skills and processes which are required to be taught to pupils of different abilities and maturities by the end of that stage<sup>9</sup>.

The National Assembly for Wales<sup>10</sup> may incur expenses in connection with the commissioning by the Assembly of such work, including programmes of research, development and dissemination, as it may require to be carried out for the purpose of facilitating the discharge of any of the Assembly's functions in relation to the National Curriculum for Wales<sup>11</sup>.

Independent schools may choose to adopt the National Curriculum for Wales but are under no obligation to do so<sup>12</sup>.

930. The National Curriculum for Wales for the foundation stage.

As from a day to be appointed<sup>1</sup>, the foundation stage<sup>2</sup> in relation to a pupil<sup>3</sup> is such period as may be specified in an order<sup>4</sup> made by the National Assembly for Wales<sup>5</sup>.

For the foundation stage, the National Curriculum for Wales<sup>6</sup> must specify 'areas of learning' and, in relation to each area of learning, may specify:

- 1693 (1) the knowledge, skills and understanding which pupils of different abilities and maturities are expected to have by the end of the foundation stage ('desirable outcomes')<sup>7</sup>;
- 1694 (2) the matters, skills and processes which are required to be taught to pupils of different abilities and maturities during the foundation stage ('educational programmes')<sup>8</sup>; and
- 1695 (3) assessment arrangements<sup>9</sup>.

1 The Education Act 2002 ss 102, 104 are to come into force in accordance with provision made by the National Assembly for Wales by order under s 216(3). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such order had been made.

2 For the purposes of ibid Pt 7 (ss 97-118) (as amended), 'the foundation stage' has the meaning given by s 102 (not yet in force): s 97.

3 As to the meaning of 'pupil' see PARA 926 note 11 ante.

930 The National Curriculum for Wales for the foundation stage

TEXT AND NOTE 1--Day appointed is 1 August 2008: SI 2008/1728.

NOTE 4--See the Education (National Curriculum) (Foundation Stage) (Wales) Order 2008, SI 2008/1732 (amended by SI 2008/2629).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(2) CURRICULUM/(ii) The Curriculum in Wales/B. THE NATIONAL CURRICULUM FOR WALES: IN GENERAL/931. The National Curriculum for Wales for the key stages.

931. The National Curriculum for Wales for the key stages.

There are four key stages in the National Curriculum for Wales<sup>1</sup>. The key stages in relation to a pupil<sup>2</sup> are:

- 1696 (1) the period beginning with his becoming of compulsory school age<sup>3</sup> and ending at the same time as the school year<sup>4</sup> in which the majority of pupils in his class<sup>5</sup> attain the age of seven ('the first key stage')<sup>6</sup>;
- 1697 (2) the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class attain the age of eight and ending at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class attain the age of 11 ('the second key stage')<sup>7</sup>;
- 1698 (3) the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class attain the age of 12 and ending at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class attain the age of 14 ('the third key stage')<sup>8</sup>; and
- 1699 (4) the period beginning at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class attain the age of 15 and ending at the same time as the school year in which the majority of pupils in his class cease to be of compulsory school age ('the fourth key stage')<sup>9</sup>.

The head teacher of a school may elect, in relation to a particular pupil and a particular subject, that the definitions of the four key stages have effect as if any reference to the school year in which the majority of pupils in that pupil's class attain a particular age were a reference to the school year in which that pupil attains that age<sup>10</sup>. If at any time, in the case of a pupil of compulsory school age, the definitions of the four key stages<sup>11</sup> do not<sup>12</sup> apply to determine the period within which that time falls, heads (1) to (4) above have effect as if:

- 1700 (a) in the case of heads (1) to (3) above, any reference to the school year in which the majority of pupils in that pupil's class attain a particular age were a reference to the school year in which that pupil attains that age<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1701 (b) in the case of head (4) above, the period were a period beginning at the same time as the school year in which he attains the age of 15 and ending when he ceases to be of compulsory school age<sup>14</sup>.

For the first, second and third key stages, the National Curriculum for Wales comprises the core subjects of mathematics<sup>15</sup>, English<sup>16</sup>, science<sup>17</sup>, and, in relation to Welsh-speaking schools, Welsh<sup>18</sup>, and the other foundation subjects of technology<sup>19</sup>, physical education<sup>20</sup>, history<sup>21</sup>, geography<sup>22</sup>, art<sup>23</sup>, music<sup>24</sup>, Welsh (if the school is not a Welsh-speaking school)<sup>25</sup>, and (in relation to the third key stage) a modern foreign language<sup>26</sup>. In relation to each of those subjects for each of those stages, the National Curriculum for Wales specifies attainment targets<sup>27</sup>, programmes of study<sup>28</sup> and assessment arrangements<sup>29</sup>.

For the fourth key stage, the National Curriculum for Wales comprises the core subjects of mathematics<sup>30</sup>, English<sup>31</sup>, science<sup>32</sup>, and, in relation to Welsh-speaking schools, Welsh<sup>33</sup>, and the other foundation subjects of physical education<sup>34</sup> and Welsh (if the school is not a Welsh-speaking school)<sup>35</sup>. The National Curriculum for Wales must specify attainment targets, programmes of study, and assessment arrangements in relation to each of the core and other foundation subjects for the fourth key stage<sup>36</sup>.

The National Assembly for Wales may by order amend any of the provisions relating to requirements for the fourth key stage<sup>37</sup>, or provide that, while the order remains in force, none of those provisions is to have effect<sup>38</sup>.

1 For the purposes of the Education Act 2002 Pt 7 (ss 97-118) (as amended), 'key stage', or references to a particular key stage, must be construed in accordance with s 103 (see the text and notes 2-14 infra): s 97. As to the National Curriculum for Wales see PARA 929 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'pupil' see PARA 926 note 11 ante.

3 As to the meaning of 'compulsory school age' see PARA 15 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 212(2), (3).

4 For these purposes, 'school year', in relation to a school, means the period beginning with the first school term to begin after July and ending with the beginning of the first school term to begin after the following July; and has a corresponding meaning in relation to the provision of funded nursery education otherwise than at a school: ibid s 97. For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). For the meaning of 'funded nursery education' see PARA 926 note 11 ante.

5 For the purposes of ibid s 103, 'class', in relation to a particular pupil and a particular subject, means: (1) the teaching group in which he is regularly taught in that subject; or (2) where there are two or more such groups, such one of them as may be designated by the head teacher of the school: s 103(5). As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3).

6 Ibid s 103(1)(a). The National Assembly for Wales may by order: (1) provide that, in relation to any subject specified in the order, s 103(1) is to have effect as if for the ages of seven and eight there specified there were substituted such other ages (less than 11 and 12 respectively) as may be specified in the order (s 103(4)(a)); and (2) amend s 103(1)-(3) (see the text and notes 7-14 infra) (s 103(4)(b)). As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the procedure for making orders under s 103(4) see PARA 934 post. As to the making of orders under the Education Act 2002 generally see PARA 77 note 7 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no order had been made under s 103(4).

7 Ibid s 103(1)(b). See note 6 supra.

8 Ibid s 103(1)(c). See note 6 supra.

9 Ibid s 103(1)(d). See note 6 supra.

10 Ibid s 103(2). See note 6 supra.

11 Ie ibid s 103(1): see the text to notes 2-9 supra.

12 Ie apart from ibid s 103(3): see the text to notes 13-14 infra.

14 Ibid s 103(3)(b). See note 6 supra.

15 Ibid s 105(1), (2)(a). The National Assembly for Wales may by order amend s 105(2)-(5) (see the text to notes 16-26 infra): s 105(6). As to the procedure for making orders under s 105(6) see PARA 934 post. At the date at which this volume states the law, no order had been made under s 105(6).

16 Ibid s 105(1), (2)(b). See note 15 supra.

17 Ibid s 105(1), (2)(c). See note 15 supra.

18 Ibid s 105(1), (2)(d). See note 15 supra. For the purposes of s 105, a school is Welsh-speaking if more than one half of the following subjects are taught (wholly or partly) in Welsh: (1) religious education; and (2) the subjects other than English and Welsh which are foundation subjects in relation to pupils at the school: s 105(7). For the purposes of s 105, 'school' includes part of a school: s 105(8).

- 19 Ibid s 105(1), (3)(a). See note 15 supra.
- 20 Ibid s 105(1), (3)(b). See note 15 supra.
- 21 Ibid s 105(1), (3)(c). See note 15 supra.

- 23 Ibid s 105(1), (3)(e). See note 15 supra.
- 24 Ibid s 105(1), (3)(f). See note 15 supra.
- 25 Ibid s 105(1), (3)(g). See note 15 supra.
- 26 Ibid s 105(1), (3)(h). For the purposes of s 105, 'modern foreign language' means a modern foreign language specified in an order made by the National Assembly for Wales or, if the order so provides, any modern foreign language: s 105(4). An order under s 105(4) may: (1) specify circumstances in which a language is not to be treated as a foundation subject for the third key stage; and (2) provide for the determination under the order of any question arising as to whether a particular language is a modern foreign language: s 105(5). See note 15 supra. At the date at which this volume states the law, no order had been made under s 105(4), (5). However, the Education (National Curriculum) (Modern Foreign Languages) (Wales) Order 2000, SI 2000/1980, made under the Education Act 1996 s 354 (repealed), has effect, by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), as if made under the Education Act 2002 s 105(4), (5).

931 The National Curriculum for Wales for the key stages

TEXT AND NOTES 15-29--The requirements for the first key stage as set out in the 2002 Act s 105 (1), (2) and (3) are not to apply in relation to pupils at maintained schools during the school years 2010 to 2011 and 2011 to 2012: Education (Disapplication of the National Curriculum for Wales at Key Stage 1) (Wales) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/1736.

TEXT AND NOTES 15-26--Education Act 2002 s 105(3)(a), (e) amended, s 105(3)(aa) (information and communications technology) added: SI 2008/1899.

NOTE 26--The Education (National Curriculum) (Modern Foreign Languages) (Wales) Order 2008, SI 2008/1408, revokes SI 2000/1980 and provides that for the purposes of the Education Act 2002 s 105 'modern foreign language' means any modern foreign language and that any question of whether a foreign language is a modern foreign language is to be determined by the Welsh Ministers.

NOTE 37--See the Education (National Curriculum for Wales) (Disapplication of Science at Key Stage 4) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1335; and Education (Local Curriculum for Pupils in Key Stage 4) (Wales) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/3256.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(2) CURRICULUM/(ii) The Curriculum in Wales/B. THE NATIONAL CURRICULUM FOR WALES: IN GENERAL/932. Establishment of the National Curriculum for Wales by order.

932. Establishment of the National Curriculum for Wales by order.

In respect of the foundation stage<sup>1</sup>, the National Assembly for Wales<sup>2</sup> must by order<sup>3</sup> specify the areas of learning<sup>4</sup> and may by order specify in relation to each of those areas such desirable outcomes<sup>5</sup>, such educational programmes<sup>6</sup>, and such assessment arrangements<sup>7</sup>, as it considers appropriate for that area<sup>8</sup>. In respect of the first, second and third key stages<sup>9</sup>, and<sup>10</sup> in respect of the fourth key stage, the Assembly may by order specify in relation to each of the foundation subjects<sup>11</sup> such attainment targets<sup>12</sup>, such programmes of study<sup>13</sup>, and such assessment arrangements<sup>14</sup>, as it considers appropriate for that subject<sup>15</sup>. Such an order<sup>16</sup> may not require the allocation of any particular period or periods of time during the foundation stage or any key stage to the teaching of any educational programme or programme of study or any matter, skill or process forming part of it<sup>17</sup>, or the making in school timetables, or the timetables of any person providing funded nursery education, of provision of any particular kind for the periods to be allocated to such teaching during any such stage<sup>18</sup>. Such an order may, instead of containing the provisions to be made, refer to provisions in a document published as specified in the order and direct that those provisions are to have effect or, as the case may be, are to have effect as amended by the order<sup>19</sup>.

The Assembly must exercise these powers conferred on it to make orders<sup>20</sup> so as to: (1) establish a complete National Curriculum for Wales<sup>21</sup> for the foundation stage as soon as is reasonably practicable<sup>22</sup>; and (2) revise the National Curriculum for Wales for the foundation stage and the key stages whenever the Assembly considers it necessary or expedient to do so<sup>23</sup>.

Provision must be made for determining the extent to which any assessment arrangements, and the implementation of the arrangements, achieve the purpose for which the arrangements are made; and any such provision may be made by or under the order specifying the arrangements or, where the order specifies the person making the arrangements, in the arrangements themselves<sup>24</sup>.

1 The provisions of the Education Act 2002 s 108 (as amended) which relate to the foundation stage (ie s 108(1)(a), (2), (6), and all references to them) come into force as from a day to be appointed under s 216(3). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed. The remaining provisions (ie s 108(1)(b), (3)-(5), (7)-(11)) came into force on 19 December 2002: see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 1) (Wales) Order 2002, SI 2002/3185, art 4, Schedule Pt I. As to the foundation stage see PARA 930 ante.

2 As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 52 ante.

3 As to the making of orders under the Education Act 2002 generally see PARA 77 note 7 ante.

4 Education Act 2002 s 108(2)(a). See note 1 supra. As to the areas of learning for the foundation stage see PARA 930 ante. As to the procedure for making orders under s 108(2)(a) (not yet in force) see PARA 934 post.

5 Ibid s 108(2)(b)(i). See note 1 supra. For the meaning of 'desirable outcomes' see PARA 930 ante. As to the procedure for making orders under s 108(2)(b)(i) (not yet in force) see PARA 934 post.

6 Ibid s 108(2)(b)(ii). See note 1 supra. For the meaning of 'educational programmes' see PARA 930 ante. As to the procedure for making orders under s 108(2)(b)(ii) (not yet in force) see PARA 934 post.

7 Ibid s 108(2)(b)(iii). See note 1 supra. For the meaning of 'assessment arrangements' see PARA 929 ante. An order under s 108(2)(b)(iii) (not yet in force) may confer or impose such functions on: (1) the governing body and head teacher of a maintained school or a maintained nursery school; (2) a person providing funded nursery education under the arrangements mentioned in s 98(2)(b) (see PARA 926 note 11 ante); (3) an early years development and childcare partnership; and (4) a local education authority, as appear to the National Assembly for Wales to be required: s 108(6). Such an order may also specify such assessment arrangements as may for the time being be made by a person specified in the order: s 108(8). An order may authorise the making of such provisions giving full effect to or otherwise supplementing the provisions made by the order, other than provision conferring or imposing functions as mentioned in s 108(6) (not yet in force), as appear to the Assembly to be expedient; and any provisions made under such an order must, on being published as specified in the order, have effect for the purposes of Pt 7 (ss 97-118) (as amended) as if made by the order: s 108(11). As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 14 note 5 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). As to the governing bodies of maintained schools in Wales see PARA 251 et seq ante. As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). ### C. THE NATIONAL CURRICULUM FOR WALES: SPECIAL CASES

935. Development work and experiments.

For the purpose of enabling development work or experiments to be carried out, the National Assembly for Wales<sup>1</sup> may direct in respect of a particular maintained school<sup>2</sup> or maintained nursery school<sup>3</sup> that, for such period as may be specified in the direction, the National Curriculum for Wales<sup>4</sup> does not apply<sup>5</sup>, or applies with such modifications as may be specified in the direction<sup>6</sup>. Such a direction may apply either generally or in such cases as may be specified in the direction<sup>7</sup>. In the case of a community, voluntary controlled or community special school<sup>8</sup> or a maintained nursery school, such a direction<sup>9</sup> must not be given except on an application<sup>10</sup>:

- 1706 (1) by the governing body<sup>11</sup> with the agreement of the local education authority<sup>12</sup>;
- 1707 (2) by the local education authority with the agreement of the governing body<sup>13</sup>; or
- 1708 (3) by the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales<sup>14</sup> with the agreement of both the local education authority and the governing body<sup>15</sup>.

In the case of a foundation, voluntary aided or foundation special school<sup>16</sup>, such a direction must not be given<sup>17</sup> except on an application by the governing body or by the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales with the agreement of the governing body<sup>18</sup>.

The Assembly may make it a condition of such a direction<sup>19</sup> that any person by whom or with whose agreement the request for the direction was made should, when so directed or at specified intervals, report to the Assembly on any matters specified by it<sup>20</sup>.

CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(2) CURRICULUM/(ii) The Curriculum in Wales/C. THE NATIONAL CURRICULUM FOR WALES: SPECIAL CASES/938. Temporary exceptions for individual pupils.

938. Temporary exceptions for individual pupils.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may enable the head teacher<sup>2</sup> of a maintained school<sup>3</sup> or maintained nursery school<sup>4</sup>, in such cases or circumstances and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed<sup>5</sup>, to direct in respect of a registered pupil<sup>6</sup> at the school that, for such period as may be specified in the direction (the 'operative period' of the direction), the National Curriculum for Wales<sup>7</sup> does not apply<sup>8</sup>, or applies with such modifications<sup>9</sup> as may be specified in the direction<sup>10</sup>. The conditions prescribed by the regulations must, in particular, limit the operative period that may be specified in a direction to a maximum period specified in the regulations<sup>11</sup>. Any maximum period specified, whether in relation to directions given under the regulations or in relation to directions given under the regulations in circumstances specified in the regulations, must be either a fixed period not exceeding six months<sup>12</sup>, or a period determinable, in such manner as may be specified in the regulations, not later than six months from its beginning<sup>13</sup>. Any maximum period so specified may<sup>14</sup> differ according to whether or not the direction in question is given in respect of a period beginning<sup>15</sup> immediately after the end of the operative period of a previous direction<sup>16</sup>, or within such period after the end of the operative period of a previous direction as may be specified in the regulations<sup>17</sup>. The regulations may enable the head teacher of a maintained school or maintained nursery school, in such cases or circumstances and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed<sup>18</sup>, to revoke any direction given by him under the regulations<sup>19</sup>, and to vary such a direction, except so as to extend its operative period<sup>20</sup>. Before making any such regulations<sup>21</sup>, the National Assembly for Wales must consult with any persons with whom consultation appears to it to be desirable<sup>22</sup>.

Where a head teacher gives or varies a direction under such regulations<sup>23</sup>, he must, in such manner as may be prescribed<sup>24</sup>, give the information mentioned in heads (1) to (3) below to the governing body<sup>25</sup>, and to the local education authority<sup>26</sup> by whom the school is maintained<sup>27</sup>, and must take such steps as may be prescribed to give that information also to a parent<sup>28</sup> of the pupil concerned<sup>29</sup>. That information which must be given is:

- 1709 (1) the fact that he has taken the action in question, its effect and his reasons for taking it<sup>30</sup>;
- 1710 (2) the provision that is being or is to be made for the pupil's education during the operative period of the direction<sup>31</sup>; and
- 1711 (3) either a description of the manner in which he proposes to secure the full implementation of the National Curriculum for Wales in relation to the pupil after the end of that period, or an indication that he has the opinion<sup>32</sup> that the pupil has or probably has special educational needs<sup>33</sup> by virtue of which the responsible authority<sup>34</sup> would be required to determine the special educational provision<sup>35</sup> that should be made for him, whether initially or on a review of any statement of his special educational needs which the authority has for the time being required<sup>36</sup> to maintain<sup>37</sup>.

Where the head teacher of a maintained school or maintained nursery school includes an indication of any such opinion in the information given<sup>38</sup>, and the local education authority by whom the school is maintained is not the responsible authority in relation to the pupil in question, the head teacher must also give that information, in such manner as may be prescribed, to the responsible authority<sup>39</sup>. Where the responsible authority receives information<sup>40</sup> which includes an indication that the head teacher has the opinion that the pupil has or probably has special educational needs<sup>41</sup>, it must consider whether any action on its part is required<sup>42</sup> in the case of the pupil concerned<sup>43</sup>.

Where a head teacher:

- 1712 (a) gives, revokes or varies a direction under such regulations<sup>44</sup>;
- 1713 (b) refuses to give, revoke or vary such a direction in response to a request made, in such manner and circumstances as may be prescribed by the regulations, by the parent of a registered pupil at the school<sup>45</sup>; or
- 1714 (c) following the making of such a request, fails within such period as may be prescribed by the regulations to give, revoke or vary such a direction in accordance with the request<sup>46</sup>,

the parent of the pupil concerned may appeal to the governing body<sup>47</sup>. On such an appeal, the governing body may confirm the head teacher's action<sup>48</sup>, or direct the head teacher to take such action authorised by the regulations as it considers appropriate in the circumstances<sup>49</sup>. The governing body must notify the appellant and the head teacher in writing of its decision on such an appeal<sup>50</sup>.

(iii) Baseline Assessments in Wales

939. Adoption of baseline assessment schemes.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect in relation to Wales<sup>1</sup>.

A 'baseline assessment scheme' is a scheme designed to enable pupils at a maintained primary school<sup>2</sup> to be assessed for the purpose of assisting the future planning of their education and the measurement of their future educational achievements<sup>3</sup>. The governing body<sup>4</sup> of each maintained primary school with pupils<sup>5</sup> who are required to be assessed in accordance with such a scheme<sup>6</sup> must adopt a baseline assessment scheme for the school<sup>7</sup>. A baseline assessment scheme may be adopted if, and only if, the scheme has been accredited by a designated<sup>8</sup> body in accordance with criteria determined with the approval of the National Assembly for Wales, and published, by that body<sup>9</sup>. A local education authority<sup>10</sup> may prepare, and seek accreditation of, a baseline assessment scheme with a view to its being adopted by the governing bodies of primary schools maintained by the authority<sup>11</sup>. Each local education authority must select an accredited baseline assessment scheme which it considers suitable to be adopted, and which may be a scheme prepared by it<sup>12</sup>.

However, in the case of any particular maintained primary school, the baseline assessment scheme which is to be adopted for the school by its governing body must be such scheme accredited and published by a designated body in accordance with criteria determined with the approval of the Assembly<sup>13</sup> as is chosen by the head teacher<sup>14</sup> after consulting the governing body<sup>15</sup>, or if such a scheme is not so chosen by him within a reasonable time, by the governing body<sup>16</sup>. When choosing the scheme to be adopted for a maintained primary school, the head teacher or, as the case may be, the governing body must ensure that the scheme selected by the authority<sup>17</sup> is considered, whether on its own or with any other schemes<sup>18</sup>.

1 The Education Act 1997 ss 15-16 (as amended) are repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 204, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to England, the appointed day is 2 September 2002 (see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 1) Order 2002, SI 2002/2002, art 4) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'maintained primary school' means a primary school which is a community, foundation or voluntary school, or a community or foundation special school (other than one established in a hospital), or a maintained nursery school: Education Act 1997 s 15 (amended by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 para 209). See note 1 supra. For the meaning of 'primary school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 1997 s 56(2). As to community, foundation and voluntary schools and community and foundation special schools see PARA 102 et seq ante; and as to special schools generally see PARA 1027 post. As to nursery education see PARA 85 et seq ante.

3 Ibid s 15. See note 1 supra.

4 As to the governing bodies of maintained schools in Wales see PARA 251 et seq ante.

5 For the meaning of 'pupil' see PARA 16 note 4 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education Act 1997 s 56(2).

6 Ie required to be assessed under ibid s 17 (as amended): see PARA 940 post.

7 Ibid s 16(1). See note 1 supra. The scheme must be adopted in accordance with s 16(2)-(6) (as amended) (see the text and notes 8-18 infra): s 16(1). However, the Secretary of State may by order require the governing body of each maintained primary school with pupils who are required to be assessed under s 17 (as amended) (see PARA 940 post) to adopt for their school such baseline assessment scheme as is referred to in the order, and so long as any such order is in force the provisions of s 16(2)-(5) (as amended) (see the text and notes 8-18 infra) do not apply: s 16(6). As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of orders generally under the Education Act 1997 see PARA 888 note 16 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no order had been made under s 16(6).

8 For these purposes, 'designated' means designated by the National Assembly for Wales: ibid s 15. See note 1 supra.

9 Ibid s 16(2). See note 1 supra.

10 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

11 Education Act 1997 s 16(3). See note 1 supra.

12 Ibid s 16(4). See note 1 supra.

13 I.e. such scheme to which ibid s 16(2) (see the text to notes 8-9 supra) applies: s 16(5). See note 1 supra.

14 As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 56(2).

15 Ibid s 16(5)(a). See note 1 supra.

16 Ibid s 16(5)(b). See note 1 supra.

17 I.e. under ibid s 16(4): see the text to note 12 supra.

940. Assessment of pupils in accordance with scheme.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect in relation to Wales<sup>1</sup>.

All pupils<sup>2</sup> at a maintained primary school<sup>3</sup> who are at the relevant stage<sup>4</sup> of their education must be assessed in accordance with a baseline assessment scheme<sup>5</sup> adopted<sup>6</sup> for the school<sup>7</sup>. The assessment must be completed before the end of the prescribed period<sup>8</sup>. However, this does not apply to a pupil if it appears to the head teacher<sup>9</sup> from a record of such a previous assessment that such an assessment has already been carried out in relation to the pupil at another school<sup>10</sup>. Regulations may enable a head teacher of a maintained primary school, in such cases or circumstances and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, to direct that: (1) the requirement to assess<sup>11</sup> is not to apply to a particular registered pupil<sup>12</sup> at the school<sup>13</sup>; or (2) for the purposes of such an assessment of a particular registered pupil at the school, the school's baseline assessment scheme is to have effect with such modifications<sup>14</sup> as are specified in the direction<sup>15</sup>. Where the head teacher gives such a direction he must notify the governing body<sup>16</sup>, and the local education authority<sup>17</sup> by whom the school is maintained<sup>18</sup> of:

- 1715 (a) the fact that the head teacher has given the direction in question and his reasons for doing so<sup>19</sup>;
- 1716 (b) in the case of a direction under head (2) above, the effect of the modifications specified in the direction<sup>20</sup>; and
- 1717 (c) whether the direction is to have permanent effect, and, if not, the period for which it is to have effect<sup>21</sup>.

He must also take such steps as are prescribed to notify a parent of the pupil concerned of those matters<sup>22</sup>.

In relation to any maintained primary school, the governing body and the local education authority must exercise their functions<sup>23</sup> with a view to securing<sup>24</sup>, and the head teacher must secure, the requirement<sup>25</sup> to assess is complied with<sup>26</sup>.

1 The Education Act 1997 s 17 (as amended) is repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 204, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to England, the appointed day is 2 September 2002 (see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 1) Order 2002, SI 2002/2002, art 4) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales. #### 941. Regulations for purposes of schemes.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect in relation to Wales<sup>1</sup>.

- 1718 (1) the local education authority, or a designated body, to be notified<sup>10</sup>: (a) of the baseline assessment scheme for the time being adopted for any maintained primary school with pupils<sup>11</sup> who are required<sup>12</sup> to be assessed in accordance with such a scheme<sup>13</sup>; and (b) where any such assessment has been carried out at any such school, that it has been so carried out<sup>14</sup>;
- 1719 (2) the results of any such assessments carried out to be recorded and notified<sup>15</sup>: (a) to such persons as are specified in the regulations<sup>16</sup>; and (b) where the pupils in question transfer to other schools, to those other schools<sup>17</sup>.

Such regulations may also make provision requiring a local education authority to notify a designated body of any assessments notified to the authority in pursuance of regulations under head (1)(b) above<sup>18</sup>, and to collect other information relating to such assessments carried out at schools maintained by the authority and to forward such information to a designated body<sup>19</sup>.

1 The Education Act 1997 s 18 (as amended) is repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 204, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). #### (iv) Sex Education

942. Manner of provision.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> and head teacher<sup>2</sup> must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that where sex education<sup>3</sup> is given to any registered pupils<sup>4</sup> at a maintained school<sup>5</sup>, it is given in such a manner as to encourage those pupils to have due regard to moral considerations and the value of family life<sup>6</sup>. The Secretary of State<sup>7</sup> must issue guidance designed to secure that when sex education is given to registered pupils at maintained schools they: (1) learn the nature of marriage and its importance for family life and the bringing up of children<sup>8</sup>; and (2) are protected from teaching and materials which are inappropriate having regard to the age and the religious and cultural background of the pupils concerned<sup>9</sup>. The Secretary of State may at any time revise such guidance<sup>10</sup>. In discharging their functions as regards the manner of provision of sex education, governing bodies and head teachers must have regard to the Secretary of State's guidance<sup>11</sup>. Any such guidance must include guidance about any material which may be produced by NHS bodies<sup>12</sup> for use for the purposes of sex education in schools<sup>13</sup>.

3 As to the meaning of 'sex education' see PARA 914 note 8 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'registered pupil' see PARA 512 ante.

5 For these purposes, 'maintained school' includes a community or foundation special school established in a hospital: Education Act 1996 s 403(2) (amended by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 para 102; and the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 148(1), (5)). As to maintained schools see PARA 94 et seq ante. As to community and foundation special schools see PARA 102 et seq ante; and as to special schools see PARA 1027 post.

In relation to Wales, nothing in the Education Act 1996 Pt V (ss 375-410) (as amended) applies in relation to a nursery school or in relation to a nursery class in a primary school: s 410. As to nursery schools see PARA 81 ante. For the meaning of 'primary school' see PARA 81 ante. Section 410 is repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 205, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to England, the appointed day is 1 October 2002 (see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 2 and Savings and Transitional Provisions) Order 2002, SI 2002/2439, art 3) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(2) CURRICULUM/(vi) Religious Education and Worship/A. AGREED SYLLABUSES/949. Constitution of conference.

949. Constitution of conference.

A conference convened to reconsider the agreed syllabus<sup>1</sup> must consist of such groups of persons (called 'committees') appointed by the local education authority<sup>2</sup> convening the conference as are required<sup>3</sup>. Those committees are:

- 1720 (1) a committee of persons representing such Christian denominations and other religions and denominations of such religions as, in the opinion of the authority, will appropriately reflect the principal religious traditions in the area<sup>4</sup>;
- 1721 (2) except in the case of an area in Wales<sup>5</sup>, a committee of persons representing the Church of England<sup>6</sup>;
- 1722 (3) a committee of persons representing such associations representing teachers as, in the opinion of the authority, ought to be represented, having regard to the circumstances of the area<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1723 (4) a committee of persons representing the authority<sup>8</sup>.

Where a committee is required to be appointed by virtue of head (2) above, the committee required to be appointed by virtue of head (1) above must not include persons appointed to represent the Church of England<sup>9</sup>. The number of persons appointed under head (1) above to represent each denomination or religion required to be represented must, so far as is consistent with the efficient discharge of the committee's functions<sup>10</sup>, reflect broadly the proportionate strength of that denomination or religion in the area<sup>11</sup>. Any sub-committees appointed by the conference must each include at least one member of each of the committees constituting the conference<sup>12</sup>. On any question to be decided by the conference or by any sub-committee of the conference, a single vote must be given for each of the committees constituting the conference<sup>13</sup>. Before appointing a person to represent any religion, denomination or associations as a member of a committee, the local education authority must take all reasonable steps to assure itself that he is representative of the religion, denomination or associations in question<sup>14</sup>. No such proceedings will be invalidated on the ground that a member of a committee did not represent the religion, denomination or associations which he was appointed to represent, unless it is shown that the authority failed to take all reasonable steps to assure itself that he is representative of the religion, denomination or associations in question<sup>15</sup>.

A person appointed as a member of a committee may resign his membership<sup>16</sup>, or may be withdrawn from membership by the local education authority if, in its opinion, he ceases to be representative of the religion, denomination or associations which he was appointed to represent or, as the case may be, of the authority<sup>17</sup>. Where a person resigns or is withdrawn from a committee, the local education authority must appoint someone in his place in the same manner as that in which it made the original appointment<sup>18</sup>.

942-950 Manner of provision ... Reconsideration of agreed syllabus and the preparation of a new syllabus by appointed body

In relation to Wales, appointed day for repeal of Education Act 1996 s 410 is 1 August 2008: SI 2008/1728.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(2) CURRICULUM/(vi) Religious Education and Worship/A. AGREED SYLLABUSES/950. Reconsideration of agreed syllabus and the preparation of a new syllabus by appointed body.

950. Reconsideration of agreed syllabus and the preparation of a new syllabus by appointed body.

Where a local education authority<sup>1</sup> causes a conference to be convened<sup>2</sup> for the purpose of reconsidering any agreed syllabus<sup>3</sup>:

- 1724 (1) if the conference unanimously recommends that the existing syllabus should continue to be the agreed syllabus<sup>4</sup>, or unanimously recommends a new syllabus to be adopted in substitution for the existing syllabus<sup>5</sup>; and
- 1725 (2) it appears to the local education authority that the syllabus or, as the case may be, the new syllabus, reflects the fact that the religious traditions in Great Britain<sup>6</sup> are in the main Christian while taking account of the teaching and practices of the other principal religions represented in Great Britain<sup>7</sup>, the local education authority may give effect to the recommendation<sup>8</sup>. If, however:

- 1726 (a) the authority reports to the Secretary of State<sup>9</sup> that the conference is unable to reach unanimous agreement<sup>10</sup>; or
- 1727 (b) the conference unanimously recommends that the existing syllabus should continue to be the agreed syllabus but the local education authority considers that head (2) above prevents it from giving effect to the recommendation<sup>11</sup>; or
- 1728 (c) it appears to the Secretary of State that the authority has failed to exercise its power<sup>12</sup> to give effect to the unanimous recommendation of the conference<sup>13</sup>, the Secretary of State must appoint a body of persons having experience in religious education to prepare a syllabus of religious education<sup>14</sup>. The appointed body must, so far as is practicable, be of a representative character which is the same as that required<sup>15</sup> in the case of a conference<sup>16</sup>. The appointed body must: (i) give the local education authority, the conference and every committee constituting the conference an opportunity of making representations to it<sup>17</sup>; (ii) after considering any such representations made to it, prepare a syllabus of religious education<sup>18</sup>; and (iii) transmit a copy of that syllabus to the authority and to the Secretary of State<sup>19</sup>. The syllabus prepared by the appointed body is deemed to be the agreed syllabus adopted for use in the schools<sup>20</sup> for which, or for the class or description of pupils<sup>21</sup> for which, it was prepared as from such date as the Secretary of State may direct<sup>22</sup>, and until a new syllabus is adopted<sup>23</sup> for use in those schools, or for pupils of that class or description<sup>24</sup>.

Duty to secure due provision of religious education.

B. REQUIRED PROVISION FOR EDUCATION IN SCHOOLS

951. Duty to secure due provision of religious education.

Subject to certain exceptions and special arrangements<sup>1</sup>, in relation to any community, foundation or voluntary school<sup>2</sup> the local education authority<sup>3</sup> and the governing body<sup>4</sup> must exercise their functions<sup>5</sup> with a view to securing<sup>6</sup>, and the head teacher<sup>7</sup> must secure<sup>8</sup>, that religious education is given in accordance with the provision for such education included in the school's basic curriculum<sup>9</sup>.

1    le subject to the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 71 (as amended): see PARA 961 post.

2    As to community, foundation and voluntary schools see PARA 102 et seq ante.

3    As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 69 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 2 para (r). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

4    As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

5    As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 14 note 5 ante; definition applied by virtue of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 142(8).

6    Ibid s 69(1)(a).

7    As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 142(8).

8    Ibid s 69(1)(b).

9    Ibid s 69(1). The text refers to such education included by virtue of the Education Act 2002 s 80(1)(a) (basic curriculum for every maintained school in England: see PARA 914 ante) or s 101(1)(a) (basic curriculum for every maintained school in Wales: see PARA 927 ante): School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 69(1) (amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 104(1), (2)).

The School Standards and Framework Act 1998 Sch 19 (as amended) (required provision for religious education: see PARAS 952-954 post) has effect for determining the provision for religious education which is required by the Education Act 2002 s 80(1)(a) or s 101(1)(a) to be included in the basic curriculum of schools within each of the following categories: (1) community schools and foundation and voluntary schools which do not have a religious character; (2) foundation and voluntary controlled schools which have a religious character; and (3) voluntary aided schools which have a religious character: School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 69(2) (amended by the Education Act 2002 Sch 21 para 104(1), (3)). For the purposes of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 Pt II (ss 20-83) (as amended), a foundation or voluntary school has a religious character if it is designated as a school having such a character by an order made by the Secretary of State: s 69(3). An order under s 69(3) must state, in relation to each school designated by the order, the religion or religious denomination in accordance with whose tenets religious education is, or may be, required to be provided at the school in accordance with Sch 19 (as amended) (see PARAS 952-954 post), or, as the case may be, each such religion or religious denomination: s 69(4). See PARA 42 note 15 ante. An order made under s 69(3) is not subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: see s 138(4) (as amended); and PARA 82 note 15 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of orders and regulations under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 generally see PARA 82 note 15 ante.

The following orders have been made under s 69(3), (4): the Designation of Schools Having a Religious Character (Wales) Order 1999, SI 1999/1814 (amended by SI 2004/1734); the Designation of Schools Having a Religious Character (England) Order 1999, SI 1999/2432 (amended by SI 2000/3080); the Designation of Schools Having a Religious Character (England) Order 2000, SI 2000/3080; the Designation of Schools Having a Religious Character (England) Order 2003, SI 2003/800; the Designation of Schools having a Religious Character (England) (No 2) Order 2003, SI 2003/2552; the Designation of Schools having a Religious Character (England) (No 3) Order 2003, SI 2003/2749; the Designation of Schools Having a Religious Character (Independent Schools) (England) Order 2003, SI 2003/3108; the Designation of Schools having a Religious Character (England) (No 1) Order 2004, SI 2004/1513; the Designation of Schools Having a Religious Character and Amendments (Wales) Order 2004, SI 2004/1734; the Designation of Schools Having a Religious Character (Independent Schools) (England) (No 2) Order 2005, SI 2005/2993; and the Designation of Schools Having a Religious Character (Independent Schools) (England) (No 3) Order 2005, SI 2005/3388. Other orders have been made under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 69(3), (4) but they are local in nature, and are not dealt with in this work.

The procedure to be followed in connection with the designation of a school in an order under s 69(3), and the inclusion in such an order, in relation to a school, of the statement required by s 69(4), is to be specified in regulations: s 69(5). The following regulations have been made under s 69(5): the Religious Character of Schools (Designation Procedure) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/2535 (amended by SI 1999/2243; SI 1999/2262; SI 2003/1558; and further amended, in relation to Wales only, by SI 2005/2912); and the Education (New Schools) (Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2243 (largely revoked by SI 2005/2912).

The School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 69(3)-(5) is applied, with modifications, in relation to an independent school with a religious character: see s 124B (as added); and PARA 473 ante.

CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(2) CURRICULUM/(vi) Religious Education and Worship/B. REQUIRED PROVISION FOR EDUCATION IN SCHOOLS/952. Community schools and foundation and voluntary schools without a religious character.

952. Community schools and foundation and voluntary schools without a religious character.

In relation to any community school<sup>1</sup> and in relation to any foundation or voluntary school<sup>2</sup> which does not have a religious character<sup>3</sup>, the required provision for religious education<sup>4</sup> in the case of pupils at the school is provision for religious education in accordance with an agreed syllabus<sup>5</sup> adopted for the school or for those pupils<sup>6</sup>. Separate provision was made in relation to former grant-maintained schools<sup>7</sup>.

If the school is a secondary school<sup>8</sup> so situated that arrangements cannot conveniently be made for the withdrawal of pupils from it<sup>9</sup> to receive religious education elsewhere and the local education authority<sup>10</sup> is satisfied that:

1729 (1) the parents<sup>11</sup> of any pupils at the school desire those pupils to receive religious education in the school in accordance with the tenets of a particular religion or religious denomination<sup>12</sup>; and

1730 (2) satisfactory arrangements have been made for the provision of such education to those pupils in the school, and for securing that the cost of providing such education to those pupils in the school will not fall to be met from the school's budget share<sup>13</sup> or otherwise by the authority<sup>14</sup>,

the authority must, unless it is satisfied that because of any special circumstances it would be unreasonable to do so, provide facilities for the carrying out of those arrangements<sup>15</sup>. No agreed syllabus may provide for religious education to be given to pupils at such a school by means of any catechism or formulary which is distinctive of a particular religious denomination, but this is not to be taken as prohibiting provision in such a syllabus for the study of such catechisms or formularies<sup>16</sup>.

7 If immediately before 1 September 1999 (ie the appointed day: see PARA 102 note 3 ante) the school was a grant-maintained school (within the meaning of the Education Act 1996), and in relation to the school or any pupils at the school the appropriate agreed syllabus (as defined by s 382 (repealed)) was a syllabus falling within s 382(1)(c) (repealed), then until the end of such period as the Secretary of State may by order prescribe, or such earlier date as the governing body may determine, the required provision for religious education in the case of the school or, as the case may be, those pupils is provision for religious education in accordance with that syllabus: School Standards and Framework Act 1998 Sch 19 para 2(4). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. ### 953. Foundation and voluntary controlled schools with a religious character.

In relation to any foundation or voluntary controlled school<sup>1</sup> which has a religious character<sup>2</sup>, the required provision for religious education<sup>3</sup> in the case of pupils at the school is provision for religious education in accordance with any arrangements made by the foundation governors under the provision described below<sup>4</sup>, or subject to any such arrangements, provision in accordance with an agreed syllabus<sup>5</sup> adopted for the school or for those pupils<sup>6</sup>. Where the parents<sup>7</sup> of any pupils at the school request that they may receive religious education in accordance with any provisions of the trust deed<sup>8</sup> relating to the school<sup>9</sup> or, if provision for that purpose is not made by such a deed, in accordance with the tenets of the religion or religious denomination specified in relation to the school<sup>10</sup>, the foundation governors<sup>11</sup> must, unless they are satisfied that because of any special circumstances it would be unreasonable to do so, make arrangements for securing that such religious education is given to those pupils in the school during not more than two periods in each week<sup>12</sup>.

Separate provision was made in relation to former grant-maintained schools<sup>13</sup>.

954. Voluntary aided schools with a religious character.

In relation to any voluntary aided school<sup>1</sup> which has a religious character<sup>2</sup>, the required provision for religious education<sup>3</sup> in the case of pupils<sup>4</sup> at the school is provision for religious education in accordance with any provisions of the trust deed<sup>5</sup> relating to the school<sup>6</sup>, or where provision for that purpose is not made by such a deed, in accordance with the tenets of the religion or religious denomination specified in relation to the school<sup>7</sup>, or in accordance with any arrangements made by the governing body under the provision described below<sup>8</sup>. Where the parents<sup>9</sup> of any pupils at the school desire them to receive religious education in accordance with any agreed syllabus<sup>10</sup> adopted by the local education authority<sup>11</sup>, and cannot with reasonable convenience cause those pupils to attend a school<sup>12</sup> at which that syllabus is in use<sup>13</sup>, the governing body<sup>14</sup> must, unless it is satisfied that because of any special circumstances it would be unreasonable to do so, make arrangements for religious education in accordance with that syllabus to be given to those pupils in the school<sup>15</sup>. Religious education under any such arrangements must be given during the times set apart for the giving of religious education in the school in accordance with the provision for that purpose included in the school's basic curriculum<sup>16</sup>.

CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(2) CURRICULUM/(vi) Religious Education and Worship/C. REQUIREMENT FOR COLLECTIVE WORSHIP/958. Arrangements for collective worship.

958. Arrangements for collective worship.

In relation to any community, foundation or voluntary school<sup>1</sup>, the arrangements for the required collective worship<sup>2</sup> may, in respect of each school day<sup>3</sup>, provide for a single act of worship for all pupils<sup>4</sup> or for separate acts of worship for pupils in different age groups or in different school groups<sup>5</sup>. The arrangements for the required collective worship must be made:

- 1731 (1) if the school is a community school or a foundation school which does not have a religious character<sup>6</sup>, by the head teacher<sup>7</sup> after consulting the governing body<sup>8</sup>;
- 1732 (2) if the school is a foundation school which has a religious character or a voluntary school, by the governing body after consulting the head teacher<sup>9</sup>.

The required collective worship must take place on the school premises<sup>10</sup>. However, if the governing body of a community, foundation or voluntary school is of the opinion that it is desirable that any act of collective worship in the school<sup>11</sup> should, on a special occasion, take place elsewhere than on the school premises, it may, after consultation with the head teacher, make such arrangements for that purpose as it thinks appropriate<sup>12</sup>. The powers of a governing body to arrange for an act of collective worship to take place elsewhere than on the school premises<sup>13</sup> must not be exercised so as to derogate from the rule that the required collective worship must normally take place on the school premises<sup>14</sup>.

Nature of collective worship in community schools and foundation schools without a religious character.

In relation to any community school<sup>1</sup> and any foundation school<sup>2</sup> which does not have a religious character<sup>3</sup>, the required collective worship<sup>4</sup> must be wholly or mainly of a broadly Christian character<sup>5</sup>. Not every act of collective worship<sup>6</sup> in the school<sup>7</sup> need be wholly or mainly of a broadly Christian character provided that, taking any school term as a whole, most such acts which take place in the school are<sup>8</sup>. However:

- 1733 (1) the extent to which, if at all, any acts of collective worship<sup>9</sup> which are not wholly or mainly of a broadly Christian character<sup>10</sup> take place in the school<sup>11</sup>;
- 1734 (2) the extent to which any act of collective worship in the school which is wholly or mainly of a broadly Christian character<sup>12</sup> reflects the broad traditions of Christian belief<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1735 (3) the ways in which those traditions are reflected in any such act of collective worship<sup>14</sup>, must be such as may be appropriate having regard to any relevant considerations relating to the pupils concerned which fall to be taken into account<sup>15</sup>. Those considerations are any circumstances relating to the family backgrounds of the pupils which are relevant for determining the character of the collective worship which is appropriate in their case<sup>16</sup>, and their ages and aptitudes<sup>17</sup>.

While a determination by a standing advisory council on religious education<sup>18</sup> that it is not appropriate for the required collective worship to be wholly or mainly of a broadly Christian character<sup>19</sup> in the case of any community school, or any foundation school which does not have a religious character, or in the case of any class or description of pupils at any such school, has effect<sup>20</sup>:

- 1736 (a) that requirement for the collective worship to be wholly or mainly of a broadly Christian character<sup>21</sup> does not apply in relation to such a school or, as the case may be, the pupils in question<sup>22</sup>; and
- 1737 (b) the required collective worship<sup>23</sup> in the case of the school or pupils must not be distinctive of any particular Christian or other religious denomination<sup>24</sup>.

961. Exceptions and special arrangements.

If the parent<sup>1</sup> of a pupil<sup>2</sup> at a community, foundation or voluntary school<sup>3</sup> requests that the pupil may be wholly or partly excused: (1) from receiving religious education given in the school in accordance with the school's basic curriculum<sup>4</sup>; (2) from attendance at religious worship in the school<sup>5</sup>; or (3) both from receiving such education and from such attendance<sup>6</sup>, the pupil must be so excused until the request is withdrawn<sup>7</sup>. Where, accordingly, a pupil has been wholly or partly excused from receiving religious education or from attendance at religious worship and the local education authority<sup>8</sup> is satisfied that:

- 1740 (a) the parent of the pupil desires him to receive religious education of a kind which is not provided in the school during the periods of time during which he is so excused<sup>9</sup>;
- 1741 (b) the pupil cannot with reasonable convenience be sent to another community, foundation or voluntary school where religious education of the kind desired by the parent is provided<sup>10</sup>; and
- 1742 (c) arrangements have been made for him to receive religious education of that kind during school hours elsewhere<sup>11</sup>, the pupil may be withdrawn from the school during such periods of time as are reasonably necessary for the purpose of enabling him to receive religious education in accordance with the arrangements<sup>12</sup>. A pupil may not be so withdrawn from school unless the local education authority is satisfied that the arrangements are such as will not interfere with the attendance of the pupil at school on any day except at the beginning or end of a school session, or if there is only one, the school session, on that day<sup>13</sup>.

Where the parent of a pupil who is a boarder<sup>14</sup> at a community, foundation or voluntary school requests that the pupil be permitted: (i) to receive religious education in accordance with the tenets of a particular religion or religious denomination outside school hours<sup>15</sup>; or (ii) to attend worship in accordance with such tenets on Sundays or other days exclusively set apart for religious observance by the religious body to which his parent belongs<sup>16</sup>, the governing body must make arrangements for giving the pupil reasonable opportunities for doing so<sup>17</sup>. Such arrangements may provide for making facilities for such education or worship available on the school premises, but any expenditure entailed by the arrangements must not be met from the school's budget share<sup>18</sup> or otherwise by the local education authority<sup>19</sup>.

Regulations<sup>20</sup> must make provision for securing that, so far as practicable, every pupil attending a community or foundation special school<sup>21</sup> receives religious education and attends religious worship<sup>22</sup>, or is withdrawn from receiving such education or from attendance at such worship in accordance with the wishes of his parent<sup>23</sup>.

Constitution and membership of advisory councils.

D. STANDING ADVISORY COUNCILS ON RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

962. Constitution and membership of advisory councils.

A local education authority<sup>1</sup> must constitute a standing advisory council on religious education for the purposes<sup>2</sup> of<sup>3</sup>:

- 1743 (1) advising the local education authority on such matters connected with religious worship in community schools or in foundation schools<sup>4</sup> which do not have a religious character<sup>5</sup>, and the religious education to be given in accordance with an agreed or other syllabus<sup>6</sup>, as the authority may refer to the council or as the council may see fit<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1744 (2) carrying out the functions<sup>8</sup> conferred on it<sup>9</sup>.

The matters referred to in head (1) above include, in particular, methods of teaching, the choice of materials and the provision of training for teachers<sup>10</sup>.

The council must consist of such groups of persons appointed by the authority as representative members (called 'representative groups') as are required<sup>11</sup>. The representative groups so required are:

- 1745 (a) a group of persons to represent such Christian denominations and other religions and denominations of such religions as, in the opinion of the authority, will appropriately reflect the principal religious traditions in the area<sup>12</sup>;
- 1746 (b) except in the case of an area in Wales<sup>13</sup>, a group of persons to represent the Church of England<sup>14</sup>;
- 1747 (c) a group of persons to represent such associations representing teachers as, in the opinion of the authority, ought to be represented, having regard to the circumstances of the area<sup>15</sup>; and
- 1748 (d) a group of persons to represent the authority<sup>16</sup>.

The council may also include co-opted members, that is persons co-opted as members of the council by members of the council who have not themselves been so co-opted<sup>17</sup>. Where a representative group is required by head (b) above, the representative group required by head (a) above must not include persons appointed to represent the Church of England<sup>18</sup>. The number of representative members appointed to any representative group under head (a) above to represent each denomination or religion required to be represented must, so far as consistent with the efficient discharge of the group's functions, reflect broadly the proportionate strength of that denomination or religion in the area<sup>19</sup>. On any question to be decided by the council only the representative groups on the council are entitled to vote, and each representative group has a single vote<sup>20</sup>.

Before appointing a person to represent any religion, denomination or associations as a member of the council<sup>21</sup>, the local education authority must take all reasonable steps to assure itself that he is representative of the religion, denomination or associations in question<sup>22</sup>. A member of the council who was appointed by the authority may be removed from membership by the authority if, in its opinion, he ceases to be representative of the religion, denomination or associations which he was appointed to represent or, as the case may be, he ceases to be representative of the authority<sup>23</sup>. A person co-opted as a member of the council holds office on such terms as may be determined by the members co-opting him<sup>24</sup>. A member of the council may at any time resign his office<sup>25</sup>. Subject to the provision relating to voting<sup>26</sup>, the council and, in relation to any question falling to be decided by members of the council of any particular category, the members of that category, may regulate their own proceedings<sup>27</sup>. The validity of proceedings of the council or of the members of the council of any particular category is not affected by a vacancy in the office of any member of the council<sup>28</sup>, or on the ground that a member of the council appointed to represent any religion, denomination or associations does not at the time of the proceedings represent the religion, denomination or associations in question<sup>29</sup>.

1 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 s 390 (as amended) (see the text and notes 2-20 infra) or s 392 (as amended) (see the text and notes 21-29 infra) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 paras (w), (x). 964. Determination of cases in which requirement for Christian collective worship is not to apply.

The standing advisory council constituted by a local education authority<sup>1</sup> must, on an application made by the head teacher<sup>2</sup> of:

- 1749 (1) any community school maintained by the authority<sup>3</sup>; or
- 1750 (2) any foundation school<sup>4</sup> which has not been designated<sup>5</sup> by the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup> as having a religious character<sup>7</sup>, consider whether it is appropriate for the requirement for Christian collective worship<sup>8</sup> to apply in the case of the school or in the case of any class or description of pupils<sup>9</sup> at the school<sup>10</sup>. Where an application is made under head (1) above in respect of a community school which becomes a foundation school<sup>11</sup> before the application is determined, it must, unless withdrawn by the head teacher, continue as if made under head (2) above<sup>12</sup>. Before making an application under head (1) or head (2) above, the head teacher of a school must consult the governing body<sup>13</sup>; and on being consulted by the head teacher, the governing body may if it thinks fit take such steps as it considers appropriate for consulting all persons appearing to it to be parents<sup>14</sup> of registered pupils<sup>15</sup> at the school<sup>16</sup>. An application must be made in such manner and form as the council may require<sup>17</sup>.

In determining whether it is appropriate for that requirement to apply the council must have regard to any circumstances relating to the family backgrounds of the pupils at the school, or of the pupils of the particular class or description in question, which are relevant for determining the character of the collective worship appropriate in their case<sup>18</sup>.

The council must give the head teacher written notification of its decision on the application<sup>19</sup>.

965. Review of determinations.

Any determination by a standing advisory council<sup>1</sup> by virtue of which the requirement for Christian collective worship<sup>2</sup> does not for the time being apply in the case of a school or a class or description of pupils<sup>3</sup> at a school must be reviewed by the council<sup>4</sup>:

- 1751 (1) at any time on an application made by the head teacher<sup>5</sup>; and
- 1752 (2) in any event not later than the end of the period of five years beginning with the date on which the determination first took effect or, where it has since been reviewed, beginning with the effective date of the decision on the last review<sup>6</sup>.

On any review under head (2) above the council must give the head teacher an opportunity of making representations as to the determination under review<sup>7</sup>. On any such review under head (1) and head (2) above, the council may confirm the determination, with or without variation<sup>8</sup>, or revoke it, without prejudice to any further determination<sup>9</sup>.

The council must give the head teacher written notification of its decision, specifying the effective date of that decision for the purposes of head (2) above<sup>10</sup>.

966. Power to direct advisory council to revoke determination or discharge duty.

Where the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> is satisfied, either on complaint by any person or otherwise, that any standing advisory council on religious education constituted by a local education authority<sup>2</sup>:

- 1753 (1) has acted, or is proposing to act, unreasonably in determining<sup>3</sup> whether it is appropriate for the requirement for Christian collective worship<sup>4</sup> to apply in the case of any school or any class or description of pupils<sup>5</sup> at a school<sup>6</sup>; or
- 1754 (2) has failed to discharge any duty imposed on it<sup>7</sup>, he may give the council such directions as to the revocation of the determination, or the withdrawal of the proposed determination or, as the case may be, the discharge of the duty as appears to him to be expedient, and the council must comply with the directions<sup>8</sup>. Such directions may provide for the making by the council of a new determination to take effect in place of the determination or proposed determination to be revoked or withdrawn by it<sup>9</sup>.

(3) EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS

969. Obligation to enter pupils for public examinations.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> of a maintained school<sup>2</sup> must secure that each registered pupil<sup>3</sup> at the school is entered, at such time as it considers appropriate, for each prescribed public examination<sup>4</sup> for which he is being prepared at the school at the time in question in each syllabus for that examination for which he is being so prepared<sup>5</sup>. However, the governing body is not required to secure that a pupil is entered for any examination, or for an examination in any syllabus for that examination, if either:

- 1758 (1) it considers that there are educational reasons in the case of that particular pupil for not entering him for that examination or, as the case may be, for not entering him for that examination in that syllabus<sup>6</sup>; or
- 1759 (2) the parent<sup>7</sup> of the pupil requests in writing that the pupil should not be entered for that examination or, as the case may be, for that examination in that syllabus<sup>8</sup>, but, these exceptions do not apply to an examination which is part of the assessment arrangements<sup>9</sup> for the fourth key stage<sup>10</sup> and which applies in the case of that pupil<sup>11</sup>. Neither is the governing body required to secure that a pupil is entered for any examination in any syllabus for that examination if it has secured his entry for another prescribed public examination in a corresponding syllabus<sup>12</sup>. A pupil excluded from a school for violence may be allowed to sit examinations as a visitor, rather than be reinstated<sup>13</sup>.

As soon as practicable after determining whether or not to secure the entry of any pupil for a prescribed public examination in any syllabus for which he is being prepared at the school, the governing body must notify the pupil's parent in writing of its determination in relation to each such syllabus<sup>14</sup>.

1 As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

2 For these purposes, 'maintained school' includes a community or foundation special school established in a hospital: Education Act 1996 s 402(6)(a) (amended by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 paras 57, 101). 6 Ibid s 402(2)(a).

7 As to the meaning of 'parent' see PARA 510 note 1 ante.

8 Education Act 1996 s 402(2)(b).

9 For these purposes, 'assessment arrangements', in relation to a school maintained by a local education authority in England, has the same meaning as in the Education Act 2002 Pt 6 (ss 76-96) (as amended) (the curriculum in England: see PARA 916 ante) and, in relation to a school maintained by a local education authority in Wales, has the same meaning as in Pt 7 (ss 97-118) (as amended) (the curriculum in Wales: see PARA 929 ante): Education Act 1996 s 402(6)(aa) (added by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 45). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

10 For these purposes, 'fourth key stage', in relation to a school maintained by a local education authority in England, has the same meaning as in the Education Act 2002 Pt 6 (as amended) (the curriculum in England: see PARA 918 ante) and, in relation to a school maintained by a local education authority in Wales, has the same meaning as in Pt 7 (as amended) (the curriculum in Wales: see PARA 931 ante): Education Act 1996 s 402(6)(aa) (as added: see note 9 supra).

11 Ibid s 402(2).

12 Ibid s 402(3). For the purposes of s 402(3), a syllabus for a prescribed public examination is to be regarded as corresponding to a syllabus for another prescribed public examination if the same course of study is provided at the school in preparation for both syllabuses: s 402(4).

962-969 Constitution and membership of advisory councils ... Obligation to enter pupils for public examinations

In relation to Wales, appointed day for repeal of Education Act 1996 s 410 is 1 August 2008: SI 2008/1728.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(3) EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/970. National framework of qualifications.

970. National framework of qualifications.

The Qualifications and Curriculum Authority<sup>1</sup> and the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales<sup>2</sup> are responsible for establishing a national framework of qualifications. This national framework comprises three main types of qualifications. These are:

- 1760 (1) general qualifications, such as the General Certificate in Secondary Education ('GCSE') and Advanced level ('A' level), which are about a particular subject;
- 1761 (2) vocationally related qualifications, such as vocational A levels ('Advanced General National Vocational Qualifications', or 'Advanced GNVQs'), which give a broad introduction to a particular sector of the economy; and
- 1762 (3) occupational qualifications, such as National Vocational Qualifications ('NVQs'), which test the skills and knowledge needed to do a specific job.

The Authorities are responsible for setting out the standards that such qualifications must meet, and determining which qualifications are included in the national framework according to these standards.

The Authorities are responsible for ensuring that such qualifications are assessed properly by the awarding bodies. There are three unitary awarding bodies<sup>3</sup> who are responsible for specification development, production of examination papers, centre approval, awarding qualifications and ensuring standardisation of marking. The Authorities are responsible for ensuring that the awarding bodies are capable of delivering qualifications effectively and that the qualifications are of good quality. If satisfied as to the awarding bodies' capability and the quality of the qualifications, the Authorities will accredit those qualifications which will then be included within the national framework.

The Secretary of State and the National Assembly for Wales have power, acting on the advice of the Authorities, to approve external qualifications to be provided at schools, institutions and by employers<sup>4</sup>. In order for such external qualifications to be approved they must first have been accredited to the national framework by the Authorities<sup>5</sup>.

<sup>3</sup> The former awarding bodies have been consolidated to form three unitary awarding bodies known as: (1) the Assessment and Qualifications Alliance; (2) the Edexcel Foundation; and (3) Oxford, Cambridge and RSA Examinations.

The former awarding bodies (or examination boards) which are now part of the Assessment and Qualifications Alliance are the Associated Examining Board, the Joint Matriculation Board, the Northern Examinations and Assessment Board, the Northern Examining Association, the South East Regional Examinations Boards, the South Western Examinations Board, the Southern Examining Group, the Southern Regional Examinations Board, and the Southern Universities Joint Board.

The former awarding bodies which are now part of the Edexcel Foundation are the Business and Technical Education Council, the Business Education Council, the Technical Education Council, and the University of London Examinations and Assessment Council.

The former awarding bodies which are now part of Oxford, Cambridge and RSA Examinations are the East Midland Regional Examinations Board, the Midland Examining Group, the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board, the RSA Examinations Board, the University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate, the University of Oxford Delegacy of Local Examinations and the West Midlands Examinations Board.

4 As to the approval of external qualifications see PARAS 974, 976 post.

5 As to the functions of the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority and the Qualifications, Curriculum and Assessment Authority for Wales in advising on the approval of external qualifications see PARAS 888, 906 ante.

971. Meaning of 'external qualification'.

An external qualification is a qualification awarded or authenticated by an outside person, other than a qualification resulting from:

- 1763 (1) a course for the further training of teachers<sup>1</sup> or youth and community workers<sup>2</sup>;
- 1764 (2) a post-graduate course, including a higher degree course<sup>3</sup>;
- 1765 (3) a first degree course<sup>4</sup>;
- 1766 (4) a course for the Diploma of Higher Education<sup>5</sup>;
- 1767 (5) a course for the Certificate in Education<sup>6</sup>.

In relation to persons under 19, a qualification is awarded by an outside person if it is awarded by a person other than the school or institution or employer<sup>7</sup>, or a member of the staff of the school or institution or employer<sup>8</sup>. In relation to persons over 19, a qualification is awarded by an outside person if it is awarded by a person other than the institution or employer or a member of its or his staff<sup>9</sup>. In relation to persons under 19, a qualification is authenticated by an outside person if it is awarded by the school or institution or employer and is authenticated by a person other than the school or institution or employer<sup>10</sup>, or a member of the staff of the school or institution or employer<sup>11</sup>. In relation to persons over 19, a qualification is authenticated by an outside person if it is awarded by the institution or employer and is authenticated by a person other than the institution or employer or a member of its or his staff<sup>12</sup>.

972. Courses of education or training for persons under 19.

In relation to a course<sup>1</sup> of education or training:

- 1768 (1) which is provided, or proposed to be provided, by or on behalf of a school or institution or employer<sup>2</sup>;
- 1769 (2) which leads to an external qualification<sup>3</sup>; and
- 1770 (3) which is provided, or proposed to be provided, for pupils who are of compulsory school age<sup>4</sup> or for pupils who are above that age but have not attained the age of 19<sup>5</sup>, unless the external qualification is approved<sup>6</sup>, the course must not be funded by an authorised body<sup>7</sup>, or provided by or on behalf of a maintained school<sup>8</sup>.

<sup>7</sup> Ibid s 96(2)(a). In relation to England, the following are authorised bodies: (1) the Learning and Skills Council for England; (2) a local education authority; (3) a body specified by order by the Secretary of State for the purposes of s 100: s 100(1). In relation to Wales, the following are authorised bodies: (a) the National Council for Education and Training for Wales (s 100(2)(a)); (b) a local education authority (s 100(2)(b)); (c) a body specified by order by the National Assembly for Wales for the purposes of s 100 (s 100(2)(c)). At the date at which this volume states the law, no orders had been made under s 100. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante. As to the Learning and Skills Council for England see PARA 1072 et seq post. As to the National Council for Education and Training for Wales see PARA 1113 et seq post. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

Any power to make an order or regulations under the Learning and Skills Act 2000 must be exercised by statutory instrument: s 152(1). A statutory instrument is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament if the instrument contains an order or regulations made by the Secretary of State under any provision of that Act: s 152(2). An order or regulations under that Act may make different provision for different purposes: s 152(5). An order or regulations under that Act may also contain such incidental, supplementary, saving or transitional provisions as the person making the order or regulations thinks fit: s 152(6).

<sup>8</sup> Ibid s 96(2)(b). For these purposes, 'maintained school' means a community, foundation or voluntary school or a community or foundation special school: s 96(8). As to community, foundation and voluntary schools and community and foundation special schools see PARA 102 et seq ante. As to special schools see PARA 1027 post. In relation to a maintained school, the local education authority and the governing body must carry out their functions with a view to securing that s 96(2)(b) is not contravened: s 96(3).

As to the enforcement of s 96 in relation to England see PARA 975 post; and as to the enforcement of s 96 in relation to Wales see PARA 977 post.

973. Courses of education or training for persons over 19.

If an institution or employer receives financial resources from an authorised body<sup>1</sup>, and provides for persons who have attained the age of 19 a course<sup>2</sup> of education or training which leads to an external qualification<sup>3</sup>, the authorised body must carry out its functions with a view to securing that, unless the external qualification is approved<sup>4</sup>, the institution or employer does not make a payment which:

- 1771 (1) is a payment in respect of the qualification<sup>5</sup>;
- 1772 (2) is made to the outside person who awards or authenticates the qualification<sup>6</sup>; and
- 1773 (3) can reasonably be said to consist of or come from the financial resources received from the authorised body, or those resources and others<sup>7</sup>.

1 Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 97(1)(a). For the meaning of 'authorised body' see PARA 972 note 7 ante.

2 The course may be one of two or more components leading to the same qualification: ibid s 97(3).

3 Ibid s 97(1)(b). For the meaning of 'external qualification' see PARA 971 ante.

4 Ie approved under ibid s 98 in relation to England (see PARA 974 post) or s 99 in relation to Wales (see PARA 976 post).

5 Ibid s 97(2)(a). A payment in respect of a qualification includes a payment in respect of: (1) devising, administering, verifying or certifying the qualification; (2) setting or moderating examinations for the purposes of the qualification; and (3) registering, assessing or examining candidates: s 97(7).

6 Ibid s 97(2)(b).

7 Ibid s 97(2)(c). As to the enforcement of s 97 in relation to England see PARA 975 post; and as to the enforcement of s 97 in relation to Wales see PARA 977 post.

(4) SCHOOL PERFORMANCE TARGETS

978. School performance targets for performance of pupils.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations<sup>2</sup> make such provision as he considers appropriate for requiring the governing bodies of maintained schools<sup>3</sup> to secure that annual targets are set in respect of the performance of pupils<sup>4</sup>:

- 1780 (1) in public examinations<sup>5</sup> or in assessments for the purposes of the National Curriculum<sup>6</sup>, in the case of pupils of compulsory school age<sup>7</sup>; or
- 1781 (2) in public examinations or in connection with the attainment of other external qualifications<sup>8</sup>, in the case of pupils of any age over that age<sup>9</sup>.

Such regulations may require such targets<sup>10</sup>, and the past performance of pupils in the particular examinations or assessments, or in connection with the attainment of the particular qualifications, to which such targets relate<sup>11</sup>, to be published in such manner as is specified in the regulations<sup>12</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State under the Education Act 1997: s 56(1). As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1997 generally see PARA 888 note 16 ante. As to the regulations made under s 19 see the Education (School Performance Targets) (Wales) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/2196; the Education (School Performance and Unauthorised Absence Targets) (Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1811 (amended by SI 2004/2914; SI 2005/1396); and the Education (School Performance Targets) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2858 (amended by SI 2004/3323; SI 2005/2449).

3 For these purposes, 'maintained school' means a community, foundation or voluntary school, or a community or foundation special school, other than one established in a hospital: Education Act 1997 s 19(3) (substituted by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 para 213). As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

(5) PROVISION OF INFORMATION

979. Provision of information.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may require, in relation to every maintained school<sup>2</sup>, the local education authority<sup>3</sup>, the governing body<sup>4</sup> or the head teacher<sup>5</sup> to make available either generally or to prescribed<sup>6</sup> persons, in such form and manner and at such times as may be prescribed such information<sup>7</sup> as may be prescribed<sup>8</sup>. This may include information as to:

- 1782 (1) the curriculum for maintained schools<sup>9</sup>;
- 1783 (2) the educational provision made by the school for pupils<sup>10</sup> at the school and any syllabuses to be followed by those pupils<sup>11</sup>;
- 1784 (3) the educational achievements of pupils at the school, including the results of any assessments<sup>12</sup> of those pupils<sup>13</sup> for the purpose of ascertaining those achievements<sup>14</sup>;
- 1785 (4) the educational achievements of such classes or descriptions of pupils as may be prescribed, including results of the kind mentioned in head (3) above<sup>15</sup>; and
- 1786 (5) arrangements relating to external qualifications<sup>16</sup> and courses leading to such qualifications<sup>17</sup>.

Before making any such regulations, the Secretary of State must consult any persons with whom consultation appears to him to be desirable<sup>18</sup>.

The regulations must not require information as to the results of an individual pupil's assessment<sup>19</sup> to be made available to any persons other than<sup>20</sup>:

- 1787 (a) the parents<sup>21</sup> of the pupil concerned<sup>22</sup>;
- 1788 (b) the pupil concerned<sup>23</sup>;
- 1789 (c) in the case of a pupil who has transferred to a different school, the head teacher of that school<sup>24</sup>;
- 1790 (d) the governing body of the school<sup>25</sup>; or
- 1791 (e) the local education authority<sup>26</sup>.

The regulations must not require such information to be made available to the governing body, the head teacher or the local education authority except where relevant for the purposes of the performance of any of their functions<sup>27</sup>.

Such regulations may authorise local education authorities, governing bodies and head teachers to make a charge, not exceeding the cost of supply, for any documents supplied by them in pursuance of the regulations<sup>28</sup>.

In relation to any maintained school, the local education authority and the governing body must exercise their functions with a view to securing that the head teacher complies with any regulations so made<sup>29</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: Education Act 1996 s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations generally under the Education Act 1996 see PARA 40 note 5 ante. By virtue of the Education Act 1996 s 582(3), Sch 39 para 1, the following regulations have effect as if made under s 408 (as amended): the Education (School Curriculum and Related Information) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/954 (amended by SI 1989/1136; SI 1990/1109; SI 1991/1278; SI 1991/1582; SI 1992/1089; SI 1992/1296; SI 2003/2694); and the Education (Pupils' Attendance Records) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1582.

2 For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 408 (as amended), 'maintained school' includes a maintained nursery school: s 408(9) (added by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 46(1), (6)). The Education Act 1996 s 408(9) (as added) comes into force as from a day to be appointed under the Education Act 2002 s 216(4). In relation to England, that day is 1 September 2003 (see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 6 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) Order 2003, SI 2003/1667, art 4) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales. In relation to Wales, nothing in the Education Act 1996 Pt V (ss 375-410) (as amended) applies in relation to a nursery school or in relation to a nursery class in a primary school: s 410. Section 410 is repealed by the Education Act 2002 ss 205, 215(2), Sch 22 Pt 3 as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). In relation to England, the appointed day is 1 October 2002 (see the Education Act 2002 (Commencement No 2 and Savings and Transitional Provisions) Order 2002, SI 2002/2439, art 3) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales. ## (6) FUNDING OF LIFELONG LEARNING

980. Individual Learning Accounts.

The Individual Learning Account scheme was devised in order to encourage lifelong learning by providing financial support for education and training<sup>1</sup>. Although the scheme applies to both England and Wales, the scheme has not operated in England since 2001 and it now operates in Wales as Individual Learning Accounts Wales<sup>2</sup>.

Individual Learning Accounts take the form of 'qualifying accounts'<sup>3</sup> or 'qualifying arrangements'<sup>4</sup>. In addition, the National Assembly for Wales may authorise grants to be paid to or in respect of persons in connection with their education or training<sup>5</sup>.

1 See the Learning and Skills Act 2000 ss 104-109; and PARAS 981-983 post.

The Individual Learning Account system allows persons over the age of 18 to register with a central provider in order to qualify for financial assistance. After registration, various discounts on the cost of learning are available, including discounts in relation to course fees, course registration, examination fees and other associated costs, provided that they are part of the course fees claimed by the learning provider.

2 Individual Learning Accounts Wales began operating on 21 July 2003.

3 Ie under the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 104: see PARA 981 post.

4 Ie under ibid s 105: see PARA 982 post.

5 As to the payment of such grants see ibid ss 108-109; and PARA 983 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(6) FUNDING OF LIFELONG LEARNING/981. Qualifying accounts.

981. Qualifying accounts.

In order to be a 'qualifying account', the account must satisfy the conditions specified by the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> in regulations<sup>2</sup> (or satisfy them at the time concerned)<sup>3</sup>. Conditions which may be included are conditions:

- 1792 (1) as to the description of individual who may hold an account<sup>4</sup>;
- 1793 (2) as to the description of institution with which an account may be held<sup>5</sup>;
- 1794 (3) requiring an account not to be a joint one, or not to be held on behalf of a person other than the holder, or not to be held with another account of a specified description, or not to be connected with another account<sup>6</sup>;
- 1795 (4) requiring an account to be identified by a specified name<sup>7</sup>.

Conditions as to the description of institution with which an account may be held may themselves specify the description or may allow the Secretary of State to specify it in a way he thinks fit<sup>8</sup>. The regulations may provide that a specification of a description of institution with which an account may be held may include a requirement for institutions to have the benefit of approvals which have been given by the Secretary of State and not withdrawn<sup>9</sup>. The regulations may contain provision securing that an individual may not simultaneously hold more than one account which qualifies<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. The Individual Learning Account scheme now operates only in Wales: see PARA 980 ante.

2 In regulations made under the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 104. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such regulations had been made. As to the making of regulations under the Learning and Skills Act 2000 generally see PARA 972 note 7 ante.

982. Qualifying arrangements.

In order to be 'qualifying arrangements', the arrangements must satisfy the conditions specified by the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> in regulations<sup>2</sup> (or to satisfy them at the time concerned)<sup>3</sup>. Conditions which may be included are conditions:

- 1796 (1) as to the description of individual who may enter into arrangements<sup>4</sup>;
- 1797 (2) as to the description of body with which arrangements may be made<sup>5</sup>;
- 1798 (3) as to the nature of the arrangements and the way they are to be made<sup>6</sup>;
- 1799 (4) requiring the arrangements to be identified by a specified name<sup>7</sup>.

Conditions as to the description of body with which arrangements may be made may themselves specify the description or may allow the Secretary of State to specify it in a way he thinks fit<sup>8</sup>. The regulations may provide that a specification of a description of body with which arrangements may be made may include a requirement for bodies to have the benefit of approvals which have been given by the Secretary of State and not withdrawn<sup>9</sup>.

The Secretary of State, or a person designated by him, may make arrangements with a body in connection with the making by that body of qualifying arrangements<sup>10</sup>. These further arrangements may include provision for the remuneration of a body and the payment of its expenses<sup>11</sup>. Such arrangements may include provision for a person designated by the Secretary of State to carry out on his behalf such of his functions under the arrangements as he specifies<sup>12</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. The Individual Learning Account scheme now operates only in Wales: see PARA 980 ante.

As to the making of regulations under the Learning and Skills Act 2000 generally see PARA 972 note 7 ante. The Individual Learning Accounts (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/2146, have also been made under the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 105 but the Individual Learning Account scheme no longer operates in England: see PARA 980 ante.

5 Ibid s 105(3)(b).

6 Ibid s 105(3)(c).

7 Ibid s 105(3)(d).

8 Ibid s 105(4).

9 Ibid s 105(5). The regulations may contain provision securing that an individual may not simultaneously be a party to more than one set of arrangements which qualify under s 105 (see the text and notes 1-8 supra), or be a party to arrangements which qualify under s 105 and to arrangements falling within s 105(7): s 105(6). Arrangements fall within s 105(7) if they are arrangements which qualify under such provision of the law of Scotland as in the opinion of the Secretary of State corresponds to s 105, or arrangements which qualify under s 106 (see note 3 supra): s 105(7).

10 Ibid s 107(1). The Secretary of State may pay to a person designated by him under s 107(1) remuneration or amounts to meet the person's expenses: s 107(4).

11 Ibid s 107(2).

12 Ibid s 107(3). The Secretary of State may pay to a person designated by him under s 107(3) remuneration or amounts to meet the person's expenses: s 107(4).

982 Qualifying arrangements

NOTE 2--SI 2003/918 reg 1 further amended: SI 2005/3238. SI 2003/918 Schedule amended: SI 2008/1879.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/6. CURRICULUM, ASSESSMENT AND EXTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS/(6) FUNDING OF LIFELONG LEARNING/983. Grants.

983. Grants.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make regulations authorising grants to be paid to or in respect of individuals in connection with their education or training<sup>2</sup>. The regulations must provide that grants may be paid only to or in respect of individuals who:

- 1800 (1) hold qualifying accounts<sup>3</sup>;
- 1801 (2) are parties to qualifying arrangements<sup>4</sup>; or
- 1802 (3) hold such accounts and are parties to such arrangements<sup>5</sup>.

The regulations may provide that grants may not be paid unless other specified conditions are satisfied<sup>6</sup>. Conditions which may be included are conditions:

- 1803 (a) as to the way the qualifying accounts<sup>7</sup> are operated (including conditions requiring them to contain a specified balance)<sup>8</sup>;
- 1804 (b) as to the way the qualifying arrangements<sup>9</sup> are conducted<sup>10</sup>;
- 1805 (c) as to the employment or self-employment of individuals<sup>11</sup>;
- 1806 (d) requiring individuals not to be receiving or to have received specified benefits<sup>12</sup>;
- 1807 (e) as to the kinds of education or training which qualify<sup>13</sup>.

The regulations may also provide:

- 1808 (i) that the amounts of grants, and when and how they are paid, are to be decided by the Secretary of State<sup>14</sup>;
- 1809 (ii) that grants may be paid on such terms as the Secretary of State decides and that the terms may include terms requiring repayment in specified circumstances<sup>15</sup>;
- 1810 (iii) that if grants are payable under the regulations they may be paid to persons providing education or training<sup>16</sup>;
- 1811 (iv) that if grants are payable under the regulations they may be paid by the Secretary of State or by other persons under arrangements made with him<sup>17</sup>;
- 1812 (v) that if such arrangements are made the Secretary of State may pay the persons concerned remuneration or amounts to meet their expenses<sup>18</sup>.

The regulations may provide that a specification of the kinds of education or training which qualify may include a requirement for the education or training to be provided by persons for the time being approved by the Secretary of State<sup>19</sup>, or if he so decides, by a person who, at the time of the approval, is designated by the Secretary of State<sup>20</sup>.

SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(1) IDENTIFICATION AND ASSESSMENT OF CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(i) Identification of Children with Special Educational Needs/984. Meaning of 'special educational needs', 'special educational provision' and 'learning difficulty'.

7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS

(1) IDENTIFICATION AND ASSESSMENT OF CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS

(i) Identification of Children with Special Educational Needs

984. Meaning of 'special educational needs', 'special educational provision' and 'learning difficulty'.

A child<sup>1</sup> has 'special educational needs' for the purposes of the Education Act 1996 if he has a learning difficulty which calls for special educational provision<sup>2</sup> to be made for him<sup>3</sup>. A child has a 'learning difficulty' for these purposes<sup>4</sup> if:

- 1813 (1) he has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of children of his age<sup>5</sup>;
- 1814 (2) he has a disability which either prevents or hinders him from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for children of his age in schools within the area of the local education authority<sup>6</sup>; or
- 1815 (3) he is under compulsory school age<sup>7</sup> and is, or would be if special educational provision were not made for him, likely to fall within head (1) or head (2) above when of that age<sup>8</sup>.

However, a child is not to be taken as having a learning difficulty solely because the language (or form of the language) in which he is, or will be, taught is different from a language (or form of a language) which has at any time been spoken in his home<sup>9</sup>.

'Special educational provision' means: (a) in relation to a child who has attained the age of two, educational provision<sup>10</sup> which is additional to, or otherwise different from, the educational provision made generally for children of his age in schools maintained by the local education authority (other than special schools)<sup>11</sup>; and (b) in relation to a child under that age, educational provision of any kind<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'child' see PARA 16 note 2 ante. For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 Pt IV (ss 312-349) (as amended), 'child' also includes any person who has not attained the age of 19 and is a registered pupil at a school: s 312(5). See also S v Essex County Council [2000] ELR 718; Wakefield Metropolitan District Council v E [2001] EWHC Admin 508, [2002] ELR 203, [2001] All ER (D) 94 (Jul). For the meaning of 'registered pupil' see PARA 512 ante. For the meaning of 'pupil' see PARA 16 note 4 ante. For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'special educational provision' see the text and notes 10-12 infra.

3 Education Act 1996 s 312(1).

4 Ibid s 312(2). This provision is expressed to be subject to s 312(3) (see the text and note 9 infra) and does not apply for the purposes of s 15A (as added and amended) (local education authority functions in respect of full-time education for 16 to 18 year olds: see PARA 27 ante) or s 15B (as added) (local education authority functions in respect of education for persons over 19: see PARA 28 ante): s 312(2) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 149, Sch 9 paras 1, 56).

5 Education Act 1996 s 312(2)(a). A learning difficulty might, for example, result from a need for speech therapy (R v Lancashire County Council, ex p M [1989] 2 FLR 279, 87 LGR 567, CA; although cf R v Oxfordshire Education Authority, ex p W [1987] 2 FLR 193), or from dyslexia (R v Hampshire Education Authority, ex p J (1985) 84 LGR 547). See also R v Secretary of State for Education, ex p C [1996] ELR 93 (the fact that a child's exceptionally high intelligence enabled him to compensate for dyslexia did not mean that the child did not have special educational needs). However, this is not authority for the proposition that 'giftedness' of itself can constitute a learning difficulty: R v Portsmouth City Council, ex p Faludy [1998] 3 FCR 271, [1998] ELR 619; and see [1999] ELR 115, CA (refusing leave to appeal). See also note 6 infra.

6 Education Act 1996 s 312(2)(b). Exceptional academic ability is not a disability within the meaning of s 312(2)(b): S v Special Educational Needs Tribunal [2005] EWHC 196 (Admin), [2005] ELR 443, [2005] All ER (D) 76 (Feb). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

9 Education Act 1996 s 312(3). The domestic circumstances in which a child lives would only give the child a learning difficulty for these purposes where there was a direct relationship between the circumstances and the learning difficulty: G v Wakefield Metropolitan Borough Council (1998) 96 LGR 69.

10 The following have been held not to amount to educational provision: provision of a lift to ensure a disabled child's access to first floor facilities (R v Lambeth London Borough Council, ex p MBM [1995] ELR 374, 94 LGR 22), provision of nursing care to enable a severely disabled child to be safe at school (Bradford Metropolitan Council v A [1997] ELR 417), and provision of occupational therapy and physiotherapy (B v Isle of White Council [1997] ELR 279). However, a combination of occupational therapy, physiotherapy and speech therapy together has been held to amount to educational provision (Bromley London Borough Council v Special Educational Needs Tribunal [1999] 3 All ER 587, [1999] ELR 260, CA), as has speech therapy alone (R v Lancashire County Council, ex p M [1989] 2 FLR 279, (1989) 87 LGR 567, CA).

In the Education Act 1996 Pt IV (ss 312-349) (as amended), 'maintained school' means any community, foundation or voluntary school or any community or foundation special school not established in a hospital: s 312(5) (definition substituted by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 paras 57, 71(b)). ### 987 Duties of health service bodies to notify parent of special educational needs

NOTES--1996 Act s 332(1) further amended, s 332(2), (3) amended: References to Health Authorities Order 2007, SI 2007/961.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(1) IDENTIFICATION AND ASSESSMENT OF CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/ (ii) Assessment of Special Educational Needs/988. Assessment of educational needs.

(ii) Assessment of Special Educational Needs

988. Assessment of educational needs.

Where a local education authority<sup>1</sup> is of the opinion that a child<sup>2</sup> for whom it is responsible<sup>3</sup> is, or probably is: (1) a child who has special educational needs<sup>4</sup>; and (2) a child in relation to whom it is necessary for the authority to determine the special educational provision<sup>5</sup> for which any learning difficulty<sup>6</sup> he may have calls<sup>7</sup>, the authority must serve a notice<sup>8</sup> on the child's parent<sup>9</sup> informing him<sup>10</sup>:

- 1820 (a) that it is considering whether to make an assessment of the child's educational needs<sup>11</sup>;
- 1821 (b) of the procedure to be followed in making the assessment<sup>12</sup>;
- 1822 (c) of the name of the officer of the authority from whom further information may be obtained<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1823 (d) of the parent's right to make representations, and submit written evidence, to the authority within such period<sup>14</sup> as may be specified in the notice<sup>15</sup>.

Where a local education authority has served such a notice and the period specified in the notice has expired<sup>16</sup>, and the authority remains of the opinion, after taking into account any representations made and any evidence submitted to it in response to the notice, that the child falls, or probably falls, within heads (1) and (2) above<sup>17</sup>, it must make an assessment of his educational needs<sup>18</sup>. Where an authority decides to make such an assessment, it must give notice in writing to the child's parent of that decision and of its reasons for making it<sup>19</sup>.

Where, at any time after serving such a notice, an authority decides not to assess the educational needs of the child concerned it must give notice in writing to the child's parent of its decision<sup>20</sup>.

Regulations<sup>21</sup> make provision as to the manner in which assessments are to be conducted<sup>22</sup> and in connection with such other matters relating to the making of assessments as the Secretary of State considers appropriate<sup>23</sup>.

1 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 s 323 (as amended) and Sch 26 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (j). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'learning difficulty' see PARA 984 ante.

7 Education Act 1996 s 323(1), (2)(b).

8 Regulations may provide that where a local education authority is under a duty under ibid s 323 (as amended) to serve any notice, the duty must be performed within the prescribed period (s 323(5), Sch 26 para 3(3)(a) (Sch 26 para 3(3), (4) substituted by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 42(1), Sch 8 Pt I para 14(1), (3)), and that, where an authority has served a notice under the Education Act 1996 s 323(1) (as amended) on a child's parent, it must decide within the prescribed period whether or not to make an assessment of the child's educational needs (Sch 26 para 3(3)(b) (as so substituted)). Provision made under Sch 26 para 3(3) (as substituted) may be subject to prescribed exceptions, and does not relieve the authority of the duty to serve a notice, or make a decision or assessment, which has not been served or made within the prescribed period: Sch 26 para 3(4) (as so substituted). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. Provision for the service of notices is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 4-5; and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 4-5.

9 As to the meaning of 'parent' see PARA 510 note 1 ante.

10 Education Act 1996 s 323(1). Where an authority serves notice on a child's parent that it is considering whether to make an assessment, provision for the content and service of that notice, and for the service of further notifications concerning the assessment, is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 6(1)-(3), 12(1)-(5) (reg 6(2) amended by SI 2002/2469); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 6(1)-(3), 12(1)-(5).

14 The period must not be less than 29 days beginning with the date on which the notice is served: ibid s 323(1)(d).

15 Ibid s 323(1)(d). When making an assessment of special educational needs an education authority is required to take into consideration any representations made by, and any evidence submitted by or at the request of, the child's parent under s 323(1)(d): see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 11(a), (b); and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 11(a), (b).

18 Ibid s 323(3). Regulations may provide that where a local education authority is under a duty to make an assessment, the duty must be performed within the prescribed period: Sch 26 para 3(3)(d) (as substituted: see note 8 supra). Provision made under Sch 26 para 3(3) (as substituted) may be subject to prescribed exceptions, and does not relieve the authority of the duty to serve a notice, or make a decision or assessment, which has not been served or made within the prescribed period: Sch 26 para 3(4) (as so substituted). When making an assessment, an authority must take into consideration any representations made by the child's parent under s 323(1)(d) (see head (d) in the text) or s 329A(3)(d) (as added) (see PARA 995 post); any evidence submitted by or at the request of the child's parent under either of those provisions, and the advice obtained, in relation to England, under the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 7 (as amended), or, in relation to Wales, under the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 7 (see PARA 989 post); see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 11(a)-(c); and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 11(a)-(c). As to the documents which must be served where an authority has made an assessment of the educational needs of a child see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 17(1); and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 17(1).

If an education authority forms the opinion that at the time in question it is not necessary to determine the child's special educational needs because progress appears to be made by remedial measures privately paid for, that is not a failure on the authority's part to perform its statutory duties; rather, it is the performance of those duties in a particular way; the initiation of an assessment is only required where and when the authority is of the opinion that the child falls within the Education Act 1996 s 323(3), including being of the opinion that it is necessary for it to determine special educational provision required in the child's case. The fact that the authority is not of that opinion is not a failure to perform its duty: C v Lambeth London Borough Council and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal [1999] ELR 350 at 355 per Keene J. See also H v Kent County Council and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal [2000] ELR 660 at 672 (a failure to carry out an assessment does not amount to a breach of the right to education under the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953) Cmd 8969), First Protocol (Paris, 20 March 1952; TS 46 (1954); Cmd 9221) art 2 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 166)).

19 Education Act 1996 s 323(4). Provision for the content and service of notices under s 323(4), and for the time limit within which the assessment must be completed, is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 4, 6(1)-(3), 12(6)-(11) (regs 6(2), 12(7) (e), (8)-(10) amended by SI 2002/2469); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 4, 6(1)-(3), 12(6)-(11).

20 Education Act 1996 s 323(6). The time limits within which such a decision must be notified to the child's parents are prescribed by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 12(1), (5)-(7) (reg 12(7)(e) amended by SI 2002/2469); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 12(1), (5)-(7).

989. Advice in connection with the making of assessments.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> must make provision as to the advice which a local education authority<sup>2</sup> is to seek in making assessments<sup>3</sup> and must require the authority, except in such circumstances as may be prescribed<sup>4</sup>, to seek medical, psychological and educational advice and such other advice as may be prescribed<sup>5</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: Education Act 1996 s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. As to the regulations made under s 323(5), Sch 26 (as amended) see note 5 infra.

2 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 s 323 (as amended) and Sch 26 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (j). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

3 Education Act 1996 Sch 26 para 2(1). 'Assessment' means an assessment of a child's educational needs under s 323 (as amended) (see PARA 988 ante): Sch 26 para 1. As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante.

4 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: ibid s 579(1). See note 5 infra.

SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(1) IDENTIFICATION AND ASSESSMENT OF CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/ (ii) Assessment of Special Educational Needs/992A. Assessments relating to learning difficulties: England.

992A. Assessments relating to learning difficulties: England.

If a local education authority in England (1) maintains a statement of special educational needs for a person, and (2) believes that the person will leave school, at the end of his last year of compulsory schooling, to receive post-16 education or training or higher education, the authority must arrange for an assessment of the person to be conducted at some time during his last year of compulsory schooling: Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139A(1), (2) (s 139A-139C added by Education and Skills Act 2008 s 80). A statement of special educational needs is a statement maintained under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (see PARA 996): Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139B(2). A person's last year of compulsory schooling is the last school year at his school during the whole or part of which he is of compulsory school age; and in the application of s 139A(6) to a person who is receiving education at an institution other than a school, that institution is to be treated for the purpose of determining his last year of compulsory schooling as though it were a school: s 139B(5). 'School year' has the meaning given in the Education Act 1996 s 579(1) (see PARA 15): Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139B(8). 'Post-16 education or training' means post-16 education or post-16 training within the meaning of Pt 1: s 139B(7). 'Higher education' is education provided by means of a course of any description mentioned in the Education Reform Act 1988 Sch 6 (see PARA 726): Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139B(6). An assessment of a person is an assessment, resulting in a written report, of the person's educational and training needs, and the provision required to meet them: s 139B(3). If a local education authority in England (a) maintains a statement of special educational needs for a person who is over compulsory school age, and (b) believes that the person will leave school, during or at the end of the current school year, to receive post-16 education or training or higher education, the authority must arrange for an assessment of the person to be conducted at some time during the current school year: Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139A(3), (4). A local education authority in England may at any time arrange for an assessment to be conducted of a person who is within s 139A(6), and for whom the authority is responsible: s 139A(5). A person within s 139A(6) is one who (i) is in his last year of compulsory schooling, or is over compulsory school age but has not attained the age of 25, (ii) appears to the authority to have a learning difficulty within the meaning of the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 13 (see PARA 1091), and (iii) is receiving, or in the opinion of the authority is likely to receive, post-16 education or training or higher education: s 139A(6). A local education authority is responsible for (A) a person who is receiving education or training in its area; (B) a person who is not receiving education or training, but who is normally resident in its area; (C) a person who is not receiving education or training, and who is not normally resident in its area or that of another authority, but who is otherwise within its area and, in its opinion, likely to receive post-16 education or training or higher education: s 139B(4). In exercising its functions under s 139A an authority must have regard to any guidance issued by the Secretary of State: s 139A(7).

See further Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 139C which applies the assessment provisions to those being educated at home.

Assessment of educational needs at request of child's parent.

993. Assessment of educational needs at request of child's parent.

Where:

1830 (2) no such assessment has been made within the period of six months ending with the date on which the request is made<sup>9</sup>; and the authority must comply with the request<sup>11</sup>.

If in any case where heads (1) and (2) above apply the authority determines not to comply with the request, it must give notice in writing of that fact to the child's parent<sup>12</sup> and the parent may appeal against the determination to the Tribunal<sup>13</sup>. The Tribunal may either dismiss the appeal<sup>14</sup> or order the authority to arrange for an assessment to be made in respect of the child<sup>15</sup>.

In the case of an appeal under the Education Act 1996 s 329 (as amended), the local education authority must make an assessment of the child's educational needs before the end of the prescribed period: s 326A(4)(b) (s 326A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 5). For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 326A (as added and amended), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) in relation to an appeal to the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; and (2) in relation to an appeal to the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: s 326A(6) (substituted by the Education Act 2002 Sch 18 paras 1, 3).

For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 336A(1) (as added), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; (2) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales with the agreement of the Secretary of State: s 336A(2) (as so added; and substituted by the Education Act 2002 Sch 18 paras 1, 6). Provision governing compliance with orders of the Tribunal is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 25; and by the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 3. For an attempt to compel compliance with an order via mandatory order see R v Brent London Borough Council and Vassie (Chairman of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal), ex p AF [2000] ELR 550.

If the parent of a child has appealed to the Tribunal under the Education Act 1996 s 329 (as amended) against a decision of a local education authority, and the authority notifies the Tribunal that it has determined that it will not, or will no longer, oppose the appeal, the appeal is treated as having been determined in favour of the appellant; and if an appeal is treated as so determined, the Tribunal is not required to make any order: s 326A(1)-(3) (as added: see note 13 supra). If an appeal to the Tribunal is treated in this way as having been determined in favour of the parent making the appeal, the authority must make an assessment of educational needs within four weeks: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 26; and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 4.

993 Assessment of educational needs at request of child's parent

NOTES 11, 12--SI 2001/3455 regs 12(2), 17 amended: SI 2008/2683.

TEXT AND NOTES 13-15--References to 'the Tribunal' and 'the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal' now refer to the First-tier Tribunal and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales: Education Act 1996 ss 313(5), 326A(6), 336A(2) (amended by SI 2008/2833).

NOTE 13--1996 Act s 313(5) further amended: Education and Skills Act 2008 Sch 1 para 7 (not yet in force).

If an appeal to the First-tier Tribunal is treated in this way as having been determined in favour of the parent making the appeal, the authority must within four weeks notify the child's parent under the 1996 Act s 323(4) (see PARA 988) or, as the case may be, s 329A(7) (see PARA 995) that they will make an assessment: SI 2001/3455 reg 26 (amended by SI 2006/3346, SI 2008/2683).

SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(1) IDENTIFICATION AND ASSESSMENT OF CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/ (ii) Assessment of Special Educational Needs/994. Reviews of educational needs.

994. Reviews of educational needs.

Regulations may prescribe<sup>1</sup> the frequency with which assessments of educational needs<sup>2</sup> are to be repeated in respect of children<sup>3</sup> for whom statements of special educational needs<sup>4</sup> are maintained<sup>5</sup>.

Where:

1832 (1) the parent<sup>6</sup> of a child for whom a statement is maintained asks the local education authority<sup>7</sup> to arrange for an assessment to be made in respect of the child<sup>8</sup>;

1833 (2) no assessment has been made within the period of six months ending with the date on which the request is made<sup>9</sup>; and the authority must comply with the request<sup>11</sup>. If in any case where heads (1) and (2) above apply, the authority determines not to comply with the request it must give notice in writing<sup>12</sup> of that fact to the child's parent<sup>13</sup> and the parent may appeal against the determination to the Tribunal<sup>14</sup>. The Tribunal may either dismiss the appeal<sup>15</sup> or order the authority to arrange for an assessment to be made in respect of the child<sup>16</sup>.

A statement of special educational needs must be reviewed by the local education authority on the making of an assessment in respect of the child concerned<sup>17</sup>, and in any event, within the period of 12 months beginning with the making of the statement or, as the case may be, with the previous review<sup>18</sup>. Regulations may make provision as to the manner in which reviews of such statements are to be conducted<sup>19</sup>, as to the participation in such reviews of such persons as may be prescribed<sup>20</sup>, and in connection with such other matters relating to such reviews as the Secretary of State considers appropriate<sup>21</sup>.

1 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. As to the regulations having effect for these purposes see note 5 infra.

2 Ie under ibid s 323 (as amended) (see PARA 988 ante).

3 As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante. As to statements of special educational needs see PARA 996 et seq post.

5 Education Act 1996 s 328(1). Statements of special educational needs are maintained under s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 post). Provision as to the frequency with which the educational needs of a child in respect of whom a statement is maintained are reviewed, and as to the procedure for such reviews, is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 18, 20-22 (reg 18 amended by SI 2002/2469; SI 2003/537); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 18, 20-22 (reg 18 amended by SI 2003/1717).

6 As to the meaning of 'parent' see PARA 510 note 1 ante.

7 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 s 326A (as added and amended), s 328 (as amended) or Sch 27 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 paras (k) (n), (o). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

8 Education Act 1996 s 328(2)(a).

10 Ibid s 328(2)(c).

11 Ibid s 328(2). Where a child's parent asks an authority to arrange for an assessment and no assessment has been made for that child within the period of six months ending with the date on which the request is made, provision for the giving of notices by the authority is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 4, 6(2), (4), 12(2) (reg 6(2) amended by SI 2002/2469); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 4, 6(2), (4), 12(2).

12 Provision for the service of notices is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 4-5; and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 4-5.

13 Education Act 1996 s 328(3)(a) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 42(1), Sch 8 paras 1, 7(1)). A notice under the Education Act 1996 s 328(3)(a) (as amended) must inform the parent of the right of appeal under s 328(3)(b) (see the text and note 14 infra) and contain such other information as may be prescribed: s 328(3A) (s 328(3A), (3B) added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 8 paras 1, 7(2)). Regulations may also provide that where a local education authority is under a duty under the Education Act 1996 s 328 (as amended) to serve any notice, the duty must be performed within the prescribed period: s 328(3B) (as so added).

14 Ibid s 328(3)(b). In relation to England, the Tribunal referred to in the text is the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal and, in relation to Wales, it is the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales: see PARA 993 note 13 ante. In the case of an appeal under s 328 (as amended), the local education authority must make an assessment of the child's educational needs before the end of the prescribed period: s 326A(4) (b) (s 326A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 5). For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 326A (as added and amended), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) in relation to an appeal to the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; and (2) in relation to an appeal to the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: s 326A(6) (substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 3).

15 Education Act 1996 s 328(4)(a). As to appeals from Tribunal decisions see PARA 1035 post.

16 Ibid s 328(4)(b). If the Tribunal makes an order, the local education authority concerned must comply with the order before the end of the prescribed period beginning with the date on which it is made: s 336A(1) (s 336A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 4). For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 336A(1) (as added), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; (2) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales with the agreement of the Secretary of State: s 336A(2) (as so added; and substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 6). Provision governing compliance with orders of the Tribunal is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 25; and by the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 3. For an attempt to compel compliance with an order via mandatory order see R v Brent London Borough Council and Vassie (Chairman of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal), ex p AF [2000] ELR 550.

If the parent of a child has appealed to the Tribunal under the Education Act 1996 s 328 (as amended) against a decision of a local education authority, and the authority notifies the Tribunal that it has determined that it will not, or will no longer, oppose the appeal, the appeal is treated as having been determined in favour of the appellant; and if an appeal is treated as so determined, the Tribunal is not required to make any order: s 326A(1)-(3) (as added: see note 14 supra). If an appeal to the Tribunal is treated in this way as having been determined in favour of the parent making the appeal, the authority must make an assessment of educational needs within four weeks: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 26; and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 4.

17 Education Act 1996 s 328(5)(a). Such a review is called a 're-assessment review': s 324(7), Sch 27 para 1 (substituted by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 10, Sch 1 paras 1, 2). If, following such a review, a local education authority proposes to amend a statement, it must serve on the parent of the child concerned a copy of the proposed amended statement: Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2A(2) (Sch 27 para 2A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 10, Sch 1 paras 1, 3). The copy of the proposed amended statement must not specify any prescribed matter nor any matter in pursuance of the Education Act 1996 s 324(4) (see PARA 996 post): Sch 27 paras 2(3), (4), 2A(3) (Sch 27 para 2(3), (4) substituted by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 3; and the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2A(3) as so added).

When serving a copy of a proposed amended statement under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2A (as added), the local education authority must also serve on the parent a written notice explaining (to the extent that they are applicable) the arrangements under Sch 27 para 3 (as amended) for enabling the parent to express a preference as to his choice of school (see PARA 1006 post), the parent's right to make representations to the authority as to the content of the proposed statement (ie the effect of Sch 27 para 4 (as amended) (see PARA 1005 post)), and the provisions for appealing against the contents of a statement (ie under s 326 (as amended) (see PARA 1004 post)), and containing such other information as may be prescribed: Sch 27 para 2B(1)(b), (2), (3) (Sch 27 para 2B added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 3). The notice which must be served by an authority on a parent pursuant to the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2B(2) (as added) to accompany a copy of a proposed statement must contain information relating to the advice given to the authority during assessment for the statement; the procedure by which the parents may discuss the statement with the authority; lists of the maintained primary or secondary schools in the area and of approved non-maintained and independent schools; the procedure to be followed if the parents nominate a school; and the consultation process generally: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 14(a), Sch 1 Pt A; and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 14(a), Sch 1 Pt A. The time limits within which notice must be served under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2A (as added) or Sch 27 para 2B(2) (as added) are prescribed by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 17(1)-(4), (9); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 17(1)-(4), (9). As to provision for the service of documents see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 5; and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 5.

For the right of a parent on whom a copy of a proposed amended statement has been served to make representations as to the content of the statement see PARA 1005 post.

Regulations may make provision requiring the local education authority, where, after conducting an assessment under the Education Act 1996 s 323 (as amended) (see PARA 988 ante) of the educational needs of a child for whom a statement of special educational needs is maintained under s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 post), it determines not to amend the statement, to serve on the parent of the child a notice giving the prescribed information: s 323(5), Sch 26 para 3(1)(b). This does not apply to a determination made following the service of notice under Sch 27 para 2A (as added) of a proposal to amend the statement: Sch 26 para 3(2) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 8 para 14(1), (2)). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such regulations had been made.

18 Education Act 1996 s 328(5)(b). Such a review is called a 'periodic review': Sch 27 para 1 (as substituted: see note 17 supra). If, following such a review, a local education authority proposes to amend a statement, it must serve on the parent of the child concerned a copy of the existing statement, and an amendment notice: Sch 27 para 2A(4) (as added: see note 17 supra). An 'amendment notice' is a notice in writing giving details of the amendments to the statement proposed by the authority: Sch 27 paras 1, 2A(6) (Sch 27 para 1 as so substituted, Sch 27 para 2A(6) as so added). When serving an amendment notice under Sch 27 para 2A (as added), the authority must also serve on the parent a written notice explaining (to the extent that they are applicable) the arrangements under Sch 27 para 3 (as amended) for enabling the parent to express a preference as to his choice of school (see PARA 1006 post), the parent's right to make representations to the authority as to the content of the proposed statement (ie the effect of Sch 27 para 4 (as amended) (see PARA 1005 post)), and the provisions for appealing against the contents of a statement (ie under s 326 (as amended) (see PARA 1004 post)), and containing such other information as may be prescribed: Sch 27 para 2B(1)(c), (2), (3) (as added: see note 17 supra). As to the time limits within which a statement must be amended following the service of a notice under Sch 27 para 2A(4) (as added) see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 17(6)-(7), (9); and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 17(6)-(7), (9).

For the right of a parent on whom an amendment notice has been served to make representations as to the proposed amendment see PARA 1005 post.

19 Education Act 1996 s 328(6)(a).

20 Ibid s 328(6)(b). At the request of the local education authority, the governing body, head teacher and staff of non-maintained special schools must participate in any review conducted by the authority pursuant to s 328 (as amended) of a statement under s 324 (as amended), which relates to any registered pupil at the school, making no charge to the authority for such participation: see the Education (Non-Maintained Special Schools) (England) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2257, reg 4, Schedule para 19(2); and the Education (Special Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/652, reg 5, Schedule para 19(2) (applied in relation to Wales by virtue of the Education Act 1996 s 582(3), Sch 39 para 1; and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b)). Similar provision is made (in relation to England and Wales) in connection with the proprietor, head teacher and professional staff of independent schools: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, reg 4, Sch 2 para 8(5), (6) (applied by virtue of the Education Act 1996 s 582(3), Sch 39 para 1; and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b)).

UPDATE

994 Reviews of educational needs

NOTES 11, 16-18--SI 2001/3455 regs 12, 17 amended: SI 2008/2683.

TEXT AND NOTES 14-16--References to 'the Tribunal' and 'the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal' now refer to the First-tier Tribunal and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales: Education Act 1996 (ss 326A(6), 336A(2) amended by SI 2008/2833).

NOTE 16--SI 2001/3455 reg 25 amended: SI 2006/3346, SI 2008/2683.

If an appeal to the First-tier Tribunal is treated in this way as having been determined in favour of the parent making the appeal, the authority must within four weeks notify the child's parent under the 1996 Act s 323(4) (see PARA 988) or, as the case may be, s 329A(7) (see PARA 995) that they will make an assessment: SI 2001/3455 reg 26 (amended by SI 2006/3346, SI 2008/2683).

NOTE 17--SI 2001/3455 Sch 1 Pt A substituted by SI 2006/3346, and amended by SI 2008/2683.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(1) IDENTIFICATION AND ASSESSMENT OF CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/ (ii) Assessment of Special Educational Needs/995. Review or assessment of educational needs at request of responsible body.

995. Review or assessment of educational needs at request of responsible body.

If:

- 1835 (1) a child<sup>1</sup> is a registered pupil<sup>2</sup> at a maintained school<sup>3</sup>, a maintained nursery school<sup>4</sup>, a pupil referral unit<sup>5</sup>, an independent school<sup>6</sup>, or an approved school<sup>7</sup> (whether or not he is a child in respect of whom a statement of special educational needs<sup>8</sup> is maintained)<sup>9</sup>;
- 1836 (2) the responsible body<sup>10</sup> asks the local education authority to arrange for an assessment of educational needs<sup>11</sup> to be made in respect of the child<sup>12</sup>; and then, if it is necessary for the authority to make an assessment or further assessment of educational needs, it must comply with the request<sup>14</sup>. Before deciding whether to comply with the request, the authority must serve on the child's parent a notice<sup>15</sup> informing him:
- 1837 (3) no such assessment has been made within the period of six months ending with the date on which the request is made<sup>13</sup>,

- 1838 (a) that it is considering whether to make an assessment of the child's educational needs<sup>16</sup>;
- 1839 (b) of the procedure to be followed in making the assessment<sup>17</sup>;
- 1840 (c) of the name of its officer from whom further information may be obtained<sup>18</sup>; and
- 1841 (d) of the parent's right to make representations<sup>19</sup>, and submit written evidence<sup>20</sup>, to the authority before the end of the period specified in the notice<sup>21</sup>.

If a local education authority decides<sup>22</sup> to make an assessment of educational needs, it must give written notice to the child's parent and to the responsible body which made the request, of the decision and of its reasons for making it<sup>23</sup>. If, however, after serving the required notice<sup>24</sup>, the authority decides not to assess the educational needs of the child, it must give written notice of the decision and of its reasons for making it to the child's parent and to the responsible body which made the request<sup>25</sup>, and the parent may appeal against the decision to the Tribunal<sup>26</sup>. The Tribunal may either dismiss the appeal<sup>27</sup> or order the authority to arrange for an assessment to be made in respect of the child<sup>28</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registered pupil' see PARA 512 ante. For the meaning of 'pupil' see PARA 16 note 4 ante. The Education Act 1996 s 329A (as added) applies to a child for whom relevant nursery education is provided as it applies to a child who is a registered pupil at a relevant school (ie at any of the types of schools mentioned in the text and notes 3-7 infra): s 329A(11), (12) (s 329A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 8). For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante. 'Relevant nursery education' means nursery education which is provided by a local education authority, or by any other person who is in receipt of financial assistance given by such an authority and whose provision of nursery education is taken into account by the authority in formulating proposals for the purposes of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 120(2) (a) (see PARA 88 ante): s 123(4); definition applied by the Education Act 1996 s 329A(14) (as so added). For the meaning of 'nursery education' see PARA 85 ante. As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under s 326A (as added and amended), s 329A (as added and amended) or Sch 26 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 paras (j), (n), (q). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'maintained school' see PARA 984 note 11 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'maintained nursery school' see PARA 94 note 4 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'pupil referral unit' see PARA 457 ante.

6 As to independent schools see PARA 465 ante.

7 Ie a special school approved under the Education Act 1996 s 342 (as substituted) (approval of non-maintained special schools: see PARA 1028 post).

8 For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante.

9 Education Act 1996 s 329A(1)(a), (12) (as added: see note 2 supra). Statements of special educational needs are maintained under s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 post).

10 For these purposes, 'the responsible body' means: (1) in relation to a maintained nursery school or a pupil referral unit, the head teacher; (2) in relation to any other relevant school (ie any other of the schools mentioned in ibid s 329A(12) (as added) (see the text and notes 1-9 supra), the proprietor or head teacher; and (3) in relation to a provider of relevant nursery education, the person or body of persons responsible for the management of the provision of that nursery education: s 329A(13) (as added (see note 2 supra); and amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 44). For the meaning of 'proprietor' see PARA 60 note 7 ante. As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante.

13 Ibid s 329A(1)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra).

14 Ibid s 329A(2) (as added: see note 2 supra). Where a responsible body asks an authority to arrange for an assessment and no assessment has been made for that child within the period of six months ending with the date on which the request is made, provision for the giving of notices by the authority is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 4, 6(2), (5)-(6) (reg 6(2) amended by SI 2002/2469); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 4, 6(2), (5)-(6). When making an assessment an authority must take into consideration any representations made by the child's parent under the Education Act 1996 s 323(1)(d) (see PARA 988 ante) or s 329A(3)(d) (as added) (see the text and notes 19-21 infra), together with any evidence submitted by or at the request of the child's parent under either of those provisions, and the advice obtained, in relation to England, under the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 7 (as amended), or, in relation to Wales, under the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 7 (see PARA 989 ante): see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 11(a)-(c); and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 11(a)-(c).

15 Regulations may provide that where a local education authority is under a duty under the Education Act 1996 s 329A (as added and amended) to serve any notice, the duty must be performed within the prescribed period (s 323(5), Sch 26 para 3(3)(a) (Sch 26 para 3(3), (4) substituted by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 42(1), Sch 8 Pt I para 14(1), (3)), and that where a local education authority has served a notice under the Education Act 1996 s 329A(3) (as added) on a child's parent, it must decide within the prescribed period whether or not to make an assessment of the child's educational needs (Education Act 1996 Sch 26 para 3(3)(b) (as so substituted)). Provision made under Sch 26 para 3(3) (as substituted) may be subject to prescribed exceptions, and does not relieve the authority of the duty to serve a notice, or make a decision or assessment, which has not been served or made within the prescribed period: Sch 26 para 3(4) (as so substituted). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and, in relation to England, 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 579(1). In relation to Wales, 'prescribed' means prescribed in regulations made by the National Assembly for Wales: s 329A(15) (as added: see note 2 supra), s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. As to provision for the service of notices see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 4-5; and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 4-5.

16 Education Act 1996 s 329A(3)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). Where an authority serves on a child's parent notice that it is considering whether to make an assessment, provision for the content and service of that notice is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 4, 6(1)-(3), 12(3)-(5) (reg 6(2) amended by SI 2002/2469); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 4, 6(1)-(3), 12(3)-(5).

17 Education Act 1996 s 329A(3)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

18 Ibid s 329A(3)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra).

19 The authority must take into account any representations made, and any evidence submitted, to it in response to the notice: ibid s 329A(6) (as added: see note 2 supra).

20 See note 18 supra.

21 Education Act 1996 s 329A(3)(d) (as added: see note 2 supra). The period specified in the notice must not be less than 29 days beginning with the date on which the notice is served (s 329A(4) (as so added)), and the authority may not decide whether to comply with the request until the specified period has expired (s 329A(5) (as so added)).

When making an assessment of special educational needs an education authority is required to take into consideration any representations made by, and any evidence submitted by or at the request of, the child's parent under s 329A(3)(d) (as added): see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 11(a), (b); the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 11(a), (b); and PARA 988 ante.

22 Ie as a result of the Education Act 1996 s 329A (as added).

23 Ibid s 329A(7) (as added: see note 2 supra). Where no notice has been given in relation to a particular assessment and an authority serves notice on a child's parent that it is considering whether to make an assessment, provision for the content and service of that notice, and for the time limit within which the assessment must be completed, is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 4, 6(1)-(3), 12(6)-(11) (regs 6(2), 12(7)(e), (8)-(10) amended by SI 2002/2469); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 4, 6(1)-(3), 12(6)-(11).

24 Ie under the Education Act 1996 s 329A(3) (as added): see the text and notes 15-21 supra.

25 Ibid s 329A(8)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). A notice given under s 329A(8)(a) (as added) to the child's parent must inform the parent of his right to appeal, and must contain such other information (if any) as may be prescribed: s 329A(9) (as so added). Provision in this regard is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 12(3)-(5); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 12(3)-(5).

26 Education Act 1996 s 329A(8)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). In relation to England, the Tribunal referred to in the text is the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal and, in relation to Wales, it is the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales: see PARA 993 note 13 ante. In the case of an appeal under s 329A (as added), the local education authority must make an assessment of the child's educational needs before the end of the prescribed period: s 326A(4)(b) (s 326A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 5). For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 326A (as added and amended), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) in relation to an appeal to the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; and (2) in relation to an appeal to the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: s 326A(6) (substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 3). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such regulations had been made.

27 Education Act 1996 s 329A(10)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). As to appeals from Tribunal decisions see PARA 1035 post.

28 Ibid s 329A(10)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). If the Tribunal makes an order, the local education authority concerned must comply with the order before the end of the prescribed period beginning with the date on which it is made: s 336A(1) (s 336A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 4). For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 336A(1) (as added), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; (2) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales with the agreement of the Secretary of State: s 336A(2) (as so added; and substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 6). Provision governing compliance with orders of the Tribunal is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 25; and by the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 3. For an attempt to compel compliance with an order via mandatory order see R v Brent London Borough Council and Vassie (Chairman of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal), ex p AF [2000] ELR 550.

If the parent of a child has appealed to the Tribunal under the Education Act 1996 s 328 (as amended) against a decision of a local education authority, and the authority notifies the Tribunal that it has determined that it will not, or will no longer, oppose the appeal, the appeal is treated as having been determined in favour of the appellant, and if an appeal is treated as so determined, the Tribunal is not required to make any order: s 326A(1)-(3) (as added: see note 26 supra). If an appeal to the Tribunal is treated in this way as having been determined in favour of the parent making the appeal, the authority must make an assessment of educational needs within four weeks: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 26; and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 4.

NOTES 2, 10--1996 Act s 329A(11) amended, s 329A(13) further amended: Childcare Act 2006 Sch 2 para 22 (in force in relation to England: SI 2008/2261).

NOTE 14--SI 2001/3455 reg 6(6) amended: SI 2006/3346.

NOTES 16, 25--SI 2001/3455 reg 12(3), (4) amended: SI 2006/3346.

TEXT AND NOTES 26-28--References to 'the Tribunal' and 'the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal' now refer to the First-tier Tribunal and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales: Education Act 1996 (ss 326A(6), 336A(2) amended by SI 2008/2833).

NOTE 28--SI 2001/3455 reg 25 amended: SI 2006/3346, SI 2008/2683.

If an appeal to the First-tier Tribunal is treated in this way as having been determined in favour of the parent making the appeal, the authority must within four weeks notify the child's parent under the 1996 Act s 323(4) (see PARA 988) or, as the case may be, s 329A(7) (see NOTE 23) that they will make an assessment: SI 2001/3455 reg 26 (amended by SI 2006/3346, SI 2008/2683).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(2) STATEMENTS OF SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/996. Statement of special educational needs.

(2) STATEMENTS OF SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS

996. Statement of special educational needs.

If, in the light of an assessment<sup>1</sup> of any child's<sup>2</sup> educational needs and of any representations made by the child's parent<sup>3</sup>, it is necessary for the local education authority<sup>4</sup> to determine the special educational provision<sup>5</sup> for which any learning difficulty<sup>6</sup> he may have calls, the authority must make and maintain a statement of his special educational needs<sup>7</sup>. The statement must be in such form and contain such information as may be prescribed<sup>8</sup> and, in particular, must give details of the authority's assessment of the child's special educational needs<sup>9</sup> and specify the special educational provision to be made for the purpose of meeting those needs<sup>10</sup>. The statement must:

- 1842 (1) specify the type of school<sup>11</sup> or other institution which the local education authority considers would be appropriate for the child<sup>12</sup>;
- 1843 (2) if it is not required<sup>13</sup> to specify the name of any school in the statement, specify the name of any school<sup>14</sup> or institution (whether in the United Kingdom<sup>15</sup> or elsewhere) which it considers would be appropriate for the child and should be specified in the statement<sup>16</sup>; and
- 1844 (3) specify any special educational provision otherwise than in schools for the child for which it makes arrangements<sup>17</sup> and which it considers should be specified in the statement<sup>18</sup>.

Where a local education authority maintains a statement of a child's special educational needs, then:

- 1845 (a) unless the child's parent has made suitable arrangements<sup>19</sup>, the authority must arrange that the special educational provision specified in the statement is made for the child<sup>20</sup>, and may arrange that any non-educational provision specified in the statement is made for him in such manner as it considers appropriate<sup>21</sup>; and
- 1846 (b) if the name of a maintained school or maintained nursery school is specified in the statement, the governing body of the school must admit the child to the school<sup>22</sup>.

1    Ie under the Education Act 1996 s 323 (as amended) (see PARA 988 ante).

2    As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante.

3    Ie in pursuance of the Education Act 1996 s 324(7), Sch 27 (as amended). As to the meaning of 'parent' see PARA 510 note 1 ante.

4    As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under ibid s 324 (as amended) and Sch 27 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (k). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

5    For the meaning of 'special educational provision' see PARA 984 ante.

6    For the meaning of 'learning difficulty' see PARA 984 ante.

7 Education Act 1996 s 324(1). For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante. The local education authority has a wide discretion as to whether a statement is needed (see eg R v Secretary of State for Education and Science, ex p Lashford [1988] 1 FLR 72, (1987) 86 LGR 13, CA; R v Isle of Wight County Council, ex p S (1992) Times, 2 November, CA) although it must have regard to the code of practice made under the Education Act 1996 s 313 (as amended) (see s 313(2)(a); and PARA 1036 post). As to the parental right of appeal against the content of a statement see PARA 1033 post.

8 Education Act 1996 s 324(2). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. A statement of special educational needs must be in a form substantially corresponding to that set out, in relation to England, in the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 16, Sch 2 and, in relation to Wales, in the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 16, Sch 2: Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 16(a); Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 16(a). A statement must contain the specified information (Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 16(b); Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 16(b)), arranged into six parts:

- 96 (1) Introduction: the name of the local education authority making the statement, particulars of the child and the child's parent or person responsible, and details of the advice taken into consideration by the authority in assessing the child's needs (see PARA 989 ante) (Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, Sch 2 Pt 1, Appendices A-G; Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, Sch 2 Pt 1, Appendices A-G);
- 97 (2) Special Educational Needs: the special educational needs of the child calling for special educational provision, as assessed by the authority (Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, Sch 2 Pt 2; Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, Sch 2 Pt 2);
- 98 (3) Special Educational Provision: the objectives which the special educational provision for the child should aim to meet, the educational provision considered appropriate to meet those needs and objectives, and the arrangements to be made for monitoring the proposed educational provision (Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, Sch 2 Pt 3; Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, Sch 2 Pt 3);
- 99 (4) Placement: the type of school (or the name of the school) considered appropriate for the child's needs (Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, Sch 2 Pt 4; Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, Sch 2 Pt 4);
- 100 (5) Non-educational Needs: the non-educational needs of the child for which the authority considers provision is appropriate if the child is to properly benefit from the special educational provision specified in head (3) supra (Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, Sch 2 Pt 5; Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, Sch 2 Pt 5); and
- 101 (6) Non-educational Provision: any non-educational provision proposed to be made available to the child, including the arrangements for its provision, the objectives of the provision, and the arrangements for monitoring progress in meeting those objectives (Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, Sch 2 Pt 6; Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, Sch 2 Pt 6).

Additionally, the statement must be dated and authenticated by the signature of a duly authorised officer of the authority concerned (Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 16(c); Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 16(c)), and it must set out whether it is the first statement made by the authority for the child or a subsequent statement (Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 16(d); Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 16(d)). It must indicate on the front page if it is: (a) amended pursuant to an annual review, and the date of any such annual review; or (b) whether it is amended pursuant to a review other than an annual review, and the date of any such review; or (c) whether it is amended pursuant to an order of the Tribunal (ie, in relation to England, the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal and, in relation to Wales, the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales: see PARA 993 note 13 ante), and the date of any such order; or (d) whether it is amended pursuant to a direction of the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales, as the case may be, and the date of any such direction: Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 16(e); Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 16(e).

In relation to heads (2) and (3) supra, it was held in G v Barnet London Borough Council and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal [1998] ELR 480 at 483 per Ognall J that a child's religious and cultural background does not constitute a special educational need in its own right. However, in A v Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal [2003] EWHC 3368 (Admin), [2004] ELR 293, a decision maker was required to take account of a child's religious and cultural background (in this case, Jewishness) in assessing how special educational needs should be met.

In relation to head (3) supra, provision is not required to be made for matters of background and comment, nor even for needs which do not amount to educational needs: W v Leeds City Council [2005] EWCA Civ 988, [2005] ELR 617. Further to head (3) supra, the regulations require the statement to specify, in particular, any appropriate facilities and equipment, staffing arrangements and curriculum: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, Sch 2 Pt 3; and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, Sch 2 Pt 3. The courts have approached this by acknowledging the importance of flexibility: see eg R v Cumbria County Council, ex p P [1995] ELR 337 at 348, where Schiemann J concluded that it would not be appropriate to issue a declaration that where speech therapy was required the number and length of weekly sessions should be specified in the statement, because there was 'a whole spectrum of help which any individual child can receive from variously qualified and unqualified persons so as to help him achieve the maximum of what he is capable of achieving'. See also L v Clarke and Somerset County Council [1998] ELR 129 at 136, where Laws J observed: 'A requirement that the help to be given should be specified in a statement in terms of hours per week is not an absolute and universal precondition of the legality of the statement . . . There will be some cases where flexibility should be retained', although he concluded (at 137): 'The real question . . . in relation to any particular statement is whether it is so specific and so clear as to leave no room for doubt as to what has been decided is necessary in the individual case. Very often a specification of hours per week will no doubt be necessary and there will be a need for that to be done'. This guidance has been considered in C v Special Educational Needs Tribunal [1999] ELR 5 at 11 per Richards J; C v Buckinghamshire County Council and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal [1999] ELR 179 at 189, CA, per Thorpe LJ; Bromley London Borough Council v Special Educational Needs Tribunal [1999] 3 All ER 587 at 597, [1999] ELR 260 at 297, CA, per Sedley LJ; H v Leicestershire County Council [2000] ELR 471 at 484-485 per Dyson J; S v City and Council of Swansea and Confrey [2000] ELR 315 at 327-328 per Sullivan J; E v Rotherham Metropolitan Borough Council [2001] EWHC Admin 432 at [25], [2002] ELR 266 at [25] per Bell J; E v Flintshire County Council [2002] EWHC 388 (Admin) at [19], [2002] ELR 378 at [19] per Newman J; E v Newham London Borough Council [2002] EWHC 915 (Admin) at [24], [2002] ELR 453 at [24] per Stanley Burnton J (affd [2003] EWCA Civ 09, [2003] LGR 547, [2003] ELR 286); R (on the application of IPSEA Ltd) v Secretary of State for Education and Skills [2002] EWCA Civ 07 at [14], [2003] ELR 393 at [14] per Hale LJ (any flexibility built into a statement must meet needs of the child not the system). As to the requirement that a statement be sufficiently specific so as to enable a child's particular needs to be met see also R (on the application of W) v Bedfordshire County Council and B [2001] ELR 645; E v Newham London Borough Council supra at [36] per Stanley Burnton J. As to doubts expressed regarding the lawfulness of delegating the decision as to the final content of the provision under head (3) supra see C v Special Educational Needs Tribunal supra at 13 per Richards J; cf Bromley London Borough Council v Special Educational Needs Tribunal supra; S v Hackney London Borough Council [2001] EWHC Admin 572, [2002] ELR 45.

Where educational provision is appropriate, it should be included within part 3 of the statement (see head (3) supra); but there is no reason why, if it was considered necessary, part 4 of the statement (see head (4) supra) should not contain a reference to the provision as the measure that is appropriate for the time being, and a reference to the type of school to which a placement would be appropriate in the event that a vacancy should arise: Wandsworth London Borough Council v K [2003] EWHC 1424 (Admin), [2003] ELR 554.

9 Education Act 1996 s 324(3)(a).

10 Ibid s 324(3)(b). The educational provision to be specified includes the particulars required by s 324(4) (see heads (1)-(3) in the text): s 324(3)(b). The precise nature of the requirement to specify the special educational provision to be made for the purpose of meeting the child's needs' (see s 324(3)(b)) was considered in R v Secretary of State for Education and Science, ex p E [1993] 2 FCR 753, [1992] 1 FLR 377, CA (specified provision must address each of the needs specified in the statement). See also R v Mid-Glamorgan County Council, ex p B [1995] ELR 168; R v Kingston upon Thames London Borough Council and Hunter [1997] ELR 223. However, a cautious approach is needed. It has been held that R v Secretary of State for Education, ex p E supra does not justify a detailed comparison between the parts of a statement in support of a challenge to its sufficiency: see Re L [1994] ELR 16 at 22 per Leggatt LJ, CA. The Tribunal is entitled to take account of evidence from the local education authority as to how it intends to implement a commitment in the statement which leaves some room for doubt (Joyce v Dorset County Council [1997] ELR 26) or as to how the authority has classified provision to be made (for example, as educational or non-educational) (C v Special Educational Needs Tribunal [1997] ELR 390, applying Re L supra). See also B v Isle of Wight Council [1997] ELR 279; R v Northamptonshire County Council, ex p Marshall [1998] Ed CR 262; C v Special Educational Needs Tribunal and

Greenwich London Borough Council [1999] ELR 5; R v Hackney London Borough Council, ex p GC [1996] ELR 142, CA. See also note 17 infra.

The authority's duty is to make suitable provision, not necessarily the best possible provision: R v Surrey County Council, ex p H (1984) 83 LGR 219, CA. In relation to that case it has been said: 'it is . . . fair to read that case . . . as endorsing the limitation of the authority's duty under [the Education Act 1996 s 324] to the selection of an appropriate school. Although the statutory regard to cost is relevant only as a constraint on parental choice . . . there is nothing in the statutory scheme which calls upon the local education authority to specify the optimum available provision and much in its general duty of financial husbandry to entitle it to choose the least expensive of the appropriate options': R v Cheshire County Council, ex p C [1998] ELR 66 at 78 per Sedley J.

In order to comply with the Education Act 1996 s 324(3), an authority may not specify either directly or indirectly that parents are to supply some or all of the needs: R(A) v Cambridgeshire County Council [2002] EWHC 2391 (Admin), [2003] ELR 464; DM & KC v Essex County Council [2003] EWHC 135 (Admin), [2003] ELR 419 (parents did not consent to the regime being proposed). However, there is no offence against this principle if the parent is required to co-operate and liaise with those providing the child's educational programme when the child is at home during times of non-educational care: R (on the application of KW) v Special Educational Needs Tribunal and Rochdale MBC [2003] EWHC 1770 (Admin), [2003] ELR 566.

11 For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante. Naming a boarding school is not likely to contravene the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953); Cmd 8969) art 8 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 149-155): CB v Merton London Borough Council [2002] ELR 441 at [19] per Sullivan J.

12 Education Act 1996 s 324(4)(a); Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 16(b), Sch 2 Pt 4; Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 16(b), Sch 2 Pt 4. See note 8 head (4) supra.

13 Ie under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 (as amended).

14 If a local education authority is considering specifying the name of a maintained school or maintained nursery school in a statement, it must serve a copy of the proposed statement on, and consult, each affected body: ibid s 324(7), Sch 27 para 3A(1)(a), (2) (Sch 27 para 3A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 10, Sch 1 paras 1, 7; and the Education Act 1996 Sch 27A para 3A(1)(a) amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 58(a)). For these purposes, 'affected body' means the governing body of any school which the local education authority is considering specifying and, if a school which the authority is considering specifying is maintained by another local education authority, that authority: Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 3A(3) (as so added). For the meaning of 'maintained school' see PARA 984 note 11 ante. For the meaning of 'maintained nursery school' see PARA 94 note 4 ante. As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

Provision for the service of documents is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 5; and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 5.

15 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 63 note 3 ante.

16 Education Act 1996 s 324(4)(b); Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 16(b), Sch 2 Pt 4; Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 16(b), Sch 2 Pt 4. See note 8 head (4) supra. This does not, however, require the name of a school or institution to be specified if the child's parent has made suitable arrangements for the special educational provision specified in the statement to be made for the child: Education Act 1996 s 324(4A) (added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 9). As to what comprises 'suitable arrangements' see note 19 infra. A local education authority is only required to specify the name of a school in a statement if it considers the school appropriate and that it should be specified; in other words, the authority has a discretion as to whether or not to name a school in a statement: Richardson v Solihull Metropolitan Borough Council, White v Ealing London Borough Council, Hereford and Worcester County Council v Lane [1999] 1 FCR 356, [1998] ELR 319, CA. See also R v Kent County Council, ex p AMS [2000] ELR 209.

See also Tottman v Hertfordshire County Council [2004] EWCA Civ 927, [2005] LGR 262, [2004] All ER (D) 370 (Jun) (once the Tribunal had found that the child's special educational needs could be met at a local authority school, it had no obligation to specify what should occur outside the school working day); J v Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal [2005] All ER (D) 125 (Dec) (Tribunal entitled to conclude that a claimant's statement of special educational needs could be met appropriately by a school without prescribing a continuation of 'applied behaviour analysis' (ABA), which had been undertaken largely at home).

In White v Ealing London Borough Council, Richardson v Solihull Metropolitan Borough Council, Solihull Metropolitan Borough Council v Finn [1998] ELR 203, the parents of an autistic child had raised funds in order to send the child to an independent residential school of their choice, which was meeting his needs; however, it was held that this did not mean that the parents had made 'suitable arrangements' since such arrangements had to include arrangements for funding for a reasonable period of time: 'It would have been unreasonable to decide that suitable arrangements had been made because the parents would be able to finance [the child's] schooling by future fund raising. Quite apart from the worrying uncertainty of relying on the kinds of activities in which the parents had engaged in order to get [the child] started at the school as a source of finance, it is unreasonable for an authority to seek to relieve itself of its statutory duties by relying on parents to raise finance in this way' (at 225 per Dyson J). The distinction between 'educational' and 'non-educational provision' for this purpose was explained thus: 'there is between the unequivocally educational and the unequivocally non-educational a shared territory of provision which can be intelligibly allocated to either . . . The potentially large intermediate area of provision which is capable of ranking as educational or non-educational is not made the subject of any statutory prescription precisely because it is for the local educational authority, and if necessary the [Tribunal], to exercise a case-by-case judgment which no prescriptive legislation could ever hope to anticipate': Bromley London Borough Council v Special Educational Needs Tribunal supra at 295-296 per Sedley LJ. ### 997. Copy of proposed statement of child's special educational needs.

Before making a statement of special educational needs<sup>1</sup>, a local education authority<sup>2</sup> must serve on the parent<sup>3</sup> of the child<sup>4</sup> concerned a copy of the proposed statement<sup>5</sup>. When serving the copy, the authority must also serve on the parent a written notice explaining (to the extent that they are applicable) the arrangements for enabling the parent to express a preference as to his choice of school<sup>6</sup>, the parent's right to make representations to the authority as to the content of the proposed statement<sup>7</sup>, and the provisions for appealing against a statement<sup>8</sup>, and containing such other information as may be prescribed<sup>9</sup>.

<sup>2</sup> As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) and Sch 27 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (k). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

<sup>5</sup> Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2(1) (Sch 27 para 2 substituted by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 3). Provision for the service of documents is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 5, and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 5.

The copy of the proposed statement must not specify any prescribed matter or any matter in pursuance of the Education Act 1996 s 324(4) (see PARA 996 ante): Sch 27 para 2(2)-(4) (as so substituted). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. The time limits within which notice must be served under Sch 27 para 2(1) (as substituted) are prescribed by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 17(1), (3), (4), (9); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 17(1), (3), (4), (9). For the right of a parent, on whom a copy of a proposed statement has been served, to make representations as to the content of the statement see PARA 1005 post.

<sup>7</sup> I.e. the effect of ibid Sch 27 para 4 (as amended) (see PARA 1005 post), which enables parents to make representations (or further representations) to the authority about the content of the proposed statement or the statement as it will have effect if amended in the way proposed by the authority, and to require the authority to arrange a meeting between him and an officer of the authority at which the proposed statement or the statement as it will have effect if amended in the way proposed by the authority can be discussed.

<sup>8</sup> Ibid Sch 27 para 2B(1)(a), (2) (Sch 27 para 2B added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 3). Provision for appealing against the content of a statement is made by the Education Act 1996 s 326 (as amended): see PARA 1004 post.

<sup>9</sup> Ibid Sch 27 para 2B(3) (as added: see note 8 supra). The notice which must be served by an authority on a parent pursuant to Sch 27 para 2B(2) (as added) to accompany a copy of a proposed statement served under Sch 27 para 2(1) (as substituted) must contain the information specified in the required Notice to Parent, including the procedure by which the parents may discuss the statement with the authority, lists of the maintained primary or secondary schools in the area and lists of approved non-maintained and independent schools, the procedure to be followed if the parents nominate a school, and the consultation process generally: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 14(a), Schedule 1 Pt A; and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 14(a), Schedule 1 Pt A. Copies of all the advice given to the authority during the child's assessment for the statement must also be attached to the Notice to Parent: Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, Schedule 1 Pt A; Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, Schedule 1 Pt A. The time limits within which notice must be served under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2B(2) (as added) are prescribed by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 17(1)-(2), (9); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 17(1)-(2), (9).

999 Service of statement of child's special educational needs

NOTES 6, 13--SI 2001/3455 reg 17 further amended: SI 2008/2683.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(2) STATEMENTS OF SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/1000. Amendments to a statement.

1000. Amendments to a statement.

A local education authority<sup>1</sup> must not amend a statement of special educational needs<sup>2</sup> except in compliance with an order of the Tribunal<sup>3</sup>, as directed by the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup>, or in accordance with the appropriate procedure<sup>5</sup>. Subject to certain provisions relating to proposed amendments to statements following reviews of educational needs<sup>6</sup>, if an authority proposes to amend a statement, it must serve<sup>7</sup> on the parent of the child concerned a copy of the existing statement and an amendment notice<sup>8</sup>. When serving an amendment notice, the authority must also serve on the parent a written notice explaining (to the extent that they are applicable) the arrangements for enabling the parent to express a preference as to his choice of school<sup>9</sup>, the parent's right to make representations to the authority as to the content of the proposed statement<sup>10</sup> and the provisions for appealing against a statement<sup>11</sup>, and containing such other information as may be prescribed<sup>12</sup>.

1 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) and Sch 27 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (k). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

2 I.e. a statement under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante): s 324(7), Sch 27 para 1 (substituted by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 10, Sch 1 paras 1, 2). For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante. An authority is required to amend a statement before 15 February in the calendar year of the child's transfer between phases of his schooling: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 19; and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 19.

3 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2A(1)(a) (Sch 27 para 2A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 10, Sch 1 paras 1, 3). In relation to England, the Tribunal referred to in the text is the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal and, in relation to Wales, it is the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales: see PARA 993 note 13 ante. For the powers of the Tribunal to order that amendments be made to statements, and for the requirements as to compliance, see PARAS 1001 notes 9-10, 1004 notes 16-17, 1034 post.

4 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2A(1)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra). The text refers to a direction under s 442(4): see PARA 519 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

5 Ibid Sch 27 para 2A(1)(c) (as added: see note 3 supra). The appropriate procedure is that laid down in Sch 27 (as amended). As to the parental right of appeal when a statement is amended see PARA 1005 post.

Where a local education authority amends a statement it must serve a copy of the amended statement on the parent of the child concerned: Sch 27 para 6(1) (Sch 27 para 6 substituted by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 10, Sch 1 paras 1, 14). As to the meaning of 'parent' see PARA 510 note 1 ante. As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante.

6 I.e. under the Education Act 1996 s 328(5)(a) or (b) (see PARA 994 ante).

7 Provision for the service of documents is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 5; and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 5.

8 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2A(4), (5) (as added: see note 3 supra). An 'amendment notice' is a notice in writing giving details of the amendments to the statement proposed by the authority: Sch 27 para 2A(6) (as so added).

If a local education authority is considering amending a statement: (1) if no school was specified in the statement before the amendment, so that a maintained school or maintained nursery school will be specified in it; or (2) if a school was specified in the statement before the amendment, so that a different school, which is a maintained school or maintained nursery school, will be specified in it, the authority must serve a copy of the proposed amended statement, or of the existing statement and of the amendment notice, on each affected body, and must consult each affected body: Sch 27 para 3A(1)(b), (2) (Sch 27 para 3A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 10, Sch 1 paras 1, 7; and the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 3A(1)(b) amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215(1), Sch 21 para 58). For these purposes, 'affected body' means the governing body of any school which the local education authority is considering specifying and, if a school which the authority is considering specifying is maintained by another local education authority, that authority: Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 3A(3) (as so added). For the meaning of 'maintained school' see PARA 984 note 11 ante. For the meaning of 'maintained nursery school' see PARA 94 note 4 ante. As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

For the right of a parent on whom an amendment notice has been served to make representations as to the proposed amendment see PARA 1005 post.

9 le arrangements under ibid Sch 27 para 3 (as amended): see PARA 1006 post.

10 The notice must explain the effect of ibid Sch 27 para 4 (as amended) (see PARA 1005 post), which enables a parent to make representations (or further representations) to the authority about the content of the proposed statement or the statement as it will have effect if amended in the way proposed by the authority, and to require the authority to arrange a meeting between him and an officer of the authority at which the proposed statement or the statement as it will have effect if amended in the way proposed by the authority can be discussed.

11 Ibid Sch 27 para 2B(1)(c), (2) (Sch 27 para 2B added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 3). Provision for appealing against the contents of a statement is made by the Education Act 1996 s 326 (as amended): see PARA 1004 post.

12 Ibid Sch 27 para 2B(3) (as added: see note 11 supra). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 579(1). As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. The notice which must be served by an authority on a parent pursuant to Sch 27 para 2B(2) (as added) to accompany an amendment notice must contain the information specified in the required Notice to Parent, including information relating to the existing statement of special educational needs, the proposed amendment, the procedure by which the parents may discuss the statement with the authority, lists of the maintained primary or secondary schools in the area and lists of approved non-maintained and independent schools, the procedure to be followed if the parents nominate a school, the consultation process generally, and the provision for appealing against the final amended statement: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 14(a), Schedule 1 Pt A; and the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 14(a), Schedule 1 Pt A. The time limits within which notice must be served under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2A (as added) or Sch 27 para 2B(2) (as added) are prescribed by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 17(1)-(4), (9); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 17(1)-(4), (9).

1000 Amendments to a statement

NOTE 2--SI 2001/3455 reg 19 amended: SI 2006/3346.

NOTE 12--SI 2001/3455 reg 17, Sch 1 Pt A further amended: SI 2008/2683.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(2) STATEMENTS OF SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/1001. Procedure for ceasing to maintain a statement of child's special educational needs.

1001. Procedure for ceasing to maintain a statement of child's special educational needs.

A local education authority<sup>1</sup> may not cease to maintain a statement of special educational needs<sup>2</sup> unless it is no longer necessary to maintain it<sup>3</sup>. Where an authority determines to cease to maintain a statement<sup>4</sup> it must give notice in writing of that fact to the child's<sup>5</sup> parent<sup>6</sup>, and the parent may appeal against the determination to the Tribunal<sup>7</sup>. The Tribunal may dismiss the appeal<sup>8</sup>, or order the local education authority to continue to maintain the statement in its existing form or with such amendments of the description in the statement of the authority's assessment of the child's special educational needs, or the special educational provision<sup>9</sup> specified in the statement, and such other consequential amendments, as the Tribunal may determine<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) and Sch 27 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (k). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante. As to statements of special educational needs see PARA 996 et seq ante.

3 Education Act 1996 s 324(7), Sch 27 paras 9(1), 11(1) (Sch 27 para 9(1) amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 ss 10, 42(6), Sch 1 paras 1, 16(g), Sch 9). However, the general prohibition on ceasing to maintain a statement under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 9(1) (as amended) does not apply where the local education authority: (1) ceases to maintain a statement for a child who has ceased to be a child for whom it is responsible (Sch 27 para 9(2)(a) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 16(h))); or (2) is ordered to cease to maintain a statement under the Education Act 1996 s 326(3)(c) (see PARA 1004 post) (Sch 27 para 9(2)(c)). The necessity to maintain a statement by way of exception to Sch 27 para 9(1) (as amended) may arise only in accordance with Sch 27 para 11 (as amended) (see the text and notes 4-10 infra): Sch 27 para 9(1) (as so amended). As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante; and see note 5 infra. As to the children for whom the local education authority is responsible see PARA 985 ante. As to the application of Sch 27 para 9(2)(a) (as amended) (see head (1) supra) see Wakefield Metropolitan District Council v E [2001] EWHC Admin 508, [2002] ELR 203 (per curiam); and as to circumstances in which an authority may not cease to maintain a statement see R (on the application of Wilson) v Blaenau Gwent County Borough Council [2003] EWHC 2880 (Admin), [2004] ELR 152.

4 Except where the parent appeals to the Tribunal (see note 7 infra) under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 11 (as amended), a local education authority may only cease to maintain a statement under Sch 27 para 11 (as amended) within the prescribed period beginning with the service of the notice under Sch 27 para 11(2) (as amended) (see the text and notes 5-6 infra): Sch 27 para 11(4). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. The time limits within which the local authority may cease to maintain statement following service of a notice under Sch 27 para 11(1) are prescribed by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 17(8)-(9); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 17(8)-(9).

The rationale and effect of the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 11(4) were explained in R v Oxfordshire County Council, ex p Roast [1996] ELR 381; but see the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 11(5) (as added) (cited in note 7 infra), which followed in the wake of that case.

5 For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 11 (as amended), 'child' means a child who was the subject of a statement of special educational needs at the time when the local education authority decided to give notice to determine to cease maintaining that statement: S v Essex County Council [2000] ELR 718 at 729 per Turner J; cf Wakefield Metropolitan District Council v E [2001] EWHC Admin 508, [2002] ELR 203.

6 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 11(2)(a) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 42(1), Sch 8 paras 1, 10(1)). As to the meaning of 'parent' see PARA 510 note 1 ante. A notice under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 11(2)(a) (as amended) must inform the parent of the right of appeal under Sch 27 para 11(2)(b) (see the text and note 7 infra) and contain such other information as may be prescribed: Sch 27 para 11(2A) (added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 8 paras 1, 10(2)). The time limits for the performance by the local authority of its duties under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 11(2) (as amended) are prescribed by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 17(2), (9); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 17(2), (9).

7 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 11(2)(b). In relation to England, the Tribunal referred to in the text is the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal and, in relation to Wales, it is the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales: see PARA 993 note 13 ante. A local education authority may not under Sch 27 para 11 (as amended) cease to maintain a statement if the parent of the child has appealed under Sch 27 para 11 (as amended) against the authority's determination to cease to maintain the statement, and the appeal has not been determined by the Tribunal or withdrawn: Sch 27 para 11(5) (added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 6).

8 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 11(3)(a). As to appeals from Tribunal decisions see PARA 1035 post.

9 For the meaning of 'special educational provision' see PARA 984 ante.

10 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 11(3)(b). If the Tribunal makes an order, the local education authority concerned must comply with the order before the end of the prescribed period beginning with the date on which it is made: s 336A(1) (s 336A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 4). For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 336A(1) (as added), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; (2) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales with the agreement of the Secretary of State: s 336A(2) (as so added; and substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 6). Provision governing compliance with orders of the Tribunal is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 25; and by the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 3. For an attempt to compel compliance with an order via mandatory order see R v Brent London Borough Council and Vassie (Chairman of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal), ex p AF [2000] ELR 550.

1002. Keeping, disclosure and transfer of statements of child's special educational needs.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision as to the keeping and disclosure of statements of special educational needs<sup>2</sup> and, where a local education authority<sup>3</sup> becomes responsible for a child<sup>4</sup> for whom a statement is maintained by another authority, regulations may make provision for the transfer of the statement to it and for the provisions relating to children with special educational needs<sup>5</sup> to have effect as if the duty to maintain the transferred statement were its duty<sup>6</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: Education Act 1996 s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. As to the regulations which have been made in pursuance of this power see notes 2, 6 infra.

2 Ibid s 324(7), Sch 27 paras 1, 7(1). For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante. As to the making of statements see PARA 998 ante. Provision restricting the disclosure of statements of special educational needs without the consent of the child concerned is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 24; and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 24.

3 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) and Sch 27 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (k). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

4 As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante. As to the children for whom a local education authority is responsible see PARA 985 ante.

5 Ie the Education Act 1996 Pt IV (ss 312-349) (as amended).

6 Ibid Sch 27 para 7(2). Provision for the transfer of a statement where a child in respect of whom a statement is maintained moves from the area of the authority which maintains the statement into that of another is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 23; and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 23.

1002 Keeping, disclosure and transfer of statements of child's special educational needs

NOTE 2--SI 2001/3455 reg 24 amended: SI 2006/3346, SI 2007/603.

NOTE 6--The old authority, within 15 working days beginning with the day on which they are informed of the move, must transfer the statement to the new authority: SI 2001/3455 reg 23 (amended by SI 2006/3346).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(2) STATEMENTS OF SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/1003. Appeal against decision not to make statement.

1003. Appeal against decision not to make statement.

If, after making an assessment of the educational needs<sup>1</sup> of any child<sup>2</sup> for whom no statement of special educational needs<sup>3</sup> is maintained<sup>4</sup>, the local education authority<sup>5</sup> does not propose to make such a statement, it must give notice in writing of its decision to the child's parent<sup>6</sup>. In such a case, the child's parent<sup>7</sup> may appeal against the decision to the Tribunal<sup>8</sup>. The Tribunal may dismiss the appeal<sup>9</sup>, order the local education authority to make and maintain a statement<sup>10</sup>, or remit the case to the authority for it to reconsider whether, having regard to any observations made by the Tribunal, it is necessary for the authority to determine the special educational provision<sup>11</sup> for which any learning difficulty<sup>12</sup> the child may have calls<sup>13</sup>.

Provision for the service of notices is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 4-5; and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 4-5. A notice under the Education Act 1996 s 325(1) (as amended) must inform the parent of the right of appeal under s 325(2) (see the text and notes 7-8 infra) and contain such other information as may be prescribed: s 325(2A) (s 325(2A), (2B) added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 8 paras 1, 6(2)). Regulations may provide that where a local education authority is under a duty under the Education Act 1996 s 325 (as amended) to serve any notice, the duty must be performed within the prescribed period: s 325(2B) (as so added). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. 7    A foster-parent can be a parent for this purpose: Fairpo v Humberside County Council [1997] ELR 12. The child has no right of appeal and is not a party to it: S (A Minor) v Special Educational Needs Tribunal [1996] 2 All ER 286, [1996] 1 WLR 382, [1996] ELR 228, CA. The child may nevertheless attend the hearing and the Tribunal may permit the child to give evidence and to address the Tribunal on the subject matter of the appeal: Special Educational Needs Tribunal Regulations 2001, SI 2001/600, reg 30(2)(a), (7).

8    Education Act 1996 s 325(2). In relation to England, the Tribunal referred to in the text is the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal and, in relation to Wales, it is the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales: see PARA 993 note 13 ante. There is nothing in the language or the structure of s 325 (as amended) to shut out the apparent right of appeal merely because an intervening appeal resulted in remission requiring a fresh decision; the Tribunal's safeguard lies in its power under the Special Educational Needs Tribunal Regulations 2001, SI 2001/600, reg 44 (see PARA 1034 post) to strike out appeals which are scandalous, frivolous or vexatious: O v Harrow London Borough Council [2001] EWCA Civ 2046, [2002] 1 WLR 928, [2002] ELR 195 (a single assessment of a child's educational needs may found successive appeals where an authority has failed to make a statement following an earlier appeal).

In the case of an appeal under the Education Act 1996 s 325 (as amended), the local education authority must make a statement under s 324 of the child's educational needs before the end of the prescribed period and must maintain the statement under that provision: s 326A(4)(a), (5) (s 326A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 5). For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 326A (as added and amended), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) in relation to an appeal to the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; and (2) in relation to an appeal to the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: s 326A(6) (substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 3). At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made in pursuance of this power.

9 Education Act 1996 s 325(3)(a). As to appeals from Tribunal decisions see PARA 1035 post.

10 Ibid s 325(3)(b). If the Tribunal makes an order, the local education authority concerned must comply with the order before the end of the prescribed period beginning with the date on which it is made: s 336A(1) (s 336A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 4). For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 336A(1) (as added), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; (2) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales with the agreement of the Secretary of State: s 336A(2) (as so added; and substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 6). Provision governing compliance with orders of the Tribunal is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 25; and by the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 3. For an attempt to compel compliance with an order via mandatory order see R v Brent London Borough Council and Vassie (Chairman of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal), ex p AF [2000] ELR 550.

If the parent of a child has appealed to the Tribunal under the Education Act 1996 s 325 (as amended) against a decision of a local education authority, and the authority notifies the Tribunal that it has determined that it will not, or will no longer, oppose the appeal, the appeal is treated as having been determined in favour of the appellant; and if an appeal is treated as so determined, the Tribunal is not required to make any order: s 326A(1)-(3) (as added: see note 8 supra). If an appeal to the Tribunal is treated in this way as having been determined in favour of the parent making the appeal, the authority must make an assessment of educational needs within five weeks: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 26; and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 4.

The parent<sup>1</sup> of a child<sup>2</sup> for whom a local education authority<sup>3</sup> maintains a statement of special educational needs<sup>4</sup> may:

- 1847 (1) when the statement is first made<sup>5</sup>;
- 1848 (2) if an amendment is made to the statement<sup>6</sup>; or
- 1849 (3) if, after conducting an assessment of the educational needs of the child<sup>7</sup>, the authority determines not to amend the statement<sup>8</sup>, appeal to the Tribunal<sup>9</sup> against any of the following:

- 1850 (a) the description in the statement of the authority's assessment of the child's special educational needs<sup>10</sup>;
- 1851 (b) the special educational provision<sup>11</sup> specified in the statement (including the name of a school<sup>12</sup> so specified)<sup>13</sup>; or
- 1852 (c) if no school is so specified, that fact<sup>14</sup>.

The Tribunal may dismiss the appeal<sup>15</sup>, order the authority to amend the statement, so far as it describes the authority's assessment of the child's special educational needs or specifies the special educational provision, and make such other consequential amendments to the statement as the Tribunal thinks fit<sup>16</sup>, or order the authority to cease to maintain the statement<sup>17</sup>.

2 As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante.

3 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 s 326 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (m). 13 Education Act 1996 s 326(1A)(b) (as added: see note 10 supra). In R (on the application of S) v Norfolk County Council [2004] EWHC 404 (Admin), [2004] ELR 259, the local education authority had proposed to discontinue funding a child's college placement after allegations that staff had committed offences against children at the college; notwithstanding the prospective criminal proceedings, an interim injunction was granted compelling the authority to continue the funding for a limited period, pending an appeal lodged by the child's mother against amendments made to the school specified in the child's statement. As to the naming of schools in a statement subject to appeal see further note 16 infra.

15 Ibid s 326(3)(a). As to appeals from Tribunal decisions see PARA 1035 post.

16 Ibid s 326(3)(b). If the Tribunal makes an order, the local education authority concerned must comply with the order before the end of the prescribed period beginning with the date on which it is made: s 336A(1) (s 336A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 4). In the Education Act 1996 s 336A(1) (as added), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; (2) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales with the agreement of the Secretary of State: s 336A(2) (as so added; and substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 6). Provision governing compliance with orders of the Tribunal is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 25; and by the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 3. In R v Brent London Borough Council and Vassie (Chairman of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal), ex p AF [2000] ELR 550, an attempt was made via mandatory order to compel a local education authority to implement the special educational provisions set out in the statement but it failed as a local education authority normally has no power to direct the school as to implementation.

The Tribunal must not order the local education authority to specify the name of any school in the statement (either in substitution for an existing name or in a case where no school is named) unless the parent has expressed a preference for the school in pursuance of arrangements under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1006 post), or in the proceedings the parent, the authority, or both, have proposed the school: s 326(4). 'Proposed' should be construed as including an acceptance of a suggested school rather than as a reference to a proposal made unprompted: see Manchester City Council v Special Educational Needs Tribunal and P [2000] ELR 144.

As to the date from which funding consequent on an amendment ordered by the Tribunal should be provided see R v Barnet London Borough Council, ex p G [1998] ELR 281, CA; cf R v Kent County Council, ex p W [1995] 2 FCR 342, [1995] ELR 362, 94 LGR 271. The Tribunal could conceivably order provision that is less than that proposed by the local education authority or sought by the parent: see Re A [2000] ELR 639.

In Camden London Borough Council v Hodin and White [1996] ELR 430, the court refused to impose a stay to prevent implementation of the Tribunal's decision that a statement should be amended pending an appeal against that decision. See also R v Mid-Glamorgan County Council, ex p B [1995] ELR 168. There is no right of appeal to the Tribunal against a statement which has already been amended in accordance with an order of the Tribunal, as to give such a right would defeat the legislative purpose of the scheme: D v East Sussex County Council [2005] EWCA Civ 323, [2005] ELR 388.

In ordering that a statement is to be amended, it is not open for the Tribunal to range freely over the statement; its power is limited in its application to cases where an amendment is necessary for the resolution of an issue that is before the Tribunal: see M v Essex County Council [2001] EWHC Admin 956, [2001] All ER (D) 45 (Nov). In W v Leeds City Council [2005] EWCA Civ 988, [2005] ELR 617, [2005] All ER (D) 487 (Jul), the Court of Appeal agreed that it had been within the proper ambit of the Tribunal's control over its own process to agree a late proposal for an amendment to the statement and that it had not curtailed proper analysis of the child's needs.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(2) STATEMENTS OF SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/1005. Right of parent to make representations as to statements and proposed amendments.

1005. Right of parent to make representations as to statements and proposed amendments.

A parent<sup>1</sup> on whom there has been served a copy of a proposed statement of special educational needs<sup>2</sup>, a proposed amended statement<sup>3</sup>, or an amendment notice<sup>4</sup>, may<sup>5</sup> make representations (or further representations) to the local education authority<sup>6</sup> about the content of the proposed statement or the statement as it will have effect if amended in the way proposed by the authority<sup>7</sup>, and may require the authority to arrange a meeting<sup>8</sup> between him and an officer of the authority at which the proposed statement or the statement as it will have effect if amended in the way proposed by the authority can be discussed<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'parent' see PARA 510 note 1 ante.

2 Is a statement under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante): s 324(7), Sch 27 para 1 (substituted by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 10, Sch 1 paras 1, 2). For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante. Copies of proposed statements are required to be served under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2 (as substituted): see PARA 997 ante.

3 Copies of proposed amended statements are required to be served under ibid Sch 27 para 2A(2) (as added): see PARA 994 note 17 ante. If a local education authority amends a statement following service of a proposed amended statement under Sch 27 para 2A(2) (as added), the amended statement made may be in the form proposed or in a form modified in the light of the representations made by the parent: Sch 27 para 5(2A) (Sch 27 para 5(2A), (2B) added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 13).

4 For the meaning of 'amendment notice' see PARA 1000 note 8 ante. Amendment notices are required to be served under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2A(2) (as added): see PARA 994 ante. If a local education authority amends a statement following service of an amendment notice, the amendments may be those proposed in the notice or amendments modified in the light of the representations made by the parent: Sch 27 para 5(2B) (as added: see note 3 supra).

When amending a statement in a case where there is a real prospect of appeal, a local education authority is not bound to consider whether it would be better not to name a school rather than name a school so as to avoid any delay which might arise whilst it was seeking to find whether a particular school was appropriate or available: R v Kent County Council, ex p AMS [2000] ELR 209.

5 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 4(1) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 8(a)).

6 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

7 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 4(1)(a) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 8(b)). Any such representations must be made within the period of 15 days beginning with the date on which the written notice mentioned in the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2B (as added) (see PARAS 994, 997, 1000 ante) was served on the parent, or, if a meeting has (or meetings have) been arranged under Sch 27 para 4(1)(b) (as amended) or Sch 27 para 4(2) (as amended) (see the text and notes 8-9 infra), with the date fixed for that meeting (or the last of those meetings): Sch 27 para 4(4) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 10).

Where representations are made to a local education authority under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 4(1) (a) (as amended), the authority may not make or amend the statement until it has considered the representations and the period or the last of the periods allowed by Sch 27 para 4 (as amended) for making requirements or further representations (see notes 8-9 infra) has expired: Sch 27 para 5(1) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 11). If an authority makes a statement, it may be in the form originally proposed (except as to the matters required to be excluded from the copy of the proposed statement) or in a form modified in the light of the representations: Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para

5(2) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 12). If the authority changes its view about making a statement after issuing a draft it does not necessarily act unlawfully: R v Isle of Wight County Council, ex p RS and AS [1994] 1 FCR 641, sub nom R v Isle of Wight County Council, ex p RS, R v Isle of Wight County Council, ex p AS [1993] 1 FLR 634, CA.

8 Such a requirement must be made within the period of 15 days beginning with the date on which the written notice mentioned in the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2B (as added) (see PARAS 994, 997, 1000 ante) was served on the parent: Sch 27 para 4(5) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 10).

Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 4(1)(b) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 8(b)). Where a parent, having attended a meeting arranged by a local education authority under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 4(1)(b) (as amended) in relation to a proposed statement or an amendment proposed following a re-assessment review, disagrees with any part of the assessment in question, he may require the authority to arrange such meeting or meetings as it considers will enable him to discuss the relevant advice with the appropriate person or persons: Sch 27 para 4(2) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 Pt 1 paras 1, 9). Such a requirement must be made within the period of 15 days beginning with the date fixed for the meeting arranged under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 4(1)(b) (as amended): Sch 27 para 4(6). For the purposes of Sch 27 para 4 (as amended), 'relevant advice' means such of the advice given to the authority in connection with the assessment as it considers to be relevant to that part of the assessment with which the parent disagrees; and 'appropriate person' means the person who gave the relevant advice or any other person who, in the opinion of the authority, is the appropriate person to discuss it with the parent: Sch 27 para 4(3). 'Re-assessment review' means a review under s 328(5)(a) (see PARA 994 ante): Sch 27 para 1 (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

1006. Choice of school.

Every local education authority<sup>1</sup> must make arrangements for enabling a parent<sup>2</sup> upon whom has been served a copy of a proposed statement of special educational needs<sup>3</sup>, a copy of a proposed amended statement<sup>4</sup>, or an amendment notice<sup>5</sup> containing a proposed amendment<sup>6</sup> to be specified in a statement<sup>7</sup>, to express a preference as to the maintained school<sup>8</sup> at which he wishes education to be provided for his child<sup>9</sup> and to give reasons for his preference<sup>10</sup>.

Where a local education authority makes a statement in a case where the parent of the child concerned has expressed a preference in pursuance of such arrangements as to the school<sup>11</sup> at which he wishes education to be provided for his child, it must, unless the school is unsuitable to the child's age, ability or aptitude or to his special educational needs<sup>12</sup>, or the attendance of the child at the school would be incompatible with the provision of efficient education for the children with whom he would be educated or the efficient use of resources<sup>13</sup>, specify the name of that school in the statement<sup>14</sup>.

1 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (k). Copies of proposed statements are required to be served under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2 (as substituted): see PARA 997 ante. For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante.

4 Ibid Sch 27 para 3(1)(b) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 4). Copies of proposed amended statements are required to be served under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2A (as added): see PARA 994 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'amendment notice' see PARA 1000 note 8 ante.

6 The proposed amendment must, for this purpose, be about the type or name of a school or institution, or the provision made for the child concerned under arrangements made under the Education Act 1996 s 319 (special educational provision otherwise than in schools: see PARA 1011 post): Sch 27 para 3(1)(c) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 4).

7 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 3(1)(c) (as amended: see note 6 supra). The text refers to amendment notices which are required to be served under Sch 27 para 2A (as added): see PARA 994 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'maintained school' under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 see PARA 94 ante.

9 As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante.

10 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 3(1) (amended by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 paras 57, 186(1), (2)(a)). Any such preference must be expressed or made within the period of 15 days beginning with the date on which the written notice mentioned in the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 2B (as added) (see PARAS 997, 1000 ante) was served on the parent, or if a meeting has (or meetings have) been arranged under Sch 27 para 4(1)(b) (as amended) or Sch 27 para 4(2) (as amended) (see PARA 1005 ante), with the date fixed for that meeting (or the last of those meetings): Sch 27 para 3(2) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 1 paras 1, 5).

11 For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante.

12 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 3(3)(a).

13 Ibid Sch 27 para 3(3)(b).

14 Ibid Sch 27 para 3(3). Where the parents and the local education authority cannot agree on the school to be named, but one alternative would result in significant additional expenditure, then provided both schools are appropriate for the child's special educational needs, the authority is entitled to justify sending the child to a school other than that of the parents' choice: Surrey County Council v P [1997] ELR 516 at 523 per Kay J. When deciding whether the parent's choice or its choice should prevail, the local education authority may have regard to its own resources but should balance the disadvantages to its resources with the advantages to the child of attending the school chosen by the parents: F v Harrow London Borough Council (1997) Times, 29 December. Under the Education Act 1996, the scheme for special educational provision was for children for whom an authority was 'responsible' (ie the children in its area: see s 321(3) (as amended); and PARA 985 ante); this indicates that the resources concerned for the purposes of Sch 27 para 3(3) are those of the responsible local education authority: B v Harrow London Borough Council [2000] 1 All ER 876 at 881-882, [2000] 1 WLR 223 at 228-229, [2000] ELR 109 at 115, HL, per Lord Slynn of Hadley (the fact that the admission of a child to the school of the parents' choice would mean that the school was above its approved admission limit was held to be a legitimate ground for not naming that school contrary to the parents' wishes).

The House of Lords in B v Harrow London Borough Council supra also considered the relevance of the Education Act 1996 s 9 (as amended) (general principle of adherence to parental wishes: see PARA 13 ante), and held that s 9 (as amended) did not mean that parental preference was to prevail unless it involved unreasonable public expenditure ('In dealing with special schools, the authority must also observe the specific provisions of para 3(3) of Sch 27. This does not mean that the parent loses the right to express a preference. A preference may be expressed but is subject to the qualifications set out in PARA 3(3), one of which is the efficient use of resources': B v Harrow London Borough Council supra at 882-883, at 229, and at 116 per Lord Slynn of Hadley). See also R (on the application of MH) v Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal [2004] EWCA Civ 770, [2004] LGR 844, [2004] ELR 424 (parents had the right to insist on a particular school, except where either the 'unsuitability' or 'incompatibility' condition in the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 3(3) applied). As to the principle of adherence to parental wishes in the making of special educational provision see further R (on the application of Oxfordshire County Council) v GB [2001] EWCA Civ 1358, [2002] LGR 279, [2002] ELR 8. As to the interaction between the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 3 (as amended) and s 316 (as substituted) (duty to educate children with special educational needs in mainstream schools: see PARA 1008 post) see R (on the application of MH) v Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal supra.

The Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 3 (as amended) applies only to maintained schools but local education authorities (and, on appeal, the Tribunal: see PARAS 1032-1035 post) must take into account the general principle of adherence to parental preference under s 9 (as amended) in relation to all preferred schools, including independent schools: B v Gloucestershire County Council [1998] ELR 539. See also R v West Sussex County Council, ex p S [1999] ELR 40; S and S v Bracknell Forest Borough Council and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal [1999] ELR 51; C v Buckinghamshire County Council and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal [1999] ELR 179, CA; W-R v Solihull Metropolitan Borough Council [1999] ELR 528; S v Metropolitan Borough of Dudley [2000] ELR 330.

As to the extent to which the right to education in accordance with the parents' religious and philosophical convictions under the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953) Cmd 8969) extends to choice of school or provision in relation to children with special educational needs see PARA 3 ante.

1007. Request for change of named school.

Where:

1854 (2) the request is not made less than 12 months after whichever is the later of: (a) an earlier request for the substitution of a name<sup>9</sup>; (b) the service of a copy of a statement or amended statement<sup>10</sup>; or (c) if the parent has appealed to the Tribunal<sup>11</sup>, the date when the appeal was concluded<sup>12</sup>,

the local education authority must comply with the request unless the school is unsuitable to the child's age, ability or aptitude or to his special educational needs, or the attendance of the child at the school would be incompatible with the provision of efficient education for the children with whom he would be educated or the efficient use of resources<sup>13</sup>.

Where the local education authority determines not to comply with the request, it must give notice in writing of that fact to the child's parent<sup>14</sup>, and the parent may appeal against the determination to the Tribunal<sup>15</sup>. The Tribunal may dismiss the appeal<sup>16</sup>, or order the local education authority to substitute for the name of the school or other institution specified in the statement the name of the school specified by the parent<sup>17</sup>.

12 Ibid Sch 27 para 8(1)(b)(iv).

13 Ibid Sch 27 para 8(2). Regulations may provide that, where a local education authority is under a duty to comply with a request under Sch 27 para 8 (as amended), the duty must, subject to prescribed exceptions, be performed within the prescribed period: Sch 27 para 8(5). Such provision must not relieve the authority of the duty to comply with such a request which has not been complied with within that period: Sch 27 para 8(6). 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State; and 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. The time limits within which a request under Sch 27 para 8(1) (as amended) must be responded to are prescribed by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 17(5), (9); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 17(5), (9).

The Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 8 (as amended) has a very limited scope, being concerned only with a change in the name of the school specified in part 4 of an existing statement (see PARA 996 note 8 head (4) ante); the power to change the name of the school does not carry with it a power to change the type of school: Slough Borough Council v C [2004] EWHC 1759 (Admin), [2004] ELR 546. As to the interaction between the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 8 (as amended) and the process set out in s 316(3) (as substituted) (duty to educate children with special educational needs in mainstream schools: see PARA 1008 post) see Slough Borough Council v C supra; R (on the application of MH) v Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal [2004] EWCA Civ 770, [2004] LGR 844, [2004] ELR 424.

14 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 8(3)(a) (amended by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 8 paras 1, 9(1)). Provision for the service of notices is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, regs 4-5; and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, regs 4-5. A notice under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 8(3)(a) (as amended) must inform the parent of the right of appeal under Sch 27 para 8(3)(b) (see the text and note 15 infra) and must contain such other information as may be prescribed: Sch 27 para 8(3A) (added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 Sch 8 paras 1, 9(2)). The time limits within which notice must be given under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 8(3) (as amended) are prescribed by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 17(5), (9); and by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 17(5), (9).

15 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 8(3)(b). In the case of an appeal under Sch 27 para 8(3) against a determination of the local education authority not to comply with the parent's request, the local education authority must comply with the request before the end of the prescribed period: s 326A(4)(c) (s 326A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 5). For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 326A (as added and amended), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) in relation to an appeal to the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; and (2) in relation to an appeal to the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: s 326A(6) (substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 3). See note 14 supra.

16 Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 8(4)(a). As to appeals from Tribunal decisions see PARA 1035 post.

17 Ibid Sch 27 para 8(4)(b). If the Tribunal makes an order, the local education authority concerned must comply with the order before the end of the prescribed period beginning with the date on which it is made: s 336A(1) (s 336A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 4). For the purposes of the Education Act 1996 s 336A(1) (as added), 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made: (1) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, by the Secretary of State; (2) as to orders of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales with the agreement of the Secretary of State: s 336A(2) (as so added; and substituted by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 6). Provision governing compliance with orders of the Tribunal is made by the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 25; and by the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 3. For an attempt to compel compliance with an order via mandatory order see R v Brent London Borough Council and Vassie (Chairman of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal), ex p AF [2000] ELR 550. As to the influence of the costs to be taken into account by the Tribunal when determining compliance with a parental preference see Wardle-Heron v Newham London Borough Council [2002] EWHC 2086 (Admin), [2004] ELR 68; S v Somerset County Council [2002] EWHC 1808 (Admin), [2003] ELR 78; and see PARA 13 note 6 ante.

If the parent of a child has appealed to the Tribunal under the Education Act 1996 Sch 27 para 8(3) (as amended) against a decision of a local education authority, and the authority notifies the Tribunal that it has determined that it will not, or will no longer, oppose the appeal, the appeal is treated as having been determined in favour of the appellant, and if an appeal is treated as so determined, the Tribunal is not required to make any order: s 326A(1)-(3) (as added: see note 15 supra). If an appeal to the Tribunal is treated in this way as having been determined in favour of the parent making the appeal, the authority must comply with the parent's request within two weeks: see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 26; and the Special Educational Needs Tribunal (Time Limits) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3982, reg 4.

(3) PROVISION OF EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS

(i) Duties of Local Education Authorities, Governing Bodies etc as regards Special Educational Provision

1008. Children with special educational needs generally to be educated in mainstream schools.

A child<sup>1</sup> with special educational needs<sup>2</sup> who should be educated in a school<sup>3</sup> must be educated in a mainstream school<sup>4</sup> if no statement of the child's special educational needs is maintained<sup>5</sup> for the child<sup>6</sup>. If such a statement is maintained<sup>7</sup>, the child must be educated in a mainstream school unless that is incompatible with either the wishes of his parent<sup>8</sup> or the provision of efficient education for other children<sup>9</sup>. These requirements do not, however, prevent a child from being educated in an independent school<sup>10</sup> which is not a mainstream school, or an approved special school<sup>11</sup>, if the cost is met otherwise than by a local education authority<sup>12</sup>; nor do they affect the operation of certain provisions relating to the making of special educational provision at non-maintained schools<sup>13</sup> or enabling parents to express a preference as to the maintained school at which they wish education to be provided for their child<sup>14</sup>. An authority<sup>15</sup> must have regard to guidance about these requirements<sup>16</sup> issued for England, by the Secretary of State, and for Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales<sup>17</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante.

3 Education Act 1996 s 316(1) (s 316 substituted by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 1). For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante.

4 'Mainstream school' means any school other than: (1) a special school; or (2) an independent school which is not a city technology college, a city college for the technology of the arts, or an academy: Education Act 1996 s 316(4) (as substituted (see note 3 supra); and amended by the Education Act 2002 s 65(3), Sch 7 Pt 2 para 6(1), (3)). As to special schools see PARA 1027 post. As to independent schools see PARA 465 ante. As to city technology colleges and city colleges for the technology of the arts see PARA 496 ante; and as to city colleges and academies see further PARA 1010 post.

5 le by a local education authority under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under s 316 (as substituted) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (b). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

6 Education Act 1996 s 316(2) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). This does not, however, require a child to be educated in a mainstream school during any period in which: (1) he is admitted to a special school for the purposes of an assessment under s 323 (as amended) (see PARA 988 ante) of his educational needs and his admission to that school is with the agreement of the local education authority, the head teacher of the school (or, if the school is in Wales, its governing body), the child's parent, and any person whose advice is to be sought in accordance with regulations made under s 323(5), Sch 26 para 2 (see PARA 989 ante); (2) he remains admitted to a special school, in prescribed circumstances, following an assessment under s 323 (as amended) at that school; (3) he is admitted to a special school, following a change in his circumstances, with the agreement of the local education authority, the head teacher of the school (or, if the school is in Wales, its governing body), and his parent; or (4) he is admitted to a community or foundation special school which is established in a hospital: s 316A(2) (s 316A added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 1). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State, except in relation to Wales, where it means prescribed in regulations made by the National Assembly for Wales: Education Act 1996 s 316A(10) (as so added), s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. If a child without a statement has been admitted to a special school for the purposes of an assessment, as provided for in s 316A(2) (as added), he may remain at that school either until the expiry of ten school days after the authority serves a notice under s 325 (as amended) (see PARA 1003 ante) informing the child's parent that it does not propose to make a statement, or until a statement is made: Education (Special Educational Needs) (England) (Consolidation) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3455, reg 13; Education (Special Educational Needs) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/152, reg 13. As to the meaning of 'head teacher' see PARA 93 note 13 ante. As to the meaning of 'parent' see PARA 510 note 1 ante. As to community and foundation special schools see PARA 102 ante.

7 le by a local education authority under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante).

8 Ibid s 316(3)(a) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). If a local education authority decides to make a statement of a child's special educational needs under s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante) but decides not to name in the statement the school for which a parent has expressed a preference under s 324(7), Sch 27 para 3 (as amended) (parents' right to express a preference for a particular school: see PARA 1006 ante), then the authority, in making the statement, nonetheless complies with s 316(3) (as substituted): s 316A(4) (as added: see note 6 supra). The parents' right to express a preference under Sch 27 para 3 (as amended) (if lawfully invoked by the parent) constitutes no more than the nomination of a candidate for the authority to consider, and the process set out in s 316 (as substituted and amended) comes into operation where that nomination process has been exhausted; in carrying out the process set out in s 316 (as substituted and amended), the authority, and hence the Tribunal, has a discretion to consider particular schools as candidates for naming in part 4 of the statement (see PARA 996 note 8 head (4) ante): R (on the application of MH) v Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal [2004] EWCA Civ 770, [2004] LGR 844, [2004] ELR 424. The process set out in the Education Act 1996 s 316(3) (as substituted) does not apply to a determination under Sch 27 para 8 (as amended) where none of the conditions in Sch 27 para 8(2) has been met (see PARA 1007 ante): Slough Borough Council v C [2004] EWHC 1759 (Admin), [2004] ELR 546, (2004) Times, 27 August (distinguishing R (on the application of MH) v Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal supra).

The question of compatibility with parental wishes under the Education Act 1996 s 316 (as originally enacted) (which provided that the duty (subject to conditions) to educate in a non-special school unless that would be incompatible with the wishes of the child's parent applied in respect of any child with special educational needs) was considered in L v Hereford and Worcester County Council [2000] ELR 375; R v Brent London Borough Council and Vassie (Chairman of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal), ex p AF [2000] ELR 550; L v Worcestershire County Council and Hughes [2000] ELR 674, CA.

9 Education Act 1996 s 316(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). See further note 8 supra. A local education authority may, in relation to its mainstream schools taken as a whole, rely on the exception in s 316(3)(b) (as substituted) only if it shows that there are no reasonable steps that it could take to prevent the incompatibility: s 316A(5) (as added: see note 6 supra). An authority in relation to a particular mainstream school (ie in relation to a maintained school or maintained nursery school, the local education authority or the school's governing body; and in relation to a pupil referral unit, the local education authority (s 316A(11) (as so added; and amended by the Education Act 2002 s 215, Sch 21 para 38, Sch 22 Pt 3)) may rely on the exception in the Education Act 1996 s 316(3)(b) (as substituted) only if it shows that there are no reasonable steps that it or another authority in relation to the school could take to prevent the incompatibility: s 316A(6) (as so added). The exception in s 316(3)(b) (as substituted) does not permit a governing body to fail to comply with the duty imposed by s 324(5)(b) (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante): s 316A(7) (as so added). For the meaning of 'maintained school' see PARA 984 note 11 ante. As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'maintained nursery school' see PARA 94 note 4 ante. For the meaning of 'pupil referral unit' see PARA 457 ante.

10 As to independent schools see PARA 465 ante.

11 le a special school approved under the Education Act 1996 s 342 (as substituted) (approval of non-maintained special schools: see PARA 1028 post).

12 Ibid s 316A(1) (as added: see note 6 supra).

13 Ibid s 316A(3)(a) (as added: see note 6 supra). The provision referred to in the text is s 348 (as amended) (see PARA 1009 post).

14 Ibid s 316A(3)(b) (as added: see note 6 supra). The provision referred to in the text is Sch 27 para 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1006 ante). See also note 8 supra.

15 Ie in relation to a maintained school or maintained nursery school, the local education authority or the school's governing body; and in relation to a pupil referral unit, the local education authority: ibid s 316A(11) (as added and amended: see note 9 supra).

16 Ie the requirements of ibid s 316 (as substituted) and s 316A (as added).

17 Ibid s 316A(8) (as added: see note 6 supra). Such guidance must, in particular, relate to steps which may, or may not, be regarded as reasonable for the purposes of s 316A(5), (6) (as added) (see note 6 supra): s 316A(9) (as so added).

1008-1025 Duties of Local Education Authorities, Governing Bodies etc as regards Special Educational Provision

The Secretary of State is required to secure the provision of and publish special educational needs information which is likely to assist in improving the well-being of children with special educational needs: see the Education Act 1996 ss 332C-332E; and PARA 1021A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(3) PROVISION OF EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(i) Duties of Local Education Authorities, Governing Bodies etc as regards Special Educational Provision/1010. City colleges and academies.

1010. City colleges and academies.

Where a child<sup>1</sup> for whom a statement of special educational needs<sup>2</sup> is maintained<sup>3</sup> attends (or proposes to attend) a school<sup>4</sup> which is a city technology college, a city college for the technology of the arts or an academy<sup>5</sup>, and either the school is approved by the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup>, or the Secretary of State consents to the child being educated there<sup>7</sup>, the Secretary of State may by regulations<sup>8</sup> make provision for securing that arrangements are made for the special educational provision<sup>9</sup>, and any non-educational provision, specified in the statement<sup>10</sup>.

Accordingly, a local education authority in England<sup>11</sup> may pay to an approved city college<sup>12</sup> all or any part of the cost incurred in respect of securing that the statemented provision<sup>13</sup> for a relevant child is made<sup>14</sup>, and may provide any other assistance to an approved city college for the purpose of securing that the statemented provision for a relevant child is made<sup>15</sup>. A local education authority must keep under review the arrangements so made<sup>16</sup> and in doing so must consult the governing bodies of any city college both in the authority's area<sup>17</sup> and in any neighbouring local education authority's area to which the authority makes any payment, supplies any goods and services, or provides any assistance<sup>18</sup>.

8 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: ibid s 579(1). As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. Regulations under s 483A(4) (as added) may require or authorise a local education authority to make payments, or to provide any other assistance, to the school in respect of the child (s 483A(5) (as added: see note 3 supra)), and no condition or requirement imposed by virtue of s 482(4)(a) (as substituted) (see PARA 496 ante) may prevent a local education authority making such payments or providing such assistance (s 483A(6) (as so added)). As to the regulations made in exercise of the power under s 483A(4) (as added) see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (City Colleges) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2071; and the text and notes 11-19 infra.

11 For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

12 For these purposes, 'city college' means an academy, a city technology college or a city college for the technology of the arts; and 'approved' means approved by the Secretary of State under the Education Act 1996 s 347(1) (approval of independent schools: see PARA 1030 post): Education (Special Educational Needs) (City Colleges) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2071, reg 1(2). A city college will also be regarded as approved if the Secretary of State has consented to the relevant child being educated there: reg 1(3). 'Relevant child' means a child for whom a statement is maintained under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante) and who attends or proposes to attend a city college: Education (Special Educational Needs) (City Colleges) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2071, reg 1(2).

13 For these purposes, 'statemented provision' means the special educational provision specified in a statement maintained under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante): Education (Special Educational Needs) (City Colleges) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2071, reg 1(2). Nothing in the Education (Special Educational Needs) (City Colleges) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2071, affects the duty of a local education authority under the Education Act 1996 s 324(5) (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante) to arrange that the special educational provision specified in a statement is made for a child: Education (Special Educational Needs) (City Colleges) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2071, reg 4.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> of a community, foundation or voluntary school<sup>2</sup> or a maintained nursery school<sup>3</sup> must<sup>4</sup>:

- 1861 (1) use its best endeavours, in exercising its functions<sup>5</sup> in relation to the school<sup>6</sup>, to secure that, if any registered pupil<sup>7</sup> has special educational needs<sup>8</sup>, the special educational provision<sup>9</sup> for which his learning difficulty<sup>10</sup> calls is made<sup>11</sup>;
- 1862 (2) secure that, where the responsible person<sup>12</sup> has been informed by the local education authority<sup>13</sup> that a registered pupil has special educational needs, those needs are made known to all who are likely to teach him<sup>14</sup>; and
- 1863 (3) secure that the teachers in the school are aware of the importance of identifying, and providing for, those registered pupils who have special educational needs<sup>15</sup>.

To the extent that it appears necessary or desirable for the purpose of co-ordinating provision for children with special educational needs, the governing bodies of community, foundation and voluntary schools and maintained nursery schools must, in exercising functions relating to the provision for such children, consult the local education authority and the governing bodies of other such schools<sup>16</sup>.

Where a child who has special educational needs is being educated in a community, foundation or voluntary school or a maintained nursery school, those concerned with making special educational provision for the child must secure, so far as is reasonably practicable and is compatible with<sup>17</sup>:

- 1864 (a) the child receiving the special educational provision for which his learning difficulty calls<sup>18</sup>;
- 1865 (b) the provision of efficient education for the children with whom he will be educated<sup>19</sup>; and

TEXT AND NOTES--See the Education (Pupil Referral Units) (Application of Enactments) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/2979, regs 1, 3, Sch 1 para 2.

TEXT AND NOTE 16--The governing body of a community, foundation or voluntary school or a maintained nursery school must designate a member of the staff at the school, to be known as the 'special educational needs co-ordinator', as having responsibility for co-ordinating the provision for pupils with special educational needs: 1996 Act s 317(3A) (s 317(3A), (3B) added by Education and Inspections Act 2006 s 173 (in force in relation to England: SI 2006/3400)). Regulations may require the governing bodies of schools falling within the 1996 Act s 317(3A) to ensure that special educational needs co-ordinators have prescribed qualifications or prescribed experience, or both, and confer on the governing bodies of those schools other functions relating to special educational needs co-ordinators: s 317(3B). As to regulations so made see Education (Special Educational Needs Co-ordinators) (England) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/2945 (amended by SI 2009/1387).

Regional provision for special educational needs in Wales.

1014. Regional provision for special educational needs in Wales.

When directed to do so by the National Assembly for Wales<sup>1</sup>, the local education authorities<sup>2</sup> in Wales<sup>3</sup>, or such of them as may be specified in the direction, must consider whether they (or any of them) would be able to carry out their special education functions<sup>4</sup>, in respect of children with the special educational needs<sup>5</sup> specified in the direction, more efficiently or effectively if regional provision<sup>6</sup> were made<sup>7</sup>. The authorities to whom a direction is given must report their conclusions to the Assembly not later than the time specified in the direction<sup>8</sup>. In discharging their duties under these provisions, local education authorities must have regard to any guidance given from time to time by the Assembly<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

4 For the purposes of the Education Act 2002 s 191, 'special education functions' means functions under the Education Act 1996 (ss 312-349) (as amended) (see PARAS 984 et seq ante, 1016 et seq post): Education Act 2002 s 191(2).

5 For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 212(2), (3).

6 For the purposes of ibid s 191, 'regional provision' means: (1) provision of education for children from the areas of different local education authorities in Wales, at a school maintained by one of those authorities; or (2) provision made by two or more local education authorities in Wales for goods or services to be supplied by one of the authorities to the other or others, or to one or more governing bodies of schools maintained by the other authority or authorities: s 191(2). For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 212(2), (3). As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

1008-1025 Duties of Local Education Authorities, Governing Bodies etc as regards Special Educational Provision

The Secretary of State is required to secure the provision of and publish special educational needs information which is likely to assist in improving the well-being of children with special educational needs: see the Education Act 1996 ss 332C-332E; and PARA 1021A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(3) PROVISION OF EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(i) Duties of Local Education Authorities, Governing Bodies etc as regards Special Educational Provision/1015. Directions to bring forward proposals to secure regional provision in Wales.

1015. Directions to bring forward proposals to secure regional provision in Wales.

Where the National Assembly for Wales<sup>1</sup> is of the opinion that two or more local education authorities<sup>2</sup> in Wales<sup>3</sup> ('Welsh authorities') would be able to carry out their special education functions<sup>4</sup>, in respect of a particular class of children, more effectively or efficiently if regional provision<sup>5</sup> were made, the Assembly may exercise its power to give directions<sup>6</sup> with a view to securing that such provision is made<sup>7</sup>. The Assembly may, by order<sup>8</sup>, do one or more of the following:

- 1867 (1) direct a Welsh authority to exercise its powers to make proposals for the establishment, alteration or discontinuance of schools<sup>9</sup>;
- 1868 (2) direct the governing body of a foundation, voluntary or foundation special school<sup>10</sup> maintained by a Welsh authority (a 'relevant school') to exercise its powers to make proposals for the alteration of its school<sup>11</sup>;
- 1869 (3) direct two or more Welsh authorities to make proposals for arrangements under which provision for education is made by one of the authorities in respect of persons from the area or areas of the other authority or authorities<sup>12</sup>, and provision is made for determining the payments to be made under the arrangements in respect of the provision of that education<sup>13</sup>;
- 1870 (4) direct two or more Welsh authorities to make proposals for arrangements that provide for one of those authorities to make to the other or others such supplies of goods or services as may be specified in the proposals on such terms, including terms as to payment, as may be so specified<sup>14</sup>;
- 1871 (5) direct a Welsh authority and the governing bodies of one or more relevant schools to make proposals for arrangements that provide for the authority to make to the governing bodies such supplies of goods or services as may be specified in the proposals, on such terms, including terms as to payment, as may be so specified<sup>15</sup>, to secure that regional provision is made in relation to such class of children, from such areas<sup>16</sup>, as may be specified in the order<sup>17</sup>. Such an order must require the proposals to be published not later than such date as is specified in the order<sup>18</sup>, and must require the body publishing the proposals to send a copy of the published proposals and such information in connection with those proposals as may be prescribed by the order, to the Assembly<sup>19</sup>. Proposals made in pursuance of an order containing a direction under heads (3) to (5) above must contain such information and be published in such manner as is prescribed by regulations<sup>20</sup>. Regulations may, in respect of proposals made in pursuance of such an order, make provision for<sup>21</sup>: (a) consultation on the proposals<sup>22</sup>; (b) the making of comments on or objections to the proposals<sup>23</sup>; (c) withdrawal of the proposals<sup>24</sup>; (d) modification of the proposals<sup>25</sup>; (e) approval of the proposals by the Assembly<sup>26</sup>; (f) implementation of the proposals by the body or bodies that made them<sup>27</sup>.

Where the Assembly has made an order containing directions under heads (1) to (5) above<sup>28</sup>, and either any proposals have been published in pursuance of the order<sup>29</sup>, or the time allowed under the order for the publication of the proposals has expired<sup>30</sup>, the Assembly may make any such proposals as might have been made, in accordance with any direction contained in the order, by the body or bodies to which it was addressed<sup>31</sup>. The proposals must contain such information and be published in such manner as the Assembly thinks fit<sup>32</sup>; and the Assembly must send a copy of any such proposals to each local education authority in Wales<sup>33</sup>, and the governing body of each school to which the proposals relate<sup>34</sup>. Regulations may make provision about such proposals and, in particular, may make provision for<sup>35</sup>: (i) consultation on the proposals<sup>36</sup>; (ii) the making of comments on or objections to the proposals<sup>37</sup>; (iii) modification of the proposals<sup>38</sup>; (iv) implementation of the proposals by the bodies to which they relate<sup>39</sup>.

SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(3) PROVISION OF EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(i) Duties of Local Education Authorities, Governing Bodies etc as regards Special Educational Provision/1017. Provision of goods and services in connection with special educational needs.

1017. Provision of goods and services in connection with special educational needs.

A local education authority<sup>1</sup> may, for the purpose only of assisting the governing bodies<sup>2</sup> of community, foundation or voluntary schools<sup>3</sup> or maintained nursery schools<sup>4</sup> (in its or any other area<sup>5</sup>) in the performance of their duties in relation to pupils with special educational needs<sup>6</sup>, or the governing bodies of community or foundation special schools<sup>7</sup> (in its or any other area) in the performance of their duties, supply goods or services to those bodies<sup>8</sup>. A local education authority in England may supply goods and services to any authority or other person<sup>9</sup> for the purpose only of assisting them in making for any child<sup>10</sup> any special educational provision<sup>11</sup> for which any learning difficulty<sup>12</sup> of the child calls<sup>13</sup>. A local education authority in Wales<sup>14</sup> may supply goods and services to any authority in Wales or other person<sup>15</sup> for the purpose of assisting them in making for a child any special educational provision for which any learning difficulty of the child calls<sup>16</sup>. These provisions are without prejudice to the generality of any other power of local education authorities to supply goods or services<sup>17</sup>.

1 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. Any function of a local education authority in England which is conferred by or under the Education Act 1996 s 318 (as amended) may be exercised by, or by employees of, such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the local education authority whose function it is: Contracting Out (Local Education Authority Functions) (England) Order 2002, SI 2002/928, art 3, Sch 1 para (e). As to the regulations made in exercise of the power under s 317(5) (as substituted) in relation to England see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Information) (England) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2506 (amended by SI 2002/2469). The governing body of every community, foundation or voluntary school or community or foundation special school (including one established in a hospital) is required to publish the following information: basic information about the school's special education provision (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Information) (England) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2506, reg 3, Sch 1 paras 1-6, Sch 2 paras 1-3, Sch 3 para 1); information about the school's policies for identification (in the case of a community, foundation or voluntary school), assessment and provision for all pupils with special educational needs (see Sch 1 paras 7-12, Sch 2 paras 4-8, Sch 3 paras 2-4, 6, 7); and information about the staffing policies and partnership with bodies beyond the school (see Sch 1 paras 13-17, Sch 2 paras 9-13, Sch 3 paras 5, 8). Provision is also made as to the means of publication of such information: see regs 4-5 (reg 4 amended by SI 2002/2469).

6 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

7 Education Act 1996 s 317(5)(b) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). The text refers to the governors' report prepared under the Education Act 2002 s 30(1) (as amended): see PARA 296 ante. As to the regulations made in exercise of the power under the Education Act 1996 s 317(5) (as substituted) in relation to Wales see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Information) (Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1442. The governing body of every community, foundation or voluntary school or community or foundation special school (including one established in a hospital) is required to publish the following information: basic information about the school's special education provision (see reg 3, Sch 1 paras 1-6, Sch 2 paras 1-3, Sch 3 para 1); information about the school's policies for identification (in the case of a community, foundation or voluntary school), assessment and provision for all pupils with special educational needs (see Sch 1 paras 7-12, Sch 2 paras 4-8, Sch 3 paras 2-4, 6, 7); and information about the staffing policies and partnership with bodies beyond the school (see Sch 1 paras 13-17, Sch 2 paras 9-13, Sch 3 paras 5, 8). Provision is also made as to the means of publication of such information: see regs 4-5. Each governors' report must include information about the implementation of the governing body's policy for pupils with special educational needs, in particular concerning the success of the governing body's special educational needs policies, recent changes in policy, the outcome of statutory consultations, and the allocation of resources: reg 6, Sch 4.

The Secretary of State is required to secure the provision of and publish special educational needs information which is likely to assist in improving the well-being of children with special educational needs: see the Education Act 1996 ss 332C-332E; and PARA 1021A.

1021 Provision of information and advice by governing bodies

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(3) PROVISION OF EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(i) Duties of Local Education Authorities, Governing Bodies etc as regards Special Educational Provision/1021A. Provision of information about children with special educational needs.

1021A. Provision of information about children with special educational needs.

The Secretary of State must exercise his powers under the Education Act 1996 ss 29, 408, 537, 537A, 537B and 538 with a view to securing the provision of special needs information which would, in his opinion, be likely to assist him or other persons in improving the well-being of children in England with special educational needs: s 332C (ss 332C-332E added by the Special Educational Needs (Information) Act 2008 s 1). Any reference to the well-being of children with special educational needs is a reference to their well-being so far as relating to (1) physical and mental health and emotional well-being; (2) protection from harm and neglect; (3) education, training and recreation; (4) the contribution made by them to society; and (5) social and economic well-being: Education Act 1996 s 332E(4). 'Special needs information' means information about children in England with special educational needs or about special educational provision made for them; and 'child' means a person under the age of 19, whether or not the person is a registered pupil at a school: s 332E(2), (3). The Secretary of State must in each calendar year publish, or arrange to be published, special needs information which has been obtained under the 1996 Act and the publication of which would, in his opinion, be likely to assist him or other persons in improving the well-being of children in England with special educational needs: s 332D(1). Information published under s 332D(1) may be published in such form and manner as the Secretary of State thinks fit provided that the name of the child or children to whom the information relates is not included: s 332D(2). The Secretary of State may make, or arrange for the making of, a charge, not exceeding the cost of supply, for any documents supplied by virtue of s 332D: s 332D(3).

1022. Duty of local education authority in relation to disagreements between local education authorities, governing bodies and parents.

A local education authority<sup>1</sup> must make arrangements with a view to avoiding or resolving disagreements between the governing bodies of maintained schools<sup>2</sup> and the local education authority (on the one hand) and parents<sup>3</sup> of children<sup>4</sup> in its area (on the other) about the exercise of functions<sup>5</sup> under the provisions of the Education Act 1996 which relate to special educational needs<sup>6</sup>. The arrangements must provide for the appointment of independent persons with the function of facilitating the avoidance or resolution of such disagreements<sup>7</sup>. In making the arrangements, the authority must have regard to any guidance given by the Secretary of State<sup>8</sup> (in relation to England) and the National Assembly for Wales<sup>9</sup> (in relation to Wales)<sup>10</sup>. The arrangements cannot affect the entitlement of a parent to appeal to the Tribunal<sup>11</sup>.

NOTE 11--1996 Act s 322(3)(a) further amended: National Health Service (Consequential Provisions) Act 2006 Sch 1 para 182; SI 2007/961.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(3) PROVISION OF EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(i) Duties of Local Education Authorities, Governing Bodies etc as regards Special Educational Provision/1025. Liability of local education authorities in failing to provide adequately for children with special educational needs.

1025. Liability of local education authorities in failing to provide adequately for children with special educational needs.

The failure of local education authorities to diagnose learning difficulties or to make suitable education provision for children with special educational needs has been the subject of claims for breach of statutory duty and negligence<sup>1</sup> which have been considered by the House of Lords<sup>2</sup>.

Whilst the statutory duties imposed on local education authorities are of the greatest importance and the failure to fulfil them could have a serious effect on a child's education, it does not appear that Parliament intended that there should be a remedy of damages for breach of statutory duty in respect of such matters<sup>3</sup>. Rather, the general nature of the duties imposed by the education legislation on local education authorities in the context of a national education system, and the remedies available by way of appeal and judicial review, indicate that Parliament did not intend to create a statutory remedy by way of damages<sup>4</sup>.

However, it does not follow that a local education authority can never be liable in common law negligence for damage resulting from acts done in the course of the performance of a statutory duty by it or its servants or agents<sup>5</sup>. Advice given by educational psychologists has been the subject of such claims<sup>6</sup>. Where a person is employed by a local education authority to carry out professional services as part of the fulfilment of the authority's statutory duty, there is no overriding reason in principle why that person should not owe a duty of care to the child<sup>7</sup>, nor is there any overriding reason in principle why, if that duty of care is broken, the authority as employer or principal should not be vicariously liable<sup>8</sup>. This is subject to the qualification that, for there to be liability arising from the performance of professional duties by, for example, an educational psychologist in relation to a particular child, it must be a situation where the law recognises a duty of care<sup>9</sup>. If an educational psychologist is specifically called in to advise in relation to the assessment and future provision for a specific child, and it is clear that the parents acting for the child and the teachers would follow that advice, then prima facie a duty of care arises; the question is whether in the particular circumstances the necessary nexus has been shown<sup>10</sup>. The result of a failure by an educational psychologist to take care may be that the child suffers emotional or psychological or even physical harm, which may constitute damage for the purpose of the common law if foreseeability and causation are established<sup>11</sup>. A failure to ameliorate the effects of a congenital condition may also constitute damage for this purpose<sup>12</sup>. A claim made on either of these bases is a claim for personal injury which falls under the head of general damages<sup>13</sup>.

Whilst there are no reasons of public policy why the courts should never recognise the vicarious liability of local education authorities in situations such as these<sup>14</sup>, there may, however, be cases where it may be wrong to recognise such a vicarious liability as it may interfere with the performance of the local education authority's duties<sup>15</sup>.

Whether education authorities generally owe a common law duty of care to pupils to take reasonable care in discharging their statutory functions is less clear<sup>16</sup>. It has been said that the courts should hesitate before imposing a common law duty of care in the exercise of discretionary powers or duties conferred by Parliament for social welfare purposes<sup>17</sup>, and that a common law duty of care in the exercise of statutory discretions can only arise in relation to an authority which has decided an issue so carelessly that no reasonable authority could have reached that decision<sup>18</sup>. However, there is no universally recognised principle that a claim at common law in negligence should never be possible<sup>19</sup>. In practice, since the authority can only act through its employees or agents, and if they are negligent vicarious liability will arise, it may rarely be necessary to invoke a claim for direct liability<sup>20</sup>.

While concerned with special educational needs, the potential scope of these rulings may extend to other areas of education as well<sup>21</sup>.

In Anderton v Clwyd County Council [1998] ELR 533 (on appeal [1999] ELR 1, CA), the claimant, who also had dyslexia, claimed that she had suffered psychological problems due to the failure of the local education authority to make suitable educational provision for her. In Jarvis v Hampshire County Council [1999] Ed CR 785 (on appeal [2000] ELR 36, CA), the claimant brought proceedings against an educational psychologist and the local education authority on the grounds of negligence and breach of statutory duty in not providing competent advice through the authority's psychology service. In G v Bromley London Borough Council (4 March 1999, unreported), the claimant suffered from muscular dystrophy and claimed that the local education authority had negligently, and in breach of its statutory duty, failed to provide him with a proper education.

6 As regards the role of the educational psychology service in E (A Minor) v Dorset County Council (reported in X (Minors) v Bedfordshire County Council, M (A Minor) v Newham London Borough Council, E (A Minor) v Dorset County Council, Christmas v Hampshire County Council, Keating v Mayor and Burgesses of Bromley London Borough Council [1995] 2 AC 633, [1995] 3 All ER 353, [1995] ELR 404, HL), the House of Lords was clear that the local education authority was providing a service (ie psychological advice) to the public. Although the service could not be provided without statutory authority, once the decision was taken to offer such a service, a statutory body was in general in the same position as any private individual or organisation holding itself out as offering such a service, and it owed a duty of care to persons using the service; it was nevertheless important to establish the factual background to the operation of educational psychology services: see X (Minors) v Bedfordshire County Council, M (A Minor) v Newham London Borough Council, E (A Minor) v Dorset

County Council, Christmas v Hampshire County Council, Keating v Mayor and Burgesses of Bromley London Borough Council supra at 762-763, at 392, and at 447-448 per Lord Browne-Wilkinson. As regards individual psychologists and the question whether they owed a duty of care and whether the authority might be liable if a psychologist was found to be negligent, Lord Browne-Wilkinson went on to say (at 763-764, at 393, and at 448-449) that 'psychologists hold themselves out as having special skills and they are . . . like any other professional bound to possess such skills and exercise them carefully'. If a conflict of duty could be shown between the professional's duties to the claimant and his duty to his employer, or if there was a conflict between the professional being under a duty of care to the claimant and the discharge by the authority of its statutory duties, the trial judge might have to limit or exclude the duty of care owed to the claimant, but in this case Lord Browne-Wilkinson could not see any such conflict and also considered that there could be liability for advice given by education officers. As to education officers see further Carty v Croydon London Borough Council [2005] EWCA Civ 19, [2005] 2 All ER 517, [2005] 1 FCR 554 (education officers can owe a common law duty of care to children with special educational needs, and authorities can be vicariously liable for the negligence of such officers; liability is not limited to persons who have been trained and qualify as members of a recognised profession or who are subject to professional disciplinary procedures).

'A school which accepts a pupil assumes responsibility not only for his physical well-being but also for his educational needs . . . The head teacher, being responsible for the school, himself comes under a duty of care to exercise the reasonable skills of a headmaster in relation to such educational needs. If it comes to the attention of the headmaster that a pupil is under-performing, he does owe a duty to take such steps as a reasonable teacher would consider appropriate to try to deal with such under-performance . . . If such a head teacher gives advice to parents, then . . . he must exercise the skills and care of a reasonable teacher in giving such advice. Similarly, in the case of the advisory teacher brought in to advise on the educational needs of a specific pupil, if he knows that his advice will be communicated to the pupil's parents he must foresee that they will rely on such advice. Therefore, in giving that advice he owes a duty to the child to exercise the skill and care of a reasonable advisory teacher . . . The headmaster and advisory teachers were not under any duty to exercise a higher degree of skill such as that of an educational psychologist': X (Minors) v Bedfordshire County Council, M (A Minor) v Newham London Borough Council, E (A Minor) v Dorset County Council, Christmas v Hampshire County Council, Keating v Mayor and Burgesses of Bromley London Borough Council [1995] 2 AC 633 at 766, [1995] 3 All ER 353 at 395-396, [1995] ELR 404 at 451, HL, per Lord Browne-Wilkinson.

A personal injury claim is subject to the provisions of the Limitation Act 1980 ss 11, 14 (both as amended) (ie three years from accrual or from the claimant's date of knowledge): see LIMITATION PERIODS vol 68 (2008) PARAS 998-999. The exercise of discretion to extend the time limit under s 33 (as amended) (see LIMITATION PERIODS vol 68 (2008) PARA 1001) is subject to the question of proportionality: Adams v Bracknell Forest Borough Council supra (the potential injustice to the defendant in having to defend the claim was such as to preclude any exercise of discretion), approving Robinson v St Helens Metropolitan Borough Council supra at [32]-[33] per Stuart-Smith LJ. The standard to be applied in fixing knowledge is that of a person assumed to be suffering from untreated dyslexia; personal characteristics are otherwise irrelevant: Adams v Bracknell Forest Borough Council supra. 'It is important that those engaged in the provision of educational services under the statutes should not be hampered by the imposition of such vicarious liability. I do not, however, see that to recognise the existence of the duties necessarily leads or is likely to lead to that result. The recognition of a duty of care does not of itself impose unreasonably high standards': Phelps v Hillingdon London Borough Council, Anderton v Clwyd County Council, Jarvis v Hampshire County Council, G v Bromley London Borough Council supra at 655, at 519, and at 518 per Lord Slynn of Hadley. Lord Nicholls of Birkenhead distinguished cases where there is 'manifest incompetence or negligence comprising specific, identifiable mistakes', such as where a teacher 'carelessly teaches the wrong syllabus for an external examination', from a more general claim that a child did not receive an adequate education at the school or that a particular teacher failed to teach properly (Phelps v Hillingdon London Borough Council, Anderton v Clwyd County Council, Jarvis v Hampshire County Council, G v Bromley London Borough Council supra at 667, at 530-531, and at 531-532), and he emphasised that 'proof of under-performance by a child is not by itself evidence of negligent teaching', given the range of external factors that can affect it (Phelps v Hillingdon London Borough Council, Anderton v Clwyd County Council, Jarvis v Hampshire County Council, G v Bromley London Borough Council supra at 668, at 531, and at 532).

16 The question of whether local education authorities can be directly liable (rather than vicariously liable for the act of, for example, a teacher or psychologist) was left open in Phelps v Hillingdon London Borough Council, Anderton v Clwyd County Council, Jarvis v Hampshire County Council, G v Bromley London Borough Council [2001] 2 AC 619 at 668, [2000] 4 All ER 504 at 531, [2000] ELR 499 at 533, HL, per Lord Nicholls of Birkenhead. Lord Slynn of Hadley (at 658, at 522, and at 521) was of the opinion that an authority would not be directly liable for the way it had established arrangements to meet its statutory duties towards children with special educational needs, but might be directly liable if it employed teachers and others who were not qualified or competent to undertake their duties.

(ii) Institutions making Special Educational Provision

1026. Mainstream schools.

A child<sup>1</sup> with special educational needs<sup>2</sup> who should be educated in a school<sup>3</sup> should in general be educated in a mainstream school<sup>4</sup>. A school is a 'mainstream school' if it is a school other than: (1) a special school<sup>5</sup>; or (2) an independent school<sup>6</sup> which is not a city technology college, a city college for the technology of the arts, or an academy<sup>7</sup>. A child with special educational needs may, however, in appropriate circumstances be educated in a special school<sup>8</sup>, an independent school<sup>9</sup>, a non-maintained school<sup>10</sup>, a city college or an academy<sup>11</sup>, an institution outside England and Wales<sup>12</sup>, or in an institution which is not a school<sup>13</sup>.

1027. Special schools.

A school<sup>1</sup> is a 'special school' if it is specially organised to make special educational provision<sup>2</sup> for pupils<sup>3</sup> with special educational needs<sup>4</sup>. Additionally, a school which is not maintained by a local education authority<sup>5</sup> is a special school if it is for the time being approved as such by the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup>.

Accordingly there are two categories of special school:

- 1875 (1) special schools maintained by local education authorities, comprising community special schools<sup>7</sup> and foundation special schools<sup>8</sup>; and
- 1876 (2) special schools which are not so maintained but are for the time being approved by the Secretary of State<sup>9</sup>.

UPDATE

1027 Special schools

TEXT AND NOTES--Education Act 1996 s 337 substituted: Education and Skills Act 2008 s 142(1).

As from a day to be appointed Education Act 1996 s 6(2) substituted: Education and Skills Act 2008 Sch 1 para 6.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(3) PROVISION OF EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(ii) Institutions making Special Educational Provision/1028. Approval of non-maintained special schools.

1028. Approval of non-maintained special schools.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may approve<sup>2</sup> any school<sup>3</sup> which is specially organised to make special educational provision<sup>4</sup> for pupils<sup>5</sup> with special educational needs<sup>6</sup>, and is not a community or foundation special school<sup>7</sup>, and may give his approval before or after the school is established<sup>8</sup>. Any school which was a special school<sup>9</sup> immediately before 1 April 1994<sup>10</sup> must be treated as so approved<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 Ie under the Education Act 1996 s 342 (as substituted). Regulations may make provision as to the requirements which are to be complied with as a condition of such approval (s 342(2) (s 342 substituted by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 paras 57, 82)); and, without prejudice to the generality of this power, the requirements which may be imposed by the regulations include requirements which call for arrangements to be approved by the Secretary of State, or as to the organisation of any special school as a primary school or as a secondary school (Education Act 1996 s 342(5) (as so substituted)). 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 579(1). As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante.

In relation to England, the requirements which a non-maintained special school (ie a school which is not maintained by a local education authority and which has been approved as a special school under s 342 (as substituted): Education (Non-Maintained Special Schools) (England) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2257, reg 2(1)) must comply with as a condition of its approval are concerned with the special educational provision made by the school (see reg 3, Schedule para 1), the governing body of the school (see Schedule para 2), the welfare of pupils at the school (see Schedule para 3), the not-for-profit status of the school (see Schedule para 4), and the school premises (see Schedule para 5). Corresponding provision is made in connection with the requirements with which a special school in Wales must comply as a condition of its approval: see, by virtue of the Education Act 1996 s 582(3), Sch 39 para 1 and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the Education (Special Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/652, regs 4, 6, 8, Schedule Pt I paras 1-5. For the meaning of 'special school' see PARA 1027 ante. For the meanings of 'primary school' and 'secondary school' see PARA 81 ante. As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

The Secretary of State may by order make such modifications of any trust deed or other instrument relating to a school as, after consultation with the governing body or other proprietor of the school, appears to him to be necessary to enable the governing body or proprietor to meet any requirement imposed by regulations made under the Education Act 1996 s 342 (as substituted): s 349(1). Such orders are not statutory instruments: see s 568(2) (as amended); and PARA 15 note 6 ante. Any modification made by such an order may be made to have permanent effect or to have effect for such period as may be specified in the order: s 349(2). As to the making, revocation or variation of orders under the Education Act 1996 see PARA 15 note 6 ante. As to the meaning of 'modifications' see PARA 43 note 7 ante. As to the meaning of 'trust deed' see PARA 104 note 6 ante. For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante. For the meaning of 'proprietor' see PARA 60 note 7 ante. As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

3 For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'special educational provision' see PARA 984 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'pupil' see PARA 16 note 4 ante.

6 Education Act 1996 s 342(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante.

7 Ibid s 342(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to community and foundation special schools see PARA 102 ante.

8 Ibid s 342(1) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the meaning of 'establish' see PARA 132 note 2 ante. A school approved under s 342(1) (as substituted) is not susceptible to judicial review: R v Muntham House School, ex p R [2000] ELR 287.

9 For the meaning of 'special school' see PARA 1027 ante.

10 In the date on which the Education Act 1993 s 184, which made provision in connection with proposals for the establishment or alteration of maintained or grant-maintained special schools, was brought into force by the Education Act 1993 (Commencement No 3 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1994, SI 1994/507. The Education Act 1993 s 184 was repealed by the Education Act 1996 and replaced by s 340 (itself now repealed).

11 Education Act 1996 s 342(3) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). Section 342(3) is subject to the provision that regulations may make provision as to the requirements which are to be complied with by a school while approved under s 342 (as substituted), and makes provision for the withdrawal of approvals (see PARA 1029 post): s 342(4) (as so substituted). Additionally, and without prejudice to the generality of s 342(4) (as substituted), the requirements which may be imposed by the regulations include requirements which call for arrangements to be approved by the Secretary of State, or as to the organisation of any special school as a primary school or as a secondary school: s 342(5) (as so substituted).

In relation to England, the requirements which a non-maintained special school must comply with while approved under s 342 (as substituted) are concerned with the special educational provision made by the school (see the Education (Non-Maintained Special Schools) (England) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2257, reg 4, Schedule para 1), the governing body of the school (see Schedule para 2), the welfare of pupils at the school (see Schedule para 3), the not-for-profit status of the school (see Schedule para 4), the school premises (see Schedule para 5), proposals for changes to the school's special educational provision or governing body (see Schedule para 6), admissions and special educational provision (see Schedule para 7), pupil numbers (see Schedule para 8), the health of pupils at the school (see Schedule para 9), the provision of collective worship and religious education (see Schedule para 10), the provision of sex education (see Schedule para 11), the provision of milk, meals and refreshment (see Schedule para 12), the keeping and maintenance of incident and punishment books (see Schedule para 13), the furnishing to local authorities of reports on pupils (see Schedule para 14), the employment of suitable and sufficient non-teaching staff (see Schedule para 15), the absence of religious discrimination in the making of appointments (see Schedule para 16), the keeping and maintenance of proper accounts (see Schedule para 17), the making of reports and returns to the Secretary of State (see Schedule para 18), affording access to the school to appropriate officers of the local authority (see Schedule para 19), and the preparation and publication of a school prospectus containing specified information (see Schedule paras 20-21 (Schedule para 21 amended by SI 2002/1982)). Corresponding provision is made in connection with the requirements with which special schools in Wales must comply while approved: see, by virtue of the Education Act 1996 s 582(3), Sch 39 para 1 and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the Education (Special Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/652, regs 5-6, 8, Schedule Pt I para 1-5, Schedule Pt II paras 6-20, Schedule Pt III paras 1-13.

The Secretary of State may by order make such modifications of any trust deed or other instrument relating to a school as, after consultation with the governing body or other proprietor of the school, appears to him to be necessary to enable the governing body or proprietor to meet any requirement imposed by regulations made under the Education Act 1996 s 342 (as substituted): s 349(1). Such orders are not statutory instruments: see s 568(2) (as amended); and PARA 15 note 6 ante. Any modification made by such an order may be made to have permanent effect or to have effect for such period as may be specified in the order: s 349(2).

1028 Approval of non-maintained special schools

TEXT AND NOTES--Education Act 1996 ss 342, 349 amended: Education and Skills Act 2008 ss 142(2)-(4), 143, 147(2), (3), Sch 2. See also Education Act 1996 s 337A (added by Education and Skills Act 2008 s 142(1)) (definition of 'a non-maintained special school').

Regulations may make provision conferring power on a justice of the peace, on the application of the Secretary of State, to make an order in an urgent case that a non-maintained special school in England should cease to be approved under the Education Act 1996 s 342: see Education Act 1996 s 342A (added by Education and Skills Act 2008 s 144).

Regulations may make provision for an appeal against a decision of the Secretary of State (1) to withdraw approval from a non-maintained special school in England by virtue of the Education Act 1996 s 342(4)(b) otherwise than at the request of the proprietor; (2) not to approve, not to approve a change to, or to withdraw approval from, relevant arrangements in relation to such a school: see Education Act 1996 s 342B (added by Education and Skills Act 2008 s 145).

Regulations may make provision for an appeal against the making of an order by virtue of the Education Act 1996 s 342A: see Education Act 1996 s 342C (added by Education and Skills Act 2008 s 145).

NOTE 2--As to the suitability of staff, supply staff, register of checks, and the suitability of Chair, see the Education (Non-Maintained Special Schools) (England) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2257 Schedule paras 3A-3D (added by SI 2007/1088).

1029. Withdrawal of approval of non-maintained special schools.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision as to the withdrawal of approval<sup>2</sup> from a non-maintained special school<sup>3</sup> at the request of the proprietor<sup>4</sup> or on the ground that there has been a failure to comply with any prescribed<sup>5</sup> requirement<sup>6</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: Education Act 1996 s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante.

2 ie including approval treated as given under ibid s 342(3) (as substituted) (see PARA 1028 ante).

3 As to non-maintained special schools see PARA 1028 ante. For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'proprietor' see PARA 60 note 7 ante.

5 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Education Act 1996 s 579(1). See notes 1, 6 supra.

6 Ibid s 342(4)(b) (s 342 substituted by the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 140(1), Sch 30 paras 57, 82). As to the prescribed requirements see PARA 1028 notes 2, 11 ante. Without prejudice to the generality of the Education Act 1996 s 342(4) (as substituted), the requirements which may be imposed by the regulations include requirements which call for arrangements to be approved by the Secretary of State, or as to the organisation of any special school as a primary school or as a secondary school: s 342(5) (as so substituted). For the circumstances in which the Secretary of State may withdraw his approval of a school in England see the Education (Non-Maintained Special Schools) (England) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2257, reg 5; and in relation to the withdrawal of approval of schools in Wales see, by virtue of the Education Act 1996 s 582(3), Sch 39 para 1 and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the Education (Special Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/652, reg 7. For the meaning of 'special school' see PARA 1027 ante. For the meanings of 'primary school' and 'secondary school' see PARA 81 ante.

The Secretary of State may by order make such modifications of any trust deed or other instrument relating to a school as, after consultation with the governing body or other proprietor of the school, appears to him to be necessary to enable the governing body or proprietor to meet any requirement imposed by regulations made under the Education Act 1996 s 342 (as substituted): s 349(1). Such orders are not statutory instruments: see s 568(2) (as amended); and PARA 15 note 6 ante. Any modification made by such an order may be made to have permanent effect or to have effect for such period as may be specified in the order: s 349(2). As to the making, revocation or variation of orders under the Education Act 1996 see PARA 15 note 6 ante. As to the meaning of 'modifications' see PARA 43 note 7 ante. As to the meaning of 'trust deed' see PARA 104 note 6 ante. For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante. As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

1029 Withdrawal of approval of non-maintained special schools

NOTE 6--SI 1994/652 reg 7 amended: SI 2009/2544.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(3) PROVISION OF EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(ii) Institutions making Special Educational Provision/1030. Approval of independent schools.

1030. Approval of independent schools.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may approve<sup>2</sup> an independent school<sup>3</sup> as suitable for the admission of children<sup>4</sup> for whom statements of special educational needs<sup>5</sup> are maintained<sup>6</sup>. An approval may be given subject to such conditions as the Secretary of State sees fit to impose<sup>7</sup>. No person may so exercise his functions<sup>8</sup> under Part IV of the Education Act 1996<sup>9</sup> that a child with special educational needs is educated in an independent school unless the school is for the time being approved by the Secretary of State as suitable for the admission of children for whom statements of special educational needs are maintained<sup>10</sup>, or the Secretary of State is satisfied that there is a place available for the child at the school and consents to the child being educated there<sup>11</sup>. However, this stipulation does not apply to a local education authority<sup>12</sup> deciding<sup>13</sup> whether a parent<sup>14</sup> has made suitable arrangements for the making of special educational provision<sup>15</sup> for a child in relation to whom a statement of special educational needs is maintained<sup>16</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

2 Regulations may make provision as to the requirements which are to be complied with by a school as a condition of its approval under the Education Act 1996 s 347 (as amended): s 347(2)(a). 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: Education Act 1996 s 579(1). As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. By virtue of s 582(3), Sch 39 Pt I para 1, the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651 (amended by SI 1998/417; and further amended in relation to England by SI 2001/783; SI 2001/2237; SI 2002/2072; SI 2004/3168; and in relation to Wales by SI 2001/3710; SI 2002/808; SI 2005/2929) provide for the requirements with which an independent school must comply as a condition of its approval. Those requirements are to relate to: the fitness of the proprietor of the school so to act (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, reg 3, Sch 1 para 1); the provision of teaching staff (see Sch 1 para 2 (substituted by SI 1998/417)); the employment of residential care staff (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, Sch 1 para 3); the arrangements for admissions to the school (see Sch 1 para 4 (substituted by SI 1998/417)); the arrangements for exclusions from the school (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, Sch 1 para 5); the health and welfare of pupils at the school (see Sch 1 para 6); the use of substances and apparatus involving health hazards (see Sch 1 para 7); the provision of collective worship and religious education (see Sch 1 para 8); the keeping and maintenance of incident and punishment books (see Sch 1 para 9); and the school premises (Sch 1 para 10 (amended by SI 1998/417)). As to independent schools see PARA 465 ante. For the meaning of 'proprietor' see PARA 60 note 7 ante.

Regulations may also make provision as to the requirements which are to be complied with by a school while an approval under the Education Act 1996 s 347 is in force in respect of it: s 347(2)(b). By virtue of s 582(3), Sch 39 Pt I para 1, the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651 (amended by SI 1998/417; and further amended in relation to England by SI 2001/783; SI 2001/2237; SI 2002/2072; SI 2004/3168; and in relation to Wales by SI 2001/3710; SI 2002/808; SI 2005/2929) provide for the requirements with which an independent school must comply as a condition of its approval. Those requirements are to relate to: the fitness of the proprietor of the school so to act (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, reg 3, Sch 1 para 1); the provision of teaching staff (see Sch 1 para 2 (substituted by SI 1998/417)); the employment of residential care staff (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, Sch 1 para 3); the arrangements for admissions to the school (see Sch 1 para 4 (substituted by SI 1998/417)); the arrangements for exclusions from the school (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, Sch 1 para 5); the health and welfare of pupils at the school (see Sch 1 para 6); the use of substances and apparatus involving health hazards (see Sch 1 para 7); the provision of collective worship and religious education (see Sch 1 para 8); the keeping and maintenance of incident and punishment books (see Sch 1 para 9); the school premises (Sch 1 para 10 (amended by SI 1998/417)); the special educational provision provided to children at the school (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, reg 4, Sch 2 para 1); the proprietorship or control of the school (see Sch 2 para 2); the school premises and fire precautions (see Sch 2 paras 4-5 (Sch 2 para 5 substituted by SI 1998/417; and amended by SI 2004/3168; SI 2005/2929)); misconduct reports relating to staff (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, Sch 2 para 6); statutory provisions as to the school year and day and leave of absence (see Sch 2 para 7); the furnishing to local education authorities of reports on children with special needs (see Sch 2 para 8); the provision of information about children who move to another school (see Sch 2 para 9 (amended by SI 2001/783; SI 2001/3710)); the reporting of deaths, illness or injury occurring to children at the school (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, Sch 2 para 10 (amended by SI 1998/417)); affording access to the school to appropriate officers of the local authority (see the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, Sch 2 para 11); and the preparation and publication of a school prospectus containing specified information (see Sch 2 para 12).

In relation to England, the Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651 (as amended) do not apply to any independent school which is a city college: reg 2A (added by SI 2002/2072). For these purposes, 'city college' means an academy, city technology college or city college for the technology of the arts: Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2002/2072). As to city technology colleges and city colleges for the technology of the arts see PARA 496 ante; and as to city colleges and academies see further PARA 1010 ante.

The Secretary of State may by order make such modifications of any trust deed or other instrument relating to a school as, after consultation with the governing body or proprietor of the school, appears to him to be necessary to enable the governing body or proprietor to meet any requirement imposed by regulations made under the Education Act 1996 s 347 (as amended): s 349(1). Such orders are not statutory instruments: see s 568(2) (as amended); and PARA 15 note 6 ante. Any modification made by such an order may be made to have permanent effect or to have effect for such period as may be specified in the order: s 349(2). As to the making, revocation or variation of orders under the Education Act 1996 see PARA 15 note 6 ante. As to the meaning of 'modifications' see PARA 43 note 7 ante. As to the meaning of 'trust deed' see PARA 104 note 6 ante. For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante. As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

3 As to independent schools see PARA 465 ante.

4 As to the meaning of 'child' see PARA 984 note 1 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see PARA 984 ante. As to statements of special educational needs see PARA 996 et seq ante.

6 Education Act 1996 s 347(1). The text refers to statements of special educational needs maintained by a local education authority under s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante): s 347(1). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

7 Ibid s 347(3). The conditions which may be imposed are in addition to those prescribed: s 347(3). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 579(1). As to the withdrawal of an approval in the event of a failure to comply with a condition see PARA 1031 post. As to regulations made for the purposes of s 347 (as amended) see note 2 supra.

10 Ibid s 347(5)(a). The text refers to statements maintained by a local education authority under s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante). In relation to approval or consent for the purposes of s 347(5), it has been held that while the Secretary of State is entitled to have a policy in relation to the approval of schools under s 347(5) (a) and the giving or withholding of consent under s 347(5)(b) (see the text and note 11 infra), a policy cannot lawfully be applied inflexibly, and the possibility of exceptions must always be applied: R v Secretary of State for Education and Employment, ex p P [2000] ELR 300 at 304-305 per Dyson J (citing British Oxygen Co Ltd v Minister of Technology [1971] AC 610, [1970] 3 All ER 165, HL).

11 Education Act 1996 s 347(5)(b) (amended by the Education Act 2002 s 174). This provision, making special provision for ad hoc consent by the Secretary of State for a non-approved independent school, cannot properly be interpreted to mean that in the maintained sector a child could lawfully be sent to a school which was not for the time being approved by the Secretary of State and at which the Secretary of State did not consent to the child being educated: Sunderland City Council v P and C [1996] ELR 283 at 293-294 per Brooke J. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(3) PROVISION OF EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(ii) Institutions making Special Educational Provision/1031. Withdrawal of approval of independent schools.

1031. Withdrawal of approval of independent schools.

In any case where there is a failure to comply with a condition of an approval of an independent school<sup>1</sup>, the Secretary of State may withdraw his approval<sup>2</sup>. Regulations may make provision as to the withdrawal of approval from a school at the request of the proprietor<sup>3</sup> or on the ground that there has been a failure to comply with any prescribed<sup>4</sup> requirement<sup>5</sup>.

1     le a condition imposed by the Secretary of State under the Education Act 1996 s 347(3) (see PARA 1030 ante). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to independent schools see PARA 465 ante.

2     Ibid s 347(4). As to withdrawal of approval see R v Secretary of State for Education and Employment, ex p McCarthy (1996) Times, 24 July.

3     For the meaning of 'proprietor' see PARA 60 note 7 ante.

4     'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations; and 'regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: Education Act 1996 s 579(1). As to the prescribed requirements see PARA 1030 note 2 ante.

5     Ibid s 347(2)(c). The Secretary of State may withdraw his approval of a school on the ground that, in the case of that school, there has been a failure to comply with any of the requirements which are to be complied with by a school (see PARA 1030 note 2 ante) while an approval under s 347 (as amended) is in force in respect of it: Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, reg 5(1). This regulation has effect under the Education Act 1996 s 347(2) by virtue of s 582(3), Sch 39 para 1. The Secretary of State must not, however, unless he is of the opinion that it is necessary or expedient to do so in the interests of the health, safety or welfare of children at the school, so withdraw his approval without consulting the proprietor of the school and, if the proprietor so requests, affording the school a specified period within which to comply with the requirement with which the school has not complied: Education (Special Educational Needs) (Approval of Independent Schools) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/651, reg 5(2). The Secretary of State must also withdraw his approval of a school if the proprietor in writing requests him to do so: reg 5(3).

The Secretary of State may by order make such modifications of any trust deed or other instrument relating to a school as, after consultation with the governing body or proprietor of the school, appears to him to be necessary to enable the governing body or proprietor to meet any requirement imposed by regulations made under the Education Act 1996 s 347 (as amended): s 349(1). Such orders are not statutory instruments: see s 568(2) (as amended); and PARA 15 note 6 ante. Any modification made by such an order may be made to have permanent effect or to have effect for such period as may be specified in the order: s 349(2). As to the making, revocation or variation of orders under the Education Act 1996 see PARA 15 note 6 ante. As to the meaning of 'modifications' see PARA 43 note 7 ante. As to the meaning of 'trust deed' see PARA 104 note 6 ante. For the meaning of 'school' see PARA 81 ante. As to the governing bodies of maintained schools see PARA 203 et seq ante.

(4) SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS TRIBUNALS

1032. Establishment, constitution and membership.

The Lord Chancellor must appoint a President of the Tribunal<sup>6</sup> and a panel of persons who may serve as chairman of the Tribunal<sup>7</sup>, and the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales<sup>8</sup> (as the case may be) must appoint a panel of persons who may serve as the other two members of the Tribunal apart from the chairman<sup>9</sup>.

Regulations may make provision in connection with the establishment and continuation of the Tribunal as the Secretary of State or the Assembly<sup>10</sup> (as the case may be) considers necessary or desirable<sup>11</sup>. The Secretary of State or the Assembly (as the case may be) may provide such staff and accommodation as the Tribunal may require<sup>12</sup>, and may defray the expenses of the Tribunal to such amount as he or it may determine<sup>13</sup>.

1 In the Education Act 1996 ss 333-336 (as amended), 'the Tribunal' means the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal: s 333(1Z) (added by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 4). See also note 3 infra; and PARAS 993 note 13 ante, 1033 note 19 post. The Tribunal was established under the Education Act 1993 s 177 (repealed) and was continued in being under the Education Act 1996 s 333 (as originally enacted).

2 For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

3 The Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales (or 'Tribiwnlys Anghenion Addysgol Arbennig Cymru') was established by the Education Act 1996 as amended by the Education Act 2002: see the Education Act 1996 s 336ZA(1) (s 336ZA added by the Education Act 2002 Sch 18 paras 1, 5). The Education Act 1996 ss 333-336 (as amended) apply in relation to the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales as they apply in relation to the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal, but as if: (1) functions of the Secretary of State were functions of the National Assembly for Wales; (2) references to the Secretary of State were references to the National Assembly for Wales; and (3) requirements for the Treasury's consent were omitted: s 336ZA(2) (as so added). The powers of the Assembly under s 333(4) (see the text and notes 8-9 infra), s 333(5) (see the text and notes 10-11 infra) and s 334(2) (see note 9 infra) are exercisable only with the agreement of the Secretary of State: s 336ZA(3) (as so added). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the Treasury see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 512-517.

4 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

5 Education Act 1996 s 333(1) (substituted by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 42(1), Sch 8 Pt 1 paras 1, 3). The jurisdiction mentioned in the text is conferred by the Education Act 1996 Pt IV (ss 312-349) (as amended): s 333(1) (as so substituted). As to the jurisdiction of the Tribunal see PARA 1033 post. The Tribunal additionally exercises the functions conferred on it by the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 Pt IV Ch I (ss 28A-28Q) (as added and amended) (discrimination in schools): see s 28H (as added and amended); and DISCRIMINATION vol 13 (2007 Reissue). See note 3 supra.

6 Education Act 1996 s 333(2)(a), (3). No person may be appointed President of the Tribunal unless he has a seven year general qualification (within the meaning of the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990 s 71 (as amended): see LEGAL PROFESSIONS vol 65 (2008) PARA 742): Education Act 1996 s 334(1). Any recommendation or appointment to the office of President of the Tribunal under s 333 (as amended) must be made, by virtue of the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 s 85(1)(b), Sch 14 Pt 3, in accordance with ss 85-93, 96: see COURTS. Any function of the Lord Chancellor under the Education Act 1996 s 333 (as amended) is a 'protected function' within the meaning of the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 and may not be transferred, modified or abolished by an order under s 19(1): see s 19(5), Sch 7 para 4; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. As to the Lord Chancellor see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 477 et seq.

If, in the opinion of the Lord Chancellor, the President is unfit to continue in office or is incapable of performing his duties, the Lord Chancellor may revoke his appointment: Education Act 1996 s 334(3). As from a day to be appointed, s 334(3) is amended so that the opinion of both the Lord Chancellor and the Lord Chief Justice is required before such a revocation takes place and the revocation itself may be effected by the Lord Chancellor only with the concurrence of the Lord Chief Justice: s 334(3) (prospectively amended by the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 s 15(1), Sch 4 Pt 1 para 259). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

The President may resign office by notice in writing to the Lord Chancellor and is eligible for re-appointment if he ceases to hold office: Education Act 1996 s 334(5). The Secretary of State or the Assembly (as the case may be) may pay to the President such remuneration and allowances as he or it may determine: ss 335(1), 336ZA(2) (as added: see note 3 supra). The consent of the Treasury is required for the determination by the Secretary of State of such amounts: see ss 335(1), 336ZA(2) (as so added).

7 Ibid s 333(2)(b), (3). This panel is known as 'the chairmen's panel': s 333(2)(b). No person may be appointed a member of the chairmen's panel unless he has a seven year general qualification (within the meaning of the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990 s 71 (as amended): see LEGAL PROFESSIONS vol 65 (2008) PARA 742): Education Act 1996 s 334(1). Any recommendation or appointment as member of the chairmen's panel under s 333 (as amended) must be made, by virtue of the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 s 85(1)(b), Sch 14 Pt 3, in accordance with ss 85-93, 96: see COURTS. See further note 6 supra.

Each member of the chairmen's panel must hold and vacate office under the terms of the instrument under which he is appointed: Education Act 1996 s 334(4). A member of the chairmen's panel may resign office by notice in writing to the Lord Chancellor and is eligible for re-appointment if he ceases to hold office: s 334(5). The Secretary of State or the Assembly (as the case may be) may pay to any person in respect of his service as a member of the Tribunal such remuneration and allowances as he or it may determine: s 335(1), s 336ZA(2) (as added: see note 3 supra). The consent of the Treasury is required for the determination by the Secretary of State of such amounts: see ss 335(1), 336ZA(2) (as so added).

8 The powers of the Assembly under ibid s 333(4) are exercisable only with the agreement of the Secretary of State: see s 336ZA(3) (as added); and note 3 supra.

9 Ibid s 333(2)(c), (4). This panel is known as 'the lay panel': s 333(2)(c). No person may be appointed member of the lay panel unless he satisfies such requirements as may be prescribed: s 334(2). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 579(1). As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. The powers of the Assembly under s 334(2) are exercisable only with the agreement of the Secretary of State: see s 336ZA(3) (as added); and note 3 supra.

No person may be appointed as a member of the lay panel unless the Secretary of State in respect of England, or the Assembly in respect of Wales, is satisfied that the person is not eligible for appointment to the chairmen's panel, and that he has knowledge and experience of children with special educational needs, with disabilities, or (if required) both: Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal (General Provisions and Disability Claims Procedure) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1985, reg 3.

Each member of the lay panel must hold and vacate office under the terms of the instrument under which he is appointed: Education Act 1996 s 334(4). A member of the lay panel may resign office by notice in writing to the Secretary of State or the Assembly (as the case may be) and is eligible for re-appointment if he ceases to hold office: ss 334(5), 336ZA(2) (as added: see note 3 supra). The Secretary of State or the Assembly (as the case may be) may pay to any person in respect of his service as a member of the Tribunal such remuneration and allowances as he or it may determine: ss 335(1), 336ZA(2) (as so added). The consent of the Treasury is required for the determination by the Secretary of State of such amounts: see ss 335(1), 336ZA(2) (as so added).

The Disabled Persons (Services, Consultation and Representation) Act 1986 s 10 (co-option to committees etc of persons representing interests of disabled person: see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE vol 44(2) (Reissue) PARA 1064) does not apply to appointments to the lay panel: Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 17(2), (3) (added by the Education Act 2002 s 195, Sch 18 paras 1, 5).

10 The powers of the Assembly under the Education Act 1996 s 333(5) are exercisable only with the agreement of the Secretary of State: see s 336ZA(3) (as added); and note 3 supra.

11 Ibid s 333(5)(b). See note 3 supra. See also the Special Educational Needs Tribunal Regulations 2001, SI 2001/600 (as amended).

12 Education Act 1996 ss 333(6), 336ZA(2) (as added: see note 3 supra). The consent of the Treasury is required when the Secretary of State makes such provision: see ss 333(6), 336ZA(2) (as added); and note 3 supra.

13 Ibid s 335(2). The consent of the Treasury is required for the determination by the Secretary of State of such amounts: see ss 335(2), 336ZA(2) (as added); and note 3 supra.

1033. Jurisdiction.

- 1877 (1) local education authority<sup>3</sup> determinations not to comply with requests for assessments of the educational needs of a child<sup>4</sup> in respect of whom a statement of special educational needs<sup>5</sup> is maintained<sup>6</sup>;
- 1878 (2) local education authority determinations not to comply with parental requests for assessments of the educational needs of a child in respect of whom no statement is maintained<sup>7</sup>;
- 1879 (3) local education authority determinations not to comply with requests for assessments of the educational needs of children made by the responsible body of a maintained school<sup>8</sup>, a maintained nursery school<sup>9</sup>, a pupil referral unit<sup>10</sup>, an independent school<sup>11</sup>, or an approved school<sup>12</sup>;
- 1880 (4) local education authority determinations not to comply with requests to change the name of a school<sup>13</sup> or institution specified in a statement of special educational needs<sup>14</sup>;
- 1881 (5) local authorities' decisions not to make statements of special educational needs<sup>15</sup>;
- 1882 (6) the content of statements of special educational needs<sup>16</sup>; and
- 1883 (7) local education authority determinations to cease to maintain a statement of special educational needs<sup>17</sup>.

Regulations<sup>18</sup> may provide for the jurisdiction of the Tribunal to be exercised by such number of tribunals as may be determined from time to time by the President<sup>19</sup>, and for the tribunals to sit at such time and in such places as may be from time to time determined by the President<sup>20</sup>.

UPDATE

1032-1035 Special Educational Needs Tribunals

The functions of the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal have been transferred to the First-tier Tribunal: see the First-tier Tribunal and Upper Tribunal (Chambers) Order 2008, SI 2008/2684. An appeal from the First-tier Tribunal lies to the Upper Tribunal (see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 13A). Provision has been made for appeals from the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales to the Upper Tribunal: Education Act 1996 (s 334 amended by Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007 Sch 10 para 28; Education Act 1996 ss 333-336, 336A amended, s 336ZA repealed, s 336ZB added by SI 2008/2833); Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 s 11(1) (amended by SI 2008/2833, SI 2009/1307); Transfer of Tribunal Functions Order 2008, SI 2008/2833, reg 6.

1033 Jurisdiction

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/7. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS/(4) SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS TRIBUNALS/1034. Proceedings.

1034. Proceedings.

- 1884 (1) as to the period within which, and the manner in which, appeals are to be instituted<sup>8</sup>;
- 1885 (2) where the jurisdiction of the Tribunal is being exercised by more than one tribunal, for determining by which tribunal any appeal is to be heard, and for the transfer of proceedings from one tribunal to another<sup>9</sup>;
- 1886 (3) for enabling any functions<sup>10</sup> which relate to matters preliminary or incidental to an appeal to be performed by the President, or by the chairman<sup>11</sup>;
- 1887 (4) for hearings to be conducted in the absence of any member other than the chairman<sup>12</sup>;
- 1888 (5) as to the persons who may appear on behalf of the parties<sup>13</sup>;
- 1889 (6) for granting any person such disclosure or inspection of documents or right to further particulars as might be granted by a county court<sup>14</sup>;
- 1890 (7) requiring persons to attend to give evidence and produce documents<sup>15</sup>;
- 1891 (8) for authorising the administration of oaths to witnesses<sup>16</sup>;
- 1892 (9) for the determination of appeals without a hearing in prescribed circumstances<sup>17</sup>;
- 1893 (10) as to the withdrawal of appeals<sup>18</sup>;
- 1894 (11) for the award of costs or expenses<sup>19</sup>;
- 1895 (12) for taxing or otherwise settling any such costs or expenses (and, in particular, for enabling such costs to be taxed in the county court)<sup>20</sup>;
- 1896 (13) for the registration and proof of decisions and orders<sup>21</sup>; and
- 1897 (14) for enabling the Tribunal to review its decisions, or revoke or vary its orders, in such circumstances as may be determined in accordance with the regulations<sup>22</sup>.

Except in prescribed circumstances, proceedings before the Tribunal must be held in private<sup>23</sup>.

The Tribunal must conduct the hearing in such manner as it considers the most suitable to the clarification of the issues and generally to the just handling of the proceedings, and must seek, as far as appears to it appropriate, to avoid formality in its proceedings<sup>24</sup>. The Tribunal has a wide discretion to permit a party before it to raise new issues<sup>25</sup> and to admit late written evidence in wholly exceptional cases<sup>26</sup>.

Part I of the Arbitration Act 1996<sup>27</sup>, which makes provision for the fair resolution of disputes by an impartial tribunal and for the means of resolution to be determined, so far as practicable, in accordance with the wishes of the parties, does not apply to proceedings before the Tribunal but regulations may make provision corresponding to any provision of that Part<sup>28</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: Education Act 1996 s 579(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Education Act 1996 generally see PARA 40 note 5 ante. As to the regulations made under s 336 (as amended) see the Special Educational Needs Tribunal Regulations 2001, SI 2001/600 (amended by SI 2002/2787); and the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal (General Provisions and Disability Claims Procedure) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1985. The Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal (General Provisions and Disability Claims Procedure) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1985, also contain provisions in relation to the making of claims of disability discrimination in schools under the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 Pt IV Ch I (ss 28A-28Q) (as added and amended) (see PARA 1032 note 5 ante; and DISCRIMINATION vol 13 (2007 Reissue)), including the procedures of the Tribunal to be used in determining those claims.

2 As to the establishment, constitution and membership of the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal and the appointment and terms of service of the President see PARA 1032 ante; as to the jurisdiction of the Tribunal see PARA 1033 ante; and as to appeals from Tribunal decisions see PARA 1035 post.

3 For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

4 As to the establishment, constitution and membership of the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales and the appointment and terms of service of the President see PARA 1032 ante; as to the jurisdiction of the Tribunal see PARA 1033 ante; and as to appeals from Tribunal decisions see PARA 1035 post.

5 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

1032-1035 Special Educational Needs Tribunals

The functions of the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal have been transferred to the First-tier Tribunal: see the First-tier Tribunal and Upper Tribunal (Chambers) Order 2008, SI 2008/2684. An appeal from the First-tier Tribunal lies to the Upper Tribunal (see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 13A). Provision has been made for appeals from the Special Educational Needs Tribunal for Wales to the Upper Tribunal: Education Act 1996 (s 334 amended by Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007 Sch 10 para 28; Education Act 1996 ss 333-336, 336A amended, s 336ZA repealed, s 336ZB added by SI 2008/2833); Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 s 11(1) (amended by SI 2008/2833, SI 2009/1307); Transfer of Tribunal Functions Order 2008, SI 2008/2833, reg 6.

1035. Appeals to the High Court.

(5) CODE OF PRACTICE

1036. Code of practice.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> must issue, and may from time to time revise, a code of practice giving practical guidance in respect of the discharge by local education authorities<sup>2</sup> and the governing bodies of maintained schools<sup>3</sup> and maintained nursery schools<sup>4</sup> of their functions<sup>5</sup> in connection with the making of special educational provision under Part IV of the Education Act 1996<sup>6</sup>. The Secretary of State must publish the code as for the time being in force<sup>7</sup>. Local education authorities and governing bodies of maintained schools exercising functions under Part IV<sup>8</sup>, and any other person exercising any function for the purpose of the discharge by local education authorities and such governing bodies of functions under Part IV<sup>9</sup>, are under a duty to have regard to the provisions of the code<sup>10</sup>. On any appeal under Part IV to the Tribunal<sup>11</sup>, the Tribunal must have regard to any provision of the code which appears to it to be relevant to any question arising on the appeal<sup>12</sup>.

1037. Making and approval of code of practice.

Where the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> proposes to issue or revise a code of practice, he must prepare a draft of the code or revised code<sup>2</sup>. He must consult such persons about the draft as he thinks fit and must consider any representations made by them<sup>3</sup>. If he determines to proceed with the draft (either in its original form or with such modifications<sup>4</sup> as he thinks fit) he must lay it before both Houses of Parliament<sup>5</sup>. If the draft is approved by resolution of each House, the Secretary of State must issue the code in the form of the draft, and the code comes into effect on such day as the Secretary of State may by order appoint<sup>6</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

1038. Duty of nursery education providers to have regard to code of practice.

Any local education authority<sup>1</sup> or other person providing relevant nursery education<sup>2</sup>, and any person employed<sup>3</sup> by such an authority or other person or otherwise engaged to provide his services in the provision of such education, is under a duty to have regard to the provisions of the code of practice giving practical guidance in respect of the discharge of functions under Part IV of the Education Act 1996<sup>4</sup>. The code of practice may include practical guidance in respect of the provision of relevant nursery education for children with special educational needs in circumstances where functions<sup>5</sup> under Part IV do not fall to be discharged<sup>6</sup>. However, if such provision is not made, the Secretary of State<sup>7</sup> must publish a document explaining how the practical guidance contained in the code applies in circumstances where functions under Part IV do not fall to be discharged<sup>8</sup>, and the duty to have regard to the provisions of the code<sup>9</sup> includes a duty to have regard to the provisions of that document<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'relevant nursery education' see PARA 1019 note 17 ante. For the meaning of 'nursery education' see PARA 85 ante. If: (1) a local education authority or other person providing relevant nursery education for a child makes special educational provision for him because it is considered that he has special educational needs; (2) no statement under the Education Act 1996 s 324 (as amended) (see PARA 996 ante) is maintained for the child; and (3) the child's parent has not previously been informed of the special educational provision made for him, then the local education authority or other person concerned must inform the child's parent that special educational provision is being made for him because it is considered that he has special educational needs: School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 123(3A), (3B) (added by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 s 7(2)). See also PARA 1019 ante. For the meaning of 'child' see PARAS 16 note 4, 984 note 1 ante; definition applied by virtue of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 142(8). As to the meaning of 'parent' see PARA 510 note 1; definition applied by virtue of s 142(8).

3 For the meaning of 'employed' see PARA 355 note 14 ante.

4 School Standards and Framework Act 1998 s 123(1). The code of practice in question is that issued under the Education Act 1996 s 313 (as amended) (see PARA 1036 ante) giving practical guidance in respect of the discharge of the functions of local authorities and governing bodies of maintained schools under Pt IV (ss 312-349) (as amended) (see PARA 984 et seq ante) in connection with the making of special educational provision. ## 8. STUDENTS

(1) STATUS AND RIGHTS OF REDRESS

1039. Students' legal relationship with higher education institutions.

It is now accepted that a student stands in a contractual relationship with a university whatever the nature of the institution he attends<sup>1</sup>. Nevertheless, this does not necessarily mean that decisions of universities about such matters as awards of degrees, progression to the next stage of a course or disciplinary matters are not amenable to judicial review<sup>2</sup>.

In relation to issues which do not touch upon matters of academic judgment, the Higher Education Act 2004 introduced a statutory scheme for the review of complaints made by students or former students at qualifying institutions or by students working towards the grant of one of the qualifying institution's awards<sup>3</sup>.

Such contractual status notwithstanding, however, a student's 'civil right' for the purposes of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953) Cmd 8969) art 6(1) was not being determined by an academic appeals committee of the university when considering matters relating to the failure to award him an MA: see Hanuman v United Kingdom [2000] ELR 685, ECtHR.

As to judicial review see JUDICIAL REVIEW vol 61 (2010) PARA 601 et seq.

Where a decision concerning a student is amenable to judicial review, there is sufficient procedural flexibility within the Civil Procedure Rules 1998, SI 1998/3132 (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE) to enable a student to pursue a claim against a university in contract even though it might more appropriately be brought via judicial review, and the claim would not be struck out by the court for that reason unless the court was satisfied that there had been an abuse of the process of the court in the circumstances, including a delay in instituting proceedings: Clark v University of Lincolnshire and Humberside [2000] 3 All ER 752 at 761, [2000] 1 WLR 1988 at 1997-1998, [2000] ELR 345 at 355 per Lord Woolf MR, CA.

<sup>3</sup> See the Higher Education Act 2004 Pt 2 (ss 11-21); and PARA 1040 et seq post. For the meaning of 'qualifying institution' see PARA 1040 note 2 post. 'Academic judgment' is not defined in the Higher Education Act 2004. The jurisdiction of a visitor to the institution is ousted in respect of the matters covered by s 20 (qualifying student complaints: see PARA 1040 post) and s 46 (disputes between a member of staff and the qualifying institution: see PARA 657 ante). As to the jurisdiction of visitors see PARA 656 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/8. STUDENTS/(1) STATUS AND RIGHTS OF REDRESS/1040. Review of student complaints under statutory scheme.

1040. Review of student complaints under statutory scheme.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> of every qualifying institution<sup>2</sup> in England and Wales must comply with any obligation imposed upon it by a scheme for the review of qualifying complaints<sup>3</sup> that is provided by the designated operator<sup>4</sup> of the statutory student complaints scheme<sup>5</sup>. A 'qualifying complaint' means<sup>6</sup> a complaint about an act or omission of a qualifying institution which is made by a person: (1) as a student or former student at that institution<sup>7</sup>; or (2) as a student or former student at another institution (whether or not a qualifying institution) undertaking a course of study, or programme of research, leading to the grant of one of the qualifying institution's awards<sup>8</sup>. However, a complaint which falls within these criteria is not a qualifying complaint to the extent that it relates to matters of academic judgment<sup>9</sup>.

The visitor of a qualifying institution has no jurisdiction in respect of any complaint<sup>10</sup>: (a) if it is made in respect of an application for admission to the qualifying institution as a student<sup>11</sup>; or (b) if it is made by a person as a student or former student at the qualifying institution<sup>12</sup>, or as a student or former student at another institution (whether or not a qualifying institution) undertaking a course of study, or programme of research, leading to the grant of one of the qualifying institution's awards<sup>13</sup>.

1 For these purposes, 'governing body' has the meaning given by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 90(1), but subject to any provision made by virtue of s 90(2) (see PARA 584 note 5 ante): Higher Education Act 2004 s 21.

2 For the purposes of ibid Pt 2 (ss 11-21), 'qualifying institution' means any of the following institutions in England or Wales: (1) a university, whether or not receiving financial support under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 65 (as amended) (see PARA 746 ante), whose entitlement to grant awards is conferred or confirmed by an Act of Parliament, a Royal Charter, or an order under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 76 (see PARA 727 ante); (2) a constituent college, school or hall or other institution of a university falling within head (1) supra; (3) an institution conducted by a higher education corporation; (4) a designated institution, as defined by s 72(3) (see PARA 646 note 11 ante): Higher Education Act 2004 ss 11, 21. For the purposes of Pt 2, 'award' means any degree, diploma, certificate or other academic award or distinction: s 21. For the meaning of 'higher education corporation' see PARA 646 note 3 ante; definition applied by s 21. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante. As to the meaning of 'university' see PARA 648 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'qualifying complaint' has the meaning given by ibid s 12 (see the text and notes 6-9 infra): s 21.

4 For these purposes, 'designated operator' has the meaning given by ibid s 13(5)(b) (in relation to an institution in England, see PARA 1041 note 4 post; and, in relation to an institution in Wales, see PARA 1041 note 7 post): s 21.

5 Ibid s 15(1). The duty imposed by s 15(1) applies from the effective date of the designation and ceases to apply only if the designation is terminated: s 15(2). For these purposes, 'the effective date' has the meaning given by s 13(5)(a) (see PARA 1041 note 13 post): s 21. The obligations referred to in s 15(1) include any obligation to pay fees to the designated operator of the statutory student complaints scheme: s 15(3).

For the purposes of the law of defamation, any proceedings relating to the review under the scheme of a qualifying complaint are to be treated as if they were proceedings before a court: s 17(1). For those purposes, absolute privilege attaches to the publication of: (1) any decision or recommendation made under the scheme by a person responsible for reviewing a qualifying complaint; and (2) any report under s 14, Sch 3 para 6 or Sch 3 para 7 (see PARA 1043 post): s 17(2). For the purposes of s 17, 'the scheme' means the scheme for the review of qualifying complaints provided by the designated operator: s 17(3). As to defamation generally see LIBEL AND SLANDER.

1041. Designation of operator of statutory student complaints scheme.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may, for the purposes of the provisions relating to the review of student complaints<sup>2</sup>, designate a body corporate<sup>3</sup> as the designated operator<sup>4</sup> for England as from a date specified in the designation<sup>5</sup>. The National Assembly for Wales<sup>6</sup> may, for the purposes of the provisions relating to the review of student complaints, designate a body corporate as the designated operator<sup>7</sup> for Wales as from a date specified in the designation<sup>8</sup>.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may not designate a body in this way unless he or it is satisfied that the body<sup>9</sup>:

- 1898 (1) meets all of the conditions to be met by an operator of the student complaints scheme<sup>10</sup>;
- 1899 (2) is providing a scheme for the review of qualifying complaints<sup>11</sup> that meets all of the conditions to be met by a student complaints scheme<sup>12</sup>, or is proposing to provide such a scheme from a date not later than the effective date<sup>13</sup>;
- 1900 (3) has consulted interested parties<sup>14</sup> about the provisions of that scheme<sup>15</sup>; and
- 1901 (4) consents to the designation<sup>16</sup>.

If a body is so designated, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, before the effective date, give the body notice of the designation<sup>17</sup> and publish notice of the designation in such manner as he or it thinks fit<sup>18</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

2 Ie for the purposes of the Higher Education Act 2004 Pt 2 (ss 11-21).

3 As to bodies corporate see generally COMPANIES; CORPORATIONS.

4 For these purposes, any reference to the designated operator is, in relation to an institution in England, a reference to the body designated under the Higher Education Act 2004 s 13(1): s 13(5)(b)(i). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante.

5 Ibid s 13(1).

6 As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

7 For these purposes, any reference to the designated operator is, in relation to an institution in Wales, a reference to the body designated under the Higher Education Act 2004 s 13(2): s 13(5)(b)(ii). For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

8 Ibid s 13(2).

12 Ie all of the conditions set out in the Higher Education Act 2004 s 13(3)(b), Sch 2 (see PARA 1042 post).

13 Ibid s 13(3)(b). For these purposes, 'the effective date', in relation to the designation of a body corporate under s 13, means the date specified in the designation as the date from which the body is designated as designated operator: s 13(5)(a).

14 In relation to a scheme for the review of qualifying complaints provided or to be provided by a body corporate, 'interested parties' means: (1) qualifying institutions in England or Wales (as the case may be); and (2) persons selected by the body corporate from amongst those it considers to represent the interests of students at qualifying institutions in England or Wales (as the case may be): ibid s 21.

1042. Conditions to be met by a student complaints scheme and by the operator of a student complaints scheme.

The conditions to be met by an operator of the student complaints scheme<sup>1</sup> are: (1) that the body corporate<sup>2</sup> is a suitable person to be the designated operator<sup>3</sup> (condition 'A')<sup>4</sup>; and (2) the body corporate is capable of providing in an effective manner, on and after the effective date<sup>5</sup>, a scheme for the review of qualifying complaints<sup>6</sup> which meets all of the conditions set out in heads (a) to (h) below (condition 'B')<sup>7</sup>. The conditions to be met by a student complaints scheme<sup>8</sup> are:

- 1902 (a) that at any given time the scheme relates (as the case may be) to every institution in England, to every institution in Wales, or to every institution in England and Wales, that is a qualifying institution at that time<sup>9</sup>;
- 1903 (b) that the scheme provides that every qualifying complaint made about the qualifying institutions to which it relates is capable of being referred under the scheme<sup>10</sup>;
- 1904 (c) that the scheme requires every qualifying complaint referred under the scheme to be reviewed by an individual who is independent of the parties<sup>11</sup>, and is suitable to review that complaint<sup>12</sup>;
- 1905 (d) that the scheme requires a reviewer<sup>13</sup> to make a decision as to the extent to which a qualifying complaint is justified, and to make that decision as soon as reasonably practicable<sup>14</sup>;
- 1906 (e) that the scheme provides that, in a case where a reviewer decides that a qualifying complaint is to any extent justified, the reviewer<sup>15</sup>: (i) may recommend the governing body of the institution to which the complaint relates to do anything specified in the recommendation (which may include the payment of sums so specified), and to refrain from doing anything so specified<sup>16</sup>; but (ii) may not require any person to do, or refrain from doing, anything<sup>17</sup>;
- 1907 (f) that the scheme requires a reviewer to notify the parties to a qualifying complaint in writing of the decision the reviewer has made<sup>18</sup>, the reviewer's reasons for making that decision<sup>19</sup>, and, if the reviewer makes a recommendation, that recommendation, and the reviewer's reasons for making that recommendation<sup>20</sup>;
- 1908 (g) that the scheme does not require complainants to pay any fees in connection with the operation of the scheme<sup>21</sup>;
- 1909 (h) that any fees payable under the scheme by the qualifying institutions to which it relates do not exceed the amount incurred by the operator, taking one year with another, in providing the scheme in relation to those institutions<sup>22</sup>.

A scheme does not fail to meet the conditions set out in heads (a) to (h) above only because it also relates to bodies that are not qualifying institutions<sup>23</sup>; and a scheme which relates to such bodies does not fail to meet the conditions only because the provisions of the scheme that apply to such bodies do not meet those conditions<sup>24</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> ie the conditions referred to in the Higher Education Act 2004 s 13(3)(a) (see PARA 1041 ante) and other provisions of Pt 2 (ss 11-21): s 13(3)(a), Sch 1 para 1. As to the designation of an operator of the statutory student complaints scheme see PARA 1041 ante.

For this purpose, 'regulations' means regulations made: (1) in relation to schemes relating to qualifying institutions in England, by the Secretary of State; or (2) in relation to schemes relating to qualifying institutions in Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: Sch 2 para 12(2). No such regulations may be made by the Secretary of State unless a draft of the regulations has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: Sch 2 para 12(3). ### 1043. Duties of the designated operator of a student complaints scheme.

The designated operator<sup>1</sup> of a student complaints scheme must comply with the duties set out in heads (1) to (7) below<sup>2</sup>, which apply from the relevant date<sup>3</sup> and cease to apply only if the designation is terminated<sup>4</sup>. The duties are:

- 1910 (1) that the designated operator must provide a scheme for the review of qualifying complaints<sup>5</sup> which meets all of the conditions to be met by a student complaints scheme<sup>6</sup>;
- 1911 (2) that the designated operator must publish the latest version of the scheme in such manner as it thinks fit<sup>7</sup>;
- 1912 (3) that the designated operator must not make any change to a provision of the scheme to which a condition to be met by a student complaints scheme<sup>8</sup> relates unless the operator has first consulted interested parties about the proposed change, and notified the Secretary of State<sup>9</sup> or the National Assembly for Wales<sup>10</sup> (as the case requires) of the proposed change<sup>11</sup>;
- 1913 (4) that the designated operator must comply with any requirements that the scheme imposes on it<sup>12</sup>;
- 1914 (5) that the designated operator must produce an annual report on the scheme and its operation<sup>13</sup>, and publish the report in such manner as it thinks fit<sup>14</sup>;
- 1915 (6) that the designated body must comply with any request from the Secretary of State or the Assembly to conduct a review of the scheme or its operation (or any aspect of either of those matters)<sup>15</sup>, and report the results of the review to the Secretary of State or the Assembly<sup>16</sup>, within such time as he or it may specify<sup>17</sup>;
- 1916 (7) that the designated operator must provide the Secretary of State or the Assembly with such information about itself, and the scheme and its operation, as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may reasonably require for the purposes of his or its functions under the provisions relating to the review of student complaints<sup>18</sup>.

1044. Duration of designation of the operator of a student complaints scheme.

The designation of a body as operator of a student complaints scheme<sup>1</sup> continues until it is terminated in accordance with the following provisions<sup>2</sup>.

The designation is terminated if the designated operator<sup>3</sup> and the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> or the National Assembly for Wales<sup>5</sup> (as the case may be) make an agreement which specifies a date when the designation is to terminate<sup>6</sup>. In such a case, the designation is terminated on the date specified in the agreement<sup>7</sup>. Such an agreement may not be varied or cancelled<sup>8</sup>.

The designation is terminated if the designated operator gives the Secretary of State or the Assembly (as the case may be) notice which specifies a date when the designation is to terminate<sup>9</sup>. In such a case, the designation is terminated on the date specified in the notice<sup>10</sup>. Such notice may not be varied or revoked<sup>11</sup>.

The designation is terminated if the Secretary of State or the Assembly (as the case may be) gives the designated operator notice which specifies a date when the designation is to terminate<sup>12</sup>. However, such notice may not be given unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly is no longer satisfied that the designated operator meets all of the conditions to be met by an operator of the student complaints scheme<sup>13</sup>, or is satisfied that the designated operator has failed to comply with the duties required of him<sup>14</sup>. In such a case, the designation is terminated on the date specified in the notice<sup>15</sup>. Such notice may not be varied or revoked<sup>16</sup>.

The designation is terminated if the designated operator ceases to exist<sup>17</sup>. In such a case, the designation is terminated on the date when the operator ceases to exist<sup>18</sup>.

Where the designated operator and the Secretary of State or the Assembly have made an agreement<sup>19</sup>, the designated operator has given notice<sup>20</sup>, or where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has given notice<sup>21</sup>: (1) the designated operator and the Secretary of State or the Assembly may not make an agreement or a new agreement<sup>22</sup>; (2) the designated operator may not give a notice or a new notice<sup>23</sup>; and (3) the Secretary of State or the Assembly may not give a notice<sup>24</sup> (except in accordance with specified conditions<sup>25</sup>) nor give a new notice<sup>26</sup>. The original instrument of termination is superseded only if notice is given in accordance with the conditions mentioned in head (3) supra<sup>27</sup>, or if the designation in question is terminated where the operator ceases to exist<sup>28</sup>.

If the designation of a body is terminated, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must publish notice of the termination in such manner as he or it thinks fit<sup>29</sup>.

Where an agreement to terminate a designation has been made<sup>30</sup>, notice to terminate a designation has been given<sup>31</sup>, or the designated operator has ceased to exist<sup>32</sup>, the Secretary of State (in relation to England) or, as the case requires, the Assembly (in relation to Wales) may by order<sup>33</sup> make such provision as he or it thinks fit for, or in connection with, the review of qualifying complaints<sup>34</sup>. Such provision includes any one or more of the following:

- 1917 (a) provision requiring the designated operator to provide the scheme<sup>35</sup> in accordance with specified<sup>36</sup> requirements<sup>37</sup>;
- 1918 (b) provision modifying, or requiring the designated operator to modify, the provisions of the scheme<sup>38</sup>;
- 1919 (c) provision about the fees payable under the scheme, including provision requiring the repayment of fees already paid<sup>39</sup>;

- 1920 (d) provision for a specified person<sup>40</sup> to take over provision of the scheme<sup>41</sup>;
 1921 (e) provision for any provision relating to the review of student complaints<sup>42</sup> that applies in relation to a scheme provided by the designated operator to apply, with or without modifications, in relation to a scheme provided by a person specified by virtue of head (d) above<sup>43</sup>;
 1922 (f) provision for a specified person<sup>44</sup> to review qualifying complaints, or specified descriptions of qualifying complaints, otherwise than under the scheme<sup>45</sup>;
 1923 (g) provision requiring the payment of fees by the governing bodies<sup>46</sup> of qualifying institutions<sup>47</sup> to a person specified by virtue of head (f) above<sup>48</sup>;
 1924 (h) provision requiring the designated operator to provide such information and assistance as the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers necessary for the Secretary of State or the Assembly to make provision where the designation of the operator ceases or for any person to comply with, or act under or in accordance with, such provision<sup>49</sup>.

(2) STUDENT SUPPORT

(i) The Statutory System for providing Financial Support for Students

A. INTRODUCTION

1045. The statutory framework.

The current system governing the provision of financial support for students, under which the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make grants or loans for the purpose, was introduced as from 16 July 1998 by Chapter I of Part II of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998<sup>2</sup>. This system replaced the system formerly operated under the Education Act 1962 (and related provisions), which regulated the making of awards and grants by local authorities<sup>3</sup>, and the system under the Education (Student Loans) Act 1990, which made provision in connection with the making of loans to students in higher education<sup>4</sup>.

The former legislation continues, however, to have effect in certain circumstances. The Education Act 1962 and its associated provisions, and any subordinate legislation made or to be made thereunder, continue to have effect with respect to or otherwise in connection with awards bestowed before 1 January 1999 or to the bestowing of awards, or awards bestowed, on any student attending prescribed courses<sup>5</sup>. The Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 and subordinate legislation made or to be made thereunder continue to have effect in relation to loans made before 13 August 1998 or to the making of loans to students attending prescribed courses<sup>6</sup>. The provisions of the Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 relating to the assignment of public sector loans and the making of arrangements in connection with such assignments<sup>7</sup> continue in operation<sup>8</sup>.

Provision is made for the Secretary of State to repay amounts payable in respect of loans received under the Education (Student Loans) Act 1990<sup>9</sup> or under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998<sup>10</sup> by eligible persons who fulfil prescribed conditions<sup>11</sup>. Provision is made also for reducing or extinguishing the amounts payable in respect of such loans by such persons<sup>12</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

<sup>2</sup> Ie the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 Pt II Ch I (ss 22-28) (as amended): see PARA 1046 et seq post. As to grants made to Higher Education Funding Councils see PARA 757 ante.

<sup>3</sup> The legislation regulating the making of grants and awards by local authorities (ie the Education Act 1962 ss 1-4, Sch 1, and provisions of the Education Act 1973, the Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983, and the Education Reform Act 1988) was repealed by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 44(2), Sch 4, with effect from 1 January 1999: see the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 (Commencement No 4 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1998, SI 1998/3237, art 2.

The Education Act 1962 imposed a duty on every local education authority, subject to and in accordance with regulations, to bestow on persons who were ordinarily resident in the area of the authority awards in respect of their attendance at any course which was provided by a university, college or other institution in the United Kingdom or by such a university, college or institution in conjunction with a university, college or other institution in another country and was designated as being: (1) a full-time course which was either a first degree course or comparable to a first degree course; (2) a full-time course for the diploma of higher education; (3) a course for the initial training of teachers; or (4) a full-time course for the higher national diploma, or for the higher national diploma of the Business and Technician Education Council: see s 1(1)-(3) (s 1(1)-(3) substituted by the Education Act 1980 s 19, Sch 5; and the Education Act 1962 s 1(3) amended by the Education (Grants and Awards) Act 1984 s 4; and by virtue of the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 4). For the purposes of the exercise of any power or the performance of any duty conferred or imposed by or under any of the provisions of the Education Act 1962 ss 1-3 (as substituted and amended), it is immaterial whether an award is designated by that name or as a scholarship, studentship, exhibition or bursary or by any similar description or in what terms the bestowal of an award is expressed: s 4(1) (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5). In the Education Act 1962 ss 1-3 (as substituted and amended), any reference to an institution other than a university or college includes a reference to an institution providing a course which qualifies for funding under the Education Act 1994 Pt I (ss 1-19) (as amended): Education Act 1962 s 4(1A) (added by the Education Act 1994 s 24, Sch 2 para 2).

Provision for the reimbursement by the Secretary of State of amounts paid under the Education Act 1962 s 1(1) (as substituted) was made by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 209. The duty to bestow awards did not arise in relation to a person who did not possess prescribed qualifications (Education Act 1962 s 1(4) (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5)), and provision was made for the conditions and exceptions subject to which the duty was to have effect to be prescribed (Education Act 1962 s 1(5) (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5)). As to the power to withdraw an award see Bristol City Council v Dookwah [1999] ELR 174, CA. As to supplementary provision in connection with the prescribing of conditions and exceptions see the Education Act 1962 s 1(7) (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5).

Provision for the bestowal of discretionary awards was made by the Education Act 1962 s 1(6) (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5). As to the exercise of the authority's discretion see R v Southwark London Borough Council, ex p Udu [1996] ELR 390, CA; R v Birmingham City Council, ex p Aghar (20 February 1996, unreported); R v Shropshire County Council, ex p Jones [1997] ELR 357; R v Bedfordshire County Council, ex p Quick (6 October 1997, unreported); R v Birmingham City Council, ex p Reece [1999] ELR 373.

The Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 2 (as amended) (see PARA 1055 post), which gives the Secretary of State power to make regulations as to eligibility for discretionary awards which differentiate between United Kingdom and overseas students, was applied to awards under the Education Act 1962 s 1(6) (as substituted) by the Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 2(3)(a) (repealed).

As to the persons to be treated as 'ordinarily resident' for the purposes of the Education Act 1962 s 1(1) (as substituted) see s 1(8), Sch 1 (both substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5; and the Education Act 1962 Sch 1 amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 Pt I). See also Shah v Barnet London Borough Council [1983] 2 AC 309, [1983] 1 All ER 226, HL; R v Nottinghamshire County Council, ex p Jain [1989] COD 442, Independent, 23 January, DC.

The regulations having effect for the various purposes of the Education Act 1962 s 1 (as substituted and amended) and Sch 1 (as substituted and amended) are the Education (Mandatory Awards) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1994 (amended by SI 2004/1038; SI 2004/1792; SI 2005/2083). Any enactment contained in the Education Act 1962 ss 1-3 (as substituted and amended) which required or authorised the making of regulations is construed as requiring or authorising regulations to be made by the Secretary of State; and regulations made for the purposes of any such enactment could make different provision for different cases to which that enactment was applicable: s 4(2) (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5). Any power to make regulations under the Education Act 1962 ss 1-3 (as substituted and amended) was exercisable by statutory instrument, and any statutory instrument containing any such regulations was subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 4(4) (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5).

The Education Act 1973 s 3 (amended by the Children Act 1975 s 108(1)(b), Sch 4) empowered the Secretary of State by regulations to make provision for the payment by him, to persons on whom awards had been bestowed by a local education authority under the Education Act 1962 s 1 (as substituted and amended), of certain additional allowances for the purpose of enabling such persons to take advantage without hardship of their awards in certain cases. The regulations having effect for these purposes are the Education (Mandatory Awards) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1994 (amended by SI 2004/1038; SI 2004/1792; SI 2005/2083).

The Education Act 1962 s 2 (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5) made provision empowering local education authorities to bestow awards on persons over compulsory school age (including persons undergoing training as teachers) in respect of their attendance at certain courses of full-time or part-time education which were not courses of primary or secondary education. For the purposes of the Education Act 1962 s 2 (as substituted), 'training' (in relation to training as a teacher) included further training, whether the person undergoing the further training was already qualified as a teacher or not, and any reference to a person undergoing training included a person admitted or accepted by the appropriate university, college or other authorities for undergoing that training: s 4(5) (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5; and amended by the Education (No 2) Act 1986 s 67(4), Sch 4 para 3). As to the exercise of an authority's discretion in this regard see R v Warwickshire County Council, ex p Collymore [1995] ELR 217; R v Warwickshire County Council, ex p Williams [1995] ELR 326. Provision was made for authorising the Secretary of State to bestow awards on persons in respect of their attendance at designated postgraduate courses and on persons of prescribed ages in respect of their attendance at courses provided by certain grant-aided institutions and institutions designated as colleges providing long-term residential courses of full-time education for adults: see the Education Act 1962 s 3 (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5; and amended by the Education (No 2) Act 1986 s 67(6), Sch 6, Pt I; and the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 5). The regulations having effect for the various purposes of the Education Act 1962 s 3 (as substituted and amended) are the State Awards Regulations 1978, SI 1978/1096 (amended by SI 1979/333; SI 1983/188; SI 1983/920; SI 1987/1365; SI 1988/1392; SI 1991/831); and the State Awards (State Bursaries for Adult Education) (Wales) Regulations 1979, SI 1979/333 (amended by SI 1983/1274; SI 1983/1747; SI 1991/1079; SI 2005/3302). Without prejudice to the provisions of the Education Act 1962 s 4(2) (as substituted), regulations under s 3 (as substituted and amended) could make in relation to persons ordinarily resident in Wales provision different from that made in relation to persons so resident in England: s 4(3) (substituted by the Education Act 1980 Sch 5; and amended by the Education (No 2) Act 1986 s 67(4), Sch 4 para 3).

4 The Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 was repealed by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 44(2), Sch 4, with effect from 13 August 1998: see the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 (Commencement No 2 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1998, SI 1998/2004, art 2. The Education (Student Loans) Acts 1996 and 1998, which amended the Education (Student Loans) Act 1990, were also repealed as from that date.

The Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 empowered the Secretary of State to make arrangements for enabling eligible students to receive public sector student loans towards their maintenance out of money made available by him for that purpose: see s 1(1), (1B)(a) (s 1(1A), (1B) added by the Education (Student Loans) Act 1996 s 1, Schedule paras 1, 2(1), (2)). For these purposes, 'eligible students' were those who: (1) were attending courses of higher education of at least one academic year's duration and were at institutions receiving support from public funds or (being at other institutions) were designated by or under regulations made by the Secretary of State; and (2) satisfied other prescribed conditions: see the Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 s 1(2). The regulations having effect for these purposes are the Education (Student Loans) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/211 (amended by SI 1998/1676; SI 1998/2005; SI 1999/1784; SI 2000/1804; SI 2001/1627; SI 2002/1329; SI 2003/1647; SI 2004/1030; SI 2005/1718; SI 2005/2119). As to the making of regulations see the Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 s 1(7), (8). 'Courses of higher education' were defined as courses of any description as follows: (a) a first degree course; (b) a course for the further training of teachers or youth and community workers; (c) a course for the Diploma of Higher Education; (d) a course for the Higher National Diploma or Higher National Certificate of the Business and Technician Education Council or the Scottish Vocational Education Council; (e) a designated course for the initial training of teachers; (f) a course in preparation for a professional examination of a standard higher than that of examinations at advanced level for the General Certificate of Education or the examination at higher level for the Scottish Certificate of Education, or the examination for the National Certificate or the National Diploma of the Business and Technician Education Council or the Scottish Vocational Education Council, not being a course for entry to which a first degree (or equivalent qualification) is normally required; (g) a course providing education (whether or not in preparation for an examination) the standard of which is higher than that of courses providing education in preparation for any of the examinations mentioned in head (f) supra but not higher than that of a first degree course, and for entry to which a first degree (or equivalent qualification) is not normally required: see s 1(3), Sch 1. Provision was made for the amendment of Sch 1 by order (see s 1(4), (6)) but no such amendments were made. 'Institutions receiving support from public funds' were defined as: universities and other institutions receiving grants; institutions maintained by local education authorities in exercise of their further and higher education functions; institutions receiving recurrent grants towards their costs from a further education funding council; institutions receiving recurrent grants towards their costs under regulations; the Queen's University of Belfast; the University of Ulster; a college of education in Northern Ireland; and institutions providing further education in Northern Ireland (see s 1(3) (amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 93(1), Sch 8 para 67; the Education Act 1994 s 24, Sch 2 para 9; and the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 98)); and, to the extent that the Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 continues in force, they include institutions which receive financial resources under the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 5 (as amended) (see PARA 1092 post) or s 34 (see PARA 1132 post) (see s 151(3), Sch 10 para 18). For these purposes, 'university' includes a university college and any college or institution in the nature of a college, in a university: Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 s 4(3).

The Secretary of State was also empowered, in pursuance of arrangements with persons by whom private sector student loans (ie loans made to eligible students towards their maintenance otherwise than out of money made available by the Secretary of State) were made, to pay subsidy to those persons in respect of such loans: see s 1(1A), (1B)(b) (as so added). As to provision in relation to the administration of both public sector and subsidised private sector student loans see s 1(5) (amended by the Education (Student Loans) Act 1996 s 1(2), Schedule paras 1, 2(1), (3)); the Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 Sch 2 (amended by the Education (Student Loans) Act 1996 s 1(2), Sch 2; and the Education (Student Loans) Act 1998 ss 2, 3(1)-(3)); and the Education (Student Loans) Act 1998 s 3(4), (5). As to provision in connection with the application to Northern Ireland and the financing of the statutory provisions for the making and administration of student loans see the Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 ss 2-3; the Education (Student Loans) Act 1996 ss 2-3; and the Education (Student Loans) Act 1998 ss 4-5.

The Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 s 1A (added by the Education (Student Loans) Act 1998 s 1) made provision in connection with the transfer of public sector student loans to the private sector. As to the continuing effect of this provision see the text and notes 7-8 infra.

B. FINANCIAL SUPPORT

1046. Provision of financial support for students.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> must make provision authorising or requiring the Secretary of State to make grants or loans, for any prescribed<sup>2</sup> purposes, to eligible students in connection with their undertaking higher education courses<sup>3</sup>, or further education courses<sup>4</sup>, which are designated<sup>5</sup> by or under the regulations<sup>6</sup>. Such regulations may, in particular, make provision:

- 1925 (1) for determining whether a person is an eligible student in relation to any available<sup>7</sup> grant or loan<sup>8</sup>;
- 1926 (2) prescribing, in relation to any such grant or loan and an academic year, the maximum amount available to any person for any prescribed purpose for that year<sup>9</sup>;
- 1927 (3) where the amount of any such grant or loan may vary to any extent according to a person's circumstances, for determining, or enabling the determination of the amount required or authorised to be paid to him<sup>10</sup>;
- 1928 (4) prescribing categories of attendance on higher education courses or further education courses which are to qualify for any purposes of the regulations<sup>11</sup>;
- 1929 (5) for any grant<sup>12</sup> to be made available on such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by, or determined by the Secretary of State under, the regulations, including terms and conditions requiring repayments to be made in circumstances so prescribed or determined<sup>13</sup>;
- 1930 (6) requiring the making of payments in respect of any such grant to be suspended or terminated in any such circumstances<sup>14</sup>;
- 1931 (7) prescribing requirements or other provisions, whether as to repayment or otherwise, which are for the time being to apply in relation to loans<sup>15</sup> (including requirements or other provisions taking effect during the currency of such loans so as to add to, or otherwise modify<sup>16</sup>, those for the time being applying in relation to the loans)<sup>17</sup>;
- 1932 (8) authorising grants in respect of fees<sup>18</sup> payable in connection with courses to be paid directly to institutions charging the fees<sup>19</sup>;
- 1933 (9) requiring prescribed amounts payable to eligible students under loans<sup>20</sup> to be paid directly to institutions to whom those persons are liable to make payments<sup>21</sup>;
- 1934 (10) modifying any enactment or instrument (whenever passed or made) so as to provide for the treatment, in connection with any calculation with respect to the income (however defined) of persons to whom grants or loans are made<sup>22</sup>, of amounts due from or payable to such persons under such grants or loans<sup>23</sup>;
- 1935 (11) for appeals with respect to matters arising under the regulations (including provision for determining, or enabling the determination of the procedure to be followed in connection with appeals)<sup>24</sup>.

1 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. See also note 6 infra. As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. As to the regulations made under s 22 (as amended) see note 6 infra; and PARA 1047 note 1 post.

2 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: ibid s 43(1). See note 1 supra.

3 For the purposes of ibid Pt II Ch I (ss 22-28) (as amended), 'higher education course' has the meaning given by regulations under s 22 (as amended): s 28(1). Regulations under s 22 (as amended) may provide for courses provided wholly or partly outside the United Kingdom to be higher education courses for the purposes of Pt II Ch I (as amended): s 28(2). As to the regulations made under s 22 (as amended) see note 6 infra; and PARA 1047 note 1 post.

4 For the purposes of ibid Pt II Ch I (as amended), 'further education course' has the meaning given by regulations under s 22 (as amended): s 28(1). Regulations under s 22 (as amended) may provide for courses provided wholly or partly outside the United Kingdom to be further education courses for the purposes of Pt II Ch I (as amended): s 28(2). As to the regulations made under s 22 (as amended) see note 6 infra; and PARA 1047 note 1 post.

5 le designated for the purposes of ibid s 22 (as amended).

6 Ibid s 22(1) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 146(1), (2)(a)). As to the transfer of the Secretary of State's functions in relation to the making or granting of loans to eligible students see PARA 1048 post. As to the delegation of such functions see PARA 1049 post. Provision for Northern Ireland corresponding to that made by ss 22-26, 28 (as amended) may be made under s 45. In relation to Wales, the functions of the Secretary of State under s 22 (as amended) have been transferred to the National Assembly for Wales, except so far as they relate to the making of any provision authorised by s 22(2)(a) (see head (1) in the text), s 22(2)(c) (see head (3) in the text), s 22(2)(j) (see head (10) in the text), s 22(2)(k) (see head (11) in the text), s 22(3)(e), s 22(3)(f) (as added) (see note 17 infra) or s 22(5) (as amended) (see PARA 1047 post): Higher Education Act 2004 s 44(1). The functions of the Secretary of State under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22 (as amended) are exercisable concurrently with the Assembly so far as they relate to the making in relation to Wales of any provision authorised by s 22(2)(a), s 22(2)(c), s 22(2)(k) (Higher Education Act 2004 s 44(2)); and regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22 (as amended) by the Secretary of State must provide that no provision made by virtue of s 22(5) (as amended) (see PARA 1047 post) is to apply in relation to any loan so made by the Assembly unless the Assembly has determined, in relation to any loan or description of loan, that repayments are to be collected by the Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs, and has given notice of that determination to the Secretary of State and to the person liable to make the repayments (Higher Education Act 2004 s 44(3); Commissioners for Revenue and Customs Act 2005 s 50(1)). The functions of the Secretary of State under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23 (as amended) (transfer or delegation of functions relating to student support: see PARA 1048 post) are transferred to the Assembly so far as they relate to functions which are exercisable by the Assembly under regulations under s 22 (as amended): Higher Education Act 2004 s 44(4). The Higher Education Act 2004 s 44(3), (4) are to come into force on 1 September 2006: see the Higher Education Act 2004 (Commencement No 2 and Transitional Provision) (Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/1833, art 5. Until the commencement of the Higher Education Act 2004 s 44(4), the functions of the Secretary of State under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(7)-(8) (see PARA 1048 post) are to be exercisable concurrently with the Assembly so far as they relate to payments to any body or person by whom there is exercisable any function that is, by virtue of the Higher Education Act 2004 s 44(1), (2), exercisable by the Assembly: s 44(5). See also note 18 infra; and PARA 53 note 21 ante. As to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. The Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs are appointed under the Commissioners for Revenue and Customs Act 2005 s 1 and have taken over the functions of the former Inland Revenue and Her Majesty's Customs and Excise: see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 900 et seq; INCOME TAXATION. See also VALUE ADDED TAX vol 49(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 13. All statutory and other references to the Commissioners of Customs and Excise and their officers are, in so far as it is appropriate, now to be taken as references to the Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs and their officers: s 50(1), (2).

The regulations which apply in relation to the provision of support to students in relation to an academic year which begins on or after 1 September 2005, whether anything done is done before or after that date, are the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52 (as amended): see reg 3(6). For these purposes, 'academic year' means the period of 12 months beginning on 1 January, 1 April, 1 July or 1 September of the calendar year in which the academic year of the course in question begins according to whether that academic year begins on or after 1 January and before 1 April, on or after 1 April and before 1 July, on or after 1 July and before 1 August, or on or after 1 August and on or before 31 December, respectively: reg 2(1). In addition to the general matters for which provision may be made by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22(2)-(4) (as amended) (see the text and notes 7-24 infra), the regulations make provision as to: the students eligible for support (see the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52, Pt 2 (regs 4-7), Schs 2-3 (Sch 2 amended by SI 2005/1341; SI 2005/2084)), including the courses which are designated for the purposes of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22(1) (as amended) (see the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52, reg 5, Sch 2 (Sch 2 as so amended)); the method of application for financial support (see Pt 3 (regs 8-10), Sch 4), including the provision of information to the Secretary of State (see reg 10); the eligibility of students for grants for fees (see Pt 4 (regs 11-12)); the eligibility of students for grants for living costs and the amounts of such grants (see Pt 5 (regs 13-23), Sch 5 (reg 13 amended by SI 2005/1341; the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52, reg 18 amended by SI 2005/2084); and the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52, Sch 5 amended by SI 2005/1341; SI 2005/2084)); the eligibility of students for loans for living costs and the amounts of and applications for such loans (see the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52, Pt 6 (regs 24-28) (reg 24 amended by SI 2005/1341)); financial assessments (see the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52, Pt 7 (regs 29-30), Sch 5 (Sch 5 as so amended); the making of payments by the Secretary of State, including provision as to overpayments (see Pt 8 (regs 31-33)); the provision of support for part-time courses (see Pt 9 (regs 34-45), Schs 2-4 (reg 34 amended by SI 2005/1341; and the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52, Sch 2 as so amended)); and support for postgraduate students with disabilities (see the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52, Pt 10 (regs 46-54), Schs 2, 4 (reg 46 amended by SI 2005/1341; and the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52, Sch 2 as so amended)). As to the test for eligibility in relation to students from outside the United Kingdom see R (on the application of Haracoglou) v Department for Education and Skills [2001] EWHC 678 (Admin), [2002] ELR 177 (test for determining residency was whether student would have been resident in the United Kingdom in any event, even if she had not been completing her degree course); Case C-209/03 R (on the application of Bidar) v Ealing London Borough Council [2005] QB 812, [2005] All ER (D) 235 (Mar), ECJ (national legislation could not make settlement a condition of eligibility while precluding a national of another member state from obtaining the status of settled person as a student) (both cases decided under previous legislation).

The following regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22 (as amended) provide for limited numbers of eligible applicants to receive financial support, in addition to that available under the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/52 (as amended), by reason of their attendance at certain designated courses: the Education (Student Support) (Dance and Drama) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2263 (amended by SI 2001/2893); and the Education (Student Support) (European Institutions) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/2197 (amended by SI 2001/563; SI 2001/2892).

The Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 42(2) (statutory instrument containing regulations to be subject to annulment by a resolution of either House of Parliament: see PARA 758 note 11 ante) did not apply to the first regulations made under s 22 (as amended), and no such regulations were to be made (whether alone or with other regulations) unless a draft of the statutory instrument containing the regulations had been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 42(4). Nor does s 42(2) apply to any other regulations under s 22 (as amended), a draft of which has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 42(5) (substituted by the Higher Education Act 2004 s 49, Sch 6 para 9). The substitution made by Sch 6 para 9 comes into effect as from a day to be appointed under s 52(2). In relation to England, the appointed day is 14 January 2006: see the Higher Education Act 2004 (Commencement No 4) Order 2006, SI 2006/51, art 2. However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales and until such a day is appointed the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 42(2) does not apply in relation to Wales to: (1) any regulations in relation to which s 22(7)(b) (repealed) applies (s 42(5)(a) (prospectively substituted)); or (2) to any other regulations under s 22 (as amended) a draft of which has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament (s 42(5)(b) (prospectively substituted)).

7     Ie available under ibid s 22 (as amended).

15    Ie under ibid s 22 (as amended).

16    As to the meaning of 'modify' see PARA 833 note 16 ante.

17    Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22(2)(g). The provision which may be made by virtue of s 22(2)(g) in relation to loans under s 22 (as amended) includes provision: (1) for such loans to bear compound interest at such rates, and calculated in such manner, as may be prescribed from time to time (s 22(3)(a)); (2) for such loans to be repaid in such manner, at such times, and to such person or body as may be prescribed from time to time (s 22(3)(b)); (3) for the payment, in respect of amounts overpaid by borrowers, of interest at such rate, and calculated in such manner, as may be determined by the Secretary of State from time to time (s 22(3)(c)); (4) for a borrower not to be liable to make any repayment in respect of such a loan during such period as may be prescribed from time to time, or in such circumstances as may be so prescribed, including provision for the cancellation of any further such liability of the borrower in any such circumstances (s 22(3)(d)); (5) with respect to sums which a borrower receives, or is entitled to receive, under such a loan after the commencement of his bankruptcy or the date of the sequestration of his estate (s 22(3)(e)); and (6) with respect to the effect of bankruptcy upon a borrower's liability to make repayments in respect of such a loan (whether the repayments relate to sums which the borrower receives, or is entitled to receive, before or after the commencement of the bankruptcy) (s 22(3)(f) (added by the Higher Education Act 2004 s 42(1))). As to heads (5) and (6) supra in relation to Wales see note 6 supra.

In relation to loans under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22 (as amended):

- 102 (a) the rates prescribed by regulations made in pursuance of s 22(3)(a) (see head (1) supra) must be no higher than those which the Secretary of State is satisfied are required to maintain the value in real terms of the outstanding amounts of such loans (s 22(4)(a)(i)) and must at no time exceed the specified rate for low interest loans (s 22(4)(a)(ii)); and
- 103 (b) such regulations may make provision, for the purpose of calculating the interest to be borne by such loans, for repayments by borrowers to be treated as having been made or received on such date or dates as may be prescribed by the regulations (s 22(4)(b)).

For the purposes of s 22(4)(a) (see head (a) supra), the Secretary of State must have regard to such index of prices as may be specified in, or determined in accordance with, regulations under s 22 (as amended): s 22(8) (amended by the Higher Education Act 2004 Sch 7). For the purposes of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22(4)(a), 'the specified rate for low interest loans' means the rate for the time being specified for the purposes of any exemption conferred by virtue of the Consumer Credit Act 1974 s 16(5)(b) (see CONSUMER CREDIT vol 9(1) (Reissue) PARA 101): Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22(9). As to the regulations having effect under s 22 (as amended) see note 6 supra; and PARA 1047 note 1 post.

18 For the purposes of ibid Pt II Ch I (as amended), 'fees', in relation to undertaking a course, means fees in respect of, or otherwise in connection with, undertaking the course, including admission, registration, tuition and graduation fees but excluding: (1) fees payable to an institution for awarding or accrediting any qualification where the institution does not provide the whole or part of the course and is not a publicly-funded institution; (2) fees payable for board or lodging; (3) fees payable for field trips (including any tuition element of such fees); (4) fees payable for attending any graduation or other ceremony; and (5) such other fees as may be prescribed: s 28(1) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 146(1), (5)). In connection with head (5) supra, the power to prescribe fees is exercisable by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales: see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672. See the Education (Student Fees) (Exceptions) (England) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2265; and the Education (Student Fees) (Exceptions) (Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2862. As from a day to be appointed, the definition of 'fees' contained in the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 28(1) (as amended) is repealed by the Higher Education Act 2004 ss 49-50, Sch 6 para 8, Sch 7. In relation to England, the appointed day is 14 January 2006: see the Higher Education Act 2004 (Commencement No 4) Order 2006, SI 2006/51, art 2. However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

As to the Secretary of State's power to impose conditions on the Higher Education Funding Councils with respect to the amounts of fees which may be charged by institutions in receipt of grants from the Councils see PARA 757 ante.

19 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22(2)(h) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 ss 146(1), (2)(b), 153, Sch 11). For the power of the Secretary of State to modify the arrangements relating to the payments of grants in respect of fees payable in connection with attendance on the final honours year of first degree courses at higher education institutions in Scotland see PARA 1053 post.

20 Ie under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22 (as amended).

21 Ibid s 22(2)(i) (prospectively amended by the Higher Education Act 2004 s 43). The amendment made by s 43 is brought into effect as from a day to be appointed under s 52(2). In relation to England, the appointed day is 14 January 2006: see the Higher Education Act 2004 (Commencement No 4) Order 2006, SI 2006/51, art 2. However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales and, until such a day is appointed, the words 'institutions to whom those persons are liable to make payments' should be read in relation to Wales as 'institutions who have previously made loans of any prescribed description to those persons'.

22 Ie under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22 (as amended).

23 Ibid s 22(2)(j). In relation to Wales see note 6 supra.

24 Ibid s 22(2)(k). In relation to Wales see note 6 supra.

UPDATE

1046-1053 Financial support

The Sale of Student Loans Act 2008 enables the Secretary of State to sell some or all existing rights and obligations relating to student loans: see further PARA 1053A.

1046 Provision of financial support for students

TEXT AND NOTES--The Consumer Credit Act 1974 (see CONSUMER CREDIT) does not regulate loans made in accordance with regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22: Sale of Student Loans Act 2008 s 8(1). Section 8 must be treated as always having had effect: s 8(2).

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733. Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in this paragraph are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

NOTE 6--2004 Act s 44(4) now in force on 23 June 2006: SI 2005/1833 art 5 (substituted by SI 2006/1660). SI 2005/52 now replaced by the Education (Student Support) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/1555. In relation to Wales, see also the Assembly Learning Grants and Loans (Higher Education) (Wales) (No 2) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3170 (amended by SI 2009/470, SI 2009/2156, SI 2009/2737), replaced on 1 September 2010 by Assembly Learning Grants and Loans (Higher Education) (Wales) Regulations 2008, SI 2009/2737.

SI 2000/2197 replaced: Education (Student Support) (European Institutions) (No 2) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/3156 (amended by SI 2007/1336, SI 2007/3344, SI 2008/1478, SI 2008/3054, SI 2009/1576); Assembly Learning Grants (European University Institute) (Wales) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/3359. See also Assembly Learning Grant (Further Education) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/2314; Assembly Learning Grant (Further Education) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/538 (amended by SI 2010/637); and Assembly Learning Grant (Further Education) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/2158 (amended by SI 2010/637), which make provision for a means tested grant for students in post-compulsory education who are ordinarily resident in Wales who are taking designated further education courses.

1047. Arrangements for the recovery of loans.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make such provision as the Secretary of State considers necessary or expedient in connection with the recovery of amounts due from borrowers under loans<sup>2</sup>. The regulations may include provision for:

- 1936 (1) imposing on employers<sup>3</sup>, or (as the case may be) such other persons or bodies as may be prescribed<sup>4</sup>, requirements with respect to: (a) the making of deductions in respect of amounts so due (or, in any prescribed circumstances, amounts assessed in accordance with the regulations to be so due) from emoluments payable to borrowers<sup>5</sup>; (b) the collection by other means of such amounts<sup>6</sup>; and (c) the transmission of amounts so deducted or collected to the Secretary of State in accordance with directions given by him<sup>7</sup>;
- 1937 (2) imposing on employers, or such other persons or bodies as may be prescribed, requirements with respect to the keeping and production of records for such purposes as may be prescribed<sup>8</sup>;
- 1938 (3) imposing on borrowers requirements with respect to the provision of such information<sup>9</sup> and the keeping and production of such documents and records<sup>10</sup> relating to their income as may be prescribed<sup>11</sup>;
- 1939 (4) requiring the payment, by persons or bodies to whom requirements imposed in pursuance of any of heads (1) to (3) above apply, of penalties in cases of non-compliance with such requirements (or penalties otherwise framed by reference to such requirements)<sup>12</sup>, and interest in respect of periods when such penalties are due but unpaid<sup>13</sup>;
- 1940 (5) requiring the payment by borrowers, in respect of periods when amounts due under their loans are unpaid, of interest<sup>14</sup> or both such interest and one or more surcharges (together with further interest in respect of periods when such surcharges are due but unpaid)<sup>15</sup>;
- 1941 (6) enabling the Secretary of State to require the reimbursement by borrowers of costs or expenses of any prescribed description incurred by him in connection with the recovery of unpaid amounts<sup>16</sup>;
- 1942 (7) applying or extending with or without modification<sup>17</sup>, for purposes connected with the recovery of amounts under regulations<sup>18</sup>, any of the provisions of the Taxes Acts<sup>19</sup> or of PAYE regulations<sup>20</sup>;
- 1943 (8) determining the priority as between certain deductions falling to be made by employers<sup>21</sup> and other deductions falling to be made from emoluments payable to borrowers<sup>22</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. See also PARA 1046 note 6 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. The Education (Student Loans) (Repayment) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/944 (as amended) apply to the repayment of student loans which have been made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998. ### 1046-1053 Financial support

The Sale of Student Loans Act 2008 enables the Secretary of State to sell some or all existing rights and obligations relating to student loans: see further PARA 1053A.

1047 Arrangements for the recovery of loans

NOTE 1--SI 2000/944 replaced: Education (Student Loans) (Repayment) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/470, which contain provisions applicable to all repayments of loans (regs 9-27), and deal with repayments by assessment to income tax (regs 28-40), deduction of repayments by employers (regs 41-70), repayments by overseas borrowers (regs 71-79), and the effect of the insolvency of borrowers (reg 80).

NOTE 7--Regulations by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22(5)(a) (iii) may make provision for the transmission of amounts (1) by a specified person, or body, other than a borrower's employer; (2) to a loan purchaser; and (3) in accordance with directions given by the Secretary of State: Sale of Student Loans Act 2008 s 5(2).

NOTE 16--Regulations by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22(5) (f) may enable the Secretary of State to require the reimbursement of costs or expenses incurred by a loan purchaser: Sale of Student Loans Act 2008 s 5(3).

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/8. STUDENTS/(2) STUDENT SUPPORT/(i) The Statutory System for providing Financial Support for Students/B. FINANCIAL SUPPORT/1048. Transfer of functions relating to student support.

1048. Transfer of functions relating to student support.

If the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> so determines, any function<sup>2</sup> exercisable by him by virtue of provisions relating to the making of grants or loans to students or the recovery of amounts due in respect of such loans<sup>3</sup> is, to such extent as is specified in his determination, exercisable instead by such body as is so specified which is either<sup>4</sup>:

- 1944 (1) a local education authority for the purposes of the Education Act 1996<sup>5</sup>; or
- 1945 (2) the governing body of an institution with which eligible students<sup>6</sup> are undertaking courses<sup>7</sup>.

A body by whom any function is for the time being exercisable<sup>8</sup> must comply with any directions given by the Secretary of State as to the exercise of that function<sup>9</sup>.

The Secretary of State may pay, to any body or person by whom any transferred function is exercisable<sup>10</sup>, such amounts as he considers appropriate for the purpose of meeting expenditure incurred or to be incurred by that body or person in making grants or loans<sup>11</sup>, or by way of administrative expenses, in, or in connection with, the exercise of that function<sup>12</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. See also PARA 1046 note 6 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 774 note 30 ante. In relation to any function which, by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(1) (as amended) is exercisable to a specified extent, references in any other provision of s 23 (as amended) to the exercise of that function are accordingly to its exercise to that extent: s 23(10). As to the delegation of the Secretary of State's functions see PARA 1049 post.

3 I.e. any function exercisable by virtue of regulations under ibid s 22 (as amended) (see PARAS 1046-1047 ante). 'Regulations' means regulations made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998: s 43(1). As to the making of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 generally see PARA 758 note 11 ante. As to the regulations relating to the making of grants or loans to eligible students see PARA 1046 ante; and as to the regulations relating to the recovery of amounts due in respect of such loans see PARA 1047 ante.

4 Ibid s 23(1). As to the bringing of appeals arising out of the exercise of transferred functions see PARA 1050 post. See also PARA 1046 note 6 ante.

5 Ibid s 23(1)(a). As to local education authorities for the purposes of the Education Act 1996 (and other enactments) see PARA 20 ante.

6 I.e. within the meaning of the regulations listed in PARAS 1046-1047 ante.

7 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(1)(b) (amended by the Learning and Skills Act 2000 s 146(1), (3)).

8 I.e. by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(1) (as amended).

9 Ibid s 23(2). Where any function is so exercisable by a local education authority, the functions are taken to be a function of that authority for the purposes of:

104 (1) in the case of an authority which is not operating executive arrangements, the Local Government Act 1972 s 101 (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 370) (Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(3)(a) (s 23(3) substituted, in relation to England, by the Local Authorities (Executive and Alternative Arrangements) (Modification of Enactments and Other Provisions) (England) Order 2001, SI 2001/2237, arts 1(2), 2(t), 34(a); and, in relation to Wales, by the Local Authorities (Executive and Alternative Arrangements) (Modification of Enactments and Further Provisions) (Wales) Order 2002, SI 2002/808, arts 2(s), 33(a));

- 105 (2) the Deregulation and Contracting Out Act 1994 s 70 (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 407) (Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(3)(b) (as so substituted)); and
- 106 (3) in the case of an authority which is operating executive arrangements, the Local Government Act 2000 s 13 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 324) (Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(3)(c) (as so substituted)); and accordingly: (a) if, or to the extent that, that function is the responsibility of the executive of that authority the Local Government Act 2000 ss 14-16 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 357-359), and any regulations made under ss 17-20 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 360-363), apply (Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(3)(c)(i) (as so substituted)); or (b) if, or to the extent that, that function is not the responsibility of that executive, the Local Government Act 1972 s 101 (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 370) applies (Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(3)(c)(ii) (as so substituted)).

For the meanings of 'executive arrangements' and 'executive' see the Local Government Act 2000 ss 10-11 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 303, 327); definitions applied by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(11) (added, in relation to England, by the Local Authorities (Executive and Alternative Arrangements) (Modification of Enactments and Other Provisions) (England) Order 2001, SI 2001/2237, arts 1(2), 2(t), 34(b); and, in relation to Wales, by the Local Authorities (Executive and Alternative Arrangements) (Modification of Enactments and Further Provisions) (Wales) Order 2002, SI 2002/808, arts 2(s), 33(b)).

10 Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(7). A transferred function is a function which is exercisable by virtue of s 23(1) (as amended) (see the text and notes 1-7 supra). In relation to Wales see PARA 1046 note 6 ante.

11 le under ibid s 22 (as amended): see PARA 1046 ante.

12 Ibid s 23(7)(a). Any payment under s 23(7)(a) may be made subject to such terms and conditions as the Secretary of State may determine; and any such conditions may in particular: (1) require the provision of returns or other information before any such payment is made (s 23(8)(a)); and (2) relate to the use of the amount paid or require the repayment in specified circumstances of all or part of the amount paid (s 23(8)(b)). In relation to Wales see PARA 1046 note 6 ante.

1052. Information in connection with student support.

Regulations<sup>2</sup> may provide that a student support authority may supply student support information<sup>3</sup> of a prescribed<sup>4</sup> description to a prescribed person for a prescribed purpose<sup>5</sup>. Such regulations may also provide that information may be supplied under such regulations only if prescribed conditions are met<sup>6</sup>. Such regulations may not allow information to be supplied except with the consent of every individual to whom the information relates, given in such manner as may be prescribed<sup>7</sup>, unless the supply of information is for the purposes of any civil or criminal proceedings arising out of the student support scheme<sup>8</sup>.

None of the above limits the circumstances in which information may otherwise be supplied<sup>9</sup>.

2 For the purposes of the Higher Education Act 2004 s 45, 'regulations' means: (1) in relation to a student support authority falling within any of s 45(7)(a)-(c) (see heads (a)-(c) infra), regulations made by the Secretary of State; and (2) in relation to a student support authority falling within any of s 45(7)(d)-(f) (see heads (d)-(f) infra), regulations made by the National Assembly for Wales: s 45(8). 'Student support authority' means: (a) the Secretary of State (s 45(7)(a)); (b) any authority or governing body by whom any function of the Secretary of State is for the time being exercisable to any extent by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(1) (as amended) (see PARA 1048 ante) (Higher Education Act 2004 s 45(7)(b)); (c) any person acting on behalf of the Secretary of State to any extent by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(4) (see PARA 1049 ante) (Higher Education Act 2004 s 45(7)(c)); (d) the National Assembly for Wales (s 45(7)(d)); (e) any authority or governing body by whom any function of the Assembly is for the time being exercisable to any extent by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(1) (as amended) (Higher Education Act 2004 s 45(7)(e)); and (f) any person acting on behalf of the Assembly to any extent by virtue of the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 23(4) (Higher Education Act 2004 s 45(7)(f)). At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 45. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante; and as to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante. See also PARA 1046 note 6 ante.

3 For the purposes of ibid s 45, 'student support information', in relation to a student support authority, means any information which the student support authority holds in connection with, or in consequence of, the exercise of any function relating to the operation of the student support scheme; and 'student support scheme' means the provisions of regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22 (as amended) (see PARAS 1046-1047 ante): Higher Education Act 2004 s 45(8).

4 For the purposes of ibid s 45, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 45(8).

5 Ibid s 45(1). A person may not be prescribed under s 45(1) unless the person: (1) is the governing body of an institution with which eligible students (as defined for the purposes of the student support scheme) are undertaking courses; or (2) is a person who appears to the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the National Assembly for Wales to be exercising functions of a public nature: s 45(2). As to the eligibility of students see PARA 1046 ante.

6 Ibid s 45(5).

8 Ibid s 45(4).

9 Ibid s 45(6).

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> was required, not later than 16 January 1999<sup>2</sup>, to appoint an independent body to review the arrangements for England and Wales<sup>3</sup> relating to the payment of grants in respect of fees payable in connection with attendance on the final honours year of first degree courses at higher education institutions in Scotland<sup>4</sup>. The Secretary of State was required to invite the Scottish higher education principals, the Committee of Vice-Chancellors and Principals, and such other bodies as he considered appropriate, to make representations to such body, and the report of the body was required to be laid before each House of Parliament not later than 1 April 2000<sup>5</sup>.

In the event that that body recommended that such arrangements<sup>6</sup> should be modified<sup>7</sup>, the Secretary of State was empowered to modify those arrangements so as to secure that they were no less favourable than the arrangements made under corresponding Scottish legislation<sup>8</sup>.

1046-1053 Financial support

The Sale of Student Loans Act 2008 enables the Secretary of State to sell some or all existing rights and obligations relating to student loans: see further PARA 1053A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/EDUCATION (VOLUME 15(1) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 1-578; VOLUME 15(2) (2006 REISSUE) PARAS 579-1437)/8. STUDENTS/(2) STUDENT SUPPORT/(i) The Statutory System for providing Financial Support for Students/B. FINANCIAL SUPPORT/1053A. Sale of student loans.

1053A. Sale of student loans.

The Secretary of State may enter into arrangements ('transfer arrangements') under which rights of the Secretary of State in respect of student loans are transferred to another person ('the loan purchaser'): Sale of Student Loans Act 2008 s 1(1). 'Student loans' means loans made by the Secretary of State in accordance with regulations under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22 (see PARAS 1046-1047) ('loan regulations'): Sale of Student Loans Act 2008 s 1(2). Transfer arrangements may relate to specified loans or a specified class of loan or some or all of the Secretary of State's rights: s 1(3). Transfer arrangements may include provision (1) transferring to the loan purchaser an obligation of the Secretary of State in connection with a loan; (2) transferring to the loan purchaser the benefit of an obligation or undertaking of the borrower in respect of a loan, whether deriving from loan regulations or from arrangements agreed between the borrower and the Secretary of State in respect of the loan ('loan arrangements'); (3) for warranties or indemnities or other obligations of the Secretary of State; (4) enabling the Secretary of State to require a loan purchaser to make specified arrangements in connection with the administration of loans, whether by appointing a specified agent for specified purposes, or otherwise; (5) prohibiting the loan purchaser from making specified arrangements without the Secretary of State's consent; (6) specifying consequences of the breach of a provision of the transfer arrangements: s 1(4). Transfer arrangements are to have effect, and, in particular, a provision transferring rights or obligations is sufficient to effect the transfer: s 1(5). Transfer arrangements may be made without the borrower's consent and without notice to the borrower: s 1(6). The Secretary of State must take reasonable steps to notify the borrower within three months of transfer arrangements taking effect: s 1(7). A loan in respect of which transfer arrangements are made may be referred to as a 'transferred loan': s 1(8). For supplemental provision see s 2. By virtue of s 3, the purchaser has the right to sell the loans to another buyer after the initial sale, subject to any limits on that right specified in the terms of the original sales contract with the Secretary of State. After entering into transfer arrangements, the Secretary of State must lay before Parliament a report about the arrangements: see s 4. A reference in loan regulations to the Secretary of State as lender includes a reference to a loan purchaser: s 5(1). Amendments of loan regulations may have effect in respect of transferred loans: s 5(4). Section 5(4) includes amendments which have effect in respect of loans made before the amendments are made: s 5(5). But in amending loan regulations the Secretary of State must aim to ensure that no borrower whose loan is transferred is in a worse position, as the result of the amendment, than would have been the case had the loan not been transferred: s 5(6). Section 5(6) also applies to making or amending regulations under the Education Act 2002 s 186 (see PARA 1054): Sale of Student Loans Act 2008 s 5(7). Loan regulations, loan arrangements or transfer arrangements may include provision about repayment of loans to a loan purchaser: s 6(1). In particular, regulations or arrangements may provide for collection by a person acting on behalf of a loan purchaser or collection by Her Majesty's Commissioner for Revenue and Customs: s 6(2). A provision of loan regulations or loan arrangements which requires money to be paid to the Secretary of State or into the Consolidated Fund, whether as repayment, interest, charge or penalty, is to be treated in relation to a transferred loan as requiring payment to the loan purchaser, whether directly, through the Secretary of State or through another agent: s 6(3). Section 6(3) is subject to any provision included in transfer arrangements by virtue of s 2: s 6(4). Section 9 enables the Welsh ministers to sell their rights and obligations in relation to Welsh student loans.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision for:

- 1949 (1) the repayment by the Secretary of State of amounts payable in respect of certain loans<sup>2</sup>;
- 1950 (2) reducing or extinguishing the amounts payable in respect of certain loans<sup>3</sup>.

The regulations may, in particular, make provision:

- 1951 (a) for determining whether a person is eligible for the purposes of the regulations<sup>4</sup>;
- 1952 (b) prescribing the circumstances and manner in which, and the times at which, payments are to be made, or amounts are to be reduced or extinguished<sup>5</sup>;
- 1953 (c) allowing retrospective adjustments for the purposes of the regulations, including provision allowing the Secretary of State to require reimbursement of repayments, or to alter the amounts reduced or extinguished<sup>6</sup>;
- 1954 (d) for imposing on employers, or such other persons or bodies as may be prescribed, requirements with respect to information to be given to the Secretary of State<sup>7</sup>;
- 1955 (e) for the reimbursement by the Secretary of State of costs incurred by persons or bodies in complying with any such requirements<sup>8</sup>;
- 1956 (f) for appeals with respect to matters arising under the regulations (including provision for determining, or enabling the determination of the procedure to be followed in connection with the appeals)<sup>9</sup>.

The Secretary of State may make arrangements for any person or body specified in the arrangements to exercise on his behalf, to such extent as is so specified, any function exercisable by him by virtue of the regulations (including any such function in relation to appeals)<sup>10</sup>.

1 For the purposes of the Education Act 2002 s 186, 'regulations' means regulations made under s 186 by the Secretary of State: s 186(9). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. 2 Education Act 2002 s 186(1)(a). The loans referred to in the text are: (1) loans received under arrangements made under the Education (Student Loans) Act 1990 s 1 (repealed) (see PARA 1045 ante) by eligible persons who fulfil prescribed conditions (Education Act 2002 s 186(2)(a)); (2) loans received under arrangements made under the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1998 s 22 (as amended) (see PARAS 1046-1047 ante) by eligible persons who fulfil prescribed conditions (Education Act 2002 s 186(2)(b)); (3) loans received for educational purposes under such other arrangements as may be prescribed by the regulations, including arrangements made outside England and Wales, by eligible persons who fulfil prescribed conditions (s 186(2)(c)). For the purposes of s 186, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 186(9). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 52 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 52 note 13 ante.

3 Ibid s 186(1)(b). The loans referred to in the text are those mentioned in s 186(2)(a), (b) (see note 2 heads (1), (2) supra): s 186(1)(b).

4 Ibid s 186(3)(a). As to eligibility and applications for repayment or reduction see the Education (Teacher Student Loans) (Repayment etc) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2086, regs 3-8; and the Education (Teacher Student Loans) (Repayment etc) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1917, regs 3-8 (reg 4 amended by SI 2005/3309).

9 Education Act 2002 s 186(3)(f).

10 Ibid s 186(4). Any arrangements made under s 186(4) do not prevent the Secretary of State from exercising the function in question himself: s 186(5). The Secretary of State may pay to any person or body by whom any function is exercisable by virtue of s 186(4) such amounts as he considers appropriate for the purpose of meeting expenditure incurred or to be incurred by that person or body in, or in connection with, the exercise of that function: s 186(6). Any payment under s 186(6) may be made subject to such terms and conditions as the Secretary of State may determine: s 186(7). Such conditions may in particular: (1) require the provision of returns or other information before any such payment is made; (2) relate to the use of the amount paid or require the repayment in specified circumstances of all or part of the amount paid: s 186(8).

1056. Power to charge higher fees for students not connected with the United Kingdom.

In respect of certain institutions<sup>1</sup>, the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> may make regulations requiring or authorising the charging of fees<sup>3</sup> which are higher in the case of students not having such connection with the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup> or any part of it as may be specified in the regulations than in the case of students having such a connection<sup>5</sup>. The regulations may provide for exceptions and make different provision for different cases or purposes<sup>6</sup>.

1 The Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1 (as amended) applies to the following higher education institutions:

- 107 (1) any university, university college or college, school, hall or other institution of a university (s 1(3)(a));
- 108 (2) any institution within the higher education sector (s 1(3)(b) (substituted by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 93(1), Sch 8 Pt I para 19));
- 109 (3) any institution which provides higher education or further education (or both) and is either: (a) maintained by a local education authority; or (b) is substantially dependent for its maintenance on public funds and either is specified in the regulations made under the Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1 (as amended) or is of a class or description so specified (s 1(3)(c), (3A) (s 1(3)(c) substituted, and s 1(3A) added, by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 237(1), Sch 12 para 91));
- 110 (4) any training provider, within the meaning of the Education Act 2005 Pt 3 (ss 74-100) (see PARA 795 note 5 ante), who is receiving financial support under s 78 (see PARA 795 ante) from the Training and Development Agency for Schools (Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1(3)(e) (added by the Education Act 1994 s 24, Sch 2 para 7; and substituted by the Education Act 2005 s 98, Sch 14 para 9)); and
- 111 (5) any institution eligible for funding by the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales under the Education Act 2005 Pt 3 (Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1(3)(ee) (added by the Education Act 2005 Sch 14 para 9)).

The Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1 (as amended) also applies to certain further education institutions: see PARA 638 ante. As to the regulations made under s 1 (as amended) see note 5 infra. As to the meaning of 'university' see PARA 648 ante. As to references to institutions within the higher education sector see PARA 646 ante. For the meaning of 'further education' see PARA 18 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 1(4) (amended by the Education Reform Act 1988 Sch 12 para 91; and the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 57). For the meaning of 'higher education' see PARA 19 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1(4) (as so amended). As to local education authorities see PARA 20 ante. For the purposes of s 1 (as amended), 'public funds' means assistance from a local authority or grants under the Education Act 1996 s 485 (see PARA 69 ante); see the Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1(4) (as so amended). As to the Training and Development Agency for Schools see PARA 784 et seq ante; and as to the Higher Education Funding Council for Wales see PARA 733 et seq ante.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'fees' includes charges however described (including charges for board and lodging): Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1(4).

4 For these purposes, references to the United Kingdom include references to the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man, but the Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 does not extend to Northern Ireland: see s 3. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' generally see PARA 63 note 3 ante.

5 Ibid s 1(1). The power to make regulations under s 1 (as amended) is exercisable by statutory instrument subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 1(5). As to the regulations made under s 1 (as amended) see the Education (Fees and Awards) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/1972 (amended by SI 1998/1965; SI 1999/229; SI 2000/2192; SI 2000/2945; SI 2003/3280; SI 2005/2114). See R (on the application of Mitchell) v Coventry University and the Secretary of State for Education and Employment [2001] ELR 594, where it was held that the purpose behind the regulations was a reasonable and objective justification for the discrimination which resulted, so there was no conflict with the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953); Cmd 8969) art 14 or with the First Protocol (Paris, 20 March 1952; TS 46 (1954); Cmd 9221) art 2 (see PARA 3 ante).

The Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1 (as amended) is without prejudice to the Education Reform Act 1988 s 218(9) (as amended; prospectively repealed) (see PARA 629 note 2 ante) (power of to make regulations in connection with the fees to be charged for courses of further education at higher education institutions): Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1(6) (amended by the Teaching and Higher Education Act 1993 s 44(1), Sch 3 para 5). The Education (Fees and Awards) Act 1983 s 1(6) (as amended) is repealed by the Education Act 2002 s 215, Sch 21 para 5, Sch 22 Pt 3, as from a day to be appointed under s 216(4). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

(iii) Particular Scholarships

1057. Industrial scholarships.

'Industrial scholarships' are scholarships (however described) tenable by persons undertaking full-time courses<sup>1</sup> of higher education<sup>2</sup> provided by a university, college or other institution in the United Kingdom<sup>3</sup>, being courses which appear to the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> or, as the case may be, the person awarding the scholarships to be relevant to a career in industry<sup>5</sup>. The Secretary of State may award industrial scholarships or make payments to any other person in respect of the award of such scholarships by that person<sup>6</sup>.

1 The reference to a full-time course includes a reference to a course consisting of alternate periods of full-time study in the university, college or institution in question and associated industrial, professional or commercial experience: Education Act 1980 s 20(3)(a), (b).

2 For the meaning of 'higher education' see PARA 19 ante; definition applied by ibid s 38(3) (substituted by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 47(1), (3)).

3 The reference to a course provided by a university, college or institution in the United Kingdom includes a reference to a course provided by such a university, college or institution in conjunction with a university, college or other institution in another country: Education Act 1980 s 20(3).

1058. Commonwealth Scholarship Commission.

The Commonwealth Scholarship Commission<sup>1</sup> is charged with the duty of: (1) selecting the recipients<sup>2</sup> of awards arising out of the Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Plan<sup>3</sup> to persons coming to the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup>; (2) making arrangements for placing the recipients at institutions within the further education sector<sup>5</sup> or higher education sector<sup>6</sup> or at other appropriate establishments in the United Kingdom, and for the supervision of their work during the currency of their awards<sup>7</sup>; (3) selecting persons to put forward as candidates from the United Kingdom for awards arising out of the plan<sup>8</sup> and to be granted in countries outside the United Kingdom<sup>9</sup>; and (4) discharging any other functions under the plan<sup>10</sup> which the Secretary of State<sup>11</sup> may assign to the Commission<sup>12</sup>.

The Commission consists of a chairman and not less than nine nor more than fourteen other members appointed by the Secretary of State<sup>13</sup>. The Commission may appoint committees to assist it in the discharge of its functions, and may delegate the discharge of its functions to such a committee, with or without restrictions or conditions<sup>14</sup>. In the discharge of its functions the Commission must comply with any directions given to it by the Secretary of State<sup>15</sup>. The expenses of the Commission, up to such amount as may be approved by the Secretary of State with the consent of the Treasury, may be defrayed by the Secretary of State<sup>16</sup>.

The Commission makes an annual report to the Secretary of State on the discharge of its functions<sup>17</sup>, and the Secretary of State lays a copy of every such report before Parliament<sup>18</sup>.

1 The existence of the Commission known as the Commonwealth Scholarship Commission in the United Kingdom continues by virtue of the International Development Act 2002 s 13(1). As to financial assistance under the International Development Act 2002 see also PARA 67 ante.

2 Persons selected must be Commonwealth citizens or British protected persons (within the meaning of the British Nationality Act 1981) except where the Commission for special reasons, approved by the Secretary of State, otherwise determines: International Development Act 2002 s 14(4). As to Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11. 3 The 'Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Plan' means the plan so named which was put forward by the Commonwealth Development Conference held at Oxford in July 1959: ibid s 14(6).

The origin of the Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Plan was a speech by Sydney Smith, former president of the University of Toronto and then Canadian Minister for External Affairs, delivered at the Eighth Quinquennial Congress of Commonwealth Universities at Montreal in September 1958. From that conference there emerged the proposal to establish a new scheme of Commonwealth scholarships and fellowships. The purpose and operation of the scheme were elaborated at the first Commonwealth Development Conference held at Oxford in July 1959. The first Commonwealth Scholars took up their awards in 1960.

1059. Marshall Aid Commemoration Commission.

The Marshall Aid Commemoration Commission was established by the Marshall Aid Commemoration Act 1953<sup>1</sup>. The Commission consists of not less than seven nor more than ten members appointed by the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup>.

The Commission's functions are to give effect to arrangements made by or with the approval of the Secretary of State: (1) for administering the grants provided by Parliament for Marshall scholarships<sup>3</sup>; (2) for the selection of the persons to receive Marshall scholarships<sup>4</sup>; and (3) for the placing of the holders of Marshall scholarships in universities or university colleges in the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup>. The Commission also discharges such other functions in connection with Marshall scholarships as may be conferred on it by such arrangements<sup>6</sup>.

The Commission is obliged to make an annual report to the Secretary of State on the discharge by it of its functions, and the Secretary of State must lay a copy of every such report before each House of Parliament<sup>7</sup>.

The Commission must prepare accounts of its expenditure in such form as the Secretary of State may with the approval of the Treasury<sup>8</sup> direct, and must submit the accounts to the Secretary of State at such time as he may direct<sup>9</sup>.

1 The Marshall Aid Commemoration Act 1953 and the Marshall Scholarships Act 1959, which may together be cited as the Marshall Aid Commemoration Acts 1953 and 1959 (see the Marshall Scholarships Act 1959 s 2), provide for the granting of Marshall scholarships tenable at universities or university colleges in the United Kingdom by citizens of the United States of America who are graduates of recognised institutions of higher learning in the United States of America: Marshall Aid Commemoration Act 1953 s 1. The Secretary of State may make, out of moneys provided by Parliament, grants to the Commission to defray the expenditure of the Commission incurred for the said purpose, including administrative expenses: s 1. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante.

Marshall scholarships were established in commemoration of the assistance received by the United Kingdom after the 1939-45 war under the European Recovery Programme known as Marshall Aid. The Marshall Aid Commemoration Act 1953 provided for up to 12 scholarships to be granted in each year; the Marshall Scholarships Act 1959 substituted for the reference to 12 scholarships a reference to 24 or such greater number as Her Majesty might by Order in Council from time to time determine: Marshall Scholarships Act 1959 s 1(1). Any such Order in Council is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 1(2). The Marshall Scholarships Order 1972, SI 1972/961 (revoked) increased the maximum number to 30 each year. The Marshall Scholarships Order 1990, SI 1990/990, further increased the maximum number of annual scholarships to 40.

2 Marshall Aid Commemoration Act 1953 s 2(2). Not less than two of the Commission's members must be chosen as persons of eminence in academic matters, and the Secretary of State may designate one of the members to be chairman of the Commission: s 2(2). The Commission's quorum is four (s 2(3)) but so long as it is quorate the Commission has power to act notwithstanding any vacancy in its number (s 2(4)). Terms of office of members of the Commission are determined by the Secretary of State: s 2(5). A member of the Commission is eligible for re-appointment on vacating office: s 2(5).

(3) STUDENTS' UNIONS

(i) Defined Terms

1060. Meaning of 'students' union'.

Part II of the Education Act 1994<sup>1</sup> contains provisions relating to students' unions. For those purposes, a 'students' union' means:

- 1957 (1) an association of the generality of students<sup>2</sup> at an establishment<sup>3</sup> to which Part II applies<sup>4</sup> whose principal purposes include promoting the general interests of its members as students<sup>5</sup>; or
- 1958 (2) a representative body (whether an association or not) whose principal purposes include representing the generality of students at such an establishment in academic, disciplinary or other matters relating to the government of the establishment<sup>6</sup>.

References to a students' union include an association or body which consists wholly or mainly of:

- 1959 (a) constituent or affiliated associations or bodies which are themselves students' unions<sup>7</sup>; or
- 1960 (b) representatives of such constituent or affiliated associations<sup>8</sup>, and which fulfils the functions of a students' union<sup>9</sup> in relation to students at an establishment to which Part II applies<sup>10</sup>.

An association or body may be a students' union in relation to more than one establishment but not in relation to establishments generally in the United Kingdom or a part of the United Kingdom<sup>11</sup>.

<sup>2</sup> References in ibid s 20 to an association of the generality of students, or of any description of students, include:

- 112 (1) any association which the generality of students, or of students of that description, may join, whether or not it has in membership a majority of them (s 20(5)(a)); and
- 113 (2) any association which would fall within head (1) supra if the references there to students were confined to full-time students (s 20(5)(b)), and references to a representative body whose principal purposes include representing the generality of students, or of any description of students, must be similarly construed (s 20(5)).

<sup>3</sup> References to a students' union include an association or body which would fall within ibid s 20(1) if for the references to the generality of students at the establishment there were substituted a reference to:

- 114 (1) the generality of undergraduate students, or graduate students, at the establishment (s 20(2)(a)); or

- 115 (2) the generality of students at a particular hall of residence of the establishment (s 20(2)(b)).
- 4 As to the establishments to which ibid Pt II applies see PARA 1061 post.
- 5 Ibid s 20(1)(a).
- 6 Ibid s 20(1)(b). A students' union has purposes and functions which are distinct from those of the establishment to which it relates and is an entity separate from that establishment which nevertheless has a supervisory role: Customs and Excise Comrs v University of Leicester Students' Union [2001] EWCA Civ 1972, [2002] STC 147, [2002] ELR 347. However, a students' union does not have a public law or statutory character such as to make its decisions amenable to judicial review: R v Thames Valley University Students Union, ex p Ogilvy [1997] CLY 2149.
- 7 Education Act 1994 s 20(3)(a). The reference to bodies which are themselves students' unions is a reference to bodies which are student unions within s 20(1) or s 20(2) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra).
- 8 Ibid s 20(3)(b).
- 9 Ie within ibid s 20(1) or s 20(2) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra).
- 10 Ibid s 20(3).
- 11 Ibid s 20(4). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 63 note 3 ante.

1061. Applicable establishments.

The establishments in England<sup>1</sup> and Wales<sup>2</sup> to which the provisions relating to students' unions<sup>3</sup> apply are:

- 1961 (1) any university<sup>4</sup> receiving financial support under the provisions of the Further and Higher Education Act 1992<sup>5</sup> relating to the administration of funds by the relevant Higher Education Funding Council<sup>6</sup>;
- 1962 (2) any institution conducted by a higher education corporation<sup>7</sup> or further education corporation<sup>8</sup>;
- 1963 (3) any institution designated<sup>9</sup> as eligible to receive support from funds administered by a Higher Education Funding Council<sup>10</sup>;
- 1964 (4) any institution designated<sup>11</sup> as eligible to receive support from funds administered by a further education funding council<sup>12</sup>;
- 1965 (5) any institution substantially dependent on financial support under the provision relating to applications for support for the provision of facilities for part-time, or adult, further education<sup>13</sup>;
- 1966 (6) any institution designated, or of a description designated, by order of the Secretary of State<sup>14</sup>;
- 1967 (7) any college, school or hall in an establishment within any of heads (1) to (6) above<sup>15</sup>.

13 Ibid s 21(1)(e). The provision referred to in the text is the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 6(5) (repealed). For the purposes of the Education Act 1994 s 21(1)(e), an institution is substantially dependent on financial support under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 6(5) (repealed) in any year in which such support amounts to 25% or more of its income: Education Act 1994 s 21(3). For this purpose, 'year' means an accounting year of the institution; and 'income' means receipts of any description, including capital receipts: s 21(3). For the meaning of 'further education' see PARA 18 ante.

14 Ibid s 21(1)(f). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such orders had been made. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 52 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 53 ante.

Any power of the Secretary of State to make orders under Pt II is exercisable by statutory instrument which is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 23(1) (amended by the Education Act 2005 s 123, Sch 19 Pt 3). Orders under the Education Act 1994 Pt II may make different provision for different cases, circumstances or areas and may contain such incidental, supplementary or transitional provisions as the Secretary of State thinks fit: s 23(2) (amended by the Education Act 2005 Sch 19 Pt 3).

(ii) Duties of Governing Bodies

1062. General duty of governing body in relation to students' unions.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> of every establishment to which the provisions relating to students' unions<sup>2</sup> apply<sup>3</sup> must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that any students' union for students at the establishment operates in a fair and democratic manner and is accountable for its finances<sup>4</sup>.

1063. Duties regarding constitution of students' unions.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> of every establishment to which the provisions relating to students' unions<sup>2</sup> apply<sup>3</sup> must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that the following requirements are observed by or in relation to any students' union for students at the establishment<sup>4</sup>. The requirements are that the union should have a written constitution<sup>5</sup> and that the provisions of the constitution should be subject to the approval of the governing body and should be subject to review by that body at intervals of not more than five years<sup>6</sup>.

1064. Duties regarding students' right not to join students' unions.

A student should have the right not to be a member<sup>1</sup> of the students' union<sup>2</sup>, or, in the case of a representative body which is not an association<sup>3</sup>, to signify that he does not wish to be represented by it<sup>4</sup>, and students who exercise that right should not be unfairly disadvantaged, with regard to the provision of services or otherwise, by reason of their having done so<sup>5</sup>. The governing body of every establishment to which the provisions relating to students' unions<sup>6</sup> apply<sup>7</sup> must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that this requirement is observed by or in relation to any students' union for students at the establishment<sup>8</sup>.

1 In the Education Act 1994 s 22, the expression 'members', in relation to a representative body which is not an association, means those whom it is the purpose of the union to represent, excluding any student who has exercised the right referred to in s 22(2)(c)(ii) (see the text to notes 3-4 infra): s 22(7). For the meaning of 'students' union' see PARA 1060 ante. As to complaints in relation to the exercise of the right not to be a member of the union see PARA 1068 post.

2 Ibid s 22(2)(c)(i). The governing body must bring to the attention of all students, at least once a year, and must include in any information which is generally made available to persons considering whether to become students at the establishment, information as to the right referred to in s 22(2)(c)(i) or in s 22(2)(c)(ii) (see the text to notes 3-4 infra) (s 22(5)(a)), and details of any arrangements it has made for services of a kind which a students' union at the establishment provides for its members to be provided for students who are not members of the union (s 22(5)(b)). As to the meaning of 'governing body' see PARA 1062 note 1 ante.

For the purposes of ibid s 22(2), (4) and (5), the expression 'all students' is to be construed as follows:

- 116 (1) in relation to an association or body which is a students' union by virtue of s 20(1) (see PARA 1060 ante), the reference is to all students at the establishment (s 22(6)(a));
- 117 (2) in relation to an association or body which is a students' union by virtue of s 20(2) (see PARA 1060 ante), the reference is to all undergraduate, or all graduate, students at the establishment or to all students at the hall of residence in question, as the case may be (s 22(6)(b));
- 118 (3) in relation to an association or body which is a students' union by virtue of s 20(3) (see PARA 1060 ante), the reference is to all the students who by virtue of s 20(1) or s 20(2) are comprehended by that expression in relation to its constituent or affiliated associations or bodies (s 22(6)(c)).

3 As to the meaning of 'association' see PARA 1060 note 2 ante.

4 Education Act 1994 s 22(2)(c)(ii). Students who claim to have been unfairly disadvantaged by reason of their having exercised the right not to be a member of the union or not to be represented by a representative body have the right to make a complaint: see PARA 1068 post.

1065. Duties regarding appointment, election and tenure of union officers.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> of every establishment to which the provisions relating to students' unions<sup>2</sup> apply<sup>3</sup> must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that the following requirements are observed by or in relation to any students' union for students at the establishment<sup>4</sup>. The requirements are that:

- 1968 (1) appointment to major union offices should be by election in a secret ballot in which all members<sup>5</sup> are entitled to vote<sup>6</sup>;
- 1969 (2) the governing body should satisfy itself that the elections are fairly and properly conducted<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1970 (3) a person should not hold sabbatical union office, or paid elected union office, for more than two years in total at the establishment<sup>8</sup>.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> of every establishment to which the provisions relating to students' unions<sup>2</sup> apply<sup>3</sup> must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that the following requirements are observed by or in relation to any students' union for students at the establishment<sup>4</sup>. The requirements are that:

- 1971 (1) the financial affairs of the union should be properly conducted and appropriate arrangements should exist for the approval of the union's budget, and the monitoring of its expenditure, by the governing body<sup>5</sup>;
- 1972 (2) financial reports of the union should be published annually or more frequently, and should be made available to the governing body and to all students<sup>6</sup>, and each such report should contain, in particular<sup>7</sup>, a list of the external organisations to which the union has made donations in the period to which the report relates<sup>8</sup>, and details of those donations<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1973 (3) the procedure for allocating resources to groups or clubs should be fair and should be set down in writing and freely accessible to all students<sup>10</sup>.

1067. Duties regarding affiliations of students' unions.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> of every establishment to which the provisions relating to students' unions<sup>2</sup> apply<sup>3</sup> must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that the following requirements are observed by or in relation to any students' union for students at the establishment<sup>4</sup>. The requirements are that:

- 1974 (1) if the union decides to affiliate to an external organisation<sup>5</sup>, it should publish notice of its decision stating<sup>6</sup> the name of the organisation<sup>7</sup>, and details of any subscription or similar fee paid or proposed to be paid, and of any donation made or proposed to be made, to the organisation<sup>8</sup>, and any such notice should be made available to the governing body and to all students<sup>9</sup>;
- 1975 (2) where the union is affiliated to any external organisations, a report should be published annually or more frequently containing<sup>10</sup> a list of the external organisations to which the union is currently affiliated<sup>11</sup>, and details of subscriptions or similar fees paid, or donations made, to such organisations in the past year (or since the last report)<sup>12</sup>, and such reports should be made available to the governing body and to all students<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1976 (3) there should be procedures for the review of affiliations to external organisations<sup>14</sup> under which the current list of affiliations is submitted for approval by members<sup>15</sup> annually or more frequently<sup>16</sup>, and at such intervals of not more than a year as the governing body may determine, a requisition may be made by such proportion of members (not exceeding 5 per cent) as the governing body may determine, that the question of continued affiliation to any particular organisation be decided upon by a secret ballot in which all members are entitled to vote<sup>17</sup>.

1068. Duties regarding complaints in relation to students' unions.

The governing body<sup>1</sup> of every establishment to which the provisions relating to students' unions<sup>2</sup> apply<sup>3</sup> must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that the following requirements are observed by or in relation to any students' union for students at the establishment<sup>4</sup>. The requirements are that:

- 1977 (1) there should be a complaints procedure available to all students<sup>5</sup> or groups of students who<sup>6</sup> are dissatisfied in their dealings with the union<sup>7</sup>, or claim to be unfairly disadvantaged by reason of their having exercised the right not to be a member<sup>8</sup> of the union<sup>9</sup> or not to be represented by a representative body<sup>10</sup>, which should include provision for an independent person appointed by the governing body to investigate and report on complaints<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1978 (2) complaints should be dealt with promptly and fairly and where a complaint is upheld there should be an effective remedy<sup>12</sup>.
